From

CAPTAIN REMMINGTON,

Commanding Artillery with Brigadier Hope's Force,

To

CAPTAIN COX,

Major of Brigade, Brigadier Hope's Force.

SIR, Camp, Futtehgurh, 29th January 1858.

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of Brigadier Hope, that when the artillery was ordered to the front on the morning of the 27th instant, I proceeded with the 1st troop 1st brigade horse artillery, under the guidance of Captain Hodson, with the view of taking the enemy's position in flank. The ground was very much broken, and between us and the enemy was a deep ravine.

Directly we advanced, the enemy opened on us a fire of round shot. Captain Hodson having pointed out to me a bridge over the ravine, we galloped across, wheeled to the right, and advanced till within about six hundred yards of the enemy's position. We opened fire here with great effect, our shot and shell evidently telling on the mass of men in the entrenchment, besides exploding an ammunition tumbril and firing the enemy's camp. During these operations Captain Blunt advanced with his battery rapidly to the front, and opened fire across the ravine at about the same distance from the enemy's position as the ground we occupied. Captain Blunt's position was most judiciously selected, his fire raking the face of the entrenchment opposed to us, and our fire performing the same good office for him. The enemy's fire, considering the small number of guns he had (four), was for a short time vigorous and well sustained, but the concentrated fire of our ten guns was too much for him, and in half in hour he abandoned his guns and entrenchment, and fled in confusion. We galloped up to the brink of the cliff on which the enemy's position was (leaving the entrenchment to our right) and plied the fugitives in the plain below with round shot and grape. Captain Blunt advanced on the right of the entrenchment, and his fire raked the base of the cliff most effectively. We afterwards descended into the plain, but the enemy's flight was too rapid to admit our overtaking them in a stern chase over very heavy ground, after a long march over sandy roads. I detached two guns under Lieutenant Lindsay to follow up the retreat with the cavalry, and with the main body returned to the captured entrenchment near which our camp was formed. Accompanying is a list of captured ordnance. The casualties in the artillery, I am happy to say, are only two horses, one killed, the other wounded, both of the 1st troop 1st brigade horse artillery. I beg to forward for the Brigadier's inspection a plan of the enemy's position, by Lieutenant Traill, an officer of my troop.

From

CAPTAIN C. P. JOHNSON, 9th Lancers,

Commanding Cavalry of the Column,

To

BRIGADIER THE HONORABLE ADRIAN HOPE,

&c. &c. &c.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to submit to you the part taken by the cavalry under my command, consisting of 196 men of the 9th Lancers under Captain Steele, and 230 men of Hodson's Horse, in the operations at Shumshabad.

The enemy's position having been ascertained, Captain Remmington's troop of horse artillery was ordered by you to cross the bridge over the nullah and attack their right flank. Captain Hodson's regiment was sent in support; this point, however, was not gained without loss. Lieutenant McDowell, of Hodson Horse, was struck down by a round shot and mortally wounded, and one man and horse of the 9th Lancers killed.

In Lieutenant McDowell, the service has lost a gallant and valuable officer.

On reaching the right flank of the enemy, their cavalry was observed in considerable force to our front and left. Captain Hodson immediately advanced his regiment, and attacking them with his accustomed gallantry, completely routed them, many of their dead being left on the field. I regret to state that both Captain Hodson and Lieutenant Gough, of his regiment, were wounded.

The precision of the artillery fire having partially dislodged the rebels from their entrenched position, the 9th Lancers were ordered to advance to the support of Hodson's Horse, who were already engaged with parties of their broken infantry, one squadron being left in reserve, as a detached portion of the enemy's cavalry still threatened the guns.

The attack to the front now become general, and was entirely successful, thought not unattended with loss. Captain Hodson, who had persevered in spite of his wound, was again wounded, and this time severely, and compelled to resign his command to Lieutenant Wise, who ably led the regiment for the remainder of the day.

Captain Steele, commanding the detachment of the 9th Lancers, whilst gallantly charging at the head of his men, was severely wounded; Lieutenant Willis, of the same corps, slightly.

The pursuit was continued for some distance, and upwards of 300 of the enemy were killed. According to your instructions, I subsequently advanced with the cavalry and 2 guns of Captain Remmington's troop of horse artillery for some miles on the road towards Sewajpore ghat, but met with no opposition. The enemy appeared to have been scattered in all directions.

I beg respectfully to call your attention to the disproportionate number of officers who were wounded, as a proof of the noble manner in which they led their men; to the number of the enemy's slain, as a proof that the men were not wanting in the support of their officers.

In fact the conduct of the men during the long day's work was admirable.

They had been ten successive hours in the saddle before coming into action, and nineteen before the pursuit was abandoned; but were always ready.

I beg to enclose a list of casualties.

No. 230 of 1858.——The following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of India, received the assent of the Right Honorable the Governor General on the 29th January 1858, and is published in General Orders:

The 30th January 1858.

Act No. VI of 1858.

An Act to authorize the impressment of artisans and laborers for the erection of Buildings for the European Troops in India, and for works urgently required for Military purposes.

Preamble.

Whereas in consequence of the necessity which exists of completing without delay sufficient buildings for the accommodation of the European troops in India, and of the difficulty of procuring without compulsion a sufficient number of artisans and laborers for that purpose, it is expedient to authorize, as a temporary measure, the impressment of such artisans and laborers as may be necessary: and whereas it may be necessary to impress artisans and laborers for the performance of works urgently required for military purposes, or for the defence of public property; It is enacted as follows:

Government may authorize officers to impress Native artisans &c. in districts or places to which this Act may be extended.

I. In any district or place to which the provisions of this Act shall be extended by order of the Governor General in Council or of the Executive Government of any Presidency or place, it shall be lawful for any officer or officers, authorized in that behalf by the Governor General in Council or by such Executive Government as aforesaid, to impress any Native artisans and laborers who, in the judgment of such officer or officers, may be necessary for the erection, completion, alteration, or repair of any building required for the accommodation of European troops, or for the collection, preparation, or manufacture of materials for that purpose, or for any other work connected with the erection, completion, alteration, or repair of such building; and also to impress such boats, carts, bullocks, or other animals as may be necessary in that behalf: and any such artisan or laborer, boat, cart, bullock, or other animal may be so impressed, whether such artisan or laborer shall be under a contract to work for, or such boat, cart, bullock, or other animal shall have been previously let to hire to, any private person or not.

No action or other proceeding to lie against Government or against the officer ordering the impressment, for any thing done in pursuance of this Act.

Nor against persons impressed, for breach of contract.

II. No action or other proceeding shall be commenced or prosecuted against the East India Company, or against Government, or against the officer ordering the impressment, or against any person acting in his aid or under his orders, for any thing done in pursuance of this Act; nor shall any person who shall be impressed, or whose property shall be impressed under the provisions of this Act, or any other person be liable to any action or proceeding for the non-performance of any contract which he shall have entered into, and which he shall be prevented from completing by reason of such impressment or of any thing done under the authority of this Act.

Full market-value of labor or hire to be paid in respect of the person or property impressed.

III. Every person impressed, or whose property shall be impressed under this Act, shall be paid the full market-value of his labor, or of the hire of his property, as the case may be, according to such rules as shall from time to time be made by the Executive Government for securing the just and punctual payment thereof; the amount in case of dispute shall be settled by a Magistrate.

Compensation to be made for damage sustained by breach of contract, occasioned by impressment.

IV. If any person with whom any contract shall have been entered into before the passing of this Act, for the personal labor or services of any person impressed under this Act, or for the hire of any boat, cart, bullock, or other animal which may be so impressed, shall sustain damage by reason of any breach of such contract occasioned by any such impressment, or of any thing done under the authority of this Act, he shall be entitled to full compensation for such damage, to be paid by the Government.

Claims for compensation to whom and how to be preferred.

V. The claimant shall send in to the officer by whom or under whose orders the impressment shall be made, a written demand stating the terms of the contract for the breach of which he claims compensation, the date of the contract, the period for which the contract was entered into, the amount of advances (if any) made in pursuance of the contract, the nature of the damage sustained, and the amount of compensation claimed.

Declaration to accompany claim.

Punishment for false declaration.

VI. A declaration in writing, signed by the claimant, shall be written on or annexed to the claim, and the claimant shall thereby declare that the statements contained in the claim are true in substance. If any person shall wilfully and corruptly make a false declaration he shall be liable, upon conviction, to imprisonment, with or without hard labor, for a term not exceeding two years, and also to fine. Such conviction may be by a Magistrate, except in the case of European British subjects.

Disputes as to amount of compensation how to be determined.

VII. In case any dispute shall arise as to the amount of such compensation, the same shall be determined in a summary way by the Zillah Judge or other officer exercising the powers of a Judge, on the petition of the claimant or of the officer under whose authority the impressment was made: and the decision of the Judge or other officer shall be final.

Penalty for absconding after impressment, refusing to work, &c.

VIII. If any person impressed under this Act shall abscond or conceal himself, or endeavour to abscond or conceal himself, or shall without reasonable cause desert the work upon which he shall be employed by Government before the same shall have been completed, or shall refuse or wilfully neglect to bestow his labor upon such work to the best of his ability; or if any person shall be guilty of any device for the purpose of preventing the impressment of any boat, cart, bullock, or other animal—he shall be liable, upon conviction before a Magistrate, to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and in case of non-payment of the fine, may be ordered by the Magistrate to suffer corporal punishment not exceeding fifteen stripes with a ratan. Every such conviction shall be final.

Act not to authorize the corporal punishment of Europeans or females.

IX. Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to authorize the infliction of corporal punishment upon any European or upon any female.

Impressments made prior to the passing of this act.

X. No action or other proceeding shall be brought or prosecuted against the East India Company, or against Government, or aganst any person, for any impressment before the passing of this Act for any work or other matter for which impressment is authorized by this Act; nor against any person for the breach of any contract occasioned by any such impressment.

Compensation.

Every person who shall have been impressed, or whose property shall have been impressed, before the passing of this Act, or who shall have sustained damage by reason of any breach of contract occasioned by such impressment, shall be entitled to the same payment or compensation, to be settled or ascertained in the same manner, as if this Act had been in force at the time of such impressment.

Act to apply to performance of works urgently required for military purposes &c.

XI. The provisions of this Act shall extend to any works urgently required for military purposes or for the defence of public property.

Interpretation of the word "Magistrate."

XII. The word "Magistrate" shall include every person exercising the full powers of a Magistrate, and every person authorized by the Executive Government to exercise the powers vested in a Magistrate by this Act.

Duration of Act.

XIII. This Act shall not authorize any impressment to be made after the expiration of six months from the passing of this Act.

W. MORGAN,
Clerk of the Council.

No. 1383, of the 5th November last, the Honorable the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following letter from Major General Sir A. Wilson, Bart., K. C. B., late in command of the Delhi field force, forwarding reports from Lieutenant Colonel C. C. Deacon, Her Majesty's 61st foot, relative to the capture of the magazine in the city of Delhi, and from Major J. Brind, of artillery, regarding the occupation of the Jumma Musjeed.

2 His Honor in Council desires to record his approbation of the excellent services rendered by the officers above-named, on the occasions now brought to notice:

No. 48.

FROM

MAJOR GENERAL SIR A. WILSON, K. C. B.,

Commandant of Artillery,

To

THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,

Head Quarters.

SIR, Head Quarters of Artillery, Meerut, 18th January 1858.

I have the honor to forward, for submission to His Excellency the Commander in Chief, copy of a letter of the 9th instant, from Lieutenant Colonel C. C. Deacon, of Her Majesty's 61st regiment, transmitting a statement of the operations against the magazine in the city of Delhi, which was gallantly and successfully stormed by a column under his command on the 16th September last, the circumstances connected with which, reflecting great credit on all engaged, were, I regret to find, omitted in my despatch of that date.

2. I also beg to submit a letter of the 24th September, from Major J. Brind, of the artillery, detailing the operations of a detachment under his command against the Jumma Musjeed, which led to the capture and occupation of that important post on the 20th idem; and I beg to bring this officer to Sir Colin Campbell's very favorable consideration, for his valuable services on this, as on every other occasion on which his energy and gallantry have been called into requisition.

3. I have to beg you will do me the favor of soliciting His Excellency to forward both these communications to Government, with my request that they may be published in continuation of my despatches connected with the fall of the city of Delhi.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

(Sd.) A. WILSON, Major General,

Commandant of Artillery.

FROM

LIEUTENANT COLONEL C. C. DEACON,

H. M.'s 61st Regiment,

Late commanding Storming party,

To

BRIGADIER LONGFIELD,

Late commanding 4th Column,

In reserve of Delhi field force, Delhi.

SIR, Ferozepore, 9th January 1858.

Having attentively perused the several despatches which have been recently published, in reference to the late operations, before and subsequent to the assault on the city of Delhi, and observing that no notice has been made of the capture of the magazine, beyond the fact of its having fallen on the 16th September last, up to which period it was the only arsenal in possession of the Mutineers of the Bengal Native Army: however late it may now be, I feel it to be due to that portion of the troops which formed the storming party then under my command, as per margin, to forward the annexed statement, with a view to your doing me the honor to forward the same to Major General Sir Archdale Wilson, K. C. B., for transmission to, and for the information of, His Excellency the Commander in Chief and the Government.

250 H. M.'s 61st regiment commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Deacon.
200 4th Punjaub infantry, commanded by Captain Wilde.
300 Belooch battalion, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Farquhar.
H. M.'s 61st reduced to 170, no more men being available.

2. I may, I trust, be permitted to bring to the Major General's and your own recollection, that although I was not the senior officer at the time, that Lieutenant Colonel Farquhar, of the Belooch battalion, on the previous evening (the 15th September), requested permission to be allowed to waive his right of command in my favor, until after the capture of the magazine had been effected; and I trust I may therefore be permitted to lay claim to the honor of carrying out the Major General's instructions, and for which I received, in presence of H. M.'s 61st regiment, the Major General's congratulations on the success of my proceedings on the morning of the 16th September, about half an hour after the fall of the magazine to our arms.

I have &c.,

(Signed) C. C. DEACON, Lieut. Colonel,

H. M.'s 61st regiment,

Late commanding Storming party.

STATEMENT OF LIEUTENANT COLONEL C. C. DEACON, Commanding H. M.'s 61st regiment, and late in command of the force that assaulted and captured the Delhi magazine on the 16th September 1857.

250 H. M.'s 61st regiment, reduced to 170, no more being available.
200 4th Punjaub infantry,
300 Belooch battalion.

In compliance with instructions to that effect direct, and personally, from Major General Wilson, commanding the Delhi field force, an attacking party as per margin, under my command, paraded, on the 16th September 1857, for the purpose of assaulting the magazine within the walls of the city of Delhi.

2. The force assembled in the College gardens half an hour before day-dawn, and was immediately formed into a column of attack, headed by Her Majesty's 61st regiment, supported by the 4th Punjaub infantry under the command of Captain Wilde, with the Belooch battalion under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Farquhar in reserve; and at day-break, having previously taken ground to the left flank, until the column was brought to face the breach which had been made the previous day, the attack commenced. Not a word was spoken, or a trigger pulled, until the stormers and the support had reached the summit of the breach and the magazine yard, when a cheer and a charge were given and made, on which the enemy, taken most completely by surprise, fled precipitately, throwing down their port-fires at their guns. Several of them were bayonetted close to the breach, the others were closely pursued by H. M.'s 61st and the 4th Punjaub infantry. A party under Lieutenant Colonel Rainey, H. M.'s 61st regiment, (under the guidance of Captain H. W. Norman, A. A. G.) having passed through the magazine, turned to their left and spiked a gun, which was in position on the eastern wall of the city, and which was pointed at the College garden battery. On being reached, the enemy fought very desperately. In addition to those who were killed within the magazine grounds, many were shot down beyond the walls and within the buildings which stand between them and the palace.

3. On reaching the summit of the breach, two heavy iron guns (apparently 32-pounders) were found pointed at it loaded, one of which was temporarily spiked by Assistant Surgeon T. H. Reade and Color Sergeant Mitchell, both of Her Majesty's 61st regiment. Two 10½inch (apparently) mortars were likewise found in position in the magazine grounds facing the College gardens. These were presently wheeled about, and a fire from them opened on the Palace and Selimghur.

4. So unexpected was the assault, that the casualties at the moment were most trifling, only one Private of Her Majesty's 61st regiment killed, together with three Privates and one Seikh of Captain Wilde's corps wounded.

5. Having successfully conducted the assault, I then sent Lieutenant Colonel Rainey, Her Majesty's 61st regiment, back to the magazine, requesting that he would convey my wishes that the Belooch battalion should retain possession of it and man the walls, until the return of Her Majesty's 61st and the 4th Punjaub infantry, which was accordingly done; and on the force being again concentrated, Lieutenant Colonel Farquhar, as the senior officer present, assumed the command; the 4th Punjaub infantry, in compliance with previous orders, having proceeded to the college.

6. I must beg leave to state, that on the present, as well as on every occasion, from the period the left wing of Her Majesty's 61st regiment, under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Rainey, joined its head quarters, I have ever received that officer's ablest assistance and co-operation; that the 4th Punjaub infantry nobly supported Her Majesty's 61st at the assault; while to Lieutenant Colonel Farquhar and to Captain Wilde I am much indebted for the able assistance they rendered me in carrying out Major General Wilson's orders.

7. I have only to add, that some 170 odd guns, of kinds, together with stores of all descriptions, were found in the magazine; that during the course of the fore and afternoon of the 16th September, attacks were made by the enemy, which were repulsed on every occasion, and at every point, by the troops then within the walls, under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Farquhar, and some loss was sustained, casualty lists of which were sent in at the time; but throughout, nothing could have surpassed the ardour and gallantry of both the officers and men who were engaged in the assault, and who I had the honor and good fortune to lead.

I have, &c.

Her Majesty's 61st regiment,
Late commanding Assaulting force.

MAJOR JAMES BRIND,
Commanding Foot Artillery,
Late commanding at Jumma Musjeed,

To

MAJOR EWART,
Deputy Assistant Adjutant General.

SIR, Derea Gunj, Delhi, 24th September 1857.

Understanding that reports of services performed by detached commands or special duties are to be made direct to you, for the information of Major General Wilson, commanding the Delhi field force, I have the honor to submit the following.

On the morning of the 20th instant, about day-break, I proceeded to the Burn Bastion, to ascertain that the guns were provided with sufficient ammunition, details, &c. &c. After firing upon the flying enemy along the front of the Ajmere Gate, and towards the woods in rear of Kisshungunj, it was reported that a rapid advance upon the Jumma Musjeed would place it—and, from its commanding position, the rest of the city—in our possession. Brigadier Jones was on the spot, but as he required Captain Boyd, commanding the 2d fusiliers, to be ready to accompany him to the Ajmere Gate, I offered my services, having to accompany the artillery under my command with the advance columns, and requested that the detachment as per margin might be placed at my disposal. Lieutenant Genneste, of the engineers, with a party of the sappers, volunteered to accompany me. By the aid of pressed guides, and two irregular cavalry (Punjaub) troopers, we occupied, one after another, the prominent posts leading to the Jumma Musjeed, such as the Kutwalee, Sonalee and Futtehpore Musjeeds, &c. &c., without difficulty or accident, having merely to force the gates and slay a few rebellious or suspicious characters. On taking possession of the Jumma Musjeed, and making the necessary disposition of my artillery and infantry, I was compelled to have the Durwan (who treacherously led a Sergeant of the 8th Queen's, Havildar of Coke's Punjaub corps, and two regimental Bheesties under a heavy fire of musketry from the fort walls) of the Musjeed executed in the street to the front. The effect of these measures, together with the orderly and rapid movements of my detachment, had a most favorable result, and contributed towards the almost bloodless success of the military operations of the day, and the successful and complete occupation of the city, &c. of Delhi.

Artillery.

Two 8-Inch mortars.
Two guns of No. 17 light field battery.

Infantry.

Fifty men of Her Majesty's 8th Queen's, and 20 men of the 1st Bengal European fusiliers, under command of Captain Bannatyne, 8th Queen's.

The steady, soldier-like, and determined bearing of the detachment of Her Majesty's 8th regiment, under the command of that zealous and judicious officer, Captain Bannatyne, made my task light. During the night of the mutiny at Jullundur, when all were taken by surprise, and the rush upon our guns of the panic struck residents threw the troop into a state of inaction, I experienced the most cheerful and judicious aid from Captain Bannatyne, who, on this occasion, so ably supported me. To Lieutenant Genneste, of the engineers, and the officers commanding the detachments of artillery, Lieutenant Wilson, H. A., and Lieutenant Harrington of Captain Bourchier's battery, I am much indebted for the valuable assistance they rendered me in the advance; as also to Lieutenant Sconce, of the same battery, who brought up a reinforcement. My detachment forced an entrance into the Jumma Musjeed about an hour and a half prior to the assault upon the Palace. I at once reported my position for the orders of the Major General, and made over command of the post to Lieutenant Colonel Greathed the following morning.

I have, &c.

No. 239 of 1858.——In continuation of G. G. O. No. 182, of the 29th January 1858, the Honorable the President of the Council of India in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following despatch from Major General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., commanding in Oude, reporting the result of an attack made on his position by the enemy on the 16th January 1858:

No. 63.

From

MAJOR GENERAL SIR J. OUTRAM, G. C. B.,
Commanding in Oude,

To

GENERAL MANSFIELD,
Chief of the Staff of the Army in the East Indies.

SIR, Dated Camp, Alum Bagh, 17th January 1858.

I have the honor to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander in Chief, that the enemy made an attack on my position yesterday, similar to that reported in letter of the 12th instant, except that, though they did not show in such general strength, their attack was more bold than before. In the morning they made a sudden attack on the Jullalabad picquet, and were received with a heavy fire, which drove them back immediately, leaving on the ground their leader, a Hindoo devotee representing Hunnoman, who was advancing bravely at their head, and several killed and wounded, whom they were unable to carry off. As they were seen removing many bodies, their loss must have been severe. Two 9-pounders, under Captain Moir, were sent down to support the picquet, and completed the expulsion of the enemy from the cover in its front.

On the left front and left, the enemy advanced skirmishers and threatened during the greater part of the day, suffering severely whenever they ventured within range. After dark they assembled in great strength in front of my left advanced village out-post, commanded by Major Gordon, 75th regiment, and attacked it with a large body of infantry, who were allowed to approach within 80 yards of the post, when they were received with discharges of grape from three guns and a heavy fire from the rifles of the post, which inflicted very severe loss, and drove them off immediately. Some shells from an 8-inch mortar expedited their retreat. The Enfield rifles and Captain Maude's guns in Alum Bagh had several opportunities of inflicting severe loss on the enemy, which were promptly taken advantage of. A large body of cavalry showed on my left rear, and were safely left to the vigilance of Captain Olpherts, who watched and kept them in check with his four horse battery guns, supported by a detachment of the Military Train under Captain Clarke.

The casualties of my force during the day amounted to—

1 Bombardier, killed.
7 European infantry, wounded.
1 Gunner, wounded by a fall from his gun.

The judgment and coolness with which Major Gordon defended his post, deserve much praise; he was ably supported by Lieutenant Clarke, commanding the battery.

Much credit is also due to Lieutenant Wynne, of Her Majesty's 90th, who commanded the Jullalabad picquet.

Also to Lieutenant Colonel Smith, commanding the post, and Captain Maude, commanding the artillery at Alum Bagh.

To Captain Rattray, commanding the infantry, Lieutenant Gully, commanding the battery, of No. 1 advanced out-post on the left, and to the officers and men of their posts for their vigilance and alterness in checking and punishing the enemy at every opportunity.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,

W. MAYHEW, Lieut. Colonel,

Adjutant General of the Army.

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 20th February 1858.

The Commander in Chief having observed much irregularity of proceeding in the mode of conducting Courts Martial held under the provisions of Act VIII of 1857, and the Government General Order of the 16th May 1857, is pleased to notify for general information:

1st—That the Act and the Order, in authorizing the officers specified therein to form the Court of European officers, do not extend the power of the Court with regard to punishments, which are those defined in the Articles of War, and those only. By the words "any sentence" in the General Order is meant any sentence that is legal under the Native Articles of War for the particular offence of which a prisoner may be convicted.

2d—That no admixture of European and Native officers is permitted; and General Courts Martial under the above cited authority must consist wholly of European commissioned officers or of Native commissioned officers.

3d—That the proceedings of all trials should be conducted and recorded in the usual manner, and it is essential that the evidence should be entered on the record of the Court Martial; for if this is not done, it is quite evident that the confirming officer cannot judge correctly whether the charge has, or has not been established.

Sir Colin Campbell trusts that all officers concerned will bear the above rules in mind, and by checking irregularities endeavour to ensure correctness of procedure in these important tribunals.

His Excellency the Commander in Chief is pleased to make the following appointment:

25th Regiment of Native Infantry.

Lieutenant D. Macdonald to be Adjutant, vice Captain H. N. Davies, promoted.

In continuation of G. O. of the 9th instant, the undermentioned subordinate medical servants have been pronounced qualified for promotion as follows:

To Apothecary and Steward.

Assistant Apothecary James Ellis.
Hospital Apprentice Daniel Timothy Mills.
„ Robert Barker.

To Apothecary.

Assistant Apothecary John Richmond.

To Assistant Apothecary.

Hospital Apprentice Michael Morley.

George Nesbitt, Drummer, of the 6th regiment native infantry, having been pronounced duly qualified, is transferred to the subordinate medical department as an Hospital Apprentice, and will rank from the 23d ultimo, the date on which he passed the prescribed examination. He is directed to do duty in the General hospital at Allahabad.

In conformity with General Orders of the 25th November 1857, the temporary employment of the undermentioned individuals as extra Assistant Hospital Stewards is sanctioned, from the 6th instant, and their services are accordingly placed at the disposal of the Superintending Surgeon at the Presidency:

J. C. Aratoon.
E. R. Maddox.
J. J. Dunn.
Robert McChyne.
William Wharton.
Edward Morrison.
G. W. Thomas.

Robert Keane having been pronounced duly qualified, is admitted into the service as an Hospital Apprentice, from the 6th instant, and placed at the disposal of the Superintending Surgeon at the Presidency.

Erratum.—In G. O. of the 28th December last, confirming a Phillour station order appointing Lieutenant Dobbin, of artillery, "to officiate as Deputy Commissary of Ordnance," read in continuation, in addition to his other duties, until &c. &c.: Order books to be corrected accordingly.

W. MAYHEW, Lieut. Colonel,

Adjutant General of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF,

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 20th February 1858.

At a General Court Martial held at Agra on Saturday, the 19th day of December 1857, Lieutenant Samuel Dewe White, of the 3d European regiment, was arraigned on the following charge:

Charge.—With having, at Agra, on the 10th day of October 1857, when under arrest and expressly prohibited from appearing in public, broken his arrest, and in violation of the terms of it, proceeded to the parade ground of his regiment, in the Fort of Agra, between the hours of 9 and 11 o'clock, at the time the regiment was assembling on the parade.

Finding.—The Court, from the evidence before it, is of opinion that the prisoner, Lieutenant Samuel Dewe White, 3d European regiment, is Guilty of the charge.

Sentence.—The Court sentences the prisoner, Lieutenant Samuel Dewe White, 3d European regiment, to be Cashiered.

Not Confirmed,

(Signed) C. CAMPBELL, General,
Commander in Chief.

Camp, Cawnpore,
February 10*th*, 1858.

Recommendation to Mercy.

The Court having sentenced the prisoner agreeably to the Articles of War, beg respectfully to recommend him to the merciful consideration of His Excellency the Commander in Chief of India, on account of the peculiar circumstances under which he broke his arrest; viz., his desire to accompany his corps into action.

(Recommended by 9 officers of the Court).

REMARKS BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF IN INDIA.

The Commander in Chief is unable to confirm these proceedings, on account of the informal manner in which the right of challenge was offered to the prisoner. The attention of the Court and the officiating Judge Advocate is called to the 14th Section of the Mutiny Act, under the provisions of which the option of challenging the President must be expressly given.

Lieutenant White is to be released from arrest and directed to return to his duty.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,

W. MAYHEW, Lieut. Colonel,
Adjutant General of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF,

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 22d February 1858.

BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

CAMP, ALLAHABAD, 12TH FEBRUARY 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor General is pleased to make the following temporary appointment:

Lieutenant T. Dennehy, 2d regiment native infantry (grenadiers), to be Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, in charge of His Lordship's camp.

Lieutenant Richard Graham Birch, of the 1st regiment light cavalry,	For eighteen months, under the new regulations.

FORT WILLIAM, 15TH FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 264 of 1858.——The Honorable the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following despatch from Major General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., commanding, No. 62, dated 16th January 1858, transmitting reports relative to the occupation and defence of the post of Alum Bagh, under Brevet Lieutenant Colonel McIntyre, 78th Highlanders, and of the operations of the artillery of his force, commanded by Major V. Eyre, Bengal artillery.

2. His Honor in Council tenders his warm acknowledgments to the several officers named in these reports, as well as to the officers and men engaged, for the good services rendered by them:

No. 62.

From

MAJOR GENERAL SIR J. OUTRAM, G. C. B.,
Commanding in Oude,

To

MAJOR H. W. NORMAN,
Deputy Adjutant General of the Army.

SIR, Camp, Alum Bagh, 16th January 1858.

IN consequence of my having received no report from the officer commanding at Alum Bagh, the services of the garrison and of particular officers have not been brought to the notice of His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

I therefore beg leave to submit, for the information of His Excellency, a report recently received from Major McIntyre, Her Majesty's 78th regiment, of the occupation and defence of Alum Bagh, from the 25th September, when he was placed in command of that post by the late Major General Sir H. Havelock, K. C. B., until the arrival of His Excellency the Commander in Chief's force.

During the earlier portion of Major McIntyre's occupation of Alum Bagh, whilst cut off from communication with Cawnpore, uncertain of the fate of the rest of the force from the moment when he lost sight of it in the suburbs of Lucknow, and surrounded by a numerous enemy, his command was one of grave and anxious responsibility, and the firm and able manner in which he used his small resources to repulse the attacks of the enemy, to strengthen his defences and overcome the difficulties of his situation, and the cheerful conduct of the troops under laborious duties, merit my cordial acknowledgments, and will, I feel sure, meet with His Excellency's approbation.

I beg to second most strongly the recommendation which Major McIntyre makes in favor of his second in command, Major Sibley, who commanded at Alum Bagh, during three weeks, whilst Major McIntyre was on the sick list; also of the several officers of the staff or commanding detachments favorably mentioned by Major McIntyre.

I also beg permission to submit Brigadier Eyre's report of the artillery operations of the Oude field force, from the 21st September to the 24th November, which I have recently received. I beg now to recommend the several officers mentioned by Brigadier Eyre, whose names have not already been submitted for the favorable notice of Government, for their service under their distinguished commander, particularly Lieutenant A. Fraser, Brigade Major of artillery, whose name, I regret to find, was omitted, but whose gallantry and very zealous services deserved favorable notice.

Captain Evans, of the Bombay native infantry, doing duty with the artillery, was of much service in the artillery park, at the evacuation of the Residency of Lucknow.

Lieutenant T. N. Harward, of the artillery, performed good service as Commissary of Ordnance at Cawnpore, and during the march to Alum Bagh.

Lieutenant J. Anderson, of the engineers, commanding engineer of the Lucknow garrison, though confined to his couch by illness, never ceased to exert himself to supply the Engineer department with materials, and Lieutenant J. M. Innes, gave very valuable aid in the mining operations until he was also disabled by ill-health and fatigue.

The services of Captain Maycock, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, were highly appreciated by the late Sir H. Havelock, and his personal attendance on myself during the march to Alum Bagh in the actions of the 21st and 23d September, deserved my thanks and commendation.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

(Sd.) J. OUTRAM, Major General,
Commanding in Oude.

From

MAJOR AND BREVET LIEUTENANT COLONEL McINTYRE, 78th Highlanders,

To

COLONEL R. NAPIER,
Chief of the Staff with the Force under Major General Sir J. Outram.

SIR, Camp, near Alum Bagh, 3d January 1858.

HAVING been directed to report upon the circumstances attending the occupation and defence of the Alum Bagh, I have the honor to state, for the information of the Major General commanding, that on the advance of the force on Lucknow, on the 25th of September last, under the late Major General Sir Henry Havelock, K. C. B., I was appointed by that officer to the command of the place, with detachments of regiments, consisting of about 280 Europeans, some Seikhs, and four guns. In it were placed the sick of the force, amounting to 128 men, of whom 64 were wounded, the Baggage, Commissariat, Treasure Chest, Reserve Ordnance Park, and a large quantity of small arm ammunition.

The native followers, Government and otherwise, could not have amounted to fewer than between four and five thousand persons, with an enormous number of cattle of various descriptions. The supply of food for the native followers did not exceed the consumption of a few days, and we had little or nothing for the cattle but what could be procured by foraging parties. Fortunately, some crops of rice and other grain, nearly ripe, were on the ground sufficiently near to enable us to gather them, under the protection of our guns. As these became consumed the sufferings of the native followers from want became, I regret to say, very great. Any thing that could be thought of was done to alleviate them. Driven by starvation to seek for food too far in advance of our foraging parties, numbers were cut up by the enemy, who surrounded us. The efforts made to relieve their wants from Cawnpore were for a considerable time unsuccessful, as even quill communications by cossids failed to reach their destination; however, on the 7th of October a convoy of provisions, escorted by a party of 250 men and two guns, and commanded by Major Bingham, Her Majesty's 64th regiment, reached us from Cawnpore, and on the 25th of the same month a large convoy, intended for Lucknow, escorted by 500 men and four guns, under the command of Major Barnston, Her Majesty's [illegible] regiment, reached the Alum Bagh. Those enabled me to relieve, to a certain extent, the wants of the native followers. 150 men of Major Bingham's party were ordered to remain to reinforce the garrison and 100 to return to Cawnpore by a forced night march to escort return cattle.

Major Barnston's detachment was ordered, after having rested for a day or two, to re[illegible] Cawnpore. As the enemy had, however, appeared in very great numbers, and had beco[illegible] more daring than usual, I took upon myself the responsibility of detaining them, which turned out fortunately, for in a day or two I received an order to do so permanently. This gave me a force of 900 Europeans and ten guns, which enabled me to increase my foraging parties, and their range.

To take steps for the immediate defence of my post was my first care, and I made use of every available means to accomplish it. Subsequently more permanent works were ably constructed by Lieutenant Judge, of the engineers, assisted by Mr. Tait, Civil Engineer, attached to that department. These were partially completed only, however bastions at the angles and a banquette beside were so, and the mango topes cut down in all directions round the post.

The enemy constructed batteries at different periods, at five different points around us, and their fire was at times exceedingly annoying and destructive to the Native followers and cattle, from their necessarily crowded state; but I am happy to say that during the period of our holding the position—forty-nine days—one European soldier only was killed and two wounded.

Jellalabad—occupied in force by the enemy with cavalry, infantry, and four guns—formed a sixth and dangerous neighbour; but on two occasions only did they bring out their guns and open fire, and they were then soon silenced.

A two gun battery at the yellow house, * about the enemy's ears and silenced by our artillery fire, under the able direction of Captain Moir, of the Bengal artillery, was repaired during the night; but on a repetition of our fire, was again silenced, and eventually they withdrew their guns from it.

The duty was at first very severe on both officers and men; but was performed most cheerfully by both. Much praise is due to the artillery and men attached, on whom it was even more severe than on the others.

From about the 3d to the 22d of October, in consequence of my illness, the command of the post devolved on Major Sibley, of Her Majesty's 64th regiment, in charge of the treasure chest, the next senior officer, from whom I on all occasions received every assistance.

I trust the Major General will not think it presumptuous on my part to bring to his notice the names of those officers (in addition to those already mentioned) who were most conspicuous in the performance of their duties, and deserve much credit. They are—Captain Maycock, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; Lieutenant Gordon, Bengal artillery, who commanded the detachments artillery until the arrival of Captain Moir; Lieutenant Sandwith, Her Majesty's 84th regiment, acting field engineer, (Lieutenant Sandwith was subsequently killed in Lucknow); Lieutenant Haldane, Her Majesty's 64th regiment, acting field engineer; Lieutenant Morland, acting staff officer (1st Bengal fusiliers).

The unwearied attention of Surgeon Innes, of Her Majesty's 84th regiment, and Surgeon Dominichetti, of Her Majesty's 75th regiment, to the sick and wounded, and their exertions on entering the Alum Bagh with 64 wounded men, deserve the greatest praise.

May I be permitted to add that I on every occasion received the greatest assistance from Captain Moir, of the artillery, who was ever at his post.

I have to honor to be, &c.,

(Sd.) J. McIntyre, Major, 78th Highlanders, and Brevet Lieutenant Colonel.

From

Major V. Eyre,

Commanding Artillery Brigade,

To

Colonel R. Napier,

Chief of the Staff with the Force under Major General Sir J. Outram.

Sir, Camp, Alum Bagh, near Lucknow, the 8th January 1858.

The publication of Major General Sir James Outram's despatches having brought to light the accidental omission of any detailed report from the artillery brigade under my orders, I gladly avail myself of his kind permission to fill up the blank, which I do the more readily since it affords me a fitting opportunity of placing on record publicly my own professional testimony of the signal services rendered by those whom it was my good fortune to command during the recent operations at Lucknow.

2. On the lamented death of Brigadier Cooper, on the 26th September, I succeeded to the command of the brigade, and during my subsequent severe illness my place was temporarily filled by Captain Olpherts.

3. Owing partly to these changes, and partly to the constant occupation which the daily exigencies of the service demanded from officers and men in the artillery, written reports were not expected, and hence it may have heretofore escaped mention, that, for two special acts of gallantry on the 25th September, both Captain Maude, R. A., and Captain Olpherts, B. A., commanding field batteries, were rewarded by the late Major General Sir H. Havelock, K. C. B., with the much coveted distinction of the Victoria Cross.

4. I hope I shall be pardoned for this passing allusion to a fact so gratifying to the pride of the combined artillery arms of England and India, which, in this campaign, have for the first time encountered the enemies of their common country, side by side in friendly emulation.

5. Never, I firmly believe, were field batteries exposed to a severer trial than that which attended the penetration of Lucknow on that memorable day! On Captain Maude, who was in advance, devolved the difficult task of silencing the enemy's guns which defended the bridge leading to the city. This he accomplished under a murderous cross fire of grape and musketry, with a loss of one third of his men; and it was for his nerve and coolness on this occasion, (but for which the Army could not have advanced) that Major General Sir James Outram, who was an eye-witness of his conduct, recommended him for the high distinction above recorded.

* Copy illegible.

6. Captain Olpherts was almost simultaneously earning similar laurels by the conspicuous gallantry with which he assisted Her Majesty's 90th light infantry, led by the lamented Colonel Campbell, in the capture of two guns on our right, under a heavy fire of grape; carrying them off in triumph, attached to his spare limbers, through a most galling cross fire of musketry from the loopholes of neighbouring houses and walled gardens.

7. To narrate our whole proceedings on that day would involve too lengthy details, suffice it therefore to say that, after crossing the bridge, we met no serious obstacle until coming under the fire of grape and musketry from the King's Palace and the adjacent buildings on our left, and of round shot and shell from the guns across the river on our right.

8. As our force pushed on towards where the beleaguered garrison of Lucknow were anxiously expecting deliverance, each battery in turn unlimbered on the road, to silence, if possible, the enemy's guns, and thus protect the advance of the main column. While thus engaged, the gunners stood firm and undaunted like so many targets for the enemy's concealed sharpshooters and grape shot, which latter ploughed up the ground on all sides, committing fearful havoc, as our list of casualties sufficiently testifies.

9. It was late at night ere the entire main body got out of fire; but two heavy guns, under Lieutenant J. M. Fraser, together with some thirty ammunition and store carts, having remained at the Motee Munzil, with a party of Her Majesty's 90th, under Colonel Campbell, to protect the rear-guard and wounded, were unable to accomplish a junction with the main body until the morning of the 27th. The position of the 24-pounder gun was one of great peril, from which it was with difficulty extricated, chiefly through the able and energetic measures of Captain Olpherts, who had been sent back to render assistance, as very fully described and acknowledged by Colonel Napier in that officer's report, already published.

10. It was here that those brave and lamented officers, Brigadier Cooper, B. A., and Captain Crump, M. A., his Brigade Major, fell victims to their noble zeal. Here also it was that Private Duffy, of the 1st Madras fusiliers, a Volunteer with the artillery, earned the Victoria Cross by his cool intrepidity and daring skill in assisting to extricate one of the guns from its desperate position. Colonel Napier also speaks in high terms of Lieutenant Fraser's exertions on this occasion.

11. On succeeding to the command of the brigade, I appointed Lieutenant Fraser my Brigade Major, and found him most efficient; in fact I cannot speak too warmly of his soldierly zeal and devotion, which, thenceforward down to the present time, I have had constant opportunities of witnessing, and I regard him as a young officer of the highest promise.

12. Being myself prostrated by fever for several weeks after our relief of the Lucknow garrison, the temporary command of the artillery was most effectively exercised by Captain Olpherts, whose well-tried abilities always prove equal to every emergency. During the interval of seven weeks that elasped until the happy arrival of His Excellency the Commander in Chief's force, the artillery was chiefly occupied in defensive warfare against foes whose numerical strength and advantages of position enabled them to surround and worry us at every point.

13. Owing to the paucity of our numbers from casualties and the great extent of our position, this involved a very great amount of labour for the artillery, who were on continuous duty at their guns without any relief, besides working hard in the construction of fresh batteries whenever required. Under all their fatigues, privations, and dangers, the best spirit prevailed from first to last among the men, who considered no sacrifices too great for the accomplishment of the noble end in view, viz., the deliverance of their country-women and wounded comrades from the worst of fates.

14. It is satisfactory too to be able to state that the Native establishments attached to field batteries, consisting of gun lascars, horse and bullock drivers, syces and grass-cutters, behaved most loyally, though suffering as severely as any of the troops in killed and wounded, yet none deserted! Sirdar driver Gungoo, and Naik Darsun, of the syce drivers (killed by a round shot), both of No. 12 light field battery, were particularly noted for their loyal devotion.

15. On the 16th November, the near approach of the Commander in Chief's force was the signal for renewed offensive operations on our side. These have been already alluded to in the late Sir H. Havelock's despatch of that date. Our object was to drive the enemy from certain strong positions which he occupied between us and the advancing columns, and in this we entirely succeeded, thereby greatly facilitating the junction of the two forces, and saving the valuable lives of our soldiers.

16. The batteries which had been for some time previously constructed for this purpose, were concealed behind a lofty wall forming the boundary of our position in that quarter. On them were mounted four 18-pounder iron guns, one 8-inch iron howitzer, four 9-pounder field guns, and two 24-pounder field howitzers, under the skilful direction of Captain Olpherts, Lieutenants Fraser and Smithett (the latter twice wounded and distinguished on several occasions), and Staff Sergeant Melville, of the 1st company 5th battalion. In position behind were six 8-inch mortars under Captain Maude, R. A., most ably assisted by Lieutenants Maitland, R. A., and Simpson and Ward, of Bengal native infantry, the two latter being Volunteers well instructed in artillery science.

17. At the appointed time large openings were effected by the united force of mines and breaches in the screen wall in our front, and the batteries opened an excessively hot fire for three hours on the buildings beyond, which were occupied in considerable force by the enemy. Sufficient impression having been thus made, and mines having been exploded by the engineers in several contiguous quarters, storming parties rushed out at 3 P. M., and quickly carried all before them with trifling loss.

18. During the night the artillery pushed forward their heavy guns to the advanced positions thus gained, when some batteries were rapidly constructed from which to open on the King's Palace, now within easy breaching distance. On the 17th our 8-inch howitzer shelled the Tara Kotee and Mess House with great effect, setting fire to the former and materially assisting the attack of the advancing force on the opposite side, although perhaps unknown to them, as it must have been difficult for them to distinguish our distant fire from that of the enemy.

19. On the 18th, a junction having been effected between the two forces on the previous night, a joint bombardment took place of the King's Palace, in the outer wall of which several large breaches were rapidly effected, and great havoc made in the principal buildings behind it. This was continued at intervals, on the two following days, with great loss of life to the enemy crowding within, as was subsequently ascertained, and there can be little doubt that had it suited our plan of operations, we might have at once walked into the place and occupied the Palace with comparatively little loss. But the great object we had in view having been triumphantly accomplished in the safe rescue of the sick, wounded, and women from their recent perils, any longer delay at Lucknow was considered inexpedient until they should be safely conducted beyond the reach of their merciless foes; and on the night of the 22d we effected our final evacuation of the entrenchment.

20. Measures had been previously adopted for the removal or destruction of all our spare ordnance, ammunition and military stores. This entailed no ordinary amount of labour and physical endurance on the part of those to whose lot it fell to convey so many ponderous carriages by manual force through the narrow and intricate mazes of the Chuttur Munzil and Furhut Bux Palaces—a duty in which the artillery were cheerfully aided by their infantry comrades, who on all occasions have volunteered their services, both for ordinary labour and also for the higher obligations of manning the guns when circumstances required.

21. Our hearty acknowledgments are also due to our scientific brethren of the engineers, for their cordial and effective co-operation, to which we are no doubt indebted greatly for whatever success has attended our efforts.

22. Lieutenant Thomas, Madras artillery, Commissary of Ordnance, I always found indefatigable in his duties, which were latterly very severe, as on him devolved the laborious preparations for removing our magazine, and destroying such guns and military stores as we were unable to carry away. With a very small establishment he effected all this as satisfactorily as could be expected. Lieutenant J. Alexander, artillery, of the Lucknow garrison, also worked zealously with the guns in position, and deserves creditable mention.

23. Before concluding this report I wish to record the excellent services rendered to the artillery by Captain Evans, of the Bombay infantry, who commanded with great credit several guns in position in the entrenchment, and whose zeal and devotion were conspicuous. Also those of Lieutenant Ouseley, of the Bengal native infantry, who likewise attached himself to the guns and rendered himself extremely useful.

24. Surgeon Irvine and Assistant Surgeon J. J. Clerke are also particularly deserving of mention for praiseworthy zeal in the discharge of their professional duties.

25. Lieutenant Delafosse, infantry, one of the few survivors of the Cawnpore massacre, was attached as a Volunteer to Captain Olpherts' battery, and behaved with great gallantry on the 25th September, as well as in the previous engagements at Mungulwar and Alum Bagh. I regret to add that the privations and trials he thus for a second time endured in a beleaguered garrison at length broke down his enfeebled frame and obliged him to proceed with the sick to Cawnpore.

26. Among the non-commissioned officers whose conduct most commended itself to notice were Sergeant Major Bird and Staff Sergeant Roddy, of the 2d company 3d battalion, and Staff Sergeant Melville, of the 1st company 5th battalion. The latter had twice distinguished himself before in Arrah. I beg most earnestly to recommend them to the consideration of superior authority.

27. Sergeant Major Lamont, of the Royal artillery, fell gloriously at his gun on the 25th of September, deeply lamented by the whole artillery brigade. He was a first-rate and most gallant soldier, and must have attained honor and distinction had he survived.

28. Lieutenant D. Gordon, who had assisted me most zealously in working the heavy guns in the actions of Mungulwar and Alum Bagh, was left behind at the latter place in command of a portion of the heavy battery, as also Lieutenant G. M. Clerk, with two 9-pounder field guns of Captain Olpherts' battery, and I understand they were able to render material assistance in the defence of that important position.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

(Sd.) VINCENT EYRE, Major,

Commanding Artillery Brigade Oude Force.

P. S.—The last sentence had scarcely been penned when I was startled by the announcement that poor Lieutenant D. Gordon has been just killed in the Alum Bagh by a round shot. I deeply regret the loss of this most amiable and excellent young officer.

B., in an action with the insurgents at Nusrutpore, in the Allahabad district, on the 23d January 1858.

His Honor in Council tenders his thanks to Brigadier General Franks, C. B., to Colonel Ingram, H. M.'s 97th regiment, commanding the left column of the field force, and to the officers named by them; to Lieutenant Colonel Indra Singh, commanding the Nepalese troops; and also to the whole force, officers, non-commissioned officers, and men engaged on this occasion:

No. 51 A.

From

THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,

To

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,

Military Department.

Head Quarters, Camp, Arrowl, the 2d February 1858.

SIR,

I have the honor, by desire of the Commander in Chief, to forward, for submission to the Right Honorable the Governor General in Council, a report, dated the 25th ultimo, from Brigadier General T. H. Franks, C. B., commanding the Juanpore field force, of a successful action fought with the insurgents on the 23d idem, by the troops under his personal command.

2. His Excellency desires to express his approbation of the manner in which the operation detailed was directed by the Brigadier General, and of the conduct of the force, including the Goorkah troops, engaged.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

(Sd.) H. W. NORMAN, Major,

Depy. Adjt. Genl. of the Army.

No. 66.

To

THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF,

Army Head Quarters, Futtehgurh.

Camp, near Secundra, the 25th January 1858.

SIR,

As you have already been informed by my telegraphic message of this date, the three columns of this field force, previously posted, respectively, at Mahowl, Eelkuchlee, and Badshapore, made a concerted movement twelve miles to their left, the right and centre columns on the 19th instant, and the left column on the 21st.

2. This brought the latter, under Colonel Ingram, 97th reigment, and of the strength noted marginally, to Secundra.

Corps.	No. of effectives.
Det. 8th company 2d battalion Royal artillery,	26
Det. 2d Madras light field battery,	33
Goorkah artillery,	24
Her Majesty's 97th regiment,	441
Shere Battalion, Goorkahs,	443
Burruj Bahadoor, ditto,	432
Native artillery detail,	28
Total,	1427

With six field guns.

Here, on the afternoon of that day, I learnt that the Nazim Fuzil Azeem, with 8000 men and 14 guns, was still at Soraou, seven miles distant from my Camp in a westerly direction; while 200 matchlock-men were at Nusrutpore, the residence of Beni Bahadoor Singh, one of the most influential Talooqdars of this district, who has been most active in raising the population of this neighbourhood against our Government.

3. The Nazim, who had been appointed Governor of the district by the Rebel Government of Lucknow, has held possession of it for the last seven months, and has had his out-posts at Capamow, within four miles of Allahabad.

4. The position of Nusrutpore, situated two and a half miles north-west of Secundra, is one of the strongest and most difficult of approach I have ever seen. A dense jungle, through which runs a chain of hillocks, extends a mile and a half north-east and south-west. At its north-western extremity is the stronghold of Beni Bahadoor Singh, a two-storied country house of solid masonry, surrounding which an extensive bastioned entrenchment had been thrown up, and a deep ditch cut. The entrances were all barricaded and covered by abatis.

5. During the night of the 21st and early morning of the 22d, the Nazim, dreading to await our approaching reinforcement of cavalry in the more open neighbourhood of Soraou, moved by his left and occupied this position; and so confident was he of its impregnability, that he announced the completion of this movement by a salute of seven guns as a challenge to our force.

6. But he was not destined long to enjoy his fancied security. I was compelled to defer the combat during the whole of the 22d (though my baggage having been previously thrown into an entrenched enclosure, with a suitable guard under Captain Matheson, 13th irregular cavalry, my force was in readiness for an immediate advance), for I was momentarily expecting the arrival of the promised reinforcement of two squadrons of the 2d Dragoon Guards and 4 horse artillery guns from Allahabad.

7. These troops*—detained by some delay at that place—having reached me on the night of the 22d, I moved out on the following morning, making a wide circuit towards Soraou, as if to turn the right flank of the enemy's position, but actually to push a reconnoissance towards that place, and ascertain whether there was any truth in a report that the Nazim had left a part of his force there, to fall on our left flank and rear.

* Corps.	Numbers.
2d Dragoon Guards, ...	191
Detachment of the F troop Royal horse arty. ...	89
Total, ...	280

With three 6-pounders and one 12-pounder howitzer.

8. My cavalry patrols soon ascertained that Soraou was evacuated, and being thus convinced that the enemy was concentrated at Nusrutpore, I changed direction and approached that position.

9. The infantry moved in quarter distance columns, at deploying distance: Her Majesty's 97th regiment in the centre, the Shere regiment of Goorkhas on the left, the Burruj Bahadoor battalion on the right, covered by the horse artillery guns under Colonel D'Aguilar, C. B., disposed two on each flank, and by two guns of No. 2 Madras light field battery under Major Cotter, and three 9-pounders, commanded by Captain Thring, R. A., in the centre—the whole supported by 100 selected marksmen of the 97th, under Brevet Lieutenant Colonel Burton. The two squadrons of the Bays protected our flanks, moving in rear of them out of reach of fire.

10. The close nature of the country, everywhere covered with high corps and thick topes of trees, rendered it necessary to move with caution.

11. The advanced posts of the enemy, fearing to be intercepted, abandoned at our approach the Indigo factory of Kapoorie, half a mile in front of the main position, in which they had orginally placed two guns, and which, if obstinately defended, would have much opposed our advance. This was seized by our skirmishers with a rush.

12. As we passed the factory, the line was deployed, the guns advanced at a gallop, and taking post within 600 yards of the enemy, opened on the fortified house and its vicinity a concentrated fire, which soon caused him to abandon the whole front, and withdraw his artillery further into the jungle, where his fire gradually slackened, and it became apparent that he was about to relinquish the position.

13. On this I directed one squadron of the Bays, with two horse artillery guns under Colonel D'Aguilar, to sweep round and threaten the enemy's right, while the other squadron, commanded by Major Smith, 2d Dragoon Guards, with the two remaining light guns under Major Yates, R. A., made a flank movement to the right, and watched his left.

14. The 9-pounder battery continued its fire, under cover of which the infantry broke into open column of companies right in front, and encircled the enemy's left rear, in which direction as far as could be distinguished through the dense brush jungle, which covered his front, his fire was gradually retrograding.

15. During this flank movement, the squadron of the Bays, under Major Smith, seeing a gun in their front, behind a breast work on the enemy's extreme left, and the intervening ground appearing favorable, attempted to charge it, but arriving suddenly in full career on a deep and impassable ravine, which had hitherto been hidden from their view, with a steadiness which reflects the greatest credit on them, pulled up and retired to their former position, in support of the guns.

16. Meanwhile, the left squadron and guns, under Colonel D'Aguilar, skirting the right of the jungle, entered and captured the enemy's camp, from which he retired precipitately, abandoning a gun in his flight.

17. The infantry, supported by the 9-pounder battery, moving steadily round the enemy's left rear, came eventually on his line of retreat; but so rapid was his flight, that he was enabled to withdraw nearly all his guns, and the skirmishers alone were able to close with the rear of the fugitives, of whom they shot and bayonetted great numbers.

18. By this time the cavalry and horse artillery guns from both flanks having united, were ready to continue the pursuit, but so much had the difficult nature of the ground, everywhere intersected by ravines, and the density of the jungles, impeded their movements, that darkness closed in before this junction was effected.

19. But the great result had been gained of the complete dislodgement of the enemy from this strong position, with the loss of nearly 500 men in killed and wounded, while two guns, much ammunition, and the whole of his camp and camp equipage, fell into our hands. Our loss only amounted to 6 men wounded, 3 horses killed and 4 wounded.

20. I have to record my obligations to Colonel Ingram, 97th regiment, who commanded the left column of the field force engaged in this action, and carried out any suggestions which I made to him in a manner which left nothing to be desired; to the officer attached to him, Lieutenant S. Cary, 37th regiment N. I., Staff Officer of the column, and Lieutenant R. T. F. Hamilton, 97th regiment, acting as his Orderly Officer.

21. Also to Lieutenant Colonel Indra Singh, commanding the Nepalese troops, and Majors Chumpa Singh and Bheer Bickram, commanding, respectively, the Burruj Bahadoor and Shere Goorkha battalions. The steadiness under fire, cheerful alacrity, and great intelligence of our allies, excited my warmest admiration, and I have had much pleasure in communicating to His Excellency Maharajah Jung Bahadoor the high opinion I entertain of those regiments. The officers attached to these troops, Captain Miles, 23d regiment native infantry, in military charge, Lieutenant Gully, 31st native infantry, acting with the left battalion of Goorkhas, and Lieutenant Garden, have earned my best thanks. To the precision and rapidity of the fire of the guns, both of Royal horse, Madras, and Royal foot artillery, and that of the piece served by Goorkha gunners, is to be attributed the rapid ejectment of the enemy from his strongly entrenched and nearly unapproachable position; and I beg to offer my acknowledgments to Lieutenant Colonel D'Aguilar, C. B., R. H. A., commanding the whole; to Major Cotter, Madras artillery, whose guns were manœuvred and served in a manner that calls for my special notice; and to Captain Thring, R. A., in charge of three 9-pounders. Major Smith, commanding the two squadrons 2d Dragoon Guards, and Lieutenant Colonel Legh, commanding 97th regiment, acquitted themselves to my entire satisfaction.

The perfect steadiness under fire of the Bays was most remarkable in such young soldiers; and the destructive fire of the Rifle skirmishers of the 97th regiment reflected the greatest credit on the attention which has been paid to their instruction.

22. Mr. Mayne, Joint Magistrate of Gopeegunge, Messrs. Jenkinson and Elliott, Civil Service, and Mr. Carnegy, head of the Intelligence department, afforded me the most important information (of which the result proved the perfect accuracy) regarding the enemy's position. They assisted in carrying my orders, and in every respect rendered me great assistance.

The two latter accompanied the right squadron of Bays in their charge.

23. The officers of my personal staff, Captain Havelock, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General (who, guided by Messrs. Mayne, Jenkinson and Elliott, reconnoitered the enemy's position); Lieutenant J. Wall, 87th Fusiliers, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; Lieutenant Henderson, 10th Foot, A. D. C.; and Lieutenant Innes, Field Engineer, gave me every aid in their respective positions.

24. Yesterday I moved to Soraou, which was found completely deserted by the enemy, who have retired across the Oude frontier, entirely evacuating the Allahabad district, this part of which they have so long infested with impunity.

25. The enemy's camp at Nusrutpore was burnt, with the exception of the Nazim's Durbar tent, which has been sent in to Allahabad, and Beni Bahadoor Singh's stronghold has been destroyed.

26. The civil authority has been re-established at Soraou, and I have requested that it may be occupied by a detachment of Seikhs from Allahabad.

27. To-morrow the left column will move to Badshapore, and by the 30th instant I hope to have three columns of this field force (strength as per margin) united at Badlapore awaiting His Excellency's further instructions and in every respect prepared for further offensive operations.

	Effectives.

To

THE MAJOR OF BRIGADE, CAWNPORE.

SIR, Camp, Cawnpore, 26th January 1858.

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of the Brigadier commanding at Cawnpore, that, in accordance with my instructions, I started yesterday evening for the village of Secunderpore, with 100 (one hundred) men. On arrival at that place, I found that the rebels had retired to a garden about three miles off, where they were encamped to the number of about 300 (three hundred). As I received information there, that the party from Oonow was on its way back to that place, I at once pushed on taking with me 100 (one hundred) matchlock-men. We took the rebels by surprise and succeeded in cutting up about 40 (forty), the rest making their escape in the high cultivation.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

(Sd.) A. R. D. MACKENZIE, Lieutenant.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 27th February 1858.

BY THE HON'BLE THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 22ND FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 315 of 1858.

THE Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council directs the publication of the following Report of the operations of the Cavalry Brigade under Brigadier, now Brigadier General, Hope Grant, C. B. :—

To

MAJOR H. W. NORMAN,

Asst. Adjt. General of the Army,

Head Quarters.

Camp, Futtyghur, 10*th Jan.* 1858.

SIR,

IN compliance with the orders received from His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, through you, I have the honor to forward a Report of the operations of the Cavalry Brigade at Delhi, in pursuit of the Mutineers down the Doab, and up to the time His Excellency joined the Force on the other side of the Ganges, on the way to Lucknow.

When this serious disturbance broke out H. M.'s 9th Lancers and two Troops of Horse Artillery constituted the European portion of the Force at Umballa, the remainder consisting of the 4th Light Cavalry (Lancers), the 5th, and 60th Regiments N. I.

Shortly after the news of the proceedings at Meerut and Delhi reached the Station, symptoms of disaffection on the part of these two Native Infantry Regiments became apparent: doubts also were entertained regarding the spirit of the Native Cavalry, and it behoved that the greatest watchfulness should be maintained by the European Troops, in expectation of an outbreak. They were, therefore, constantly, day and night, under arms, and at all times ready for immediate action, had such been necessary; indeed, on Sunday the 10th May, and on two or three other occasions, these Troops actually were in saddle.

The probability of any movement of these Native Troops wore off as portions of the European Infantry Regiments in the Hill Stations moved down to Umballa. By the end of the month of May a small compact Column had been assembled, and H. M.'s 9th Lancers formed the Cavalry of this Force. The 4th Light Cavalry (Lancers) were detached on duty to Saharunpore and other places in the vicinity of Umballa, except the Head Quarters and one Squadron, which accompanied the Force as far, towards Delhi, as Allipore, whence it proceeded to Meerut viâ Baghput.

At Allipore, early in June, this Force, Commanded by Major-General Sir H. Barnard, K. C. B., was joined by that from Meerut, under Brigadier A. Wilson, and two Squadrons of the 6th Dragoon Guards, Carabineers, under Lieutenant-Colonel Custance, were added to the Cavalry.

These Squadrons had already, on the banks of the Hindun, had the opportunity, twice, of meeting the Mutineers, and had, under their able Commander, rendered essential service on each occasion.

The Rebels and Mutineers, having taken up a strong position, defended by Artillery, at a place named Badul-ke-Serai, about five miles from Delhi, the Force moved to its attack on the morning of the 8th June. Three Squadrons of the 9th Lancers, Commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Yule, and two Troops of Horse Artillery were detached very early in the morning by the bank of the Canal to turn the Enemy's left. These Troops attained their point shortly after the attack commenced in front, and were soon in action. Two Squadrons and a portion of the Horse Artillery were very gallantly and successfully led by Lieutenant-Colonel Yule. The Cavalry charged the Rebels and rode through them. Lieutenant Jones, of the 9th Lancers, with his Squadron, captured one of their Guns, killing the Drivers, and, with Lieutenant-Colonel Yule's assistance, turned it upon a village occupied by the Rebels, who were quickly dislodged. This was a well-conceived act gallantly executed. The remainder of the Horse Artillery, for a short period, got into very difficult ground, from which they took time to extricate themselves. The other Squadron of the 9th Lancers was left for their protection.

The Squadrons of the Carabineers and 4th Squadron of the 9th Lancers were with the main body of our Troops, and did good service. The Carabineers, from the right of our line, drove the Rebels after they had broken across the Canal. The Rebels having been driven out of Badul-ka-Serai, a hot pursuit, towards Delhi, was taken up, but chiefly by the Infantry and Horse Artillery, as the ground on each side the road was covered by houses and enclosures.

The operations of the day terminated by the firm possession, by the British Troops, of the heights before Delhi.

From this period, during all the Siege, nearly the whole of the outpost duties fell to the lot of the Cavalry. This duty was a very arduous one. The Rebels were constantly threatening our right flank in particular, and our rear, so that both by day and night the Cavalry were liable to be, and were frequently turned out, and were necessarily held always in readiness.

On the 12th June the Guide Corps joined the Camp,—a very fine body, numbering about 260 men of Irregular Cavalry, Commanded by Captain Daly. This Corps had already achieved a high renown by its excellent service in the Punjaub; and had, soon after reaching Delhi, an opportunity of displaying its excellent qualities, as on the 19th a very serious attack was made on our rear, about 4 o'Clock in the afternoon, by a strong Force of the Rebels, with a numerous Artillery, who had posted their main body in a village beyond the Ochterlony Garden. Immediately on the commencement of the attack I moved out with the Cavalry and a portion of the Artillery; parties of whom acting on either flank of the garden named, drove the Enemy's Skirmishers back upon their position, and held them in check until the rest of the Artillery and the whole of the available portion of our small Force of Infantry could come up.

The ground was very disadvantageous for Cavalry, being much intersected by walls of gardens, &c.; but two Squadrons of the gallant 9th Lancers and the Guide Cavalry on our left, delivered a most successful charge, right at the Enemy, and drove them back completely. In this charge, I grieve to say, the 9th Lancers lost their gallant leader, Lieutenant-Colonel Yule, who was killed;—an excellent Officer, full of military ardour and zeal. The Regiment has to mourn in him the loss of one of its very bravest and most efficient Officers. Captain Daly also, leading his Guides, was severely wounded by a musket shot which, for the rest of the Siege, deprived the Corps and the Service at large of a most energetic, experienced Officer.

Ere the above was accomplished, evening had closed in, and soon it became too dark to distinguish friend from foe. The Enemy retired to their village, leaving a Gun and limber with its ammunition carriage on the ground. These were brought into our Camp on the following morning.

In my Despatch reporting this action, I had the sincere gratification of naming two Privates of the 9th Lancers, who had displayed signal gallantry in the fight,—Privates Thomas Hancock, who lost an arm on the occasion, and John Purcell, who had his horse shot under him, and was, I regret to say, afterwards killed at the assault of Delhi. Sir Henry Barnard was pleased to recommend that the Victoria Cross should be conferred on both. A Private Sowar also, named Rooper Khan, of the 4th Irregular Cavalry, my Orderly at the time, displayed great bravery and devotion in offering me his horse when my own had been killed under me, and was chiefly instrumental in aiding my escape from the midst of the Enemy. I am happy in being able to record his promotion to Duffadar, and his admission to the Order of Merit in reward of such excellent conduct.

About this period other Regiments joined the Cavalry Force; portions of the 1st, 2nd and 5th Regiments of Punjaub Cavalry, and Hodson's Horse. The latter consisted entirely of new Levies; but have since greatly improved and become useful Troops. The Squadron Commanded by Lieutenant Gough has, under my own observation, performed very valuable service, and their gallantry has been conspicuously noticed in a Despatch of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief. The Punjaub Corps, under their distinguished leaders, Lieutenant Watson, Lieutenant Nicolson afterwards, and at the present time Captain Probyn and Lieutenant Younghusband, have proved themselves admirable Soldiers. Confident in their Officers and assured of victory, these Troops have never hesitated to attack the Hindustani Horsemen in any odds, and have invariably forced them to give way.

On the 9th July a party of the 9th Irregular Cavalry, whose conduct I had been for some time doubtful of, proved themselves false to their oath of allegiance, and a Picquet on duty on the right flank of the Camp admitted a Force of the Enemy's Cavalry within their post. These Horsemen entered the Camp, fought desperately, and tried to take away a Battery of Guns. They also rode up to a Picquet where we had two heavy Guns placed in position, intending to spike them; but they were gallantly withstood by a party of the 9th Lancers under Command of Lieutenant Martin, who prevented the attack being made. I beg to be allowed to copy part of a letter written to me by Captain Light, of the Bengal Artillery, the Officer in Command of the Picquet:—

"I believe that to the prompt manner in which Lieutenant Martin got his party under arms, and the bold way in which he placed them between the Enemy and the rear of my Battery, both myself and the party of Artillery under my Command are indebted for escaping from an attack which must have been disastrous."

The Cavalry were frequently employed during the Siege of Delhi in escort and patrolling duties, occasionally making distant reconnoissances; and in the month of August Lieutenant Hodson, with 200 of his own men and a Squadron of Guide Cavalry, proceeded to Rohtuck, where he fell in with a party of the Rebels and discomfited them, killing several; on one occasion, a Ressaldar and 25 men of Irregular Cavalry whom he had surprised. Lieutenant Hodson displayed great intelligence and alacrity in this duty, extricating himself from more than one perilous position, and on his return to Camp was able to give valuable information of the state of the Districts he had passed through.

The Cavalry were also able to afford assistance to the Artillery in the trenches, in consequence of numerous casualties and sickness having reduced their numbers and rendered the duties very severe. I was requested by Major-General Wilson, at this time in Command, to furnish men from the Carabineers and 9th Lancers, and I ordered 10 of the former and 60 of the latter daily, under Lieutenants Blair and Evans, of the 9th Lancers, who volunteered their services on this duty. Nothing could be better or more praiseworthy than the way in which the men of these two Regiments vied with each other day and night in the performance of this severe work, and I beg to be allowed to record here extracts from the Despatches of Major-General A. Wilson, Commanding the Force, and of Major Brind, of the Artillery, who Commanded in the Batteries and witnessed their conduct:—

"I should neither be fulfilling the repeatedly expressed wishes of the Artillery Officers attached to this Force, nor following the dictates of my own inclination, if I failed to acknowledge the valuable assistance which has, throughout the operations before Delhi, been most cheerfully given by the Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of H. M.'s 9th Lancers and the 6th Dragoon Guards in working the Batteries. Without it, owing to the comparatively small number of Artillerymen, I should have been quite unable to man the Batteries efficiently, or keep up the heavy fire which, aided by these men, I have happily been able to do.

(Signed) A. WILSON, Major-General, Commanding Delhi Field Force."

"In expressing the high satisfaction I experienced in observing the zealous performance of duty on the part of the Foot Artillery with the Army of Delhi, I consider it incumbent on me to bring to the special notice of Major-General A. Wilson, the Officers and Men of the 9th Lancers, who were employed in the Batteries as Artillerymen under my Command and observation; Lieutenants Evans and Blair are deserving of honorable mention for the zealous and cheerful performance of their duties.

"The coolness and bravery of Officers and Men in situations of extreme danger, whilst engaged in a novel duty, called forth the admiration of all who witnessed it, and especially of those who had the satisfaction of serving with them.

(Signed) T. BRIND, Major,
Comdg. Foot Arty. & No. 1 Battery."

At 2 o'Clock, on the morning of the day of assault, all the Artillerymen, with the exception of two Serjeants, had been withdrawn for other duties, and the Guns in the 24-Pounder Breaching Battery were manned by 30 men of the 9th Royal Lancers. Their services were acknowledged by the Assistant Adjutant General of Artillery in the following letter to myself, a part of which I have the honor to copy:—

"Taking advantage of the darkness, the Enemy had during the night crowned the breach in the Cashmere Curtain with gabions and fascines, which we discovered at daybreak, and as they would have presented a very serious obstacle to our assaulting parties, it was absolutely necessary to clear them away before the attack took place.

"Through the zeal and intelligence of your men, who worked like trained Artillerymen, I was enabled to accomplish this with perfect success, and Sir Archdale Wilson personally thanked them when he came down to the Battery for the very admirable services they had performed.

(Signed) E. B. JOHNSON,
Asst. Adjt. Genl. of Artillery,
Late Comdg. 24-Pr. Battery."

A few men of the Carabineers and 10 men of the 9th Lancers also did permanent duty,—the former with Major Tombs' and the latter with Major Turner's Troops of Horse Artillery, in which they took their regular tour of all duties, and rendered, by their ready willingness and intelligence, most useful and efficient aid, for which these Officers have expressed their thankfulness.

On the 14th September, the assault on the City of Delhi commenced, in which 600 of the Cavalry,—200 of whom were of the 9th Lancers and the rest Punjaub Irregular Cavalry,—took part. To their lot it fell to cover the Attacking Columns and our principal Batteries from the Enemy without the walls of the place, and strongly posted near the Lahoree Gate and in the Kishengunge Suburb. Nothing could exceed the noble conduct of all, both Native and European. In a position whence, from the nature of the ground, they could make no attack, these gallant Troops were exposed for two hours to a very severe fire both of Artillery and Infantry. In their front, the Enemy, flushed with success after having maintained their position at Kishengunge in face of an attempt to dislodge them by a small Column of our Troops from the right of Camp, moved down and occupied a small village about a hundred yards from the walls, with two 18-Pounders, which were in time silenced and spiked by our Horse Artillery; but on our right flank the fire of Artillery and Musketry from the Kishengunge Suburb, which could not be kept down, as also from the Lahoree Bastion, which had not fallen into our possession, was most galling. My A. D. C., Captain the Hon'ble A. Anson, was wounded in the hand, and Captain Prosser, 6th Dragoon Guards, Acting A. D. C., was dangerously wounded in the hand by a musket ball. The 9th Lancers were in first line supported by the Punjaub Cavalry, and nothing could be finer than the unflinching coolness with which all these gallant Soldiers held this trying position. Nothing daunted by the numerous casualties and the certainty that they had only to endure; when I felt it my duty to praise their steady behaviour, they declared their willingness and determination to stand the fire as long as need be. The conduct of all—European and Native, Officers and Men—was most admirable. On this occasion the 9th Lancers were Commanded, with great coolness and judgment, by Captain Drysdale, a most gallant Officer, whose name I wish to bring under the favourable notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief. The remainder of the Cavalry, under Command of Captain Anson, 9th Lancers, stopped behind for the protection of the Camp, which required the greatest vigilance and attention, and which was successfully performed. Until the final and complete fall of the City of Delhi on the 20th, the Cavalry were employed in protecting the Camp and covering the road leading therefrom to the Cashmere Gate, and on two occasions a Force made reconnoissances towards the Southern face of the City.

Hodson's Horse was employed in following up the retreat of the Enemy from Delhi, and owing to the activity and keen intelligence of their leader, succeeded in capturing the King of Delhi, who was brought in a prisoner; and a few days after, three of the King's sons were killed by them near Hummayun's tomb. This Officer, with his Horsemen, was exceedingly useful in beating up the hiding places of the Rebels in the immediate neighbourhood of the City, and rendered most valuable service.

The portion of H. M.'s Carabineers were shortly detached with the Column under Brigadier Showers that operated to the West of the Jumna, and I regret to say I have no means at this time of placing on record the nature of the service they met with. Their previous history warrants me in the belief that they have surely sustained the good name they have so long and deservedly borne.

After the capture of Delhi, a Moveable Column, under Command of Brigadier Greathed, was despatched across the Jumna, and the following Corps of Cavalry formed part—H. M.'s 9th Lancers, Commanded by Captain Drysdale, and a Squadron each of the 1st Punjaub Cavalry under Lieutenant Watson, 2nd Punjaub Cavalry under Lieutenant Probyn, 5th Punjaub Cavalry under Lieutenant Younghusband, Hodson's Horse under Lieutenant Gough, the whole under Command of Major Ouvry, of the 9th Lancers, a most energetic, useful and brave Officer.

The Column left Delhi on the 24th September, and on the 28th encountered the Rebels and Mutineers at Bolundshuhur, where they had taken up a formidable position among the gardens and enclosures of the Civil Cantonment, having the Town in their rear. After having been beaten out of their position, the Cavalry were ordered to drive them out of the Town, and part of the 9th Lancers proceeded down one street, while another portion of the same Regiment, under Lieutenant Sarel, supported by Younghusband's Horse, took another road, the remainder of the Punjaub Cavalry moving round outside the Town. This hazardous duty for Cavalry was ably executed. Captain Drysdale's Column pushed its way through, and discovered the Enemy reforming outside the Town. Preparing to return, they were instantly charged and dispersed. In this charge Captain Drysdale's horse was killed, and in falling that Officer's collar-bone was broken. Two men of the 9th Lancers—Lance Corporal Kells and Private Jordan—most gallantly extricated and brought away their Commander. Lieutenant Sarel was also successful, and cleared the portion of the Town through which he led his Squadrons; but in the act of running a Sepoy through, was shot in the hand and arm, and had one of his fingers blown away. Cornet Thonger was also wounded in the arm slightly. A most gallant feat was here performed by Lieutenant Blair, since exchanged into the 2nd Dragoon Guards, who was ordered to take a party of 1 Serjeant and 12 Men* and bring in a deserted ammunition waggon. As his party approached, a body of 50 or 60 of the Enemy's Horse came down upon him from a village where they had remained unobserved. Without a moment's hesitation, he formed up his men, and regardless of the odds, gallantly led them on, dashing through the Rebels. He made good his retreat without losing a man, leaving 9 of them dead upon the Field. Of these he killed 4 himself; but to my deep regret, after having run a Native Officer through the body with his sword, he was severely wounded, the joint of his shoulder being nearly severed. This gallant young Officer is, I am thankful, doing well at Meerut, and will, I trust, be shortly restored to the Service in which his early career gives promise of distinction. Serjeant Shaw, of this party, also behaved in the most gallant manner. One of the men, Lance Corporal Andrews, lost his horse from falling with him. The Serjeant pulled up between him and the Enemy, and enabled him to effect his escape. The Serjeant's horse was wounded on the occasion, and if it had not been for a party of the 1st Punjaub Cavalry, under Lieutenant Watson, coming up at the moment to their support, both these men would undoubtedly have lost their lives. Lieutenant Younghusband's Squadron charged a large body, and killed about 80 of the Enemy; and the remainder of the Punjaub Cavalry cut up many more outside the Town.

Lance Corporal Clancey was left as a vidette at a Nullah a short distance off.

On the 6th October the Column again attacked the Mutineers and Rebels at Allygurh, and the Cavalry, Commanded by Major Ouvry, passing round the Town, fell in with them in retreat, and cut down about 200.

On the 8th the Punjaub Corps were sent to a village named Akbarpore, belonging to two notorious Rebels, Mungul Sein and Acbar Sein, whom they hoped to surprise. This was so well accomplished that both these Chiefs were killed and upwards of a hundred of their armed followers, our Cavalry having completely surrounded the village ere their approach was known.

On the following morning the Column moved to Bidgguhr, about forty-four miles distant from the Parade Ground at Agra, whence, at the urgent summons of the Chief Commissioner for its immediate march, it proceeded with the utmost rapidity, and reached the Station on the 10th after a long and harrassing march. Every thing had been reported quiet there, and although a strong Force of the Enemy was believed to be within ten or eleven miles of the place, no apprehension of any immediate attack existed.

The Regiments had hardly arrived and taken up the encamping ground on the Grand Parade, when four men, disguised as fakirs, beating tomtoms, came up to the Quarter Guard of the 9th

Lancers. The Serjeant desired them to go away, but one of the villains drew a tulwar and cut him down, then attacked another Serjeant and a Corporal, both of whom were wounded; but the Guard then moving out, all were killed. Hardly had this transpired, when Artillery concealed in the high Bajra Fields, opened from different positions a cross fire upon the few tents pitched, causing some loss. In a moment every Soldier stood to his arms. The Artillery from their Barks, while their horses were being put to, returned the fire. The Cavalry were quickly mounted, and ere a few minutes had elapsed, the Troops were prepared to repel the attack.

The Enemy's Cavalry, about 300 in number, hoping to find us unprepared, came round by our left flank and made a rush upon the Camp, but were most gallantly met and repulsed by a Squadron of the 9th Lancers, led by Captain French. This enabled the Artillery and the remainder of the Force to prepare to attack the Enemy's position; but I grieve to state that this advantage was purchased at the cost of Captain French's life, who fell, mortally wounded, in this charge, and the 9th Lancers lost a brave, daring Officer, of ripe judgment, highly valued by the Regiment. Lieutenant Jones also, whom I have before mentioned, was severely wounded; he was wounded by a shot, cut down, and afterwards received twenty-two sword cuts in different parts of his body. This young Officer had so far through this Campaign given evidence of the possession of many high Military qualities. Ever foremost in danger, ready to undergo any hardship or fatigue at duty's call, he has exhibited intelligence and judgment on every occasion of his having been employed. He will, I have every hope, be restored to health.

About this period of the action, one of our Guns, of which all the Drivers and Gunners had been wounded, fell into the hands of the Enemy; but was recovered by a gallant charge of a Squadron of the 9th Lancers, under Lieutenant Wilkinson, detached for this object from the rest of the Corps by Captain Anson, who moved in support.

After this our Troops being well in hand, moved to an organized attack, and drove off the Enemy, capturing their Guns in different places until their Camp was reached, whence the Enemy, being in full retreat, were pursued by the Artillery and Cavalry as far as the Kharee Nuddee, ten miles, capturing Baggage, the remainder of their Guns, killing many, and entirely dispersing the whole Force. The Irregular Cavalry made a most dashing charge at a Regiment of Infantry, drawn up to cover three heavy Guns. They drove them away, cut up a number, and took the Guns.

Their intended surprise of our Troops turned out evidently a surprise to themselves, as they could not have calculated on the presence of Brigadier Greathed's Column. Guns, Ammunition, Stores, and Standing Camp, all fell into our hands. The victory was complete.

On the 14th the Column re-crossed the Jumna, and proceeded by the Mynpoorie road towards Cawnpore.

Having been appointed to the Command, I was enabled, after some difficulty, accompanied by my Brigade Major, Captain Hamilton, to join the Force on the 18th October.

The Column moved on by forced marches, and arrived near Kanouj on the 22nd, when information reached me that a small Force of the Enemy, with 4 Guns, had that morning left the Town with the purpose of crossing the Kali Nuddee, about two miles off. I immediately ordered off one Squadron 9th Lancers, with Watson's, Probyn's, and Younghusband's Squadrons, with 2 Guns, the whole under Major Ouvry's Command, myself following in support with another Squadron of the 9th Lancers and 2 other Guns. Major Ouvry came up with them, attempting to cross the Nuddee. The Enemy opened fire, which was quickly replied to and silenced, and their Guns taken. Major Ouvry had most successfully and with his usual gallantry, attacked them in a position where little resistance could be made. The Cavalry after this pursued them to the banks of the Ganges, executing great slaughter among them, and finally driving them into the river, in which several were drowned.

The Column pursued its march to Cawnpore, where it arrived on the 26th October, crossed the Ganges into Oude, and was engaged at Banterah on the 2nd November. In this skirmish the Cavalry and Horse Artillery endeavoured to come to close combat with the Enemy; but they would not stand; a 9-Pounder Gun was, however, captured.

His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief shortly after assumed Command of the Troops in the Field, and the career and conduct of the Cavalry since have been under his own observation. I must, however, before closing this Report, beg permission to bring prominently forward, for His Excellency's consideration, the names of four very gallant young Officers, whose acts of bravery may, I trust, be deemed by the Commander-in-Chief such as to merit his recommending the bestowal of the Victoria Cross.

These Officers are Lieutenant Blair, 2nd Dragoon Guards, and Lieutenant Jones, 9th Lancers. The particular instances of acts of bravery on their part I have already mentioned. The other two are Captain Probyn, of the 2nd, and Lieutenant Watson, of the 1st Punjaub Cavalry. Captain Probyn has been distinguished for gallantry and daring throughout this Campaign. At the battle of Agra, when his Squadron charged the Rebel Infantry, he was some time separated from his men and surrounded by five or six Sepoys. He defended himself from the various cuts made at him, and before his own men joined him had cut down two of his assailants. At another time, in single combat with a Sepoy, he was wounded in the wrist by the bayonet and his horse also slightly wounded; but, though the Sepoy fought desperately, he cut him down. The same day he singled out a standard bearer, and in the presence of a number of the Enemy killed him and captured the standard. These are only a few of the gallant deeds of this brave young Officer. Skilful in the use of his sword and spear, and an excellent horseman, his active courage and coolness in conflict have borne him safely through many combats.

Lieutenant Watson, on the 14th November, with his own Squadron, and that under Captain (then Lieutenant) Probyn, came upon a body of the Rebel Cavalry. The Ressaldar in Command of them,—a fine specimen of the Hindustani Mussulman,—and backed up by some half dozen equally brave men,—rode out to the front. Lieutenant Watson singled out this fine-looking fellow and attacked him. The Ressaldar presented his pistol at Lieutenant Watson's breast, at a yard's distance, and fired; but most providentially without effect; the ball must, by accident, have previously fallen out. Lieutenant Watson ran the man through with his sword and dismounted him; but the Native Officer, nothing daunted, drew his tulwar, and with his Sowars renewed his attack upon Lieutenant Watson, who bravely defended himself until his own men joined in the melee and utterly routed the party. In this rencontre Lieutenant Watson received a blow on the head from a tulwar, another on his left arm which severed his chain gauntlet glove, a tulwar cut on his right arm which fortunately only divided the sleeve of his jacket, but disabled the arm for some time; a bullet also passed through his coat, and he received a blow on his leg which lamed him for some days afterwards. His charger too was grazed by a bullet. On many other occasions, his good sword, wielded by a strong arm, directed by a brave heart and cool head, has laid low many an opponent in fair combat.

Nothing could have exceeded in gallantry and daring the conduct of all the four Officers whom I have thus prominently brought to notice.

I beg also to mention the excellent service and assistance I have on all occasions received from my Brigade Major (now Deputy Assistant Adjutant General of Division) Captain W. Hamilton, 9th Lancers, throughout the whole campaign. His exertions have been unceasing. He is brave, cool and collected in action, and at all times unremitting in attention to his duties, from which, in spite of the severity of the hot season and rains upon the constitution of so many, he was never day or night absent when called upon.

My Aide-de-Camp also, Captain the Honorable A. Anson, I wish to bring particularly to the favorable notice of His Excellency. His conduct has been most praiseworthy throughout the whole campaign. Animated by a most soldier-like spirit, active and intelligent, I have found him a most useful aid, and on all occasions my orders have been delivered with precision; and his own gallantry and bravery have been universally remarked upon. He was wounded at the assault of Delhi by a musket ball in the hand; but has, I am happy to say, some time since recovered and returned to his duty.

In conclusion I desire to express my obligation to the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of both European and Native Cavalry under my Command for their excellent conduct and ready obedience under all circumstances. Their qualities as Soldiers have been fully tested by exposure to hardships during all seasons of the year in this trying climate, and by all other vicissitudes of a Soldier's career, and in no instance have they failed to fulfil their duty, and deserve my highest commendations.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

J. Hope Grant, Brigadier-General,

Commanding Field Force,

Late Comdg. Cavalry Brigade.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

The Commander in Chief is pleased to notify, for general information, that all mares which have been or may be selected by officers, with the sanction of Government, from the remounts as chargers, are to be considered on the same footing as chargers selected by officers of corps, in so far that if after the present exigency is over, they shall be considered fit for the breeding districts, they are liable to be recalled for that purpose.

2. The price fixed by Government for each mare is rupees 500, and this sum, less a proportionate deduction for the period the animal may have been in use, will be returned to the officer, in the event of the mare being recalled for breeding purposes.

Unposted Ensign J. Finnis, doing duty with Her Majesty's 35th regiment, is appointed to do duty with the 6th foot, in Fort William, and directed to join.

The undermentioned unposted officers are appointed to do duty with the corps specified opposite their names, and directed to proceed and join :

Cornet S. R. Carnac,	Her Majesty's 7th Hussars.
Ensign A. J. Wallace,	Her Majesty's 53d foot.
" A. England,	Her Majesty's 53d foot.

The following orders are, with the sanction of Government, confirmed :

Oude field force order dated the 9th of August 1857, appointing Lieutenant W. A. Battine, of the 43d native infantry, to be Bazar Master to the force.

Oude field force order dated the 27th of September, appointing Surgeon C. Scott, M. D., of Her Majesty's 32d foot, to be Superintending Surgeon of the force.

Note.—The confirmation of the field force order of the 3d July, similarly appointing Surgeon Scott, in G. O. of the 31st December, is to be considered as with the sanction of Government also.

Umballah brigade order dated 11th November, authorizing entertainment of a chowkeydar for the protection of a barrack in the European infantry lines at Umballah, with effect from the 9th idem.

By Major General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., commanding 1st division of the Army in the field, dated 28th November, appointing Assistant Surgeon J. B. Collison to be medical Storekeeper to the division.

The following orders are confirmed :

By Lieutenant Colonel J. G. S. Neill, commanding the 1st Madras fusiliers, dated 27th May 1857, directing Assistant Apothecary J. P. D'Silva to afford medical aid to a detachment of the corps proceeding from Calcutta by steam to Allahabad.

Meerut division order dated 23d November, directing Cornet F. Trench, of the 7th light cavalry, to do duty temporarily with "Hodson's Horse."

By Brevet Colonel J. K. McCausland, commanding in Kemaoon, dated 27th December, placing Quarter Master Sergeant J. Nolan, of the 29th regiment native infantry, at the disposal of the Commissioner, for duty with the Kemaoon infantry levies.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 1st March 1858.

BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

CAMP, ALLAHABAD, THE 12TH FEBRUARY 1858.

THE Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India is pleased to make the following promotions:—

Ordnance Commissariat Department.

Captain G. E. Voyle, Commissary of Ordnance Second Class, to be Commissary of Ordnance First Class, vice Captain H. Lewis, appointed Principal Commissary of Ordnance.

Lieutenant T. Nichol, Deputy Commissary of Ordnance, to be Commissary of Ordnance Second Class, vice Captain G. E. Voyle, promoted.

The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India is pleased to publish, for general information, the following Despatch from Lieutenant-Colonel P. V. Maxwell, C. B., 88th Regiment, dated 4th February 1858:—

FROM

LIEUT.-COL. P. V. MAXWELL, C. B.,
88th Regiment,
Commanding Detachment,

To

BRIGADIER J. E. W. INGLIS,
Commanding at Cawnpore.

Camp, Bhogneepore, 4th February 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report that the Enemy from Calpee attacked our position at 5 o'Clock this morning. From the nature of the ground, which is much broken, and from the cover afforded by the crops, which are high, it is impossible to compute their numbers; but from the extent of ground which they occupied, they must have been in considerable force.

I advanced with 5 Companies of the 88th Regiment, 2 Guns of Royal Artillery (9-Pounders) under Captain Talbot, and 50 Sowars under Lieutenant Thompson. We defeated the Enemy, and had a running fight of four hours. They disputed every inch of the ground, making a stand at Chowra, a village three miles from this place. We pursued them as long as possible, and they retreated across the river, keeping up the fire of their Skirmishers to the very last.

I am happy to say my casualties are but few. Lieutenant Thompson, Commanding the Sowars, was severely wounded in the leg, and his horse was twice wounded; 3 Sowars are wounded (slightly), 1 Private, 88th Regiment, dangerously wounded; 1 Private, 88th Regiment, slightly wounded.

About 80 dead bodies of the Enemy were counted by my Officers,—all Sepoys.

Where all behaved well it is difficult to particularise; but I think it due to Major the Hon'ble J. J. Bourke, to bear testimony to the gallant and able manner in which he led on the Skirmishers, and drove the Enemy out of the village of Chowra.

Forwarded, by order of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

(Signed) H. W. NORMAN, Major,
Depy. Adjt. Genl. of the Army.

TO COLONEL R. J. H. BIRCH, B. C.,
Secy. to the Govt. of India
in the Mily. Dept.,
Allahabad.

Camp, Allahabad, 15th February 1858.

The Right Hon'ble the Governor General has great satisfaction in publishing, for general information, the subjoined Despatch from the Governor General's Agent in Central India, dated the 3rd Instant, reporting the relief of the Fortress of Saugor by the Force under the Command of Major General Sir Hugh Rose, K. C. B.

The Governor General desires to record publicly his acknowledgment of the courage and constancy with which Brigadier Sage has, with a small and inadequate Garrison, held the Fort of Saugor during upwards of seven months under trying circumstances; and of the bravery and exemplary endurance with which the Brigadier has been, throughout that period, so well supported by the Officers and Men of the 1st Company, 3rd Battalion of Artillery, by those of the 31st Regiment N. I., by the Officers and some of the Men of the 42nd Regiment N. I., and the 3rd Irregular Cavalry, as well as by the Officers of the several Departments of the Staff and the Civil Establishments.

No. 36 of 1858.

FROM

SIR ROBERT HAMILTON, Baronet,
Agent to the G. G. for Central India,

To

G. F. EDMONSTONE, ESQ.,
Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Fort William.

INDORE RESIDENCY;
Camp, Saugor, 3rd February 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE much satisfaction in reporting, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, that the second Division of the Central India Force, under the Command of Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, K. C. B., relieved Saugor this morning, emancipated the Officers and Men with their families, who had for seven months been confined to the Fort, and enabled them to return and occupy their barracks and residences in the Cantonments.

Men	173
Women	67
Children	130
	370
Add 1 Woman omitted	1
Total	371

2. I have the honor to annex a list of European British subjects in, and not in, the Government Service, who have thus been relieved from all peril after an anxious and trying confinement in a Fort, during the most inclement months of the year,* little adapted for the residence of Europeans, without much more than bare necessaries, and deprived of the ordinary conveniences and comforts which are absolutely necessary in this country.

* 29th June 1857 to 3rd February 1858.

3. The mortality during this period has amounted to twenty-two: of these some were from cholera and small pox,—which terrible diseases broke out in the Fort.

4. As we approached the Town, I may say the whole native population, in addition to the Europeans (Ladies and all), came out to welcome the Column, whose arrival spread the greatest joy and confidence amongst all classes.

5. On its march from Raatghur no opposition was encountered; but on the 31st Ultimo, information was brought to me that the Rebels had collected in some force beyond Jilla, about twelve miles from our Camp at Raatghur towards Korye. I immediately communicated the same to Sir Hugh Rose, who at once arranged to attack them. The result was very successful: the Rebels were driven with much loss from their strong position in the village of Burodia, and for some distance across the river; and they evacuated Korye (which has been occupied by some of the Regent of Bhopal's Troops) as well as Nuriaoli and Bhoplye, two positions from whence they had threatened and molested Saugor, stopping all communication by the direct road viâ Bhopal and Sehore to Indore and Mhow.

6. I trust I may be permitted to offer my congratulations to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, on this relief of the last remaining station, wherein our country-women and so many children had been beleaguered. The Officers of the Native Corps, the Civil Establishments, and the Europeans of the Company of Artillery who have so long held the Fort of Saugor, have well performed their duty, and their conduct will, I am sure, receive the approbation of His Lordship in Council. Cut off from all communication, and with the knowledge that succour could not be sent them for many weeks, they have nobly maintained the character of their country, and added another to the many instances of devotion and firmness which the Sepoy mutinies have elicited.

7. I have appended a Nominal Roll of the Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of the 1st Company 3rd Battalion of Bengal Artillery, who were in the Fort of Saugor.

8. Brigadier Sage resigned the Command yesterday before our arrival, Brigadier Wheler having taken the Command of the Division. He is expected here in a couple of days.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) R. N. C. HAMILTON,

Agent G. G., Central India.

SIR,

IN continuation of my letter, No. 139, of the 5th Instant, I have the honor to report, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, that after pushing forward the 2nd Brigade to Bilwa Bagaur in support of the leading one, as the Enemy was showing a boldness and insolence likely to prove troublesome, Captain Plowden, whom I had entrusted with discretionary power, and whose advice the Maharajah had directed his Officers to follow, resolved to move out and attack the Enemy at Shahgunge.

2. I have the honor to enclose Captain Plowden's account of the very creditable affair which ensued, and which His Lordship in Council will observe was successful, but not decisive, as far as the destruction of the Enemy's Force or the capture of his Guns was concerned, owing to our want of Cavalry and the inability of the Goorkhas to overtake the flying Enemy. It is to be hoped, however, that the lesson given the Enemy, despite his superiority of numbers, may break up the motley force which threatened the Goruckpore District on the advance of the Maharajah into Oudh.

3. I would call the particular attention of His Lordship in Council to that Para. of Captain Plowden's Despatch in which he makes honorable mention of the Goorkha Brigadiers, Run Sing and Jodabeer Adhikaree, who displayed great coolness and courage, and a generous confidence in Captain Plowden's advice; also the zealous ability of the Nepaulese Artillery Officers, especially of Colonel Jusdheer Sing, Major Ingbeer Kooner, and Captains Indeer Beer Lama and Maun Bahadoor. The effective way in which these Officers handled their Guns, decided the day before the Infantry could close.

4. It is also my pleasing duty to bring to the notice of His Lordship in Council the services of Captain Plowden, whose plan of action was well conceived and ably carried out. He appears to have done all he could with the means at his disposal. Captains McNeill and Holland, of the Artillery, and Lieutenants Foote and Cory, of the Infantry, and Messrs. Brereton and Forbes, of the Civil Service, rendered good service, and merit my thanks.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

Camp, Bilwa Ghat, 6th February 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of Brigadier General MacGregor, C. B., particulars of an attack made upon the Enemy yesterday by a division of the Goorkha Force under my charge, and which, I am happy to say, resulted in the dispersion of his Force, which amounted to not less than 10,000 men with 8 or 10 Guns.

The Enemy having had the boldness to take up a position within three miles of our Camp, and seize our Camp-followers, I deemed it necessary to attack him.

Having made the necessary arrangements for the protection of our Camp during our absence, I marched yesterday morning with the Force named in the margin towards the Enemy's position at Shahgunge. On arriving within a mile of the latter place, I observed the Enemy in great force occupying a space of two miles in length. There gave directions for the Force to deploy; five Regiments in line, and one on either flank in reserve in open column of Companies to provide against an attack from the right or left. Four Guns were placed in the centre and three on each flank. In this order we advanced for nearly half a mile, covered by Skirmishers. The Enemy simultaneously advanced to meet us, at the same time filing off in masses to our right and left, believing that he might possibly attack our flanks and rear. I halted the line. When he approached within 500 yards, Captain McNeill opened his Battery on his right with most accurate precision, the shells bursting immediately over the Rebels, causing them at once to make a rapid retreat, and seek shelter in villages on their right and left. They were soon driven out of these by the well directed fire of the Batteries under the superintendence of Captains McNeill and Holland, a shell from the former having set one of the villages on fire. After this the Force continued its advance as far as the village of Shahgunge, driving the Rebels before it, who retreated with such rapidity that they were in a short time out of Gun range.

3 Light Field Howitzers,	Artillery.
2 Light Field Guns,
7 Regiments,	Infantry.
Total aggregate of Force..	3,200

During the whole of our advance we were threatened on both flanks by large bodies of Sowars and Infantry. Our left was within a short distance of the river, and opposite to the town of Adjoodeeah, from which place preparations were making for re-inforcing the Rebels with Guns and Cavalry. Knowing this to be the case, I was obliged to be cautious in advancing, and the Enemy was enabled to make off with his Guns, which, however, during the latter part of the action, were never brought nearer to us than 1,000 yards. In his retreat the Enemy abandoned the limber of a light field piece with ammunition, and which was brought into Camp. I was much struck with the steady advance of our line over a most unfavorable country, having to pass a succession of villages surrounded by fields in an advanced state of cultivation, which much impeded the rapidity of our progress. Our casualties were trifling,—one killed and one wounded,—while that of the Enemy was not less than 50. Some of the killed and wounded they carried off. Amongst the latter was Bami Sing, one of their Chiefs. In conclusion I have to record the services of Brigadier Run Sing and Jodabeer Adhikaree, who both displayed great coolness and courage and generous confidence in my advice. Captains McNeill and Holland have brought to my notice the deserving conduct of Colonel Jusdheer Sing, Major Jugbeer Kooner, and Captains Indeer Beer Lama and Maun Bahadoor, of the Artillery. I also beg to recognize the meritorious services of the several Colonels Commanding the different Infantry Regiments, while the conduct of the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of all branches deserve their high reputation for courage, and merit the gracious approbation of His Highness the Maharajah. My best thanks are due to the European Officers attached to this Force for the support I received from one and all in the field. I beg to mention for favorable notice Captain McNeill, who had charge of the Artillery; Captain Holland, in charge of Brigadier Jodabeer Adhikaree's Brigade, and who also superintended the Battery on the left. The precision with which the Guns were fired elicited the admiration of all. My special thanks are due to Lieutenant Foote, who, besides attending to the duties of Run Sing's Brigade, displayed great activity during the day, and afforded me much assistance in conveying messages.

Lieutenant Cory also did good service with the Brigade to which he was attached.

Surgeons McCleland and Chalmers, and Assistant Surgeon Gee, accompanied the Force.

I cannot conclude without offering my best thanks to Messrs. Brereton and Forbes, of the Civil Service, who accompanied me in the Field, and rendered valuable assistance. The former with his Sowars reconnoitred in every direction where danger was apprehended, and brought me information of the approach of the Enemy on our flanks. Mr. Forbes was active in conveying messages. Mr. Brereton's Sowars have done excellent service, having been employed night and day in patrolling and watching the Ghauts, and have been constantly under fire.

Annexed is the Report from Captain McNeill, in charge of the Artillery attached to this Division.

In Military Charge of a Division of the Goorkha Force.

Camp, Bilwa, 6th February 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to submit, for your consideration, the following details of the part taken in the affair of yesterday, by the Nepaulese Batteries attached to this Division of the Goorkha Force.

2. In conformity with your plan of attack, submitted on the night of the 4th Instant for the approval of Brigadier Run Sing, and so successfully carried out on the following morning, I beg to state that two Guns having been left behind for the protection of the Camp, the remaining ten accompanied your Force, of which a Battery of three Guns were posted in advance of each wing of the Infantry line, while a Battery of four Guns covered the advance of the centre.

3. By this disposition, both our flanks were secured from the attempt of a numerous Cavalry to gain our rear, while a very heavy converging fire was available to break the Enemy's centre.

4. Our Guns first opened fire at a distance of about 4 or 500 yards; but the rapid retreat of the Rebels only permitted them, in a second advance, to come into action when about 8 or 900 yards distant from their opponents.

5. I observed with great satisfaction the precision and effect of the fire of the Nepaulese Artillery, as also the zealous ability of their Officers, especially of Colonel Indheer Sing, Major Jugbeer Kooner, and Captain Indheer Beer Lama and Maun Bahadoor.

Sir,

I have the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward, in original, a letter from Major-General N. Penny, C. B., Commanding the Delhi Field Force, No. 1729, of the 22nd Ultimo, (which, owing to the direct dawk communications being closed, was sent by a circuitous route, and has only now reached Head Quarters,) enclosing copies of two Reports, dated the 15th and 18th Idem, from Lieutenant-Colonel T. Seaton, C. B., Commanding a Moveable Column, of two actions fought by the Troops under his orders, in both of which his Force achieved decisive successes.

2. His Excellency is desirous of expressing his unqualified approbation of the manner in which these affairs were conducted, and of the behaviour of the Officers and Troops engaged; but he deeply laments the loss of three brave Officers of the Cara-bineers,—Captain Wardlaw, Lieutenants Hudson and Vyse—in the brilliant and successful charge made by the Detachment of this Regiment under Captain Wardlaw's Command, and a party of the 9th Lancers under Captain Head, who was dangerously wounded.

FROM

LIEUT.-COLONEL SEATON,

To

CAPTAIN STEWART,
Depy. Asst. Adjt. General.

Camp, Khasgunge, 15th December 1857.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of Major-General Penny, C. B., Commanding Delhi Field Force, that I reached Gungeree, with the Column under my Command, on the 15th Instant, where I found Lieutenant-Colonel Farquhar with his Detachment as per margin.

2 6-Pounder Guns.
200 Affghan Horse.
300 Belooch Battalion.

Immediately after encamping I sent a party of Horse, under Captain Hodson, to reconnoitre the road in the direction of Khasgunge as far as Bilram, a village within four miles of that town. Shortly after the party set out, Captain Light, my Orderly Officer, returned with information that the party had discovered the Enemy's Horse advancing at some distance towards our flanks, and presently Captain Hodson himself brought intelligence that the Enemy was approaching in force.

I had kept the Dragoon Horses saddled, so the Troop speedily mounted and moved out in support of the reconnoitering party that was showing front to the Enemy. In the mean time the line turned out. The Troop Horse Artillery, under Captain Bishop, came to the front, speedily followed by 2 Guns under Lieut. Griffin.

As the Enemy's Infantry and Artillery were now plainly visible, I directed Lieut.-Col. Kinleside to move forward with the Artillery and engage the Enemy in order to check their advance and give time for the Infantry to disengage itself from the mass of ravines in front and form up.

The Artillery engaged in the most gallant style; but as the Enemy's Horse continued to advance, taking ground to the left apparently with the intention of cutting off the Troop Horse Artillery, I called up the Dragoon in support, and directed Captain Wardlaw, Commanding, to charge the Enemy if a favorable opportunity offered.

In the mean time the whole Force moved out and were formed up by Lieut.-Col. Farquhar, of the Belooch Battalion, and Captain Hodson, seeing the Enemy's Horse advancing still against our left, anticipated the order I sent him, and moved up with his whole Regiment. The Enemy's fire now began to slacken, and Captain Wardlaw, seeing his opportunity, charged with the Carabineers and Lancers and captured 2 Guns, whilst Captain Hodson, advancing immediately against the Enemy's right, they were driven in utter confusion from the field, hotly pursued by our Cavalry and Artillery.

The Enemy were completely and utterly routed; they abandoned their last Gun and two Ammunition Waggons, and numbers of their Infantry threw away their arms, and hid themselves in the fields, or continued their headlong flight over the Country. Numbers were shot in the fields, and many, rendered desperate by their situation, defended themselves fiercely and were killed.

The Enemy had evidently not expected to meet any Force, except the small Detachment under Colonel Farquhar; they were therefore astounded by the fire of so many Guns, and by the appearance, on their right, of the large body of Horse under Captain Hodson, so that when charged by Captain Wardlaw, they were instantly routed, and I was unable consequently to bring the Infantry into action; but their presence near at hand enabled me with confidence to order the Cavalry and Artillery to continue the pursuit of the Enemy for several miles, and with great effect.

From my own observation, and the report of others, I estimate the loss of the Enemy as over 200 killed, and as we subsequently learnt, numbers crept away wounded and died.

My own loss was in the Cavalry solely, and amounted to 48. Of these 22 are slightly wounded; but I deeply regret to report the death of that good and gallant Soldier, Captain Wardlaw; his brave brothers in arms, Captain Hudson and Lieut. Vyse, of the 6th Carabineers; and also the severe wound of Captain Head, who Commanded the Detachment 9th Lancers.

The charge executed by the Carabineers and Lancers, led by Captain Wardlaw, was so truly dashing and brilliant, that I could not do otherwise than make most prominent mention of it, and I am sure the Major-General will regret, as deeply as myself, that he and his gallant comrades were not spared to serve their Country on future occasions.

The General will see by the list of Casualties that Captain Hodson's newly raised body of Horse was not at all backward. It rendered excellent service, less it could not do under its distinguished Commander, whom I beg particularly to mention to the Major-General as having, on every possible occasion, rendered me the most effective service, whether in gaining information, reconnoitering the Country, or leading his Regiment.

The Troop of Horse Artillery, under Captain Bishop, and the 2 Guns, under Lieutenant Griffin, the whole Commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Kinleside, mainly contributed to the defeat of the Enemy, and the Major General will duly appreciate their coolness and skill. I received the most efficient aid from my Brigade Major, Captain French, and from my Orderly Officer, Captain Light, of the Artillery, who conveyed my order to the Dragoons to charge, and went in with them, and I may say I never saw greater zeal and alacrity displayed than by the Officers who accompanied me to the Field either as Field Engineers or as Volunteers. I could almost regret the Enemy did not make a greater show of resistance.

TO

CAPTAIN STEWART,
Depy. Asst. Adjutant General.

Camp, Puttiallee, 18th December 1857.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of the Major-General Commanding Delhi Field Force, that I marched with the Force, as per margin, from Suhawur, at daylight yesterday.

ARTILLERY.
2 18-Pounder Guns.
1 8½ " Howitzer.
6 9 " H. A.
2 6 " Ditto.

CAVALRY.
1st Troop 6th Carabineers.
Detachment 9th Lancers.
Hodson's Horse.

INFANTRY.
1st Bengal Fusiliers.
100 3rd Europeans.
2 Cos. Sappers.

Having reason to believe the Enemy might be at Puttiallee, I strengthened my Advance Guard with Cavalry and 2 Horse Artillery Guns, whilst Captain Hodson went forward with a large party of his Regiment, throwing out reconnoitering parties on each flank, so as to give timely notice and prevent all chance of a surprise.

Soon after the Column had cleared the village of Serai Nawabgunge, about four miles West of this place, I received intimation from Captain Hodson that the Enemy's videttes were close in his front, had fired on his party, and retired slowly as he advanced. I immediately sent on the two Horse Artillery Guns attached to the Advance Guard under Lieutenant Deroin to join Captain Hodson, at the same time forming the Infantry up in quarter distance Columns at deploying distance to the right of the road, with Guns on each flank, and the whole of my Cavalry on my extreme right.

Having sent orders to Captain Hodson not to engage the Enemy further, I took the opportunity of serving out the bread and grog to the men, thus allowing time for the heavy Guns, under Lieutenant Gillespie, to arrive. By this time the Enemy had opened fire from 3 Guns at Captain Hodson's party, unreplied to by us until I had got my Infantry near enough to act effectively should the Enemy stand. I now directed Lieutenant-Colonel Kinleside to bring his Artillery into action, which was at once and most effectually done.

Four Horse Artillery Guns, under Lieutenants Deroin and Griffin, dashed to our immediate front, whilst 4 more, under Lieutenant Bishop, taking a detour to the right and wheeling into line, took the Enemy in flank. The Enemy, mean time, had shown his strength, and opened 11 Guns, some of heavy calibre, upon us. By this time the Infantry and heavy Guns topped the rise which had previously hidden them, and the sun being to the back of the foe, shone directly on us, exposing a front so formidable as to deprive him of all further courage to resist. His fire slackened, and at last ceased altogether, and the Horse Artillery limbering up, charged, with some of Hodson's Horse, right into the Enemy's Camp, capturing several Guns in position, all the Camp, Magazine, &c., and cutting down numbers of the Gunners.

My object in keeping so large a body of my Cavalry on my right was now attained, as instead of going through the Town, and being checked by the numbers of enclosures, gardens, &c., which extend for more than a mile to its East, they went round, and thus came into the open plain beyond, on more even terms with the Enemy. Colonel Kinleside got quickly through the Town, and joining the Cavalry beyond, carried on the pursuit with them. This was kept up for seven miles. The Enemy were cut down on all sides, whilst many were drowned in endeavouring to cross the jheels of the Boor Gungha to our left, or shot in the water. Several Guns, Tumbrills, &c., were taken in this pursuit.

Meantime directing Captain Stafford with his Regiment to take charge of the Enemy's Camp and the captured Guns, I requested Major Eld to skirmish through the gardens with the Infantry. This was most efficiently performed, and numbers of the Enemy killed.

In this engagement 12 Guns and many Tumbrills were captured, a list of which I have the honor to enclose, and I estimate the loss of the Enemy to be over 700 killed. I might with safety estimate their loss much higher.

My own loss, as the Major-General will perceive from the accompanying Return, was most trifling.

In this, as in the late affair at Gungeree, the Artillery and Cavalry were principally engaged, and in fact the action was fought by them. I cannot speak too highly in their praise, and I beg to mention to the Major-General, Colonel Kinleside, who Commanded the whole of the Artillery, and Lieutenants Bishop, Deroin, and Griffin, who served under him.

To Lieutenant Russell, who Commanded the Dragoons, and his brave comrades, my thanks are specially due for their gallantry in action, and the vigour of their pursuit.

After the action at Gungeree I specially mentioned Captain Hodson and his Regiment. I can but repeat what I then said, and beg that the Major-General will be good enough to bring this Officer, and his great and important services, to the special notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief. The Infantry had no opportunity of coming in contact with the Enemy; but I must beg to mention to the Major-General that on all occasions I have met with the most zealous and efficient support from that good Officer, Major Eld, who on this occasion took Command of the line.

From my Staff Officers, Captain French and Captain Light, I received all that active and zealous assistance I expected from two such efficient Officers. They shared in the pursuit of the Enemy, and I must not omit to mention how much obliged I felt to Captains Taylor and Greathed, who went forward with Captain Hodson to reconnoitre the Enemy's position, protected by a party of Hodson's Horse under Lieutenant McDoughall, to whom my thanks are due.

FORT WILLIAM, 26TH FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 342 of 1858.——The following orders issued by the Government of Bombay are confirmed:

Granting leave of absence to Europe, on medical certificate, to the undermentioned officers:

No. 137, dated 30*th January* 1858.—Captain Joseph Chambers, of the 21st regiment native infantry,	For 3 years, under the old regulations.
No. 138, dated 30*th January* 1858.—Assistant Surgeon Archibald Alexander Duncan, M. B., of the medical department,	For 18 months, under the new regulations.
No. 145, dated 2*d February* 1858.—Major Reginald Edward Knatchbull, of the regiment of artillery,	For 18 months, under the new regulations.
Captain and Brevet Major Henry Alan Olpherts, of the regiment of artillery,	For 15 months, under the new regulations.
No. 158, dated 3*d February* 1858.—Lieutenant George Henry Basevi, of the 27th regiment native infantry,	For 3 years, under the old regulations.
No. 157, dated 3*d February* 1858.—Lieutenant Hugh Trevor Pollock, of the 35th regiment native infantry,	For 18 months, under the new regulations.

No. 343 of 1858.——Lieutenant J. S. Tulloh, of the regiment of artillery, attached to the late Oude irregular force, is allowed leave of absence from the 5th February to the 5th June 1858, to visit Bombay, preparatory to applying for leave of absence, on sick certificate, to Europe, under the new regulations.

No. 344 of 1858.——Erratum—In the despatch from Captain Caulfield to the address of the Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, dated 18th November 1857, published in Government General Order No. 70, of the 15th January 1858, for Captain Osborn, "54th" native infantry, read Captain Osborn, 45th native infantry, as orderly officer. Order books to be corrected accordingly.

No. 345 of 1858.——The Honorable the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to promote Havildar Punchum Sing, and Naick Pauch Kowree, of the 20th regiment native infantry, to the rank of Jemadar and Havildar, respectively, from the 10th May 1857, in consideration of their having saved the life of a British Officer.

No. 346 of 1858.——The Honorable the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct that the name of Assistant Surgeon Robert Bird, M. D., be added to the nominal list of officers attached to the artillery of the garrison of Lucknow, published in Government General Order No. 1665, of the 30th December 1857, and that it be inserted after that of Lieutenant Cunliffe.

No. 347 of 1858.——In continuation of Government General Order No. 1116, of the 3d September 1857, the following extract of a resolution passed in the Foreign department, under date the 8th instant, is published in General Orders:

"Resolution.—With reference to a question having arisen as to "whether the Rule* of the Financial department, that Civil servants are to receive full salary only up to the end of September, should be held applicable to the members of the Lucknow garrison at all," it appears to the President in Council that it would be equitable to exempt the whole garrison from the operation of the rule, or at least so to modify it in their case, as that it shall not have effect until the date on which the members of the garrison, having been relieved by the Commander in Chief, reached Cawnpore. His Honor in Council observes that the officers and others who were shut up in Lucknow, though their proper duties may have ceased, still continued to serve the Government in a quasi-military capacity. Their labors were as arduous, their privations much greater, than if they had been engaged in their ordinary duties, and under the peculiar circumstances of the case, it is but simple justice to permit all of them to draw the full salaries of their respective appointments until the end of November last, on the last day of which they arrived at Cawnpore."

GENERAL ORDERS

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF,

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 8th March 1858.

BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

FORT WILLIAM, 1ST MARCH 1858.

No. 354 of 1858.——The following notification from the Foreign department with the Right Honorable the Governor General, is published in General Orders:

No. 150.

Camp, Allahabad, the 22d February 1858.

The Right Honorable the Governor General has been pleased to direct that the following letters from Lieutenant Colonel Hinde, commanding the Rewah and Nagode forces, and from Lieutenant Osborne, Political Agent at Rewah, reporting the operations of the troops under the command of the former officer, be published for general information.

His Lordship considers that the excellent services rendered by Lieutenant Colonel Hinde and Lieutenant Osborne, and by the several Sirdars and men of the forces belonging to the Rajahs of Rewah and Nagode, are deserving of the high commendation of the Government of India:

No. 174.

From

THE POLITICAL AGENT, REWAH,

To

COLONEL BIRCH, C. B.,

Military Secretary to Government of India.

Camp, Jokye, the 12th February 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of Government, that I purpose marching the Rewah troops back to their own territory. The objects for which they were required have been attained.

The force consists of Rewah and Nagode troops without any discipline and badly equipped, and the Rewah Levies under Colonel Hinde, also badly armed. The troops went into camp on the 14th November, but owing to want of system and the delays consequent on any move in a Native State, hardly anything was done till the 14th December, since which time 6 forts, 40 guns, 2 mortars, and 2 standards have been captured, the Deccan road has been opened, dawk and police chowkies have been re-established, order restored in the Myhere territory, the Bijeeragooghar territory annexed, Tehsildars and police appointed in it, and 101 prisoners taken, have been sentenced to death, and forwarded to the nearest military out-post to be executed.

I cannot speak too highly of the services rendered by Colonel Hinde and his officers. The discipline, coolness under fire, cheerfulness and zeal of the men, and their admirable artillery practice, reflect the greatest credit on Colonel Hinde and his officers. They led the way on every occasion, and their battery was always the most advanced. Lieutenant Matthias, with his Enfield rifle and his skirmishers, was of great service, frequently preventing the enemy working his guns.

Among the Raja's Sirdars—Dinbund Pandy, in chief command Rewah troops, Lullaie Singh, and Sewgobind Pandy, in chief command Nagode troops, Davy Sing, and Bissesshur Singh, have distinguished themselves.

Dinbund Pandy I have found active and zealous, always leading his men, and he has done his work well, though he has had many difficulties to overcome which have been thrown in his way by the unruly Sirdars.

Lullaie Sing and Sewgobind Pandy have given me satisfaction, and have invariably been willing and zealous. Davy Sing—this Sirdar was instrumental in saving the life of one of the officers or myself, as a prisoner behind us, who had contrived to conceal a sword, made a cut which was fortunately warded off by this Sirdar, whose sword however unfortunately broke, and he was severely wounded on the head.

Bissesshur Sing—this Sirdar has been with me since the outbreak in October, remaining constantly by me. I have found him of great service.

My best thanks are due to Colonel Hinde, being in a bad state of health, and his every zeal and activity have been of the greatest assistance to me.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) W. Osborne, Political Agent.

From

Lieutenant Colonel Hinde,
Commanding Rewah Forces,

To

Colonel Birch, C. B.,
Military Secretary to Government.

Sir, Camp, Bijeeragooghar, 10*th February* 1858.

I have the honor to report, for the information of Government, that, in obedience to Captain Osborne, the Political Agent's orders, I left Rewah with the Levies under my command on the 14th of December, to open the Jubbulpore road and to attack the enemy's forts on the way.

In conjunction with His Highness the Maha Rajah of Rewah's troops, together with the Nagode Rajah, I have much pleasure in informing the Government that we took the Forts of Kunchunpore, Goonah, Myhere, Jokai, Khunwara, and Bijeeragooghar.

We captured 2 standards, 42 pieces of ordnance, and a quantity of Government muskets, with large stores of grain and ammunition, and very many prisoners, amongst whom are many Sirdars of note.

I take this opportunity of recording my sincere thanks to Lieutenant Matthias, my second in command, who has rendered me much valuable assistance throughout the campaign, and especially for the gallant manner in which he in several instances kept down the enemy's fire by a well-directed fire of rifles and musketry. My best thanks are also due to Mr Kirke, my Interpreter, for his assistance afforded me.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) Chas. Hinde, Lieut. Colonel,
Commanding Rewah Forces.

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF,

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 9th March 1858.

BY THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

CAMP, ALLAHABAD, 19TH FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 10 of 1858.——The services of Assistant Surgeon R. T. Abbott, M. D., are placed at the disposal of the Foreign department, as a temporary arrangement.

CAMP, ALLAHABAD, 22D FEBRUARY 1858.

No. 11 of 1858.——The Right Honorable the Governor General has great satisfaction in publishing, for general information, the subjoined reports of an action fought with the rebels at Anuntram, on the 7th instant, by Alexander's Horse and a body of Zemindaree troops led by Mr. A. O. Hume, Magistrate of Etawah, the whole under the command of Captain Alexander.

The Governor General entirely concurs with His Excellency the Commander in Chief, in considering this affair to reflect the highest credit on Captain Alexander and Mr. Hume, as well as Mr. Maconochie, who, with conspicuous bravery and cool determination, led their men against the very superior numbers of the rebels, and obtained a signal victory over them:

THE DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,

To

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,

Military Department, with the Governor General.

SIR, HEAD QUARTERS, CAMP, CAWNPORE, the 19th February 1858.

I AM desired by the Commander in Chief to transmit, in original, the documents noted in the margin, for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor General, and to request you will be good enough to bring to the especial notice of His Lordship the extremely gallant conduct of Mr. Hume and Captain Alexander, under the circumstances detailed by these officers. His Excellency considers the whole affair to reflect much credit on them, and on those who acted with such bravery under their orders.

Letter No. 59, dated 12th February, from Brigadier T. Seaton, C. B.
Letter No. 36, dated 8th February, from Captain Alexander.
Letter dated 8th February, and plan of ground, from A. O. Hume, Esquire.
With report of an action fought by Alexander's Horse with the rebels at Anuntram.

2. The return of the enclosures is requested, when no longer required.

I have, &c.,

To

MAJOR GENERAL MANSFIELD,

Chief of the Staff, Army Head Quarters, Cawnpore or elsewhere.

SIR, BRIGADE HEAD QUARTERS FORT FUTTEHGURH, the 12th February 1858.

I HAVE the honor to forward, for the information of His Excellency the Commander in Chief, the accompanying despatches in original, (two in number), received from Captain Alexander, commanding irregular horse at Etawah, and Mr. Hume, Magistrate at that station, giving an account of an action fought by them with the rebels at Anuntram near Etawah, over whom they gained a complete victory.

2. The despatches speak for themselves, and I need not bring to the notice of His Excellency the great gallantry and judgment displayed by Messrs. Hume and Maconochie, or Captain Alexander's nerve in consenting to the attack against such odds.

3. I think Captain Alexander could not have received a letter I sent him, prohibiting an attack on these people; but as it has turned out, the victory will be most useful, and tend in a great measure to ensure the tranquility of the Etawah district.

I have, &c.,

(Sd.) T. SEATON, Brigadier,

Commanding the Futtehgurh district.

No. 36.

To

CAPTAIN HAWES,

Major of Brigade, Futtehgurh.

SIR,

Camp, Etawah, 8th February 1858.

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of the Brigadier commanding, that, deeming it advisable to visit my out-post at Bukewar, and also reconnoitre the enemy's position at Anuntram, I proceeded yesterday morning, at day-light, with a party of 30 sowars of my regiment, and accompanied by Mr. Hume, the Magistrate, and Mr. Maconochie, the Deputy Magistrate of Etawah.

Ordering the picquet of 30 rank and file of my regiment, and 80 sowars of the Etawah local horse, stationed at Bukewar, to fall in, we proceeded to Anuntram, distant 6 miles. We arrived there about ½ past 9 A. M., and found about 700 matchlock-men, belonging to different loyal Zemindars, ready to join us.

We moved on at once to the enemy's position, which was about a mile from Anuntram, and found them very strongly posted, stronger than we were led to believe from reports. Their right resting on the Cawnpore road, occupied a large tope of mangoe trees, with a wall of 6 feet all round, and a small ditch in front; their left on a village (Phoolpore), and every grove and field between occupied by them. Their right was the chief position, and looked most formidable, the enclosure swarming with the enemy, and one gun facing down the road towards us.

Having reconnoitered, and having been offered the loan of a gun from Anuntram, we came to the decision of attacking the place. Having shown ourselves to the enemy, it appeared to us that the effect on the country around would be very bad did we retire without attempting something; so I formed the cavalry into three troops, my own men I took opposite the right rear of the enemy's entrenchment, and within 300 yards; one troop I directed to go to the right; and the third to remain in the centre as a support for the gun, which had by this time come up and was planted as near as we could judge opposite the enemy's.

Mr. Hume having with some difficulty collected about 2 or 300 matchlock-men out of the 700, advanced most gallantly with them towards the entrenchment. The fire of the enemy had been directed towards my troop, but seeing the advance of our matchlock-men, turned it towards them. Our gun then opened, advancing nearer at each discharge. About the fifth discharge, our gun was close up to the wall, and a rush being made, headed in the most gallant manner by Mr. Hume, the enemy began to retreat.

Strength in action of our force.

60 Troopers including commissioned and non-commissioned officers Alexander's Horse.
80 Etawah Local horse.
300 Matchlock-men.

440 Total.
1 3-Pounder brass gun.

Having already got to their right rear with my troop of 60 men, the time came for us to act. The word charge was given by me, and in a few seconds we were in the midst of them, sweeping round the rear of the entrenchment to the village on the enemy's left. Many of the enemy escaped owing to the great height of cultivation and the villages, where it was impossible for cavalry to follow; and had the local horse acted on the right, when they saw my troop come round, the victory would have been most complete; but they rendered no assistance at first. However, the enemy were completely routed, their only gun, with a quantity of ammunition, baggage, ponies, matchlocks, swords, &c., captured, and about 125 killed in the field and six hung. We followed them up for about three miles, and then gave up further pursuit, the enemy dispersing in all directions, and my party of cavalry being too small to detach after them; besides we had then come about twenty-five miles, and had to return to Etawah the same evening, which we reached about 7 P. M.

The number of the enemy could not certainly have been under 12 or 1300 men, including a few sowars.

Our casualties were:

Killed.

12 Matchlock-men.

Wounded.

2 Sowars, both severely,——} Alexander's Horse.
4 Horses, 3 severely, 1 slightly, —}
1 Sowar of local horse, slightly.
4 Horses ditto severely.
15 Matchlock-men.
2 Horses missing.

A copy of Mr. Hume's report to Government is enclosed for the Brigadier's information, and shows the active and gallant part taken by that officer and his matchlock-men.

I now beg to bring to the notice of Brigadier Seaton, C. B., the able assistance I received from Mr. Hume, who gallantly led the assault, and Mr. Maconochie, who accompanied my troop of cavalry throughout the day, and was always to the front.

The conduct of my men was admirable, and many individual acts of gallantry were performed. Some of the sowars of the local horse did their duty well, and the conduct of the matchlock-men who went to the assault, after they once got in to the enemy, Mr. Hume reports to have been excellent.

I beg to bring all parties concerned to the favorable notice of the Brigadier commanding, and trust he may deem the affair worthy of being reported to His Excellency the Commander in Chief.

I trust the Brigadier will not consider I exceeded my duty in attacking a position I had previously reported as being too strong for the whole of our force. I think, however, Anuntram will be free from Roop Sing and his followers, for some time to come.

The information regarding the enemy's regular troops at Ajeetmul, and mentioned by Mr. Hume, was only brought to-day; and it is fortunate as things have turned out, that we did not know of it yesterday, for we should not have gone out, and this victory would not have been gained.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

(Sd.) W. R. E. ALEXANDER, Captain,

Commanding Alexander's Horse, and at Etawah.

From

A. O. HUME, ESQ.,

Officiating Magistrate and Collector of Etawah,

To

THE SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT OF THE N. W. P., AGRA.

SIR, Dated 8th February 1858,

I HAVE the honor to report that we yesterday obtained a signal success over the enemy near Anuntram.

2. At 6 A. M. the 7th of February, Captain Alexander, Mr. Maconochie, and myself left Etawah with 30 sowars to visit the picquet at Bukewar, and reconnoitre the enemy's position beyond. At Bukewar we were joined by the picquet, viz., 30 of Alexander's Horse, and about 80 of the Etawah local horse. We then pushed on to Anuntram, a small town on the main Oreyah and Cawnpore road, distant about twenty-one miles from our camp at Etawah. At Anuntram I called out about 700 of the matchlock-men posted there to keep the enemy in check, and taking a small gun of Rao Juswant Rao's advanced along the main road. About a mile from Anuntram we found the enemy posted in several dense mangoe topes, surrounded by high earth-banks, and occupying the intermediate Urhur and Castor Oil plant fields in skirmishing order. As we drew near, the enemy concentrated themselves in the two enclosures C and B (see Sketch), still keeping however some hundreds of men out as skirmishers in the field immediately surrounding their position. As the banks surrounding the enclosure were not less than six feet high from outside, as there were no entrances, and the branches of the trees come down to within two feet of the top of the bank, Captain Alexander, finding that his cavalry could not attack them with any reasonable chance of success, halted them at D. After consulting him, I posted the local horse at E, and then leaving them there with orders to cut up any fugitives, drew the men up in a sort of line at G G with the gun in the centre. The enemy by this time had opened a smart fire on us; and Captain Alexander, to whom I reported what I had done, as well as the nature of the position which I had closely inspected from N, desired me to advance with the gun and matchlock-men. Koour Lutchmun Sing and 3 or 4 of my own Sowars assisting me manfully, I succeeded in bringing up about 350 of the matchlock-men into a position K K K, still keeping the gun in the centre G. Our matchlock-men nevertheless were no cowards; they fought bravely a little later hand to hand, but they were new to the system of going straight a-head at our enemy, were immensely out-numbered, and were obliged to advance under a very heavy fire, which, as they could under the most favorable circumstances see only the heads of their opponents, they could not return with any effect.

3. By degrees, taking advantage of a number of small ridges intervening between us and the point which I had chosen for the attack, I pushed the men on to within twenty yards of the entrenchment, keeping up as we advanced a fire from the Rao's gun in answer to that of the enemy. I then ran the gun up to the little knoll A, which, distant about five yards from the entrenchment, gave me the command of the interior. By this time some 3 or 400 of the enemy ran out of the opposite side of the enclosure in the direction N N, and were promptly pursued by Captain Alexander and his sixty troopers, who cut up a considerable number of them, though not without some casualties, as even single fugitives almost without exception turned and fought. The local horse did not assist; they had no European officer, (I have applied in vain for one,) and either would not, or thought they ought not to move without an order to do so. At A we fired one round, and all the men lining that particular portion of the "moorcha" beginning to run, the matchlock-men made a rush, and to the number of 150 or 200 got in. Just as they did so the enemy fired their gun in our faces, doing however no damage, and then for the most part throwing away their guns. Both parties went at it with swords. In less than a minute the main body of the enemy, some 600 strong, ran out in the direction S S S; a few still stood by the gun. These in a very short time were dispersed, and as I thought either cut up or driven out; but in this I was mistaken, (without uniform it was difficult to distinguish foes from friends,) and we had not proceeded fifty yards in pursuit, when we were stopped by shouts from the rear, and found that the enemy had re-taken and loaded the gun. We re-took it, however, before they could fire it. Lutchmun Sing and I then pushed on with some half dozen Sowars; but the rebels were too far a-head, and we picked up only a few stragglers. Captain Alexander then returned from the pursuit in the direction N N; the local horse came up at last, the enemy was pursued some three miles, and a number more accounted for, one and all, however, fighting to the last. Nine prisoners were also taken, of whom six were hung. I ought to add that the enclosure C was evacuated directly we took the gun.

4. The enemy was certainly not less than 1,200 strong when we advanced from the position K K K, and probably numbered not less than 2,000. They had a few irregular cavalry, and it is reported about 50 sepoys; but I saw none of the latter. The former as usual kept well out of range, and ultimately disappeared without showing fight. They lost 125 men killed, their gun (an iron one) and limber, matchlocks, swords, bundles of clothes, burtons, ponies, &c., in fact their whole baggage. Our loss was not severe;—12 matchlock-men were killed, a few (amongst them the brave leader of the Chowdrayan of Binsea's men, Bhowanee Sing) wounded; 2 of Alexander's men and 3 of his horses; 1 of the local horsemen and 4 of the horses badly wounded, and several other men and horses scratched more or less.

5. The pursuit over, we returned with the captured gun to Etawah, having accomplished the whole affair, including the fifty miles ride, in twelve hours. It may be worth mentioning that the very time we made the attack, Lallpooree Goosaeen, the Nana's Pirohit, with a considerable force of regular mutineers, was at Ajeetmul, scarcely more than 6 miles from the battle field, so that we rather stole a march on him.

6. I having been chiefly with the matchlock-men, my account is necessarily a one-sided one; but it must not be supposed that I wish to ignore the services rendered by the rest of the force. It is true that owing to the nature of the position, the brunt of the assault fell upon the footmen; but the great loss sustained by the enemy is chiefly owing to the energetic pursuit by Captain Alexander and his Horse. About 20 were killed in the entrenchment and within a few yards of it by the matchlock-men; 11 were killed by the small party with me; but the rest were, I believe, to a man cut up by Alexander's Horse; the fugitives, be it remembered, fighting most resolutely, and using swords, spears and matchlocks, but too successfully.

7. The gallant conduct of Koour Lutchmun Sing, my Deputy Magistrate; of Raheem Buksh, a Duffadar, formerly of the Gwalior contingent, now of the Etawah local horse; and of Bhowanee Sing, the leader of the Binsea men, deserves especial notice.

I have, &c.,

HEAD QUARTERS, CAMP, CAWNPORE,
The 24th February 1858.

SIR,

With report from Colonel McCausland of the defeat, by the Troops under his Command, of a body of Rebels at Churpoorah, on the 10th Instant.

IN forwarding for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, copy of a Despatch No. 66, dated the 12th Instant, from Colonel J. K. McCausland, Commanding in Kumaon, reporting his defeat of the Rebel Troops at Churpoorah, on the 10th Idem, I am directed to express His Excellency's entire approval of the arrangements made by Colonel McCausland in the conduct of this affair, and his extreme satisfaction with the behaviour of the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Soldiers engaged on the occasion.

2. The reports of subordinate Officers referred to in Colonel McCausland's Report, and the copy of his order contain no further information, and are therefore not forwarded.

FROM

COLONEL J. K. MCCAUSLAND,
Commanding in Kumaon,

TO

THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF,
Army Head Quarters.

Camp, Huldwanee, 12th February 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE already reported, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, my having formed a Camp at this place with the view, first, of protecting the Kumaon Hills; second, of clearing the Barbur and Turaee Pergunnahs of Rebels.

2. On my arrival here, I found the position of the Enemy as follows:

A Force of 3,000 Infantry, with 800 Cavalry, and 6 Guns, Commanded by Fuzul Huq, was encamped at Sunda in a strong position on the banks of the Sookhee River, about 15 miles from my Camp.

Another Force, Commanded by Khali Khan, of 4,000 Infantry, 800 Cavalry, and 4 Guns, was encamped at Bundea, but within the last few days had advanced in this direction, and formed a Camp at Churpoorah, on the Paha Nuddee, 16 miles from here.

3. From the best information I was able to obtain, it appeared the intention of the Enemy was to make a combined attack on Huldwanee with a view, if successful, of endeavouring to force the Hill passes. My arrangements were made to act on the defensive, and there can be no doubt, had they attempted such a move, it would have ended in their utter defeat.

4. On the afternoon of the 9th Instant, reliable information having been obtained that the Army under Fuzul Huq was about to effect a junction with Khali Khan's Force, I considered it advisable, if possible, to crush the latter before such junction could be effected. My great fear was that the Enemy might hear of my movements and escape the impending blow, so my preparations were conducted with the greatest secresy. At 9 P. M. of the 9th Instant, nothing in Camp indicated an intended move. At that hour the Tents were quietly struck, and removed to the Mundee, an enclosed square, barricaded and capable of being held by the Force I could spare for its protection, for some time at least, against very superior numbers.

5. At 11½ P. M. I moved from Camp with the Troops as per margin, and marching all night through the forest, came on the Enemy's Camp, at Churpoorah, shortly after day-break, on the morning of the 10th.

Two 6-Pounder Guns, 500 Rank and File 66th Goorkhas, 150 Nepal Contingent, 60 Kumaon Levies, 200 Rohilcund Horse. Total, 710 Infantry, 200 Cavalry, 2 Guns.

I found his position a strong one, about 900 yards off the road, which was Commanded by his Guns. His rear and left were protected by the Paha Nuddee, which wound round his Camp. The only approach to his front and right flank was over rough broken ground, intersected by Nullahs, and covered with thick jungle grass and bushes; a small village filled with Infantry was on his right flank. His Force from 4 to 5,000 Infantry, about 1,000 Cavalry with 4 Guns.

6. The surprise was complete; the only portion of my Force at first visible to the Enemy was an advance Guard of the Rohilcund Horse, and a party of their Sowars, gallopping towards us, asked if we were Fuzul Huq's Army, which they expected that morning to join them. Wheeling back the Cavalry, I fired a few rounds which undeceived them, and drew on us a heavy Artillery fire. Directly I ascertained their position, I drew up the Guns on the road, and opened on those of the Enemy, and ordered Captain Ross, Commanding the 66th Goorkhas, (leaving 2 Companies to protect the Artillery,) and Captain Baugh, Commanding the Nepal Contingent and Kumaon Levies, to advance on the Enemy's right flank, supported by the Rohilcund Horse, under Captain Crossman.

During this advance, the fire on our Artillery was very severe, the Enemy's Guns being served with the greatest rapidity and precision; their largest Gun was quickly disabled, and after about 40 minutes of very sharp firing, during which the Cavalry and Infantry were gradually nearing their right, they turned their Guns on them, and plied them with grape and round shot. Our Guns, thus relieved from the fire of the Enemy's, were enabled to commit immense execution in their large bodies of Cavalry, into which they poured shrapnel with beautiful precision and tremendous effect.

7. The advance of our line was steady and uninterrupted. The Enemy's Infantry and Cavalry, though offering opposition from every point of advantage which the nature of the ground gave them, and though they appeared in strength and fought with resolution, could not check the 66th and Nepal Goorkhas, who gained ground, firing with a rapidity and resolution they could not withstand.

In about an hour from their first advance, the village and right flank had been gallantly carried by the Infantry, who sweeping down the front, carried the Guns with a rush, cutting down every Artilleryman at his Gun. The resistance was very severe, and I believe that with hardly an exception, every European Officer in this charge had hand to hand encounters with the Enemy.

The Rohilcund Horse made a gallant charge during this advance, repulsing a very superior body of the Enemy's Cavalry, taking a standard, and cutting up a great number. They entered the Camp with the Infantry, and were most useful in cutting up stragglers.

8. As from the jungly nature of the ground it was impossible for me to witness all that was going on, I called for reports from Officers Commanding Corps, which, with a Camp Order issued by me on the occasion, I have the honor to forward for His Excellency's information, and have now only the pleasant duty of reporting the complete success of our operations, and bringing to the notice of the Commander-in-Chief the gallant conduct of all engaged.

9. The Enemy's standing Camp and Baggage fell into our hands and was burnt; the whole of his Ammunition was destroyed; of his Guns one was completely disabled and left on the Field; the other three with four tumbrils we brought with us into Camp. Their exact loss I am unable to state; the killed must exceed 300, and the wounded more than twice that number. The loss in their Cavalry must have been very heavy from the constant fire to which they were exposed.

It would have been imprudent for me to make any delay on the ground: it was quite possible that Fuzul Huq might have heard of our move, and pushed on to make an attack on this place before I could return. Our first shot was fired at ¼ to 6 A. M.; at 8 A. M. we began to move back, and reached our Camp here shortly after noon, the Force under my Command having marched 34 miles, and fought a severe action in 13 hours.

10. The blow thus struck must be a severe one to the Rebels in this quarter, and though Fuzul Huq keeps his Force together, I am watching him closely, and will attack if a favorable opportunity offers. His present position in the heart of a dense jungle renders it unadvisable to do so at present.

11. My best thanks are due to Captain Kirby, who Commanded the Artillery, and to Captain W. Maxwell, of the Artillery, who having returned to his Civil duties in the Suraie Pergunnah, served as a Volunteer with the Guns and rendered invaluable assistance. The services of this Officer I have already brought prominently to the notice of His Excellency, and when I state that it is by his unremitting exertions the Goorkha Artillery Company was trained, that limbers were made for the Guns, and that we were able to take the Field with Artillery at all, I feel that the Commander-in-Chief will fully appreciate his merits. Captain Ross, Commanding 66th Goorkhas, led the Regiment with great gallantry. His coolness and judgment were conspicuous, and I would beg to recommend him to the favorable notice of His Excellency. Lieutenant and Adjutant Tytler, 66th Goorkhas, severely wounded; Lieutenant Miles, 66th Goorkhas; Lieutenant Gepp, 66th Goorkhas, mortally wounded on the Field and since dead, have been brought to my notice as having prominently distinguished themselves. Captain Ross also mentions the gallant behaviour of Quarter Master Serjeant Delahoy, 66th Goorkhas, and the gallantry of Jusbahadoor Goorung, Sepoy, Lieutenant Miles' Company, was conspicuous.

Captain Baugh, Commanding the Nepal Contingent, to which I attached two Companies of the 66th Goorkhas, gallantly charged the right flank of the Enemy and carried the Guns. The efficiency of the Contingent is greatly due to his exertions for the past six weeks in drilling and equipping them. Captain Baugh speaks in high terms of Captain Bodee Maun Singh, who Commands the Goorkhas; Lieutenant Boree Gorung, and Adjutant Phulwan Sing. My best thanks are due to Captain Crossman, Commanding the Rohilcund Horse; this Corps has been organized and equipped by him within the last three months. He charged and dispersed at their head, a very superior body of Patan Cavalry across a country and under a fire that would have tried the metal of any Troops. The Officers and Men mentioned by him I would recommend to the favorable notice of His Excellency.

Captain Brownlow, my Major of Brigade, afforded me every assistance, and I would beg to recommend him to the notice of the Commander-in-Chief as a good and efficient Staff Officer. Captain Warde, late 68th Native Infantry, acted as my Orderly Officer, and was most active and useful.

Surgeon H. Irwin, 66th Goorkhas, accompanied the Force, and I am much indebted to him for his unremitted exertions for the comfort of the wounded on the Field, and their removal to Camp, which he effected with very inadequate means.

I cannot close this Report without recording, though I fear I may not do so in adequate terms, the assistance rendered to me on this and every occasion, during the last eight months, by Major H. Ramsay, the Commissioner of Kumaon. His exertions to equip, maintain and feed this Force have been unceasing. Suffering still from the effects of a severe accident which deprived him of the use of an arm, he accompanied me to the Field, where his local knowledge was invaluable. It is not for me to record the services he has rendered to Government in his District; but I may say that the general feeling of security that has prevailed in the Kumaon Hills was mainly due to his watchfulness and untiring energy.

Mr. C. Carmichael, of the Civil Service, and Mr. Reed, Inspector of Forests, accompanied the Troops, and made themselves most useful in pointing out the positions of the Enemy.

I enclose a Return of the Ordnance captured, and a Casualty Return of the Force, which I trust may not be considered excessive considering what has been accomplished and the strength and position of the Enemy.

No. 22 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India has much satisfaction in publishing the following Report, by Major-General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., of the repulse of an attack on his position at Alum Bagh, on the morning of the 21st February 1858, in which the arrangements made by Sir J. Outram were most judicious and effectual, and the conduct of the Troops engaged was highly creditable to them.

No. 83.

From

Maj.-Genl. Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., Commanding 1st Division,

To

The Depy. Adjt. Genl. of the Army.

Camp, Alum Bagh, 21*st Feb.* 1858.

Sir,

I have the honor to report that this morning the Enemy attacked my position, and with the usual result.

2. Having filled all their trenches with as many men as they would hold, and placed large masses of Infantry in the topes all along our front in support of them, they commenced a simultaneous movement round both our flanks, at the same time threatening the whole length of our position, and attacking the North-east corner of the Alum Bagh, and also the Picquet and Fort of Jellalabad, against which they brought 4 Guns.

3. I immediately, on perceiving their intention, re-inforced the posts of Alum Bagh and Jellalabad, which easily repulsed the attacks made on them, and inflicted much loss on the assailants, who had advanced under cover of long grass and underwood within grape shot range of both these posts.

4. I detached about 250 Cavalry and 2 Field Guns to the rear of the Fort of Jellalabad, under Command of Captain Barrow, Volunteer Cavalry, where they suddenly came on about 2,000 of the Enemy's Cavalry. Our Guns immediately opened on them, killing several, which caused them to withdraw to the immediate vicinity of the Infantry, attacking the Fort in number about 5,000; they remained there until the attack was abandoned, when they all withdrew towards the City.

5. The attack on our left flank was made by about from 8 to 10,000 Infantry and 500 Cavalry, to oppose whom I sent out the remaining 4 Field Guns available, supported by the Military Train (120 in number) under Command of Major Robertson, of the Military Train, keeping the 2nd Infantry Brigade in reserve. The Cavalry and Guns soon drove back the Enemy's Cavalry, and their Infantry then halted, and on the Guns being turned on them, soon commenced to retreat also, and were followed up by us until within range of their Batteries.

6. A large Convoy was on the road at the time, the escort required for which materially crippled our small Cavalry Force, and prevented any thing more being effected than frustrating their attempts to gain our rear and molest the Convoy.

7. The reports from the City state the Enemy to have lost 60 killed and 200 wounded in their attack on Alum Bagh, and about 80 or 90 killed and wounded in front of Jellalabad. This was exclusive of their loss on the left flank, and along our front, where our heavy Artillery had constant opportunities of firing shell and shrapnel into the midst of their moving masses. I consider their loss to have been heavier than on any of their previous attacks.

8. I have the pleasure to state that, as on all former occasions, the conduct of the Troops engaged, both Officers and Men, was admirable.

9. Majors Tinling, 90th Light Infantry, and Nicholson, Royal Engineers, Commanded respectively at Alum Bagh and Jellalabad, and defended their posts with much spirit. Major Nicholson particularly praises the energy with which Lieutenant Ford, of the Royal Artillery, opposed the fire of the Enemy's 4 Guns with the only Gun that could be brought to bear on them.

10. Our loss amounted to nine wounded.

A Nominal Roll is transmitted herewith.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF,

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 16th March 1858.

His Excellency the Commander in Chief is pleased to direct that the following General Order, which was issued to Her Majesty's regiments in India on the 18th ultimo, be published to the Army:

GENERAL ORDER.

Adjutant General's Office, H. M. Forces, Calcutta, 18th February 1858.

At a General Court Martial held at Camp Futtyghur on the 26th day of January 1858, No. 2789, Private Alexander Patterson, Her Majesty's 93d Highlanders, was arraigned on the following charge:

Charge.—That he, Alexander Patterson, on the 16th day of December 1857, near the Town of Bithoor, he being then and there a soldier serving in the territories of the East India Company, at a distance of upwards of one hundred and twenty miles from the Presidency of Fort William, did feloniously, wilfully, and of his malice aforethought, kill and murder one Nunda, a Grass-cutter.

Finding.—The Court is of opinion that the prisoner, No. 2789, Private Alexander Patterson, of Her Majesty's 93d Highlanders, is Not Guilty of the murder of Nunda, Grass-cutter, and does therefore acquit him of the charge preferred against him.

Approved and Confirmed,

(Signed) C. CAMPBELL, General,
Commander in Chief, East Indies.

Camp, Cawnpore,
10th February 1858.

REMARKS.

The prisoner to be released, and to return to his duty.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,
(Signed) EDWARD LUGARD, Colonel,
Adjutant General H. M.'s Forces in India.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,
W. MAYHEW, Lieut. Colonel,
Adjutant General of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF,

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 16th March 1858.

His Excellency the Commander in Chief is pleased to direct that the following General Order, which was issued to Her Majesty's regiments in India on the 20th ultimo, be published to the Army :

GENERAL ORDER.

Adjutant General's Office, H. M. Forces, Calcutta, 20th February 1858.

At a European General Court Martial assembled at Benares on the 28th day of January 1858, No. 3080, Private Daniel Keer, Her Majesty's 37th regiment, was arraigned on the following charge :

Charge.—That he, the said Private Keer, at Chunar, on or about the 19th November 1857, he being then and there a soldier serving in the territories of the East India Company, at a distance of upwards of one hundred and twenty miles from the Presidency of Fort William, feloniously, wilfully, and of malice aforethought, killed and murdered Private Patrick Callaghan, of Her Majesty's 37th regiment.

Finding.—The Court is of opinion that the prisoner, No. 3080, of Her Majesty's 37th regiment, Private Daniel Keer, is Not Guilty of the charge preferred against him, and acquits him thereof.

Confirmed,

(Signed) C. CAMPBELL, General,
Commander in Chief, East Indies.

Camp, Cawnpore,
10th February 1858.

REMARKS BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

These proceedings have been carelessly conducted, and are extremely discreditable to the President and Members of the Court, the Prosecutor, and the Deputy Judge Advocate General conducting the trial. Every one of these gentlemen ought to know that when a prisoner is tried for murder, it is absolutely necessary to prove the death of the individual whom he is charged with having murdered. In this case, such procedure was dispensed with, and it was considered sufficient to attach to the proceedings a copy of a certificate from the Garrison Surgeon, that Private Callaghan died in hospital, from the effects of a gun-shot wound. There are other minor irregularities which ought not to have occurred ; such as swearing the Prosecutor, although he had no evidence to give, and omitting to bring forward formal proof of Chunar being upwards of 120 miles from Fort William.

Had the prisoner really committed the murder, and been convicted of it, he must have escaped unpunished owing to the defects in the evidence. But the Commander in Chief is satisfied that Private Keer had no intention whatever of taking his comrade's life, and His Excellency fully concurs in his acquittal by the Court.

The prisoner is to be released.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief.
(Signed) EDWARD LUGARD, Colonel,
Adjutant General H. M.'s Forces in India.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,
W. MAYHEW, Lieut. Colonel,
Adjutant General of the Army.

"We forward herewith three copies of a Royal Warrant, dated 20th July 1857, No. 124, relating to "good-conduct pay," which is to be substituted for the Warrant previously issued of the same number and date."

No. 124.

VICTORIA R.

WHEREAS by our Royal Warrant of the 1st July 1848, and Ordnance Regulations of 1st November 1850, founded on the said Royal Warrant, it is declared that the distinction 1861/1 and rewards for good conduct shall not extend to Sergeants and other non-commissioned officers above the rank of Corporal: And whereas it is further declared that Bombardiers or Corporals shall not be entitled to have their good-conduct pay added to their pension on discharge, but that they shall have the option of having their pensions computed as Privates, either with the addition of good-conduct reward, or with the addition of one-half penny per diem for each year of service completed in the rank of Bombardier or Corporal: Our will and pleasure is, that all Bombardiers and Corporals who enlisted into our service in the cavalry or infantry subsequently to the 1st March 1833, and in the artillery or engineers subsequently to 15th April 1833, and who may have been, or who shall hereafter be discharged after completing twenty-one years' sevice in the artillery, engineers, or infantry, or twenty-four years's service in the cavalry, shall be entitled to have their pensions computed according to the scale prescribed in the second portion of the 9th clause of our said Royal Warrant and Regulations; and shall also be allowed to add the good-conduct pay of which they shall have been in possession when discharged, to augment the rate of pension to a sum not exceeding one shilling and six-pence a day.

It it our further will and pleasure, that all Sergeants and other non-commissioned officers above the rank of Corporal who enlisted in the cavalry or infantry subsequently to the 1st March 1833, and in the artillery or engineers subsequently to 15th April 1833, and who may have been, or who shall hereafter be discharged after twenty one years' service in the artillery, engineers, or infantry, or twenty-four years' service in the cavalry, shall be entitled to have their pensions computed according to the scale prescribed in the said article of our said Royal Warrant; and shall also be entitled to have their service as Sergeant reckoned as good-conduct service, to enable them to add to the rate of good-conduct pay which they had acquired prior to promotion, and to carry the whole to increase their pension: Provided always, that the amount of pension thus to be awarded shall in no case exceed the maximum pension prescribed by our said Royal Warrant of the 1st July 1848; namely, for a Sergeant Major, two shillings and six-pence a day; for a Quarter Master Sergeant, two shillings and three-pence; and for a Troop Sergeant Major, Color Sergeant, or Sergeant, two shillings a day.

And whereas by the fifth paragraph of the twenty-first clause of our said Royal Warrant of the 1st July 1848, and the same paragraph and clause of the Ordnance Regulations of 1st November 1850, it is declared that soldiers who had enlisted in the cavalry or infantry before the 2d March 1833, and in the artillery or engineers before the 16th April 1833, shall not be entitled to have their good-conduct pay added to their pension on discharge: Our will and pleasure further is, that all such soldiers, except those who have been discharged upon the modified rate of pension, whether Privates, Bombardiers, Corporals, Sergeants, or other non-commissioned officers above the rank of Corporal, who since the grant of good-conduct pay have been or may hereafter be discharged, shall have the option of being pensioned for service alone, without any consideration for good-conduct pay, under the provisions of the Warrant of the 14th November 1829, or of reckoning their good-conduct pay or good-conduct service in addition to such rates of pension as men of similar length of service enlisted in the cavalry or infantry after the 1st March 1833, and in the artillery or engineers after the 15th April 1833, would be entitled to under the provisions of the Warrant of the 1st July 1848, and Regulations of 1st November 1850; Provided, however, that the pension, except for wounds received in action, shall in no case exceed, for a Gunner and Driver, Sapper or Private, one shilling and three-pence; for a Bombardier or Corporal, one shilling and six-pence; for a Sergeant, Troop Sergeant Major, or Color Sergeant, two shillings; for a Quarter Master Sergeant, two shillings and three-pence; and for a Sergeant Major, two shillings and six-pence a day.

Given at our Court, at Saint James's, this twentieth day of July 1857, in the twenty-first year of Our Reign.

By Her Majesty's Command,

(Sd.) PANMURE.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 23rd March 1858.

FORT WILLIAM, 18TH MARCH 1858.

No. 453 of 1858.

The following Notification, issued from the Foreign Department with the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, is published in General Orders :—

The 9th March 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General has the gratification of publishing the following Report of an action fought on the banks of the Gogra, near the village of Phoolpore, in which the Sarun Field Force, under Colonel Rowcroft, re-inforced by the 2nd Brigade 1st Division of the Nepalese Troops, under the Command of Maha Rajah Jung Bahadoor, overthrew and dispersed a Rebel Force under the guidance of Gholam Hossein, capturing 3 Guns, Camp Equipage, &c., and securing the passage of the River.

In this engagement, His Excellency the Maha Rajah Jung Bahadoor, himself laying a Gun from one of his own Batteries, blew up one of the Enemy's tumbrils.

To Colonel Rowcroft, Commanding the Sarun Field Force, to Brigadier Gunga Doje, Commanding the Goorkha Brigade, and to all the Officers and Men under them, the Right Hon'ble the Governor General offers his cordial acknowledgments of their gallant exertions on this occasion.

By Order of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

G. F. EDMONSTONE,
Secretary to the Govt. of India,
with the Governor General.

No. 178.

FROM BRIGDR. GENL. G. H. MACGREGOR, C. B.,
To
THE SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,
with the Governor General,
Foreign Dept., at his Head Quarters,
Allahabad.

Camp, Mobarruckpoor, 25th Feb. 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to enclose, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, the report of an action fought about two miles in front of the village of Phoolpore, between the Sarun Field Force, under Colonel Rowcroft, re-inforced by the 2nd Brigade of the 1st Division of the Nepalese Army, and the Enemy under Command of Gholam Hossein, son of Mahomed Hossein.

2. The Enemy, about 2,000 strong, with some Cavalry and 5 Guns, occupied a position on the right bank of the River, with their left resting on it. Colonel Rowcroft marched to attack them, and after an action of an hour, the details of which are given in his own Despatch, the Enemy was completely defeated and driven from the Field, with the loss of three of his 5 Guns, Camp Equipage, &c.

3. Colonel Rowcroft's attack was materially aided by the fire of a Battery which was disposed on the left bank of the River by His Excellency Maha Rajah Jung Bahadoor in person, who rode down to the bank on hearing the firing, and observing that the position of the Battery enfiladed the left of the Enemy's position, he immediately ordered it to open fire. The fire was most effective ; it silenced the Enemy in that part of the line before the action ceased on the right, and a shot from a Gun laid by His Excellency himself, blew up one of the Rebel's tumbrils.

4. In conclusion, it is my pleasing duty to bring to the notice of His Lordship in Council, the names of the Officers who distinguished themselves in this gallant and, as affecting the crossing of the River, very important action.

5. Brigadier Gunga Doje, Commanding the 2nd Goorkha Brigade, Colonel Turke Khan, Commanding Seereenath Regiment, Colonel Shreekissna Sahae, Commanding Jungenath Regiment, and Major Captain Sreebukht Kunka, Commanding Ramdull Regiment, zealously exerted themselves in the Field and did good service. Colonel Lall Singh, Commanding the Battery on the left bank of the River, Major Captain Soogin Singh, Commanding Goorkha Artillery with the 2nd Brigade, and Lieutenant Tuckman Jaisee, in charge of half Battery, all distinguished themselves by their zeal and precision of fire. To all these Officers and the whole Goorkha Troops engaged, my best acknowledgments are due.

6. I beg to bring prominently to the notice of His Lordship in Council the services of Colonel Rowcroft, Commanding the Sarun Field Force. The skilful dispositions which he made, and the admirable manner in which he carried them out, left nothing to be desired. His complete success secured the passage of the River.

7. To Captain Sotheby and Lieutenant Turnour, R. N., the Hon'ble V. A. Montague, Acting A. D. C. to Colonel Rowcroft, Lieutenant Pym, Commanding Royal Marines, and all the Officers and Men of the Naval Brigade, my best thanks are due for their zeal and bravery.

8. Captain Morgan, Field Force Staff, is most honorably mentioned by Colonel Rowcroft, and Lieutenant Burlton, Commanding Detachment of Sikhs; to both these Officers my acknowledgments are due.

9. Captain Brooks, attached to the Ramdull Regiment, greatly distinguished himself. This Officer's leading of the attack on the left attracted the particular notice of His Excellency the Maha Rajah, who personally mentioned it to me.

10. Lieutenant Sankey, Engineers, was on the Field, and made himself useful, carrying orders for Colonel Rowcroft.

11. The Officers attached to Brigadier Gunga Doje's Brigade, Captain Montgomery, and Lieutenants Francis and Gibb, are also honorably mentioned.

I have, &c.,

To

Brigdr. Genl. MacGregor, C. B.,

Military Commissioner,

with Maha Rajah Jung Bahadoor,

Camp Phoolpore.

Camp near Phoolpore, right bank of the Gogra, 22nd February 1858.

Sir,

I have the honor to report to you, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General and His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the following movements and operations of the Field Force under my Command.

2. Late on the evening of the 18th Instant, it was decided to give up the preparations for crossing the River Gogra at Chupra Ghat, with the whole Field Force then under my orders, my Force having been re-inforced by the 2nd Brigade of three Regiments and 6 Guns of the 1st Division of Nepalese Troops, as likely to cause much delay in the upward progress of the fleet of boats. The necessary orders were issued for the fleet of boats under charge of Captain Reid, with escort, as formerly, of a detachment of the Naval Brigade and Seikh detachment, with the addition of 2 Companies of the Ramdull Goorkha Regiment and two 12-Pounder Howitzers, under the Command of Captain Sotheby, R. N., of H. M. Steam Frigate Pearl, to continue progress next morning. I ordered 2 Companies and 3 Guns of the 2nd Brigade to march early the next morning up the bank of the River, about three miles, to cover and protect the fleet of boats and Steamer Jumna while passing the Fort of Chihora, on the right bank of the River, reported to be occupied by the Enemy. I marched the next morning at 9 o'clock with the remainder of the Naval Brigade and four Goorkha Regiments with Artillery for the Village and Fort of Nourainee, to cover and protect the fleet of boats and Steamer at that point. After a nine hours' march of twenty miles, arrived on the left bank of the River opposite Nourainee at 5¼ P. M., the latter part of the march being through very heavy deep sand, at the same time with the leading boats. I wrote to Captain Sotheby on the Steamer, then a little lower down the River, to move up and prepare for disembarking the Detachment of Naval Brigade, to cross the River that night at 10 o'clock. The Naval Brigade and two 12-Pounder Howitzers, under the Command of Captain Sotheby, R. N., 5 Companies of Ramdull Goorkha Regiment and Detachment of Seikhs, embarked in boats, and we crossed the River to right bank, the Naval Brigade men having to pull the Guns through a long deep sand, assisted by some Goorkhas of the Ramdull Regiment; and about 12 o'clock we had seized and occupied the Village and Fort of Nourainee, finding it evacuated by the Enemy. We remained close to the Village and Fort in bivouac till morning. Captain Reid and Lieutenant Sankey accompanied the Troops.

3. That same day, 20th Instant, prepared to move to attack the Enemy, reported to be encamped near Phoolpore, about six miles distant, on right bank. Every exertion was made by Captain Sotheby, Officers and Men of the Naval Brigade, to ferry over spare Ammunition, &c. Captain Montgomery, in Military charge of 2nd Brigade, under Command of Brigadier Junga Doje, and with the Goorkha Officers, exerted themselves to cross their Men and Guns not having arrived the night before. About 1 o'clock P. M. 20th Instant, I marched with the Force as per margin. After a march of some six miles through fields and heavy cultivation and woods, found the Enemy in position in a wood on the banks of the River beyond Phoolpore.

Royal Marines	30
Naval Column	140
12-Pr. Howitzers	4
Seereenauth Regt.	450
Jungeenath Ditto	450
Ramdull Ditto	450
Guns	6
Detacht. Seikhs	44

Gholam Hossein, son of the Nazim Mahomed Hossein, being the Chief Officer present, with Ali Hyder, in immediate Command, were in position near and in a wood, with some broken ground in their front, and their left on the River. The Enemy then kept up a sharp cannonade for nearly an hour, which was briskly replied to by the Naval Brigade Artillery, under charge of Lieutenant Turnour, R. N., a most zealous active Officer, and most actively and zealously superintended by Captain Sotheby, Commanding the Naval Brigade of the Pearl, whose fire was most effective. Lieutenant Pym, R. N., in charge of the Royal Marines of H. M. Steam Frigate Pearl, skirmished to the front, doing excellent service with their rifles, pressing forward most gallantly, capturing 1 Gun, turning it on the Enemy, and firing nine rounds of grape, also capturing a second Gun aided by a few Seikhs and Goorkhas, a third Gun being captured by the Goorkhas; the Goorkha Skirmishers I had ordered out early on the right flank, having pressed on rapidly into action. Lieutenant Pym, R. N., brings to notice the gallant bearing of Acting Serjeant Francis Butler, of the Woolwich Division, during the action, who rendered him great assistance, also the admirable conduct of all the Marines. The Goorkha Artillery in the centre and on the right flanks, by a flank movement I made to the left, were somewhat thrown to the right rear, but rapidly pushed into action through a village and heavy cultivation, opening their Guns with effect upon the Enemy. In about an hour, the Enemy gave way and were speedily in full retreat, defeated and routed with the loss of three of their 5 Guns, and a portion of their Camp Equipage. The Enemy were reported to be 2,000 strong, including 200 Sepoys, a few hundred Cavalry and 5 Guns in the field; some having gone off earlier in the day with their heavy baggage. Being nearly dark when the action ceased, and the cultivation very heavy, it was impossible to ascertain the number of the Enemy killed; but many were found afterwards in the different fields, and the Enemy are reported to have carried away a number of their wounded, their Commandant Ali Hyder being severely wounded on the thigh. Our Casualty List, I am happy to say, is very light; the action ceased a little earlier on the right by the River; the Naval Column and Guns and part of Ramdull Regiment pursued the Enemy till nearly dark. We then moved to our right rear to rejoin the other portion of the Force. One hour more of daylight would have given us greater success.

4. Captain Brooks, in Military charge of the Ramdull Regiment, zealously exerted himself during the action. Captain Montgomery, in Military charge of 2nd Brigade of Goorkhas, and Lieutenant Francis, attached to the Jungenath Regiment, greatly exerted themselves. Captain Morgan, my Field Force Staff, was most zealous in giving his services wherever required. Lieutenant Burlton, in charge of the Detachment of Seikhs, was most useful and active, and skirmishing to the front with his active ready men. The Hon'ble V. A. Montague, R. N., my acting Aide-de-Camp, was active and zealous, carrying orders, and Lieutenant Sankey, of Engineers, afforded me every assistance, and in passing orders in the Field.

5. Brigadier Junga Doje, Commanding 2nd Goorkha Brigade, Colonel Turke Khan, Commanding Seereenath Regiment, Colonel Seeree Kishoon Sahaee, Commanding Jungenath Regiment, Major Captain Seereebukht Kunka, Commanding Ramdull Regiment zealously exerted themselves in the Field; 1st Lieutenant Gibb, Bengal Artillery, attached to the Goorkha Artillery, was very active and zealous in affording every assistance to bring the Guns rapidly into action, and he reports Major Captain Soojin Singh, Commanding Goorkha Artillery, and Lieutenant Tuckmaa Jaisee, in charge of a half Battery, evinced much zeal during the action, the latter forcing his Guns through a village and difficult to bring them into action.

7. Drs. Shore and Dickenson, Naval Brigade, Drs. Morton and Playfair, attached to the 2nd Brigade of Goorkhas, and Dr. Hilson, attached to the Ramdull Regiment, were present and active in the Field, and ready for any emergency. The Naval Chaplain, the Reverend Mr. Williams, was present in the Field.

8. I shall esteem it a favor if you will bring to the favorable notice of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, and His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the Officers and Troops mentioned and engaged in the action and operations reported in the Despatch, attended with such complete results, and the attainment of the urgent object you had in view, the safe and easy construction of a bridge-of-boats over the Gogra at Phoolpore, for the passage of the Troops under the Command of His Highness Maha Raja Jung Bahadoor, into Oude.

9. I beg to annex a Casualty List and a List of Guns and Ordnance Stores captured.

Peshawur division order dated 28th ultimo, directing the following medical arrangements :

1. Surgeon J. H. Littler, M. D., 2d battalion artillery, to afford medical aid to the Peshawur Eurasian company.
2. Assistant Apothecary W. Sinclair, attached to Her Majesty's 27th foot, to accompany the 1st company 2d battalion of artillery to Ferozepore, acting also as Assistant Steward.
3. Hospital Apprentice J. A. Perdrian, attached to Her Majesty's 87th foot, to do duty with the same company.

By Lieutenant Colonel G. V. Maxwell, C. B., of Her Majesty's 88th foot, commanding a force on service in the Cawnpore district, dated 3d instant, directing Assistant Sugeon J. C. Knipe, of same regiment, to afford medical aid to the head quarters and right wing Towanah Horse.

Bombardier John Gamester, of the 1st company 4th battalion artillery, is admitted to the reward for "long service and good conduct," sanctioned by Article (revised) IV, Section XXXVII of the Military Regulations; viz. a silver medal immediately, and a gratuity equivalent to £5 on discharge, in addition to ordinary pension.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,
W. MAYHEW, Lieut. Colonel,
Adjutant General of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 25th March 1858.

BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

ALLAHABAD, THE 8TH MARCH 1858.

No. 28 of 1858.

THE Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to publish, for general information, the subjoined Report of a very gallant and successful affair between the escort with a fleet of boats, under the Command of Captain Sotheby, R. N., Commanding Naval Brigade, and the Rebels, which took place on the 17th of February 1858, near Chandepoor, and resulted in the capture of the Fort at that place, and the safe passage of the fleet of boats up the Gogra.

Military Commissioner,

To

THE SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,
with the Governor General,
Foreign Department, Allahabad.

Camp, Phoolpoor Manja, 24th Feb. 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to enclose, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, a copy of a letter from Colonel Rowcroft, Commanding Sarun Field Force, giving cover to a Report from Captain Sotheby, R. N., Commanding the escort of the fleet of boats for the bridging of the Gogra, of a most gallant and creditable affair between the Enemy and the Escort under the Command of Captain Sotheby, which resulted in the capture of the strong Fort of Chandepoor and the safe passage of the Fleet.

2. I would beg to bring to the notice of His Lordship in Council the gallant and spirited conduct of all the Officers and Men engaged on this occasion, and particularly that of Captain Sotheby, R. N., whose performance of the very arduous duty of escorting that large Fleet up so rapid and difficult a River, with one bank crowned with Forts manned by the Enemy, has been such as to merit the very best acknowledgments that I can bestow. The crowning exploit of attacking and capturing the strongest Fort on the River with his handful of men, will recommend itself at once to the notice of His Lordship in Council.

3. I would also beg particularly to mention the name of Captain Weston, attached to the Ramdull Regiment, who, I regret to say, was severely wounded, and who is spoken of in such high terms of praise by Captain Sotheby.

4. To Lieutenant Burlton, in Command of the Seikhs, and Captain Davidas Opadeeah, in Command of the Goorkhas, my best thanks are due, as well as to all the Officers and Men of the Force.

The 23rd February 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to transmit to you the accompanying letter No. 28, dated Phoolpoor, 22nd Instant, from Captain Sotheby, R. N., of H. M. S. Frigate Pearl, reporting a very gallant and successful affair on the 17th Instant, in taking the Fort of Chandepoor on the right bank of the River Gogra, by a Detachment of the Sarun Field Force under his Command, while giving escort to a fleet of boats, and the Jumna Steamer, proceeding up the River to be made available for crossing into Oudh the Nepalese Army under the Command of His Highness Maharajah Jung Bahadoor.

2. I shall esteem it a favor your bringing the same to the favorable notice of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General and His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

3. I beg to express my great regret at losing the useful and active services of Captain Weston, 36th Regiment Native Infantry, severely wounded.

4. I beg to annex a List of Casualties, and of the Ordnance and Stores captured on the 17th Instant.

To

COLONEL ROWCROFT,
Comdg. Field Force, Phoolpoor.

Camp, Phoolpoor, 22nd Feb. 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to acquaint you, whilst escorting the fleet of 150 boats up the Gogra, I received information that the Village and Fort of Chandepoor on the right bank were strongly held by the Enemy, who intended to resist the progress of the boats. I therefore landed on the 17th Instant at 10 A. M., two miles below, with the Force named in the margin, to attack the Fort, and clear away all obstruction. Line being formed by the Seamen, with a Mountain Howitzer in the centre under Lieutenant Twinons, preceded by a strong body of Marines and Seamen as Skirmishers, with supports of Seikhs and other Seamen under Captain Weston, 36th Regiment Native Infantry, and a reserve of Goorkhas, I quickly advanced through the thick cover and high growing crops; passing through the village, found it deserted; but on emerging from it, the Skirmishers were received by a heavy fire of Musketry and Guns from men concealed in rifle pits, in the thick prickly jungle of bamboo which surrounded the Fort. Captain Weston gallantly dashed forward, and whilst trying to force in the wicker gate, was badly wounded in the shoulder by a villain who had just implored mercy, and was carried to the rear. Mr. Ingles, Mate, then took charge of the Skirmishers, and a good fire was kept up on both sides, our men getting shelter in the village; the Gun was quickly pushed up within 100 yards of the entrance and plied the jungle well with grape. At the same time I ordered Mr. Fowler, in the Jumna Steamer, to advance and enfilade the Fort with grape, which made it too hot, and the Goorkhas threatening the right flank, the Rebels being afraid of their retreat being cut off, fled through the jungle in the rear as we entered in the front, leaving behind them 2 Guns with spare waggon, ammunition, &c., and a quantity of silk dresses, silver-mounted swords, ornaments, money, &c., which evidently belonged to some influential men. The action commenced at 11, and firing ceased at 12-15.

130 of the Naval Brigade.
35 Seikhs.
60 Goorkhas.

The Enemy is supposed to have been about 300, but probably not many killed, as they were perfectly concealed. Our Casualties were four wounded—two severely. I did not attempt to pursue them from the smallness of my Force, and the object perfectly accomplished, having passed up the Fleet, I burnt the Fort and adjacent buildings, withdrew the pickets, re-embarked on the Steamer, and proceeded up the River; but it being dark, without a Pilot, we shortly grounded and remained exposed to the shore till the next morning.

I have now much pleasure in bringing to your notice the cheerful manner of all under my Command; and especially I beg to recommend to the consideration of the Commander-in-Chief the gallant conduct of that fine Soldier, Captain Weston, whose temporary loss from his severe wound every one in the Camp most deeply deplores. Lieutenant Burlton, 40th Native Infantry, with his Seikhs were as usual well forward, and the Goorkhas, under Captain Davidas Opadeeah, rendered good service. I am also much indebted to Captain Reid, 37th Native Infantry, for his valuable service, who landed as a Volunteer from his charge of the boats. Drs. Shore, R. N., and Hilson, H. E. I. C. S., were in close attendance with the wounded.

It is nearly impossible to describe the strength of the Fort, peculiar to Oude; surrounded by a thick jungle of prickly bamboo nearly impassable with high banks. Inside was a line of rifle-pits and loop-holed breastworks with a zig-zag path with gates, leading to a second set, and in front of the Fort were bastions with a sort of parapet all loop-holed, as were all the other buildings in the place, all round which was thick cover.

The following Officers were also present:—

Lord Charles Scott, Mr. Foot, Mr. Stephenson and Mr. Cooley, Boatswain; and the Jumna Steamer, Captain Williamson, was well handled.

No. 31 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General has great pleasure in publishing the accompanying Despatch, from Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., reporting the particulars of an unusually resolute attack on his position, on the 25th February 1858, and of its gallant repulse by the Troops under his Command, to whom, as well as to their distinguished leader, His Lordship offers his thanks for the good service rendered on this occasion.

FROM
MAJ.-GENL. SIR J. OUTRAM, G. C. B.,
Comdg. 1*st Division,*

To
THE DEPUTY ADJT. GENL. OF THE ARMY.
Camp, Alum Bagh, 26*th Feb.* 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report the particulars of a repulse of a determined demonstration, which the Enemy made on our position yesterday the 25th Instant.

2. The principal attack was on our right, against which 24 Regiments of Regular Infantry, 6 Nujeeb Corps, 1,000 Cavalry and 8 Guns moved out from the trenches; of this number about one-half, with 2 Guns, advanced towards our right rear, and having occupied the "topes" immediately to the East of Jellalabad, commenced shelling that post heavily, evidently in the hope of igniting the large quantity of combustible stores at present collected there, while the remainder held in support the villages and "topes" directly in front of the Enemy's out-works.

3. Large bodies of Infantry and Cavalry, with 3 Guns, simultaneously menaced our left, and the trenches in front of our position were occupied in force.

4. Soon after 10 A. M., I moved out with detachments of Artillery, Cavalry, and Infantry, as per accompanying Return, to intercept the Column which had opened its Guns on Jellalabad, having previously sent Barrow's Volunteers and Wale's Horse round, viâ Nowrungabad, to co-operate in the rear.

5. As we advanced, a portion of the Enemy's reserve made a demonstration against our left; but were speedily driven back, and afterwards held in check by the 4 Guns of Remmington's Troops, supported by a Squadron of the 7th Hussars, under Colonel Hagart, and by Brasyer's Seikhs.

6. The Column then moved forward, flanked on the left by Brigadier Campbell with the Native Cavalry, which pushed on in advance to intercept the Enemy's retreat, which, owing to their having heard the fire of Remmington's Guns, proved more sudden than we had anticipated. The manœuvre was completely successful, and speedily converted their retreat into a rout, Brigadier Campbell's Detachment assailing them on one side, while Barrow's and Wale's Horse appeared on the opposite quarter, and the Military Train, under Captain Robertson, dashed into the middle of the flying Enemy, and captured their 2 Guns. The rapidity of their flight prevented the Infantry from taking a prominent part in the action. At 1 P. M., when we finally left the field, the foe had vanished.

7. In the mean time the hostile forces on the left of my position had retired before the very effective fire of Moir's Guns, not liking the looks of the arrangements which had been prepared by Brigadier Franklyn, who had been left in Command of the Camp, for their reception.

8. Judging from the corpses which strewed the field where the Cavalry had charged, and from the dense masses upon which our Guns repeatedly opened, the Enemy's Casualties must have been heavy. Our loss consisted of four men killed, five Officers and twenty men wounded.

9. My cordial acknowledgments are due to all the Officers and Men who conducted and took part in these operations, but especially to the Military Train, whose brilliant charge excited the enthusiasm of all who witnessed it.

10. Colonel Berkeley, my able and zealous Military Secretary, whose knoweldge of the ground was of great service to Brigadier Campbell in cutting off the Enemy's retreat, was wounded while gallantly charging at the head of Hodson's Horse, as was Lieutenant Moorsom while rendering to Barrow and Wale assistance similar to that which Colonel Berkeley afforded the Brigadier.

11. About 4 P. M., the Enemy again moved out against us. On this occasion they directed their principal efforts against our left, and evinced more spirit and determination than they have hitherto done. Repeatedly they advanced within grape and musket range, and as they ever met with a warm reception from our Guns and Enfields, especially from those of the left front picket, Commanded by Major Master, of the 5th Fusiliers, they must have suffered severely.

* They renewed their fire from time to time during the night; but solely, I believe, with the object of covering the parties engaged in moving their dead. Our loss in this subsequent operation amounted to one man killed and fourteen wounded. In all five men killed, and thirty-five Officers and Men wounded.

* Information has since been received, which states the Enemy's loss throughout the day to have been between 400 and 500.

12. The conduct of the Troops throughout the entire day and night was excellent at every point, and merits the highest commendation.

The usual Returns of Ordnance captured and of Casualties are hereby forwarded.

I have, &c.,

Allahabad, the 15th March 1858.

No. 32 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Reports of an expedition against Ghose Mahomed Khan, the Agent of the Rebel Chief of Allygurh, which took place on the 24th of August 1857, in the District of Allygurh, near Coel.

These documents have only now reached Government in the Military Department.

The Governor General has much satisfaction in publicly recognizing the eminent services on that occasion of Mr, A. H. Cocks, Special Commissioner, of Brevet Major Montgomery, 15th Regiment Native Infantry, who Commanded the Expedition, of Captain Murray, late of the Gwalior Contingent, Commanding the Jat Horse; and His Lordship tenders his best thanks to Captain Strover, Commanding a Detachment of the 3rd European Regiment; to Lieutenant Griffin, Commanding the Detachment of Artillery; to Lieutenant DeKantzow, in Command of the Militia; to Mr. Daniell, C. S.; to Mr. Volunteer Hennessy, who particularly distinguished himself in the field; to Mr. P. Saunders, whose services are highly eulogized; and to the other Gentlemen of the Civil Service, and to the Military and Medical Officers, whose gallant conduct and good services are mentioned in these Reports.

The Governor General deeply laments the death of Mr. J. O'B. Tandy, who behaved with conspicuous gallantry in this affair, and whose conduct throughout was only what was to have been expected from his known character, and his former most zealous services.

From

A. H. Cocks, Esquire,
Special Commissioner,

To

C. B. Thornhill, Esquire,
Secy. to Government, N. W. P.

Sir,

I have the honor to report, for the information of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, that we are in possession of the important Town of Coel; and that, as far as can at present be ascertained, the effects of the victory which was obtained over the Rebels on the 24th Ultimo, are as satisfactory as could be hoped for.

2. His Honor has already been demi-officially informed of the operations of the Force under Major Montgomery. I now record the reasons for the advance on Coel, and a short resumé of matters since I left Agra.

3. On the 21st Ultimo, I was deputed to Hattrass to collect revenue and restore confidence to the people of that part of the District, who had abstained in a certain measure from evincing the rebellious spirit generally shown by the inhabitants of this Zillah.

4. I found on arrival at Hattrass that none of the objects of the expedition could be satisfactorily carried out, in consequence of the insolence of Ghose Mahomed Khan, who had, on the part of the King of Delhi, set himself up at Coel as the Ruler of that place. He had sent out a considerable force of his Horsemen to Mudrack, 8 miles from Allygurh, on the road to Hattrass, and an advance guard to Sasnee, only 6 miles from the latter place, and his followers boasted of their intention to advance on Hattrass itself.

5. All these demonstrations quite paralyzed my efforts for good; and with the hearty concurrence of Major Montgomery, a movement on Coel was decided upon. We accordingly marched to Sasnee on the evening of the 23rd and halted there. The next morning we resumed our march and came up with the Rebels, 3 miles from Coel, at about 10 A. M., when the battle began and lasted till 1 P. M.

6. Major Montgomery will report the plan of operations as well as the conduct of the Troops. I will only observe that before we left the field not an Enemy was in sight. The corpses of most of their slain were leisurely examined by us; and those of our own, only five in number, were reverently removed and placed on a conveyance.

7. On political grounds, I was most anxious to make an entrance into Allygurh; but for military reasons (which Major Montgomery will explain, and which were undoubtedly most prudent,) the order was given to retire. This was done in a dignified manner. We remained three hours at Sasnee, and reached Hattrass at night.

8. The next morning I learnt that all the Rebels who fought against us, with Ghose Mahomed at their head, had precipitately abandoned the city; that two of the leaders (Moulvees), who had inflamed the religious fanaticism of the Mussulman population, had been killed, and that all the peaceful citizens of Coel were anxiously expecting our arrival.

9. More Ammunition was accordingly procured from Agra, and on the 28th, at 7 A. M., we made a triumphant entry into the Town and Cantonments, where we have remained ever since in undisturbed possession.

10. I beg to bring to your notice the useful and gallant services of Captain Murray, of the late Gwalior Contingent. His Report is herewith enclosed, and it fully shows the aid given by the Jat Horsemen under Thakoor Gobind Sing. Captain Murray has shown himself throughout the expedition to be as brave and dashing a soldier in the field as he is cautious and sensible in counsel; and his example infused some measure of courage into the Jats. I cordially agree with all he says of his subordinates. Mr. Hennessy is a most promising young gentleman; and I sincerely trust he may obtain a Commission from the Hon'ble Company, to which I pledge myself he will do honor. Mr. P. Saunders was also prominently engaged during the whole action, and I mention him in my Report as he was in some measure associated with me. Major Montgomery will, I doubt not, mention his conspicuous gallantry, as well as that of his cousin, the lamented Mr. J. O'B. Tandy, who fell, as all anticipated, in a noble and self-sacrificing manner.

11. I trust Thakoor Gobind Sing will be well rewarded with a Khillut, as well as in some substantial manner, for the services he has rendered, and the sacrifices he has made to prove his fidelity.

12. Chobay Ghunseean Doss, late Tehseeldar of Hattrass, must be mentioned as an extraordinary example of wisdom, bravery and integrity. His intelligence from all parts has never failed; his advice has been judicious and honest; and his influence with all parties, and the respect with which he is treated by them, are as remakable as his unflinching attitude towards the Enemies of the Government. In a word, during the whole of this rebellion, I have seen no native equal to him, or more deserving of the confidence of the Government of India, and of a higher mark of their regard.

13. The Deputy Collector of Boolundshuhur, Doorga Persad, has shown himself to be a man of considerable bravery, as well as of intelligence; and I would say the same of the two brothers of the Chobay Gunseean, by name Jai Kiso and Dhunput Roy, Tehseeldars, respectively, of Hattrass and Egias.

14. I beg to express the high opinion I entertain of the services of Messrs Lane, Daniell and E. Colvin. Mr. Lane was only a Volunteer, and therefore I had not so much to do with him. Mr. Colvin was with me throughout the expedition. He not only gave me every assistance as a coadjutor in the work of the District, but was also prominent in the field, where he had the good fortune to shoot one of the leading Gazees. On Mr. Daniell and the Foot under Rundeer Sing devolved the protection of the Baggage in the rear. The duty was important and dangerous, and it was well and bravely performed. I forward Mr. Daniell's Report.

15. In conclusion, I beg to express my hearty thanks to Major Montgomery for his uniform co-operation; and there is but one opinion amongst all who have been associated with him, as to the qualities he has shown in the Command of the Force. I know not whether to dilate most on his admirable arrangements on the line of march, or on the field of battle, or in Cantonments. He is every where day and night.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obdt. Servant,

A. H. Cocks,

Special Commissioner.

Camp, Hattrass, 1*st September* 1857.

Sir,

For your information, I have the honor to state that the Detachment under my Command, as per margin, arrived at Hattrass on the evening of the 21st Ultimo, and on the day following intelligence was received that the Allygurh Insurgents, numbering 5 to 6,000, under Ghose Mahomed Khan, Naib Soobah of the King of Delhi, had assumed the offensive, and were marching to attack our position; further, that their advance guard had been pushed forward to Mudrack, about 12 miles from Hattrass. But as the information, though most important, could not be depended upon, Mr. J. O'B. Tandy volunteered, accompanied by Mr. C. Daniell, C. S., and Lieut. D. Kantzow, to ride on in the direction the Enemy were said to have taken up their position, for the purpose of obtaining reliable and certain information of the movements and position of the insurgents as far as possible.

2. In the meantime I made the necessary arrangements for repelling an attack, and to prevent a surprise during the night.

3. At midnight Mr. Tandy and party returned, bringing intelligence that the advance guard of the Insurgents had fallen back, leaving a party of Horse (supposed to be the Mutineers of the 15th Irregulars) at Mudrack, and had taken up their position, determined to fight in a garden with high embankments belonging to Maun Sing, close to and connecting with similar enclosures, near to and on the outskirts of the City of Allygurh.

4. From the information I received, I determined at once, in concurrence with the Commissioner, Mr. A. Cocks, on special duty, to attack their position at all hazard, and on Sunday the 23rd Ultimo, commenced our march towards Allygurh, lightly equipped and prepared against any contingency, and arrived at Sasnee about the close of the evening, having been detained by heavy rain on the line of march, and halted for the night. An old Indigo Factory close to the road with adjoining buildings, and the Government Carts placed at my disposal, afforded tolerable shelter for both Men and Officers, and by the assistance of the Civil Authorities, large fires were lighted throughout the Camp, by which the men dried their clothes. Every precaution was taken for the protection of the Camp, and the night passed off without anything occurring worthy of notice, beyond the capture of a youth near one of the Guns, who was confined and subsequently flogged, it having been ascertained that he had come from Allygurh.

5. At day-break we resumed our march towards Allygurh in good heart, and elated with the prospect of meeting and chastising with retributive vengeance Rebels and Mutineers unequalled for their cruel fiendish malignity and cowardly atrocities to our helpless (in most instances) countrymen and their families, though so vastly superior in numbers; but still fighting in a good cause and with the fullest reliance on Almighty aid, of the result on closing with the Enemy, there was but one feeling which animated and pervaded the minds of most composing the Detachment.

6. I must here mention that on starting from Sasnee, Mr. Cocks placed at my disposal 70 Jat Horse and Matchlockmen belonging to Thakoor Gobind Sing, the former being under the Command of Captain J. J. Murray, of the late Gwalior Contingent, and the latter of Mr. Daniell, C. S., and who, as will afterwards appear, were of great service.

7. On nearing Mudrack about seven miles from Allygurh, we observed a party of Cavalry quietly retiring fully a mile ahead of our advance guard, which consisted of a Company of the 3rd Europeans on Elephants, preceded by the Militia Cavalry and Jat Horse. The Enemy's Cavalry had evidently no wish to interfere with our advance, and continued to retire, till nearing their position, they sidled off to the left, and were joined by others.

8. The Detachment continued to advance to within a quarter of a mile of Maun Sing's garden, and on ascertaining the exact position of the Enemy, measures were promptly taken for the protection of the carriage, &c., consisting of a numerous train of waggons, 130 head of cattle, 16 elephants, and many camels with ammunition and stores, which to me, surrounded as we were on nearly all sides by overwhelming numbers of the Enemy, caused no little anxiety.

9. The carriage, &c., having been collected on the smallest possible space by Captain Fanshawe, I placed at his disposal, for their protection, the Jat Matchlockmen and a few Sowars under Mr. Daniell, who performed that important duty most efficiently and satisfactorily.

10. Having secured the Baggage, &c., with greatest care and anxiety, I commenced the action by attacking, with the Militia Cavalry under Lieutenant D. Kantzow and the Jat Horse, a large body of Cavalry, chiefly Irregulars, who threatened our left and rear.

11. This duty was most gallantly and promptly performed, and our left and rear having thus been cleared of the Enemy's Cavalry, who were driven back to the rear of their main body, I brought the Guns into position under cover of Skirmishers, and opened fire, which was sharply replied to by the Enemy from behind the garden walls, against which I found Artillery of little avail. Information was now brought to me by Mr. P. Saunders, who considerately and kindly placed his services at my disposal, that the Enemy were in great force on the right of the garden. I immediately directed Captain Murray to move round to the right with Jat Horse, and cut off the Enemy on the general assault, and carrying of their position with the Infantry, at the same time ordering Lieutenant Griffin to move up two of his Guns in the same direction. This movement took some little time, evidently occupying the attention of the Enemy, enabled me to make arrangements for the assault.

12. Leaving a sufficient number of men under Captain Strover to protect the Gun on the left, and all being ready, I gave the word "Forward" and went to the front accompanied by Lieutenant Clarke, and followed by No. 8 Company of the 3rd European Regiment, under Lieutenant Blake. On reaching the garden wall, a large party of fanatical Mussulmen, headed by Moulvees, rushed forward sword in hand from the right corner, and there ensued a most desperate hand to hand encounter, which terminated in their total destruction, and where we met with our chief loss, which might in a great measure have been avoided had Captain Bacon's Company attached to the two Guns on the right fired upon them as they debouched from the garden immediately in their front.

13. Fortunately at this moment Lieutenant Griffin, at Captain Murray's request, moved up his two Guns, and getting well to the right, opened fire with terrible effect on their reserve, killing great numbers and completely dispersing the remainder. Captain Murray at the same time taking advantage of an opening in the wall, dashed forward with part of the Jat Horse, entered the garden, and cut up the Gazees who remained in it, among whom was the Chief Moulvee Abdoolzuleel, who was cut down in a hand to hand encounter by that Officer.

14. The field was now our own, after two hours' fighting, the Enemy having been completely routed and dispersed in all directions, leaving at least 300 dead, thus terminating a decided victory against great odds, and with comparatively small loss on our side, considering the strength of their positions and the number of Gazees, who fought with the desperation and contempt of life of Mussulmen fanatics.

15. On the termination of the action, Mr. Cocks, who throughout the day was by my side, strongly urged following up our success on political grounds, by an immediate advance on Allygurh; but having to thread a defile of walled enclosures (most of which were occupied) a greater part of which running under and close to the city with an enormous population; with our grape and canister nearly expended, without scarcely the possibility of getting at the Enemy with our Detachment, in the first instance scarcely equal to the undertaking, much reduced by the killed and wounded, with reports of aid for the insurgents being daily expected from Delhi, with no possibility of obtaining assistance from any quarter nearer than Agra, from where a man could scarcely be spared, with our wounded to attend to, and all being well considered and explained to Mr. Cocks, I, with his fullest concurrence, decided on returning to our Head Quarters at Hattrass, taking with us our killed and wounded, with the determination of occupying Allygurh on completing our ammunition, and which we did on the 27th without the slightest opposition.

16. The force opposed to us, Commanded by Ghose Mahomed Khan, Naib Soobah on the part of Waleedad Khan, appointed Soobah by the King of Delhi, was chiefly composed of Mussulmen, among whom were many Gazees, numbering from 5 to 6,000, with 150 Irregular Cavalry and 200 Mahomedan Horse, aided by levies of Zemindaree Horse and Foot, chiefly Mewaties, amounting to 6 or 700 Men, the whole headed by Moulvee Abdoolzuleel, a very influential religious instructor, and leader of the Gazees, being assisted by several other Moulvees, three of whom, including Abdoolzuleel, were killed, and a fourth wounded.

17. I attribute the success of the action to the cordial co-operation and assistance I received from the Civil Authorities and Officers and Men under my Command, and my best thanks are due to Captain Strover, Second in Command, (who in quarter and in the field has rendered me every assistance.) Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of the 3rd Europeans, which, though a young Regiment, and under very trying circumstances, behaved with the valour and spirit of British Soldiers.

18. To Lieutenant Griffin, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of the Artillery, for the promptitude with which my orders were carried out, and to whose energetic exertions I attribute in a great measure the success of the day.

19. Lieutenant DeKantzow, and the Militia Cavalry, who (with the Jat Horse under Captain Murray—this Officer signally distinguished himself in a single-handed encounter with a Gazee, who, I am happy to say, was shot down, though not till Captain Murray received a severe contusion in the arm,) rendered most important service, by successfully attacking and dispersing a large body of Irregular Cavalry at the commencement of the action. Of the conduct of the Militia, both in the field and quarters, I cannot speak too highly.

20. To Assistant Surgeon Mackellar, for his judicious medical arrangements, and his assiduous and humane attention to the wounded.

21. To Lieutenant Blake, 3rd European Regiment, and Lieutenant Clarke, of the late Gwalior Contingent, who behaved with conspicuous gallantry, the latter being severely wounded.

22. Ensign O'Donnell, 67th N. I., who during the march and in the field assisted me very greatly.

23. Mr. Volunteer Hennessy, who greatly distinguished himself, shooting five men with his Rifle and one with a Revolver, and as he was also present in the action of the 5th July, and is the son of an old and deserving Officer, I respectfully solicit that the services of the youth may specially be brought to the notice of Government, with a view to his obtaining Military employment.

24. I beg to bring prominently forward the praiseworthy conduct of Reverend Mr. Kellner, who gratuitously accompanied the Detachment, and for whose humane and unremitting attention to the wounded during the action and under fire, too much praise cannot possibly be bestowed.

25. I am also greatly indebted to Mr. Cocks for his cordial co-operation and assistance on all occasions, particularly on the day of the action, and for the very accurate information he obtained, when the most conflicting and contradictory accounts were spread abroad, evidently with the view of discouraging and throwing difficulties in the way of our advance. Also to Mr. Paterson Saunders, and Messrs. Lane and Colvin, of the Civil Service, of whose services I cannot speak too highly in conveying orders throughout the heat of the action.

26. To Captain Fanshawe, in charge of the carriage, &c., for his admirable management in providing ample carriage for the Detachment, and energetic exertions in the Postal Department, as also for the very accurate information he has at all times procured.

27. To Mr. Daniell, C. S., to whom was assigned the responsible duty of protecting the Baggage with the Jat Matchlockmen.

28. I deeply lament the loss of J. O'B. Tandy, Esq., and Ensign Marsh, 16th Grenadiers, both of whom were Volunteers; the former fell whilst attempting quite alone to enter the walled enclosures. This Gentleman's daring and gallantry could not be surpassed, and possessing as he did every qualification that could adorn a Soldier and a Gentleman, his loss has been a matter of the deepest regret to the whole of the party. Ensign Marsh, the son of an old Cavalry Officer in our Service, behaved most gallantly, and at last, overpowered by odds, fell cut to pieces by the fanatic Gazees.

A List of the Killed and Wounded I have the honor herewith to enclose.

To

A. COCKS, ESQUIRE,
Special Commissioner.

Camp, Hattrass, 25th August 1857.

SIR,

AGREEABLY to your request, I have the honor to furnish for your information, the following account of the part taken by Thakoor Gobind Sing's Jat Horse,* under my Command, in the engagement with the Allygurh Insurgents, at Maun Sing's garden, on the 24th Instant.

*70 Sowars under Thakoor Gobind Sing.

2. Before attacking their position, Major Montgomery ordered the Militia Cavalry, under Lieutenant DeKantzow, and the Jat Horse, to charge 150 Irregular Cavalry, who were threatening our left flank, and circling round to the rear of our column. The Militia Cavalry† being a small body and easily handled, were the first to move off; but the Jat Horse quickly followed in support, and by their formidable appearance, contributed in no small degree to the defeat of the Irregulars, who, after firing a few shots, were driven back to the rear of their position in complete disorder and did not again show themselves during the action.

† Twenty-two Men.

These latter were in uniform and armed with carbines, &c.

3. Shortly afterwards I was ordered to sweep round by the right of Maun Sing's garden, and cut up some of the Enemy, who were making their escape; but finding a large party of at least 800 Men and 50 Sowars drawn up in good order on the right of the garden, Lieutenant Griffin, at my request, moved up two of his Guns and opened fire with terrible effect, killing at least 150 of them, and completely dispersing the remainder.

I was preparing to follow them up, when I received an order to charge into the garden and clear it of the Enemy. This a portion of the Jat Horse did in gallant style, headed by Kurruck Sing, who (with 3 Sowars) was wounded in an encounter with seven of the most desperate Mussulmen, whom they killed. Kurruck Sing was also dangerously wounded by a Musket ball, on leaving the garden; but I am glad to say is going on favourably.

4. Thakoor Gobind Sing gave me every assistance, and was under fire throughout the engagement. Deputy Collector Doorga Persaud and Jey Kissan, Tehseeldar of Hattrass, also distinguished themselves.

5. I have great pleasure in bringing to your notice Mr. Volunteer Hennessy, who kindly accompanied me, and as you must have observed, particularly distinguished himself. He killed five men with his Rifle, one with a Revolver, and would have been very severely wounded, had not his pouch saved him from a sword cut, in an encounter with a Mussulman, and he fortunately escaped with a contusion of the arm.

6. Mr. Collier, of the Militia Cavalry, who was attached to me, behaved with his usual gallantry.

I have the honor to be,
SIR,
Your most obdt. Servant,
J. G. MURRAY, Captain,
Late Gwalior Contingent,
Comdg. Jat Horse, on the 24th Instant.

MEMO.

SIR,

ON the morning of the 24th Instant, under Major Montgomery's orders, I marched with the contingent of Footmen, furnished by Thakoor Gobind Sing, to the number of one hundred and eleven, from Sasnee. They were under the Command of Rundeer Sing, the Thakoor's nephew. I was ordered to remain with them all day, and march in the rear of the force, and to carry out the Commanding Officer's orders, with regard to this part of the force. They marched in excellent order up to the field; about a mile distant from the rear of the force, the Enemy's Cavalry were seen a short distance to the right, but made no attempt at attack, keeping parallel to the rear-guard, until they joined the main-body. I there received an order to dispose the men in the rear with a view to prevent any attack. The footmen were, therefore, drawn up on each side of the Baggage in the fields on the side of the road, and the Cavalry, about ten in number, who were sent to my rear on the road, completed the cordon, being drawn up between the two lines of Infantry. They kept this position until the order to return to Hattrass was given, when the Horsemen marched in front of the main body, and the Footmen in two lines on each side of the Baggage. Thakoor Rundeer Singh's activity was conspicuous. The order he preserved among his men was very creditable.

I have the honor to be,
SIR,
Your obdt. Servant,
C. J. DANIELL,
Joint Magistrate.

No 33 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch from the Deputy Adjutant General of the Army, forwarding a Report of the storming and capture of the Town of Meeangunge in Oude, on the 23rd Ultimo, by the Troops under the Command of Brigadier General Sir J. SIR, Forwards Report of the successful storming of the Town of Meeangunge in Oude, by the Troops under the Command of Brigadier General Sir J. H Grant.

I HAVE the honor, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, copy of a Report, dated the 5th Instant, from Brigadier General Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., of the successful storming of the Town of Meeangunge in Oude, on the 23rd Ultimo, by the Troops under his Command, on which occasion 6 Guns were captured, and about 900 of the Rebels killed or taken prisoners.

2. His Excellency considers that Sir J. Hope Grant, in this, as in all other affairs in which he has been engaged, displayed great energy, zeal and ability, and that he well deserves the approbation of his Lordship.

SIR,

Infantry	2240
Total	3246

I HAVE the honor to report that, on the morning of the 23rd February, I marched with the Force named in the margin, to Meeangunge, (with which I had been sent out to clear the country on the left bank of the Ganges, and along the main road from Cawnpore to Lucknow,) where I heard a Force of 2,000 Infantry had taken up a position in the Town with 300 Cavalry outside, and 5 or 6 Guns.

The Town was an old walled City with three strong gates, one leading to Lucknow, another to Cawnpore, and the third to Rohilcund; at each of the gates were placed Guns behind strong breastworks, and these three sides were covered with trees. I reconnoitred and found on the North side, an excellent position within 350 yards, where the 2 heavy Guns under Major Anderson, C. B., could be brought up, and a part of the wall in which was a postern gate beside a house called the Palace, which could be breached. I immediately ordered up the 2 Guns, placed the 53rd Regiment with the 38th in support, in rear of the Guns behind a village. I sent the Cavalry with 4 Guns of the Royal Horse Artillery, to cover the Lucknow road; and the 34th Regiment, with two other Guns and a Troop of Cavalry, to cover the Baggage on the Rohilcund road. Major Turner's Troop of 9-Pounders, under Command of Lieutenant Bishop, I placed on the right of the heavy Guns, to keep down the musketry fire from the walls of the Town.

In the space of 50 minutes, the 2 heavy Guns made a practicable breach, and I then ordered the 53rd Regiment to advance to the assault. They were formed into two Columns;—one was to proceed through the left of the Town under Colonel English, the other to the right under Major Payne; this duty was performed most admirably by the 53rd; they approached the Town through some lanes to the left; they rushed in at the breach, stormed the Town and took it; 6 Guns were also taken. Numbers of the Enemy were killed, and numbers tried to make their escape through the gates, but we were everywhere prepared for them, and altogether there must have been 500 killed and 400 taken prisoners. The Cavalry, Artillery and Infantry, on all sides, did their duty and gave me the greatest satisfaction.

I cannot speak too highly of the assistance I received from Major Anderson, C. B., Commanding the Artillery, from Lieutenant-Colonel J. Hagart, Commanding the Cavalry, and from Lieutenant-Colonel Sparks, Commanding the Infantry Brigades; also from Major Turner, Bengal Horse Artillery, and from Major Mitchell, and Lieutenant Bishop, Commanding Troops of Royal and Bengal Horse Artillery; from Major Horne, Commanding 7th Hussars, and from Captain Anson, Commanding 9th Lancers; from Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, Commanding 34th Regiment, and from Lieutenant-Colonel Kelly, Commanding 38th Regiment; also from Lieutenant-Colonel English and Major Payne, 53rd Regiment, who so successfully Commanded all their Columns of assault, and from Captain Gough and Lieutenant Watson, Commanding Detachments of Irregular Cavalry; Lieutenant Dirom, Bengal Horse Artillery; Lieutenant Martin, 9th Lancers, and Captain Fendall, 53rd Regiment, Brigade Majors of Artillery, Cavalry and Infantry, were of the greatest use throughout the day. Lieutenant Warren, Commanding the heavy Guns, deserves great praise for the speedy and effective manner the wall was breached.

To my own personal Staff I am deeply indebted for their services. Captain Hamilton, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, Lieutenant Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master General, Captain the Honorable A. Anson, Aide-de-Camp, and Lieuenant Havelock, extra Aide-de-Camp. Captain Bruce, Head of the Intelligence Department, and Captain Evans, Deputy Commissioner, afforded me the most valuable aid in obtaining information on this as on every other occasion; Lieutenants Wilkinson and Hogge, of the Commissariat Department, exerted themselves to the utmost, and materially lessened the difficulties of the march.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) J. HOPE GRANT, Brigdr. Genl.,

GENERAL ORDERS

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF,

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 26th March 1858.

At a General Court Martial assembled at Mooltan on Friday, the 19th day of February 1858, Ressaldar Charles Frederick Pigott, 3d Punjaub cavalry, was arraigned on the following charge:

Charge.—" For having failed to rejoin his regiment at Dera Ghazee Khan on the 30th July 1857, when the leave granted to him on the 1st July 1857 expired, and on or about the first mentioned date deserted his regiment."

Finding.—The Court having maturely weighed and considered the evidence in support of the prosecution, as well as what the prisoner has brought forward on his defence, is of opinion that he, the prisoner, Ressaldar Charles Frederick Pigott, 6th troop 3d Punjaub cavalry, is Guilty to the extent of " having failed to rejoin his regiment, and being absent without leave."

Sentence.—The Court having found the prisoner Guilty as above specified, does adjudge him, the prisoner, Ressaldar Charles Frederick Pigott, 6th troop 3d Punjaub cavalry, to be Cashiered.

Approved and Confirmed,

(Signed) C. CAMPBELL, General,
Commander in Chief, East Indies.

Head Quarters, Camp,
Lucknow, 17th March 1858.

REMARKS BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

The sentence to have effect from the date of promulgation at Mooltan.

GENERAL ORDERS

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF,

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 27th March 1858.

FORT WILLIAM, 23D MARCH 1858.

No. 476 of 1858.——The following notifications from the Foreign department are published in General Orders:

No. 1184, the 19*th March* 1858.—The services of Assistant Surgeon T. P. Wright, attached to the Goorka force, are placed at the disposal of the Government, North Western Provinces, with a view to his appointment to the medical charge of the civil station of Azimgurh.

No. 1185, the 19*th March* 1858.—The services of Captain C. L. Montgomery and Lieutenant W. Battye, of the 65th regiment native infantry, attached to the Goorka force, are placed temporarily at the disposal of His Excellency the Commander in Chief, for regimental duty with their corps, proceeding on foreign service.

No. 1186, the 19*th March* 1858.—The Honorable the President in Council has been pleased to grant to Dr. J. Fayrer, late Civil Surgeon of Lucknow, leave of absence, preparatory to his embarkation for England on leave, on medical certificate. The privilege leave for two months granted to Dr. Fayrer on the 31st December last, is cancelled.

No. 477 of 1858.——The following notification issued by the Honorable the Lieutenan Governor of Bengal, is published in General Orders:

Appointment.—The 17*th March* 1858.—Colonel H. Forster, Commandant Shekhawattee battalion, to be a Commissioner, under Section VII, Act XIV of 1857, in Sumbulpore, for the trial of all crimes and offences punishable under the said Act.

No. 478 of 1858.——The following notification from the Financial department is published in General Orders:

No. 12, the 19*th March* 1858.—Notification.—Read again the following papers relative to the grant of casual leave to Uncovenanted Servants:

Endorsement from Home department, No. 795, dated 21st May 1857, with enclosures.
Financial Resolution No. 2520, dated 12th June 1857.

Read an endorsement from the Home department, No. 544, dated the 5th instant, forwarding for consideration and orders a letter from the Secretary to the Government of Bombay, No. 13, dated the 18th ultimo, having reference to the above subject.

Resolution.—The Honorable the President in Council observes that, on the 12th June last, it was ruled by this Government that casual leave for a few days may, in cases of sickness, be granted to Uncovenanted Civil Servants by the Heads of offices at their discretion, without loss of salary, and without such leave being taken into account as part of the two years allowed by Clause 1 of Section V, of the Uncovenanted Service Absentee Rules.

Referring to this decision, the Government of Bombay now enquires whether any, and if so, what limit has been fixed by this Government for the casual leave alluded to.

His Honor in Council remarks that no limit has as yet been established, but he considers that the total amount of casual leave should not exceed fifteen days in the course of the year, and he desires that this limit be observed in future.

Order.—Ordered, that a copy of the foregoing resolution be sent to the Home department, for communication to the Government of Bombay, and that the original paper received therefrom be returned.

Ordered, further, that a copy be sent to the departments,* the Governments,† and the officers‡ noted in the margin, for information and guidance.

Ordered, also, that a copy of the above resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, for general information.

* Foreign, Military, and Public Works.
† Bengal, N. W. Provinces, Madras, and Straits' Settlements.
‡ Chief Commissioner Punjaub, and Civil Auditor Fort William.

No. 479 of 1858.——Second grade Sub-Assistant Surgeon Dinonauth Dhur having refused to proceed and join his appointment at Allahabad, is dismissed from the service.

No. 480 of 1858.——The name of pensioned Havildar Luchmun Newar, No. 6030, Meerut circle, formerly of the 66th or Goorka regiment, who is proved to have been guilty of receiving and secreting some money plundered from the Kussowlie Treasury in May 1857, is struck off the pension list from the date of last payment made to him.

No. 481 of 1858.——The undermentioned men who were pronounced by the invaliding committee to be unfit for further duty, and recommended to be sent to Europe, are admitted each to a pension equivalent to (9) nine d. per diem, under the provisions of General Order of the 5th February 1820, with permission to reside in India, subject to the confirmation of the Honorable the Court of Directors:

Officers commanding detachments will pass their receipts to the non-commissioned officers of the Commissariat department present at each halting place, and will fill up the printed batta certificates in its several columns, which they will receive from the Commissariat officer at Mooltan, and on arrival at Meean Meer transmit them, duly signed, to the local Commissariat officer.

SUPERVISION.

As the Director of the whole line, a commissioned officer, on a staff salary of rupees 300 per mensem, Captain W. Fullerton, as above directed.

Two Gomashtas, pay rupees 50 per mensem, security rupees 1000 each, to aid the Superintendent, render accounts of cash payments and receipts, victualling and dead stock, feeding of cattle and pay of establishments.

Each Gomashta to have charge of one-half of the line, viz. one from Lahore to Hurrupa inclusive, and one from Hurrupa to Mooltan.

These Gomashtas will receive detailed orders regarding their visiting the several Chokees of their division and other duties from the Superintendent.

The four non-commissioned officers will be stationed at each halting place for the detachment. It will be their duty to report to the Superintendent anything that may go amiss, or that may strike them, on experience, as susceptible of improvement, as well on the road with parties arriving as at their respective stations; to see after the stores; and look carefully after the rum in store. They will also act as Interpreters generally between the men and Native establishments. A moonshee, on a salary of rupees 20 per mensem, will be allowed to the Superintendent. Such modifications, in addition to the above scale of establishments, &c., as experience on the working of the train may show to be necessary, will be directed hereafter from time to time.

Monthly bills, in duplicate, for all expenditure connected with the Lahore and Mooltan transport train, are to be submitted for countersignature by the Military Secretary to the Chief Commissioner.

JOHN GRAY, "CALCUTTA GAZETTE" OFFICE.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF,

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 29th March 1858.

At a General Court Martial assembled at Agra on Thursday, the 4th day of March 1858, Sub-Conductor Thomas Beck Johnson, Commissariat department, was arraigned on the following charge:

Charge.—That he, Thomas Beck Johnson, on the 27th day of December 1857, near Allygurh, he being then and there a Warrant Officer serving in the territories of the East India Company, at a distance of upwards of 120 miles from the Presidency of Fort William, did feloniously, wilfully, and of his malice aforethought, kill and murder one Lundee, a hackery driver.

Finding.—The Court, from the evidence before it, is of opinion that the prisoner, Thomas Beck Johnson, Sub-Conductor, Commissariat department, is Not Guilty of the charge, and they acquit him thereof.

Approved and Confirmed,

(Signed) C. CAMPBELL, General,
Commander in Chief, East Indies.

Camp, Lucknow,
March 24th, 1858.

REMARKS BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF IN INDIA.

The prisoner to be released and directed to return to his duty.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,

W. MAYHEW, Lieut. Colonel,

Adjutant General of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF,

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 30th March 1858.

The following General Order issued to the Forces in the field is published to the Army:

Head Quarters, Camp, Lucknow, 22d March 1858.

The Commander in Chief congratulates the Army on the reduction and fall of Lucknow.

From the 2d till the 21st March, when the last body of rebels was expelled from the town, the exertions of all ranks have been without intermission; and every regiment employed has won much distinction.

The attacks on both sides of the river Goomtee, ably conducted by the Generals and Commanding Officers of brigades and regiments, have been sustained by the men with vigor and perseverance; the consequence being, that great results have been achieved with comparatively moderate loss.

His Excellency returns his warmest thanks to the Troops.

Every man who was engaged either in the old Garrison of Lucknow, in the relieving Forces, or at the Siege which has now been terminated, may rest satisfied that he has done his duty, and deserves well of his Country.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,

W. MAYHEW, Lieut. Colonel,

Adjutant General of the Army.

Officers commanding divisions are requested to give effect to the foregoing orders within their respective divisions.

Strict attention is to be paid to the standing regulations of the service, relative to the transmission of progress and other reports to Head Quarters; and, during the absence of His Excellency the Commander in Chief from the Presidency, of duplicates of all such reports to the Officers in charge of the offices of the Adjutant General and Quarter Master General of the Army, in Calcutta.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,

W. MAYHEW, Lieut. Colonel,

Adjutant General of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 31st March 1858.

ALLAHABAD, THE 22ND MARCH 1858.

No. 38 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General has much pleasure in publishing the following Report of an engagement between a Detachment of the Jat Horse, under the Command of Captain J. J. Murray, and a body of the Enemy's Cavalry, at Kutchla Ghat, in which the latter were defeated and dispersed.

The Governor General tenders his acknowledgments to Captain Murray, Lieutenant Hennessy, and the Men who were engaged in this spirited affair.

By order of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,
Secy. to the Govt. of India, Mily. Dept.,
with the Governor General.

Secy. to Govt., N. W. P.

Camp, Kashgunge, 13th March 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to forward, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, copy of my letter No. 25, of the 11th Instant, to Lieutenant Prinsep, Detachment Staff at Allygurh, giving the particulars of an affair I had with the Enemy's Cavalry at Kutchla Ghat, on the 11th Instant.

2. I earnestly beg to bring to the notice of Government, Local Lieutenant and Adjutant A. C. Hennessy, who was very severely wounded in the charge, and whose bravery was most conspicuous.

3. Nothing could exceed the steadiness of the men when retiring, and their bravery in the attack, those opposed to them being Irregular Cavalry, completely armed, and with every advantage in their favor.

4. The Enemy have not yet carried out their threat of advancing on this place, and I hope to be able to hold my position till the arrival of the Column under Major-General Penny, three or four days hence, when, I believe, the Jat Horse will return to Allygurh.

I have the honor to be,
SIR,
Your most obdt. Servant,
J. J. MURRAY, Captain,

FROM

CAPTAIN J. J. MURRAY,
Comdg. Jat Horse.

To

LIEUT. PRINSEP,
Offg. Detachment Staff, Allygurh.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of Major Eld, Commanding at Allygurh, that, having received information last night of the arrival of Nyczalle Khan at Kutchla Ghat, with 3 Guns and 1,000 Cavalry and Infantry, and further that Wulleedad Khan, thus re-inforced, intended to cross over with his whole Force this morning, I considered it advisable to make a re-advancement towards the Ghat, to watch the movements, and, as far as practicable, ascertain the actual strength of the Enemy.

Accordingly, this morning, I took with me 200 Horse, and on approaching the banks of the river, the Enemy, who were on the alert, turned out in force, having at least 600 Cavalry (Irregulars), 2,000 drilled Infantry, and 3 Field Guns, besides two or three others in position.

Having satisfied myself as to their strength, and observing no preparations for crossing over, I decided on returning at once to Kashgunge; but had scarcely moved off, when, to my great surprise, I saw a strong party of their Cavalry crossing the river immediately opposite the Ghat, and where I had been informed it was not fordable, under cover of their Field Guns. I continued to retire in perfect order, not wishing to engage with the Enemy so near their main body. They however advanced rapidly, and a mile on this side of Ruggoub pressed so closely on my Column, that I considered it necessary to charge them, and did so successfully, driving them to that village, beyond which I did not deem it prudent to follow them.

We killed seven of the Enemy, and completely checked their further advance.

I was thus enabled to continue my march unmolested to Sarun, where I halted during the day. In the charge, I regret to say that that most gallant young Officer, Lieutenant and Adjutant Hennessy, received three very severe sword cuts in the right arm, and which will deprive me of his valuable services for some time, and two Sowars of the Jat Horse were killed. Their Horses are also missing.

The advanced portion of the Enemy's Cavalry thus driven back, numbered about 200, and came on with great boldness, well knowing that my men were newly raised and without fire-arms.

It appears that the Enemy, being checked in their advance in the direction, subsequently, with a strong Force, proceeded to the village of Arhair, 2 miles above the Ghaut, where Darah Sing Thakoor has a strong Ghurrie, defended by 250 armed followers with a Gun. The Enemy attacked the place, but were unsuccessful, and recrossed the river in the afternoon, taking with them a Gun, which had been left outside the Ghurrie.

When they retired, Darah Sing and his Followers left the place, and are now in Sarun. The Enemy lost a number of Men, and the Thakoor one or two.

I have the honor to be,

SIR,

Your most obdt. Servant,

No. 39 of 1858.—The following Orders, issued by the Commissioner of Nagpore, are confirmed :—

No. 23, dated 6th November 1857.—Lieutenant Lilly, acting Second in Command, and in charge of the Adjutancy of the Cavalry Regiment, is transferred from that Regiment, and appointed to do duty with the 1st Infantry, his services being emergently required to take the Command of a Detachment of that Regiment under orders to proceed to Seonee.

No. 24, dated 6th November 1857.—The services of Ensign McNeile, of the 26th Madras Native Infantry, having been placed at the disposal of the Commissioner by the Brigadier Commanding the Nagpore Force, he is appointed to do duty with the 1st Infantry Regiment, with a view to his proceeding in Command to Baitool, with a Detachment of that Regiment.

No. 40 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Report, by Colonel F. Rowcroft, Commanding Sarun Field Force, detailing the particulars of the signal victory obtained on the 5th Instant, by the Troops under his Command, over a Rebel force greatly outnumbering them.

Fully concurring in the praise bestowed by Colonel Rowcroft on Captain Sotheby, R. N., Commanding the Naval Brigade of Her Majesty's Ship Pearl ; on Major Richardson, and Captain Chapman, and the Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry led by them ; on Colonel Byroon Sing Kooer and Major-Captain Sewuckram Thappa, and in his acknowledgment of the good services of the Officers and Men of all arms under his orders, the Governor General further desires to place on record his full appreciation of the admirable manner in which they were Commanded in this action by Colonel Rowcroft himself.

By Order of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,

Secy. to the Govt of India,

with the Governor General.

Camp, Amorah, 6th March 1858.

On the signal and complete defeat yesterday of the Enemy, who had moved up in great force from Belwa, Fyzabad, and Nawabgunge, Colonel Rowcroft, Commanding the Field Force, offers, with great pleasure, his best thanks and congratulations to all the Officers and Men of the Pearl's Naval Brigade, under the Command of Captain Sotheby, R. N ; the Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry, under Major Richardson ; Gorrucknath and Bunuk Goorkha Regiments, under Military charge of Captains Barclay and Brooks, with Captain MacGregor attached ; to Colonel Byroop Singh Kooer, and Major-Captain Sewukram Thappa, Goorkha Commandants ; Lieutenant Turnour, R. N., in charge of the Naval Artillery ; Lieutenants Ratcliffe and Grant, R. N., in charge of the Naval Column ; Lieutenant Pym, R. N., in charge of Marine Skirmishers, aided by a party of Rifles from the Naval Column under Lieutenant Ingles ; Lieutenant Burlton, in charge of Seikh Skirmishers—all rendered their usual most active and excellent services. The charges of the Yeomanry Cavalry were gallant and most effective ; early in the action that of the Right Squadron, under Captain Chapman, ordered and directed by Colonel Rowcroft, was carried out with a rapid and telling effect, driving in the left of the Enemy, killing great numbers, turning and shaking their centre. The advance of the Naval Brigade and Gorrucknath Regiment, ordered at the same time, drove the whole line of the Enemy into full retreat, compelling them to abandon their Guns ; and here a Detachment of 20 Troopers, Yeomanry Cavalry, with Cornets Copland and Prinsep, ordered from the Right Squadron to the rear of Naval Guns, to cover and protect them, did excellent and useful service : the combined movements and advance of all the Troops leading to the capture of 7 of the Enemy's Guns. Shortly before this movement, Colonel Rowcroft received a Report from Major Richardson, Commanding Left Squadron on the left, that the Enemy, in great force, had got round our left rear, threatening our Camp. Orders were sent to Major Richardson, with a Troop of his whole Squadron, to attack and clear out the Enemy, most gallantly and effectually carried out by Major Richardson and his Squadron, actively aided by a few Goorkha Companies under Captain Brooks. Major Richardson reports that he received great assistance from Cornets Kloer and Troup, who were his Orderly Officers. Colonel Rowcroft's best thanks are also due to Captain Morgan, Field Force Staff, and to Hon'ble V. A. Montague, his Acting A. D. C., for their ready and zealous services; also to Drs. Shore and Dickenson, of the Naval Brigade, and to Dr. J. W. R. Ainesbury, of the Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry, and to Revd. W. Williams, Naval Chaplain, present in the field.

The action commenced at 8½ A. M. and closed 12½ P. M., in four hours; the Enemy, reported to be 4,000 Sepoys of the 1st, 10th, 58th, 56th, 5th Gwalior Contingent, and 2nd Oude Police Corps, 700 strong, 10,000 Irregulars, 300 Sowars and 9 Guns, being beaten at all points, pursued 7 miles, and completely routed with heavy loss of 7 Guns with limbers and ammunition, and 500 killed and wounded. This most successful action by the Field Force may be considered to have saved Goruckpore from a second immediate rebellion.

COLONEL R. J. H. BIRCH, C. B.,
Military Secretary,
with the Right Hon'ble the Gov. Genl.,
Allahabad.

Camp, Amorah, 9 miles from Belwa, opposite Fyzabad, the 6th March 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to acquaint you, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, on the 4th Instant, in the evening and during the night, I received reports that the Enemy were preparing in great force with several Guns to move on us from Belwa, Fyzabad and Nawabgunge. The Camp, Baggage, &c., was at once struck, and packed that night. About 7-30 the next morning, the 5th Instant, the Field Force as per margin, moved out of Camp, and I took up a position and formed line a little to the West of the village of Amorah and the Camp; the Naval Brigade and Guns in the centre across the road, the two Goorkha Regiments on the right and left of the Naval Brigade, the Seikh Detachment on the left of the Goorkhas, and the Yeomanry Cavalry, one Squadron on the right, and one on the left of my line. I rode forward a little in advance to meet a Cavalry Patrol. From the Officer's Report, I at first thought it was a party of the Enemy sent into the villages for plunder; but I immediately heard the bugles of the Enemy sounding a halt, and then the advance. I doubled the strength of the Patrol, and ordered the Officer to obtain further information, and to be careful not to commit his Patrol by going into any village.

They soon returned, the Officer reporting the Enemy to be advancing in great force. Our line remained steady in position, anxiously awaiting the moment for attacking the Enemy.

The bugle sounds neared on our line, and the Enemy soon showed themselves in great force, their line extending right and left, over-lapping our flanks. Our Guns opened from the centre, and the Enemy commenced a heavy and rapid cannonade from several Guns on our line. I ordered out the Skirmishers and the whole line to advance. I received a Report from Major Richardson, Commanding left Squadron, that the Enemy in force were pushing round my left rear. I ordered him to detach a Troop, or if necessary with the Squadron, to attack and clear out the Enemy, but not to leave my left for any time. This was gallantly and effectually carried out by Major Richardson and his Squadron, zealously and actively aided by Captain Brooks, with a party of Goorkhas, cutting up and killing a number of the Enemy. Here Captain Jenkins and Cornet Durnford had their Horses shot and killed under them. Major Richardson reports that he received great assistance from Cornets Kloer and Troup, his Orderly Officers.

2. I saw there was no time to be lost, and that a rapid and decisive blow must be struck. Leaving orders for the Guns to continue the advance and fire, and taking a party of Rifles of 20 men from the Naval Column, with Lieutenant Ingles, R. N., to re-inforce the Marine Skirmishers, I rode on to the right Squadron, and ordered Captain Chapman to advance rapidly with his Squadron, inclining to the right, and bringing up his right shoulders to charge the Enemy's Sowars and Infantry, hoping it would also shake their centre. At the same time I sent an Orderly Trooper with an order to the Gorucknath Goorkha Regiment, on the right of the Naval Brigade, to advance at the charge, and the Goorkhas moved gallantly forward. The result of this movement was soon apparent. I saw the left of the Enemy hesitating, and some pressing towards their centre, the Sowars in rapid retreat.

Down came the Yeomanry Cavalry at a charging pace, well and steadily together, on the moving masses of Infantry, routing them and cutting down and killing great numbers, upwards of 90 reported. The whole left of the Enemy soon gave way. I gallopped up to the Yeomanry Cavalry, and thanked Captain Chapman and the Squadron for their good gallant movement and charge, and ordered Captain Chapman to move towards the left, to threaten the Enemy's centre. The combined movement and gallant bearing of the Troops, the steady advance of the Naval Brigade, soon shattered the whole line of the Enemy. They abandoned their Guns and were in full retreat, and our gallant Troops captured 7 Guns with limbers and ammunition. When ordering the Right Squadron to advance, I detached a party of twenty Troopers to the rear of the Naval Guns to cover and protect them, and this party, under Acting Cornets Copland and Prinsep, by their gallant and excellent service, aided in capturing some of the Guns.

3. The pursuit now commenced for 7 miles to near Belwa, the Enemy having to be driven out of topes and villages as we advanced.

A short distance from Belwa, the Enemy made a short stand with a large force, keeping up an effective fire on us, from a heavy Gun, and here I have to regret the loss of Acting Second Master Mr. John Fowler, R. N., of the Pearl, killed by a round shot, also Private Poiroonoo Singh, of the Gorucknath Regiment, mortally struck by a round shot shattering his chest (since dead). The effective fire of our Guns, the advance of our Troops, and the Right Squadron moving forward to be ready for a charge, soon drove the Enemy out of sight into the heavy jungle and woods.

4. After advancing about a mile further, and halting a short time, I prepared for returning to Camp. The Troops began to feel the fatigue and heat, and the Goorkha Troops were much distressed with the heat, and marching through much heavy ground and cultivation.

5. My best and warmest thanks are due to Captain Sotheby, R. N., Commanding the Naval Brigade of the Pearl, and to the Officers and Seamen who with their Guns were my main stay in the action, and most valuable to me at all times; also to Major Richardson, Commanding, and to Captain Chapman, Commanding Right Squadron, and to the Officers and Men of the Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry, whose services have been most useful to me—always active, ready and willing for any duty ordered. Also to Captains Barclay, 68th Regiment Native Infantry, and Brooks, 1st Light Cavalry, in Military charge of the two Goorkha Regiments, with Captain MacGregor, 9th Light Cavalry, attached, who were zealous and forward in their duties; and the Commandants, Colonel Byroop Singh Kooer, and Major Captain Senukram Thappah, always bravely urging on their men; also to those zealous active Officers, Lieutenant Turnour, R. N., in charge of Naval Artillery, Lieutenants Radcliffe, R. N., and Grant, R. N., in charge of Naval Column, and to Lieutenant Pym, R. N., with his gallant active Marine Skirmishers, and to Lieutenant Ingles, R. N., with the useful and valuable Riflemen of the Naval Column, and to Lieutenant Burlton, 40th Regiment Native Infantry, with his brave ready Seikh Skirmishers, who reports Havildar Kurrum Singh, Bengal Police Battalion, for his conspicuous good conduct and gallant bearing.

6. My best thanks are also due to Captain Morgan, 22nd Regiment Native Infantry, Field Force Staff, and to the Hon'ble V. A. Montague, R. N., my acting Aide-de-Camp, for their zealous ready services in the Field. Also to Doctors Shore and Dickenson, of the Naval Brigade, Doctor J. W. R. Ainesbury, Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry, ready and active for any thing required in their department; as also to Doctor Hilson, in Medical charge of the Burruk Regiment, and to Revd. Mr. Williams, Naval Chaplain, present in the field. Also to Deputy Magistrate Shekh Karroodeen, present in the field, and rendering all the assistance in his power. Lieutenant Grant, R. N., and Midshipman Lord Charles Scott and Gunner W. M. Goodfellow, Seaman, with a few Sailors, quickly and gallantly turned one of the captured Guns on the Enemy, firing 3 rounds of grape.

7. The action commenced at 8-30 A. M., and closed at 12-30 P. M. In four hours the Enemy, their forces reported to be 4,000 Sepoys, 14,000 Irregulars, 300 Sowars and 8 Guns, were completely defeated and driven into rapid retreat, with the severe loss of 7 Guns and some 500 men killed and wounded. The Sepoys were of the 1st, 10th, 53rd and 56th Regiments Native Infantry, 5th Regiment Gwalior Contingent, and 2nd Oude Police Battalion, 700 strong. The other Regiments had lately been completed to 500 and 600 strong. The Nazim Mahomed Hossen and Rajahs of Gonda and Churdah and other Chiefs, were present in the field on Elephants, but are said soon to have fled in Palankeens.

8. I am happy to report our Casualty List not heavy. I beg to attach it, also a list of Guns, limbers and ammunition captured.

9. This most successful action by the Field Force, so greatly out-numbered by the Enemy in Men and Guns, may be considered to have saved Goruckpore from a second immediate rebellion, the Baboos and Zemindars and Villagers in the neighbourhood being ready to rise to a formidable extent.

10. I beg earnestly to recommend all the Officers and Men of the different arms in action at the battle of Amorah, to the most favorable consideration of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General Viscount Canning.

I have the honor to be,

(Sd.) F. D. ATKINSON, Major,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India, in the Military dept.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

The following General Order issued to the Forces in the field is published to the Army:

24th March 1858.

1. The Commander in Chief prohibits columns from moving to the attack of forts (whether large or small) without at least two heavy guns, or a heavy gun and a heavy howitzer.

2. If possible, such columns should always have mortars also; viz. two 8 inch, and two 5½ inch.

3. Arrangements are to be made by the Inspector General of Ordnance to ensure the presence of a proportion of heavy guns, howitzers, mortars, and coehorns, at all stations where British regiments are quartered.

4. Wherever there is a possibility of movable columns being organized, the necessary elephant and bullock draught should be maintained.

5. When an expedition against a fort is deemed absolutely necessary, and heavy ordnance cannot be obtained, a special reference is to be made to the Chief of the Staff by telegraph. If, however, the station be removed from the wire, the General officer commanding the division or station must of course exercise a discretionary power; but the Commander in Chief begs that it may be recollected, as a principle, that except in cases of the most absolute necessity, forts are not to be attacked with light guns only.

His Excellency the Commander in Chief is pleased to make the following appointments:

Kemaoon Battalion.

Lieutenant A. B. Temple, of the 49th native infantry, to be officiating Adjutant, vice Lieutenant the Baron F. Von Andlau, appointed 2d in command.

Landour Convalescent Depot.

Major R. Troup, of the 63d native infantry, to be Commandant, vice Brevet Lieutenant Colonel E. L'Estrange, of Her Majesty's 70th regiment, whose tour expires.

Darjeeling Convalescent Depot.

Captain G. R. Hopkins, of Her Majesty's 53d foot, to be Commandant, vice Captain the Honorable E. G. Curzon, of the 52d light infantry, whose tour expires.

8th Irregular Cavalry.

Ensign J. B. Brander, of the 37th native infantry, to officiate as Adjutant.

2d Lieutenant F. V. Eyre is removed from the 1st company 3d battalion to the 1st troop 3d brigade; and 2d Lieutenant W. Gully from the 1st company 4th to the 3d company 1st battalion artillery.

Lieutenant E. Temple, 25th native infantry, is placed at the disposal of the Government, North Western Provinces, for employment under the Superintendent of Supplies.

The following orders are, with the sanction of Government, confirmed:

By Major General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., commanding 1st division of the Army in the field, dated 21st August last, authorizing his Military Secretary and Chief of the Staff in the Adjutant General's department to entertain a Clerk on a salary of rupees 100, and 4 classies at 7-8-0 each, per mensem.

By Lieutenant Colonel T. J. Fischer, commanding at Bunnee, dated 8th January last, appointing Lieutenant C. J. Smith, of the 27th Madras native infantry, to act as Post Master to the force at that place.

Agra garrison order dated 29th January, authorizing the Commissary of Ordnance to entertain, from time to time, as many extra workmen as may be necessary for the magazine, with effect from the 11th May last.

By Major General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B., commanding 1st division of the Army in the field, dated 9th of February, authorizing the officer commanding the Volunteer cavalry to entertain a syce for each horse, with effect from date of entertainment, instead of one for every two horses.

The following orders are confirmed:

Murree station order dated 17th September 1857, directing Captain J. M. Earle, of the 24th native infantry, to do duty with the Murree depot.

By Major J. M. Drake, commanding the 46th regiment native infantry, dated 1st ultimo, assuming charge of the Adjutant's and Quarter Master's offices.

Lieutenant P. C. Rynd, of the 73d regiment native infantry, has been declared by the Board of Examiners, Fort William, on the 9th ultimo, to have acquired that competent knowledge of Hindoostanee which is contemplated by G. O. G. G. of the 9th January 1837 and 31st May 1844.

3d class School-master J. F. Aldridge, of the 1st company 5th battalion artillery, is appointed to the Meerut artillery division school, and directed to join forthwith.

Sergeant Major Stephen Tully, of the Behar station guards, is remanded as a Sergeant to the 1st European Bengal fusiliers, which he will be sent to join forthwith.

Gunner John McKecknie, Assistant Overseer department public works, Sylhet division, is promoted to the rank of Sergeant.

The undermentioned individuals having passed the prescribed examination at Mooltan, on the 15th of January last, are, with the sanction of Government, admitted into the service as Native Doctors of the 3d class:

Hurru Kisson.
Emam Ally Shah.

Under instructions from Government, Nehal Sing, Sepoy, of the 6th Punjaub infantry, having been declared by a special invaliding committee unfit for further duty, from a wound received in action, is transferred to the invalid pension establishment from the 15th instant, and granted a pension in the 2d degree, or rupees 5 per mensem.

The undermentioned officers have leave of absence:

Corps.	Rank and Names.	From	To	On what account.
2d co. 3d battalion artillery,	Captain C. W. Timbrell,	15th March,	15th Decr.	To visit Mussoorie and the hills north of Deyrah, on medical certificate, under the old rules.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,

W. MAYHEW, Lieut. Colonel,

Adjutant General of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 2nd April 1858.

FORT WILLIAM THE 30TH MARCH 1858.

No. 506 of 1858.—The following Notification, from the Foreign Department with the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, is published in General Orders:—

No 327, the 18*th March* 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General publishes, with much satisfaction, the following Reports of the capture of the Fort of Jullallpore, on the 26th Ultimo, by the Troops under the Command of Maha Raja Jung Bahadoor, after a vigorous resistance by the Rebels.

To Generals Runoodeep Sing and Dere Shumshere, to Lieutenant Sankey, of the Madras Engineers, Captain Edmonstone, and all Officers and Men who took a part in effecting the capture of the Fort, the Governor General offers his hearty thanks.

FROM

BRIGDR. GENL. G. H. MACGREGOR, C. B.,
Military Commissioner,

To

THE SECY. TO THE GOVERNMENT,
with the Governor General.

Camp, Rowneeah, near Doudpore,
The 4th March 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, that when on the line of march on the 26th Ultimo, from Mobarukhpoor to Ukberpoor, as Maha Rajah Jung Bahadoor and myself were proceeding along the road, we were informed that at a Fort near at hand, some 40 Rebels were there.

2. The Maha Rajah remarked that they might rob the carts, and sent some of his body guard to see what they were. They rode up to the place and completely surprised them, and actually got into the place. The men inside proposed submission, and said they would lay down their arms in two ghurries (about 40 minutes) if allowed that time to prepare. Unaccountably, the Goorkhas fell into the trap, and left the place for that time, and on their return, re-inforced by three Companies, they were fired on, and several were killed and wounded.

3. The news of this reached us immediately after our arrival in Camp, and the Maha Rajah first despatched his brothers, and subsequently, in my company, went himself back to the place about six miles.

4. I have the pleasure to enclose the Reports of the Officers in charge of Brigades present, as well as that of Lieutenant Sankey, Madras Engineers, which will put His Lordship in Council in possession of the style of place, and the manner of its capture.

5. Previous to the arrival of the Maha Rajah, though I believe arrangements for an assault were made by Generals Runoodeep Sing and Dere Shumshere, yet no progress had actually been made. The arrival of His Highness gave a spur to the whole body. He immediately directed an assault, caused the bugles to be sounded, and in an hour after his arrival, I accompanied him into the place.

6. I cannot speak too highly of the courage and gallantry shown by the Officers and Men engaged in this little but desperate affair. The heavy List of Casualties will show to His Lordship in Council the strength of the defences, and the desperation with which they were held. It was manifest from this day's work that the Goorkhas were capable of anything in the way of an assault when animated by the presence of the Maha Rajah, and I was very much pleased indeed with their demeanour throughout, for the service was really a trying one.

7. I beg to bring to the notice of His Lordship in Council the excellent arrangements of Generals Runoodeep Sing, Second in Command, and Dere Shumshere, the Maha Rajah's brother. Their dispositions ensured the capture of the place, and prevented the escape of the Enemy.

8. Brigadier Sunnuck Sing and Jodh Adhikaree were on the field and greatly exerted themselves. Captain Edmonstone records the distinguished gallantry with which the former led on his men, who bore the brunt of the affair.

9. Colonel Koohun Singh, Lall Sing and Ramchunder Sing Allie, as well as Major-Captain Bulla Bahadoor Gaitee and Major Jungbeer Kooner Ranajee, are also honorably mentioned.

10. The conspicuous gallantry of Lieutenant Sankey, Madras Engineers, was the admiration of every one. It was by his advice the Gun was brought up which breached the wall, and he was the first man in the Fort, followed by the Rifle Regiment with Captain Edmonstone. The latter Officer's conduct was most gallant and praiseworthy.

11. I am also indebted to Captain Baring, the Senior Officer present, in charge of a Brigade, as well as to Captain Holland, and Lieutenant Mylne, of the Artillery, and Captain Lane, Lieutenant Cory, and Lieutenant Garnault, all of whom exerted themselves greatly.

12. Captain Brander, Deputy Assistant Commissary General, was in the field, and opportunely set fire to the Village at the only part of the Fort where there was no bamboo hedge, thus preventing the escape of the Rebels.

13. Dr. Chalmers' activity and attention to the wounded was most conspicuous.

I have the honor to be,

To

to Brigdr. Genl. MacGregor, C. B.

Camp, Sultanpore, 2nd March 1858.

Sir,

I have the honor to report, for the information of Brigadier General MacGregor, C. B., that on the morning of the 26th Ultimo, whilst on the march from Phoolpoor to Ukberpoor with the Brigade of which I have Military charge, and which is Commanded by Brigadier Jodabeer Adhikaree, instructions were received to detach a party (strength as per margin) for the purpose of dislodging a body of Insurgents entrenched at the village of Berozepoor. This, I am happy to say, was satisfactorily effected after a very obstinate defence, of which I subjoin the following particulars. On arriving in front of the Enemy's position, I was re-inforced by a portion of the 1st Brigade, (strength as per margin) under the Military charge of Captain Edmonstone, whose proceedings are annexed. The difficulty of our operations was materially increased by the Enemy's position being completely surrounded by an impenetrable hedge of bamboos, which prevented our ascertaining the nature of the defences within. Under the circumstances, I deemed it expedient to suggest to the General Dere Shumshere that he should open with shell from the Guns on the South side, sending a Regiment out on each flank to prevent the escape of the Enemy. After firing for some time, and finding that we made little or no impression on the position, from its natural defences, we determined on altering our tactics, and moved up 3 Guns to the East side. I now suggested to the General the propriety of pushing the men up to the place in extended order, under cover of the Guns, with a view of taking it by assault. This plan was adopted, and at this juncture His Highness the Maha Rajah Jung Bahadoor arriving on the ground, his presence so stimulated the Troops that they rushed on with a cheer, and succeeded in obtaining a lodging in the bamboo fence and trench within it. The assailing Regiments finding that they were here unexpectedly opposed by a high wall and bastion, the necessity for bringing up a Gun to bear on it became manifest, and accordingly with great labor a 6-Pounder from Major Jungbeer Koohur Ranajee's Battery was dragged through the outer fence of bamboos, and brought up to within a few yards of it. Five or six rounds having effected a partial breach, Lieutenant Sankey, Madras Engineers, followed by the men, carried the place by storm; it was then fired. Nothing could exceed the gallantry of all engaged, the Goorkhas charging with great bravery.

7 Cos. Pooranah Gorruck Regiment.
2 Cos. Singanath Regt.
2 Guns.

Rifle Regiment.

2 Cos. Soorujdall Regt. and 7 Guns.

Generals Rundeep Singh and Dere Shumshere were most assiduous in carrying out all concerted plans. Brigadier Jodabeer Adhikaree behaved most gallantly throughout, as well as Lieutenant-Colonel Ramchundeer Allie, Commanding the Poorana Gorruck Regiment, and Major Captain Bulla Bahadoor Pandy, Commanding the 2nd Company of the Singanath Regiment.

Captain Edmonstone gallantly led the men of the Rifle Regiment into the entrenchment, and also afforded me valuable assistance during the day. I beg to bring his name prominently to the notice of the Brigadier General, as well as that of Lieutenant Sankey, Madras Engineers, whose conspicuous bravery elicited the admiration of all. To Captain Holland I am deeply indebted for the activity he displayed, and the excellent practice made by the Guns he had charge of. I annex his Report.

I beg to bring the names of Captain Lane, Lieutenant Cory, and 2nd Lieutenant Garnault, who assisted me throughout the day, and did good service in the entrenchment, to the Brigadier General's notice, as well as that of Dr. Chalmers, the only Medical Officer present, whose activity in attending to the sick, both within and without the entrenchment, was remarkable.

In conclusion, I beg to bring to the notice of the Brigadier General all those Officers mentioned in the 11th Paragraph of Captain Edmonstone's letter, and 2nd Paragraph of Captain Holland's.

I annex a Casualty Return.

To
Captain Baring,
In Mily. Charge 2nd Brigade,
1st Division Goorkha Force.

Camp, Sultanpoor, 2nd March 1858.

Sir,

I have the honor to inform you that, according to instructions received during the line of march from Pheolpoor, on the afternoon of the 26th Ultimo, 3 Guns of the Battery under my charge were detached with a portion of your Brigade, to attack the Rebels at Berozepoor. On arriving near that village, I found the Battery attached to Brigadier Sunmuck Sing's Brigade, under charge of Lieutenant Myline. After a short consultation, the Guns opened fire (chiefly with shell) on the South face of a dense bamboo tope in which the Rebels were said to be posted, at a distance of about 500 yards. After a few rounds, I moved the 3 Guns under my charge round to the East face of the tope, and opened fire at about 200 yards, at a loop-hole wall, which appeared about five feet above the level of the ground; finding, however, after a short time, that from the nature of the defences, our fire was of little effect, it was resolved to carry the place by assault. Accordingly after a short pause, and as soon as the Skirmishers began to advance, I opened and continued a sharp fire from the 3 Guns, under cover of which, a lodgment was effected within the outer bamboo enclosures and ditch. It was then discovered that there was an inner entrenchment and wall, which it was found necessary to breach. Accordingly a 6-Pounder Gun was with greatly difficulty dragged through the bamboo fence and outer ditch to within a few feet of the inner wall; after a few rounds, a breach was effected, through which the Goorkhas, headed by Lieutenant Sankey, Madras Engineers, poured in, and carried the place. Immediately after the first lodgment, I distributed portions of port-fire and lighted slow match amongst the Goorkha Riflemen to set fire to the houses and bamboo tope on the West side; this was done almost simultaneously with the final assault.

2. In conclusion I beg to state that I observed with the utmost satisfaction the precision of fire of the Guns under Lieutenant Myine, who makes particular mention of the professional services of Colonel Lall Sing and Captain Bhyrut Bahadoor, of the Nepalese Artillery; I also beg to bring to your favorable notice the names of Major Jugbeer Kooer and Captain Indr Bheer Lama, of the Artillery, under my charge.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) G. Holland, Captain,
Bengal Artillery.

To
Captain Baring,
In Mily. Charge of a Brigade,
Goorkha Force.

Camp, Hauree Simree, 27th February 1858.

Sir,

Under instructions from the Brigadier General conveyed to me by yourself, I have the honor to report for his information, the circumstances that came under my notice in the assault and capture yesterday of the small fortified position of Berozepoor, Jumalpoor.

2. On the line of march about six miles from Ukberpoor, at about 9 A. M., a report was brought from the rear to Brigadier Runmuk Sing, Commanding the Brigade of which I am in Military charge, that a small body of Rebels had been discovered in a fortified position about a mile to the West of the road along which we were advancing. With my concurrence, the Brigadier upon this gave orders for three Companies of the rear Regiment, the Kalee Pershad, to be detached if possible to capture or destroy the party; the remainder of the Regiment was halted at that spot, and the rest of the Brigade continued its march.

3. A short time subsequently five musket shots were heard from the direction of our right rear, and immediately afterwards, the Brigade being distant about three miles from Ukberpoor, another report was brought from the rear that the detached Companies had received a severe check, and met with considerable loss. I immediately directed that the intelligence should be sent to the Maha Rajah, and galloped on myself to Camp, to report the circumstance to the Brigadier General.

4. Orders were then given that one Regiment and 2 Guns should be sent back to the assistance of the Kalee Pershad, and accordingly I found them on my return in position in an open plain in front of a thick clump of bamboos, apparently joining a tope of mangoe trees, to the Westward, a hut being visible here and there in both. Closer observation showed a fence of dry bamboos, under the green bamboos, and this, confirmed by the report of a villager who had joined us, was rightly conjectured to be the Enemy's position. The Rebels within it were said to be from 30 to 40 strong, which also was found to be quite correct.

5. Some delay here took place, in consultation as to the best mode of attack, during which the rest of the Brigade came up, and simultaneously with it, Generals Runodeep Sing and Deer Shumshere, yourself joining us at the same time with I believe one Regiment and 3 Guns. You then assumed charge of the operation; but as my Brigade was principally concerned in them, I continue the report of what came under my own observation, confining myself, except when absolutely necessary for explanation, to the part taken in them by my own Brigade.

6. About ½ past 1 P. M., a part of the Rifle Regiment, the Kalee Pershad Regiment, and 2 Companies of the Sooruj Dull with 7 Guns, the portion of my Brigade actually engaged, the remainder being absent on various guard duties, in all about 800 of all ranks, having been previously placed in skirmishing order on either flank of the village, leaving a party to protect the Guns, they (the Guns of my Brigade under the direction of Lieutenant Mylne,) opened with round shot and shrapnel at a distance of about 350 yards from the Southern face of the Enemy's position, your 3 Guns commencing firing at the same time on my right, about 150 yards further back.

7. After a few rounds it was decided by the Generals above mentioned, with our concurrence, to move your 3 Guns to a point about 300 yards from the Enemy's position, immediately opposite its Eastern face, which was there partillay discernible, and in which the villager whom I had kept with me declared the entrance to be. The flanking parties were then moved in accordance with our change of position, the Guns again opened, and several rounds were fired at before, the Guns being advanced from time to time, until they had attained to a distance of about 200 yards from the bamboos.

8. The proper moment having arrived, the Generals with our concurrence ordered the assault. The Troops of my Brigade stationed as above, having advanced on all sides as the Guns moved on, were then closed up on their respective alignments, and the 2 Companies of the Soorujdull being kept slightly in the rear as a support, the bugles for the advance sounded. The whole then advanced with a rush, loudly cheering. I stationed myself with the portion of the Rifles in the centre, and on arriving at the bamboos, I saw immediately the great strength of the position. It was a small enclosure barely 30 yards square with high loopholed walls, surrounded by a thick fence of green bamboos rendered completely impervious by a screen of dry bamboos at its base, strongly fixed in the ground on either side of which was a broad deep ditch.

9. I went round three sides of the fortification for it was nothing less, and although I found the men most eager to get in, to do so at these points was impossible. I then returned to the Eastern face, and found the men crowding in to the inner ditch, having with the greatest difficulty forced their way in single file through the bamboos, exposed to a galling fire from the loop-holes from which they were suffering severely.

10. The only approach to the place, that mentioned by the villager, was at least discovered, at this spot. A Gun was then forced with great labour into a position within 10 or 12 yards of the wall, another, a 12-Pounder belonging to my Brigade under the immediate direction of Colonel Lall Sing, and a third were placed at right angle to the first one, and the cross-fire thus produced was attended with the happiest results. Lieutenant Sankey, of the Engineers, who had been on the ground the whole day, discovered a small breach made by the first Gun; it ceased firing; he enlarged the opening with his hands until it was sufficiently large to admit his head and shoulders, forced himself through it, and was the first man inside. The gallantry of this act which, as I was standing with him close under the wall, I was an eye-witness of, I venture to bring particularly to the notice of the Brigadier General. I myself immediately followed the two first Goorkhas, I believe, who penetrated into the enclosure, by a ladder which was placed against the wall, close to me. I believe they belong to the Rifles, but I regret to say I have been unable to identify them since, as they were separated from me immediately afterwards by the mob. Our men then forced in, through the breach, by the ladder, and through a narrow opening, apparently the entrance to the place, but which only came half way down the wall, and the Enemy (31 bodies were subsequently counted) were all, I believe, instantly cut to pieces.

11. In conclusion I have only to say that the men of my Brigade engaged behaved admirably throughout, as did all the Nepalese Officers under my immediate observations, who carried out the very able directions of Generals Runodeep Sing and Dere Shumshere with the greatest alacrity; but I may be permitted to particularize Brigadier Sunmuck Sing, whose judgment throughout, as well as gallantry in leading his men, was conspicuous, Colonel Lall Sing, Commanding the Battery attached to my Brigade, a most excellent Artillery Officer, Colonel Koolman Sing, Commanding the Kalee Pershad Regiment, also displayed great gallantry, and Major Captain Rungsoor Bistee, who Commanded the 3 Companies of the Kallee Pershad, which were detached at first, and suffered so greatly; Lieutenant Colonel Hurree Bukt, Commanding the Rifles, and Major Captain Jugga Bahadoor Guttee, who Commanded the 2 Companies of the Soorujdull engaged, are also meritorious Officers, Lieutenant Mylne rendered great service in directing the operations of the Artillery. Annexed is a Numerical List of the Casualties in the several Regiments in my Brigade.

TO

CAPTAIN MACANDREW,
Military Secretary.

The 27th February 1858.

SIR,

HAVING been requested by Brigadier General MacGregor to report on the small Gurree, which was captured yesterday by the Maha Rajah's Troops, I have the honor to submit the following concise description of the works, with a sketch plan illustrating the subject as far as my limited time will permit.

2. Viewed from the outside, nothing very suspicious or formidable was discoverable about the place. It had all the appearance of an ordinary clump of bamboos at the corner of a village, which latter, like all inhabited places in this part of the country, was very well screened in foliage. Some newly planted bamboo slips 8 to 10 feet high all round the clump above mentioned, alone marked the place as differing from others, and on another occasion would be sufficient warning to induce caution in approaching what proved a very hedge-hog of fortification.

3. The Fort itself was a complete well, surrounded by a ditch more or less formidable, this again by a belt of high bamboos, which was succeeded by another ditch some 10 or 12 feet deep, the row of bamboo slips above mentioned being planted on the immediate lip of the counterscarp of the latter.

4. The works were quite new, as indicated by the steps left by the work people as well as their being partially unfinished; they were situated on the S. E. corner of the village. A well inclosed by the outer line of ditch (within a sort of demi lane) lay on the East, and a pond not included in the works on the North. The only immediate entrance in the Gurree was on the pond side, the approach to it leading round the North-East bastion, and curving round in a narrow thorny path, ledout at the East of the well. Nothing could be more difficult of approach, every portion bristling with thorns, and intercepted by ditches and banks.

5. The mud ramparts of the Fort were 15 feet above the level of the ground, the upper portion for about 7 feet in height, consisting of a thin mud wall, was loop-holed in every direction, the lower part, as will be seen from the section in the Sketch, being from 10 to 12 feet thick, and furnishing a banquette for the defenders.

6. In plan the Fort was some 60 feet square, with circular bastions at the angles, the banquette on all sides, 10 feet wide, having 40 feet square for the enceinte, within which the defenders could retire when the fire became too hot, and where were two thatched sheds. No steps led to the banquette, a common bamboo ladder being the only means of communication between it and the ground floor; when once therefore the defenders were driven from the upper works, they were caught in a trap, from which it was impossible to extricate themselves.

7. It would be premature for me to express any very decided opinion as to the mode of attacking such Forts from this single example; but two facts are apparent, first, that in cases where all openings are closed by bamboos and thorns such must be got rid of by fire or by being cut down, and second, the upper portion of the parapet which screens the defenders, must be destroyed by firing shot or shell against it with low charges. Hand grenades, two or three scaling ladders, with half a dozen shovels (furrowahs) and pickaxes, with perhaps a small number of sand bags, should in all cases, accompany the attacking party.

I have, &c.,

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF,

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 5th April 1858.

FORT WILLIAM, 1ST APRIL 1858.

No. 520 of 1858.——The following notifications from the Foreign department with the Right Honorable the Governor General, are published in General Orders:

No. 349.—The 20*th March* 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor General has been pleased to direct that the following letter from Brigadier General G. H. MacGregor, C. B., with its several enclosures, reporting an engagement, on the 5th instant, between the advanced division of Maha Rajah Jung Bahadoor's Army, under General Khurruk Bahadoor, and the rebel Nazim Mehndee Hossein, at the Kundoo Nuddee, be published for general information.

His Lordship has pleasure in acknowledging the distinguished gallantry exhibited on this occasion by General Khurruk Bahadoor, and the Native officers and men of the Nepalese force, and by Captain A. C. Plowden and the other British officers attached thereto; and in tendering his thanks to the various officers, both Nepalese and British, noticed in the report of Brigadier General MacGregor, and also to the men composing the force, for their valuable service:

No. 184.

From

BRIGADIER GENERAL G. H. MACGREGOR, C. B.,
Military Commissioner,

To

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT, WITH THE GOVERNOR GENERAL,
Foreign Department, Allahabad.

CAMP, BEFORE LUCKNOW, 12TH MARCH 1858.

SIR,

IN forwarding for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, the report of Captain Plowden, the British officer in military charge of the advanced division of Maha Raja Jung Bahadoor's Army, under General Khurruck Bahadoor, of an action which took place on the 5th instant, at the Kundoo Nuddee, between the division and the rebel Nazim Mehndee Hossein, resulting in the capture of the enemy's only gun, and the loss to him of nearly 600 killed, with casualities to the extent only of 1 killed and 16 wounded on our part, I have the honor to bring to the notice of His Lordship in Council the extreme gallantry and good conduct of the officers and men engaged.

2. I would particularly bring to the notice of His Lordship in Council, the coolness and good management of General Khurruck Bahadoor, who, in most difficult ground, so admirably disposed his troops, as to secure the splendid result above mentioned. To Brigadiers Run Sing and Junga Doje, my best thanks are due, and they will doubtless merit the approbation of Government.

3. Colonels Luckmun Goorung, Teela Bickram Sing, Tappah, Beemul Alie, Jurdeer Sing, Purtimon Kover Ranajee, Srikishn Sohoy, and Soorut Tappah, are favorably mentioned by Captain Plowden, as well as Major Captain Runoojal Sing Tappah, Soojun Sing, and Meerwan Sing, all of whom rendered active and excellent service.

4. Captain Plowden also mentions the name of Lieutenant Aiteram Bishtab, for his distinguished gallantry, he having cut down five of the enemy.

5. My best thanks are due to Captain Plowden, for the sound and judicious advice which he gave regarding the disposition of the troops, as well as to Captain Lane, in military charge of Brigadier Junga Doje's brigade, and to Lieutenants Francis, Gibb, Bogle, Sankey and Foote, attached to the force, as also to Lieutenant Owen, late 19th native infantry, who volunteered his services.

The medical officers, namely, Surgeons McClelland and Morton, and Assistant Surgeons Playfair and Gee, are favorably mentioned by Captain Plowden, as well as Mr. Forbes, C. S., and Sergeants Home and King, of the Bengal artillery.

I have the honor to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

(Sd.) G. H. MACGREGOR,

Brigadier General and Military Commissioner.

From

CAPTAIN A. C. PLOWDEN,

In Military charge of a division, Goorkha Force,

To

CAPTAIN MACANDREW,

Secretary to Military Commissioner.

Camp, before Lucknow, 11*th March* 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report for the information of Brigadier General MacGregor, C. B., particulars of an action in which the advanced division of the Goorkha force under my military charge was engaged on the 5th instant, against a force of the enemy amounting to 4,000 men, under the command of Nazim Mehndee Hossein, which resulted in a loss to the rebels of nearly 600 killed, and the capture of 1 gun, whilst the casualties on our side were 1 killed and 16 wounded, two of the latter having since died.

2. Having received information that the rebels had taken up a strong position on the Kundoo Nuddee, and had erected a battery by the side of the bridge, on the Lucknow road, for the purpose of disputing our passage; moreover, that they had advanced across the bridge, I proposed a plan of attack, which was approved of by General Kurruck Bahadoor, and successfully carried out.

13 Guns.
7 Regiments of infantry.
Aggregate force 3,800.

3. The division, consisting of the strength as per margin, advanced in quarter distance columns at deploying distances, five regiments forming the first line, and two on either flank as a reserve.

4. On viewing the enemy, who was posted in detached parties extending from our left to right front, I halted the columns and deployed into line. I was much deceived as to the nature of the ground between us and the enemy; what at first appeared to be level, with a few fields of cultivation in front of the right brigades, afterwards proved to be deep ravines with bush jungle, though the ground in front of the left brigade was a plain, facing the enemy's battery. At this point, our guns opened. After a few rounds from the right, or Brigadier Run Sing Bahadoor's brigade, which caused the enemy in front to retire into the ravines, the advance was sounded. The right brigade had scarcely advanced fifty yards, when the enemy opened a sharp fire of musketry, from a jungle on our right front. Presuming he was in greatest force in that direction, I requested Brigadier Run Sing Bahadoor to make an oblique movement in that direction, which at once brought him in contact with the rebels. The brigade rushed gallantly into the jungle with a loud cheer, formed a line of skirmishers, and forced the rebels to make a rapid retreat. The Goorkhas were quite at home in this mode of warfare; their pursuit was so rapid through the ravines, that numbers of the rebels were very soon overtaken, shot, and cut down. Many instances of individual bravery on the part of the Goorkhas were brought to my notice; there were several who each cut down three and four of the enemy. The pursuit was followed up for two miles, when the enemy, having disappeared through a thick jungle, the "assembly" was sounded, and we formed our camp on the Nuddee.

5. The part taken in the engagement by the left or Brigadier Junga Doje's brigade, under the military charge of Captain Lane, is described by that officer in a letter to my address, which together with one from Lieutenant Gibb, in charge of the batteries of the division, are herewith annexed.

6. I have now the pleasure to record the meritorious services of the Nepalese officers. General Kurruck Bahadoor displayed great coolness, and a generous confidence in my advice. Brigadier Run Sing Bahadoor, a smart and intelligent officer, led his brigade with great coolness and spirit, ably assisted by the following Colonels of regiments—Luchmun Goorung, Kalee Bahadoor regiment; Teela Bickrum Sing Tappah, "Roodroo Doje regiment;" Beemul Alie, "Nia Gooruck" regiment; and Captain Major Runojul Sing Tappah, commanding "Nursing Dull" regiment; also Colonel Jusdeen Sing and Major Soojun Sing, commanding batteries. Captain Lane brings to my notice the services of Brigadier Junga Doje and the following Colonels commanding regiments in his brigade, viz., Colonels Purtimon Koer Ranajee, "Srinath" regiment; Srikrishn Sohoy, "Junganath" regiment; and Somrut Tappah, "Shumshere Dull" regiment; and Captain Meerwan Sing, "Junganath" regiment, who, together with the non-commissioned officers and men of the division, merit the approbation of His Highness the Maha Rajah.

7. My best thanks are due to the British officers attached to the division, for the ready assistance I received from all in the field, and have great pleasure in submitting their names for favorable notice, viz., Captain Lane, in charge of Brigadier Junga Doje's brigade; Lieutenants Francis, Gibb, in charge of the batteries of the division; Robertson, Bogle, who, though attached to the rear division, joined Lieutenant Gibb's batteries; Lieutenant Owen, late 19th regiment native infantry, and Sankey, Madras engineers, and Lieutenant Foote, attached to the advanced regiment of the right brigade; Surgeons McClelland, Morton, and Assistant Surgeons Playfair and Gee, were unremitting in their attention to the wounded, both in the field and subsequently.

8. I cannot conclude without offering my best thanks to Mr. Forbes, of the Civil service; he was well to the front with a small party of sowars; his intimate knowledge of the country we have passed through, and accurate information he gathered, have been of great service.

9. Brigadier Run Sing Bahadoor has brought to my notice the gallant conduct of Lieutenant Aiteram Bishtah, of the Boordoo Doje regiment, who cut down five of the enemy.

10. Lieutenant Gibb mentions, for favorable notice, the names of Sergeants Home and King, Bengal artillery.

I have &c.,

(Sd.) A. Plowden, Captain.
In Mily. charge 2d division Goorka Force.

To

Captain Plowden,
In Mily. charge 2d division Goorka Force.

Sir,

Camp Hydergurh, March 8th, 1858.

I have the honor to furnish the following report of the part taken by the brigade under the command of Brigadier "Junga Doje," to which I am attached in military charge, during the action with the enemy on the morning of the 5th instant.

After passing "Mussafir Khana" about 1½ mile, on emerging from some mangoe groves, upon an open plain, we perceived the enemy in our front occupying the banks of the "Kandoo Nullah." The brigade was formed into line, and the guns, advancing, opened fire on the enemy, which was replied to by 1 gun in position on the opposite side of the nullah, and a smart fire of matchlockmen posted amongst the ravines on this side. The gun was soon silenced by the excellent practice of our guns under the immediate superintendence of Lieutenant Gibb.

The order for the general advance of the brigade was then given, one regiment being told off to remain in support of the guns; the brigade taking ground to the left, slightly turned the enemy's flank, and, advancing rapidly across some open ground under a heavy fire, at once became engaged with the enemy amongst the ravines. From these they were soon driven with considerable loss across the nullah into the heavy jungle on the opposite bank, and, closely pursued by our men, were shot and cut down in large numbers.

General Kurruck Bahadoor, seeing the enemy in full flight, keeping two companies for the protection of the guns, granted permission to the remainder of the regiment, in reserve, to join in the pursuit.

The pursuit was continued for some distance, when the men becoming much scattered from the denseness of the jungle, I deemed it expedient to advise the re-call being sounded.

The troops, returning to the bridge on the Lucknow road, took possession of the gun.

I beg to record the services of Brigadier "Junga Doje," of Colonel Purtimon Koer Ranajee, commanding the "Seereenath regiment," of Colonel "Srikrishn Sohoy," of the "Junganath regiment," of Colonel Soorut Tappah, of the "Shumseer Dul regiment." I am desirous that their conduct, as well as that of all the officers and men under them, should be brought to the favorable notice of His Highness the Maha Rajah.

I especially wish to mention the zeal with which Captain Meerwan Sing, of the "Junganath regiment," led his men to the attack.

Lieutenants Francis and Gibb, each in their own department, afforded me every assistance, as did also Lieutenant Sankey, of the Madras engineers.

My acknowledgements are also due to Lieutenant Owen, of the late 19th native infantry, who kindly volunteered his services, and rendered me valuable assistance.

Lieutenant Bogle, of the Bengal artillery, who arrived from the head quarters camp during the engagement, did good service.

Doctors Morton and Playfair were in constant attendance on the brigade, and all their arrangements met with my entire approbation.

Before concluding I wish to bring to the favorable notice of the Brigadier General the good conduct of Sergeants Home and King, attached to the guns of the brigade, especially that of the former, through whose excellent practice the enemy's gun was so speedily silenced.

I am happy to report that, notwithstanding the heaviness of the enemy's fire, not a single casualty occurred in the brigade.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) C. POWLETT LANE, Captain,
In Military charge of 2d Brigade, 2d Division, Goorka force.

To

CAPTAIN PLOWDEN,
In Military charge of the Division of Nepalese troops, Commanded by General Khurruck Bahadoor.

SIR, Camp Jugdispore, 6th March 1858.

I have the honor to report, for the information of Brigadier General MacGregor, C. B., the proceedings of the Nepalese light field batteries (strength as per margin), engaged in the action of yesterday at the Kandoo Nuddee.

1 12-Pounder Iron Gun.
1 9-Pounder ditto.
3 9-Pounder Brass ditto.
6 6-Pounder ditto.
2 12-Pounder Howitzer.
13 Total

The batteries formed up in line in the centre at 1,000 yards, and come into action at a range of about 800 yards from the enemy's position. After a few rounds of round shot and shrapnell, the enemy's only gun was silenced; after which the infantry advanced rapidly.

Previously to the infantry advancing, 4 guns under Colonel Jusdeer Sing moved off to the right flank; owing to a deep dry nullah, a little in front of the centre guns, they could not be advanced further.

I hope you will bring to the notice of the Brigadier General the efficient services of Colonel Jusdeer Sing and Major Soogun Sing, commanding batteries, and of all the officers and men under their respective command; also the ready assistance given to the Nepalese artillery by Lieutenant A. Bogle, Bengal artillery; and by Sergeants Home and King, of the Bengal artillery, who laid their guns very effectively, the former in particular, who in two shots silenced the enemy's gun. A return of ordnance captured accompanies.

Allahabad, the 3rd April 1858.

No. 53 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to publish for general information the following Despatch from the Officer Commanding in Kumaon, submitting the Report of a successful attack by the Troops under Captain F. W. Baugh, commanding Nepal Contingent, on a party of the Enemy at Sitargunge, on the 4th March 1858.

No. 128.

FROM

COLONEL J. K. MCCAUSLAND,

Commanding in Kumaon.

To

THE DY. ADJT. GENL. OF THE ARMY.

Dated Camp, Huldwanee, 6th March 1858.

SIR,

FOR the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, I have the honor to forward a Report from Captain Baugh, of a successful attack upon a party of the Enemy.

2. Having heard they had sent a detachment to collect revenue at Sitargunge, 25 miles from this, I determined to surprise them. The unfortunate and unexpected absence of the larger part of their Force rendered the expedition less successful than I had hoped it would have been. We have since ascertained that the number of the Enemy killed was 25, and the effect must be very good, as it will show them they are not safe within 30 miles of the Hills.

3. Considerable credit is due to Captain Baugh, for his exertion in mounting the whole party on elephants, and for his subsequent arrangements. Mr. S. Carmichael, C. S., was most useful. Surgeon H. Irwin, 66th Goorkhas, volunteered to accompany the Force.

4. The Rebel Army is now at Buteree* under command of Fuzul Huq, and is reported to consist of about five thousand men with 6 Guns.

* Half way between Huldwanee and Bareilly, on the direct road 30 miles from this.

I have, &c.,

(Sd.) J. K. MCCAUSLAND, Col.,

Commanding in Kumaon.

FROM

CAPTAIN H. W. BAUGH,

Comdg. Nepal Contingent.

To

CAPTAIN BROWNLOW,

Major of Brigade, Camp.

SIR,

I have the honor to report, for the information of the Officer Commanding in Kumaon, that, agreeably to instructions, I marched at 10 P. M. on the 3rd Instant with the Force, as per margin, to Sitargunge, the Infantry and Artillery mounted on elephants and arrived there at daylight on the 4th Instant. I was unfortunately delayed ¾ of an hour on the road by the elephant carrying one of the Mountain Howitzers falling sick.

2 Mountain Howitzers.
18 men 66th Goorkhas as Artillerymen.
66th Goorkhas, 64 Rank and File ; Nepal Contingent, 40 Rank and File.
Rohilcund Horse, 100 Rank and File.

The Rebels had double sentries posted on the roof of the Government Tehseel, a high building some 40 or 50 yards square. I ordered the Cavalry to gallop up and surround it ; but before they could do so, some eight or ten of the Rebels made their escape to the West into the high grass, the rest 15 were killed, among whom was a man called Khoda Buksh and said to be the Thanadar of the place, who had wounded a Sepoy of the 66th Goorkhas slightly, the only casualty that occurred. The main body of this party had gone the previous day to a dinner at a village about 6 miles distant, and I deemed it imprudent to follow them.

All their papers and horses were captured, and brought into Camp, at which I arrived at 3 P. M., on the 4th Instant, having marched 50 miles in 17 hours, including 3 hours in the different halts.

Mr. C. Carmichael, C. S., who accompanied the force at the request of Major Ramsay, Commissioner, gave me every assistance from his knowledge of the different localities on the road and at Sitargunge. All behaved with the greatest cheerfulness and activity.

I have, &c.,

Comdg. Nepal Contingent.

Forwarded, by order of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

H. W. Norman, Major,
Depy. Adjt. Genl. of the Army.

Head Quarters Camp: Lucknow, 26th March 1858.

EXTRAORDINARY.

Allahabad, the 5th April 1858.

No. 54 of 1858. The Right Hon'ble the Governor General having now received the Despatches from his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, giving an account of the re-taking of Lucknow by the Force under His Excellency's personal Command, is pleased to publish them for general information :—

In December last, it became the grateful duty of the Governor General in Council to promulgate in General Orders the announcement of the relief of the Garrison of Lucknow, so admirably achieved by General Sir Colin Campbell, G. C. B., and the rescue of the Women and Children, sick and wounded, long beleaguered there. It is now the Governor General's privilege to convey to His Excellency the tribute of his highest admiration, and of his most cordial congratulations on the capture of the strong City of the Rebels.

From the 2nd till the 16th of March, a series of masterly operations took place, by which the Commander-in-Chief, nobly supported in his well-laid plans of attack by the ability and skill of the General Officers, and by the indomitable bravery and resolution of the Officers and Men of all Arms, drove the Rebels successively from all their strongly fortified posts, till the whole fell into the possession of our Troops.

That this great success should have been accomplished at so little cost of valuable lives, enhances the honor due to the Leader who has achieved it.

It is a pleasure to the Governor General to acknowledge publicly the services of the General and other Officers who took part in the capture of Lucknow.

During the last days of the operations, the Nepalese Force, under Maha Rajah Jung Bahadoor, was associated with the Army under General Sir Colin Campbell's Command.

To the distinguished Leader of that Force, the Maha Rajah Jung Bahadoor, the Governor General desires to express his thanks for the hearty co-operation which the Commander-in-Chief received from His Highness, and for the gallant bearing of His Highness' Troops.

To Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., the Government of India is under a new debt of gratitude. After having held the exposed post of Alum Bagh for more than three months, in the face of powerful bodies of Rebels, whose attacks he never failed to repel, Sir James Outram has further greatly distinguished himself at the head of the 1st Division, by the brilliant and thoroughly complete manner in which he executed the duties entrusted to him. The Governor General requests that Sir James Outram will accept his most sincere thanks.

His Lordship offers his hearty acknowledgments to the other General Officers whose services are prominently noticed in these Despatches :—

To Major General Mansfield, Chief of the Staff of whose eminent services the Commander-in Chief speaks with well merited commendation.

To Major-General Sir Archdale Wilson, Baronet, K. C. B., in chief Command of the Artillery who, after winning lasting renown in the capture of Delhi, has borne a conspicuous part in the reduction of Lucknow.

To Major-General Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., Commanding the Cavalry of the Force; to Brigadier-General Franks, C. B.; Brigadier-General Walpole, and Brigadier-General Sir Edward Lugard, K. C. B., Commanding the 2nd, 3rd and 4th Divisions of Infantry.

The Governor General has to record his acknowledgments to Captain Sir William Peel, K. C. B., Commanding the Naval Brigade of Her Majesty's Ship Shannon, and to offer his especial thanks to him for his remarkable services.

The Governor General entirely concurs with His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, in prominently recognizing the great skill and ability of Brigadier Napier, who Commanded the Engineers of Her Majesty's and the East India Company's Services forming part of the Force. Brigadier Napier is especially entitled to the thanks of the Governor General; and to him, to Colonel Harness, Commanding the Royal Engineers, and to the several Officers under them, of both the services, His Lordship's grateful acknowledgments are offered.

The Governor General has much satisfaction in expressing his high sense of the merits of the several Officers Commanding Brigades and Regiments.

To the Commanding Officers of the Royal Artillery, of the Naval Artillery, and of the Bengal and Madras Artillery, the Governor General tenders his cordial thanks.

To Major Norman, Deputy Adjutant General of the Army, to whose superior merits and distinguished services the Commander-in-Chief bears willing testimony, a tribute in which the Governor-General concurs; to Colonel the Hon'ble W. L. Pakenham, C. B., Officiating Adjutant General, Her Majesty's Forces in India; to Lieutenant-Colonel Macpherson, Officiating Quarter Master General of the Army; to Captain Seymour, Officiating Quarter Master General Her Majesty's Forces; to Captain Bruce, Deputy Quarter Master General, and Captain Algood, Assistant Quarter Master General; to Lieutenant-Colonel Keith Young, Judge Advocate General; to Captain Fitzgerald, Assistant Commissary General, who is specially mentioned by the Commander-in-Chief; to Lieutenant P. Stewart, of Engineers, Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs; to Dr. MacAndrew, Inspector General of Hospitals, Her Majesty's Forces, and to Doctor Brown, Superintending Surgeon of the Force, the Governor General has much satisfaction in expressing his sense of the good service they have rendered.

To the Officers of the Personal Staff of the Commander-in-Chief, of the Chief of the Staff, and of General Officers Commanding Divisions, the thanks of the Governor General are due; and His Lordship records his acknowledgments to the Officers of the Staff, of Divisions and Brigades, all of whom have zealously performed their duty.

To the Officers and Men of every Service, Soldiers, Seamen and Marines, composing the Force by which Lucknow has been taken, the Governor General desires to express his admiration of their conduct, and to tender to each individual the thanks of the Government of India. His Lordship will take the earliest opportunity of bringing under the favorable notice of Her Majesty's Government, and of the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the services rendered by the Force.

In testimony of the services, the Governor General is pleased to direct that every Officer and Soldier, European and Native, and the Officers and Men of the Navy, who took part in the capture of Lucknow, shall receive a donation of six months' batta.

By order of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

R. J. H. Birch, Colonel,

Secy. to the Govt. of India, Mily. Dept.,

with the Governor General.

The Right Hon'ble

The Viscount Canning,

Governor General of India,

Camp, La Martiniere,

Lucknow, 22nd March 1858.

My Lord,

I have the honor to announce to your Lordship, that I transferred my Head Quarters to the Camp of Brigadier-General Sir Edward Lugard, K. C. B., at Buntara, on the 28th Ultimo, the Division which had been detached under Brigadier-General, Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., and that under Brigadier-General Walpole joining the next day.

Having received tolerably correct information with respect to the lines of works which had been constructed by the Enemy for the defence of Lucknow, it appeared evident to me that the necessity would arise for operating from both sides of the Goomtee, when the capture of the City should be seriously entertained.

Two very important reasons conduced to show the expediency of such a course,—the one being that it would become possible to enfilade many of the Enemy's new works,—the other that great avenues of supply would be closed against the Town, although I could not hope to invest a City having a circumference of twenty miles.

My first preparations, therefore, were made for the purpose of crossing the River. Bridges of Casks had been previously constructed, and were ready in the Engineer's Park.

On the 2nd March, I advanced on Dilkhoosha with Troops as per margin, and seized that position after a skirmish in which a Gun was taken from the Enemy.

When the Brigades of Infantry began to close on the Advance Guard, the Enemy opened several Guns which were in positions in strong Bastions, along the line of the Canal. This fire was heavy and well sustained.

These Guns commanded the Plateau, and compelled me to retire the Camp as far back as it was possible, but not so far as I could have wished, owing to the Ravines in rear.

The Palace of Dilkoosha was occupied as an Advance Picquet on the right, and the Mahomed Bagh on the left,—heavy Guns being placed in battery at both points to keep down the hostile fire.

During the whole of the 2nd, until these arrangements could be completed, the Troops were much annoyed by the Enemy's Guns.

After that day, until an advance took place, although the shot ranged up to and sometimes into the Camp, but slight loss ensued from this cause.

On the 3rd and 4th, the remainder of the Siege Train, together with Brigadier General Walpole's Division, closed up on the Dilkhoosha position, the Right of our line resting on Bibiapore and the Goomtee, the Left being towards Alum Bagh.

There was an interval of about two miles between our left and Jellalabad, the right of the Alum Bagh position. This interval was occupied by a Regiment of Irregular Horse.* Brigadier Campbell, with a strong Brigade of Cavalry and Horse Artillery, secured the extreme left, and swept the Country towards the North-West.

* Hodson's.

Three Infantry Regiments were withdrawn from Alum Bagh, and joined the Head Quarters Camp.

On the 5th, General Franks, or the 4th Division of Infantry, came into direct communication with me. This Officer had marched right across the Kingdom of Oude, having signally defeated many bodies of Insurgents, and kept his time with punctuality according to the orders given to him, with which your Lordship is already acquainted.

On the same day the Goomtee was bridged near Bibiapore. Whilst the Bridge was being formed, the Enemy showed on the left bank, causing the necessity of a disposition of Troops and heavy Guns. He did not, however, make a real attack.

These Guns were very useful in another respect, as their practice on the Martiniere silenced much fire, which would otherwise have annoyed the Picquets.

They were accordingly kept on the same ground for some days, till the advance of the Troops rendered them unnecessary.

On the 6th, Sir James Outram, G. C. B., who had been withdrawn from Alum Bagh, crossed to the left bank of the Goomtee with Troops as per margin, the 4th Division under Brigadier General Franks, C. B., taking the place vacated by Brigadier General Walpole in the line.

Force sent across the Goomtee, under Sir J. Outram.

The plan of attack which had been conceived, was now developed, and Sir J. Outram was directed to push his advance up the left bank of the Goomtee, while the Troops in the position of Dilkhoosha, remained at rest till it should have become apparent that the first line of the Enemy's works, or the rampart running along the Canal and abutting on the Goomtee, had been turned.

The works may be briefly described as follows :—

The series of courts and buildings called the Kaiser Bagh, considered as a citadel by the Rebels, was shut in by three lines of defence towards the Goomtee, of which the line of the Canal was the outer one.

The second line circled round the large building called the Moss house and the Moti Mahul, and the first or interior one was the principal rampart of the Kaiser Bagh.

The rear of the enclosures of the latter being closed in by the City through which, approach would have been dangerous to an assailant.

These lines were flanked by numerous bastions, and rested at one end on the Goomtee, and at the other on the great buildings of the Street called the Huzrut Gunge, all of which were strongly fortified, and flanked the Street in every direction.

Extraordinary care had been expended on the defences of the houses and bastions, to enfilade the Street. His duty was ably performed by Sir James Outram, who pitched his Camp on the 6th Instant, after a skirmish of his Advance Guard, in front of the Chukkur Walla Kotee, or Yellow-house.

On the 7th he was attacked by the Enemy, who was speedily driven back.

Having reconnoitered the ground on the 8th Instant, I directed Sir James Outram to arrange his Batteries during the succeeding night, and to attack the Enemy's position, the key of which was the Chukkur Walla Kotee, the next day or the 9th.

This was done in very good style by the Troops under his Command, the Enemy being driven at all points, the Yellow-house being seized, and the whole Force advanced for some distance through ground affording excellent cover for the Enemy.

He was then able to bring his Right Shoulders forward, occupying the Fyzabad Road, and to plant his Batteries for the purpose of enfilading the works on the Canal before alluded to.

He lost no time in doing this, other Batteries of heavy Guns and Howitzers being constructed during the following night to play on the works and the Kaiser Bagh.

While this attack was being made by Sir James Outram, along the left bank of the Goomtee on the 9th Instant, a very heavy fire was kept up on the Martiniere both from Mortars and heavy Guns, placed in position during the previous night on the Dilkhoosha Plateau.

At 2 P. M., the 42nd Highlanders, supported by the 93rd Highlanders, the 53rd and 90th Regiments, stormed the Martiniere under the direction of Brigadier General Sir Edward Lugard, K. C. B., and Brigadier the Hon'ble Adrian Hope.

It was quickly seen that the enfilading fire on the line of the Canal from the opposite side of the River had produced the expected result.

The 4th Punjaub Infantry, supported by the 42nd Highlanders, climbed up the entrenchment abutting on the Goomtee, and proceeded to sweep down the whole line of the works, till they got to the neighbourhood of Banks' house, when it became necessary to close operations for the night.

Major Wylde, 4th Punjaub Rifles, distinguished himself very much on this occasion. The line of works was strongly occupied by the Troops which had first entered, and by the 53rd Regiment.

On the 10th Instant, Sir James Outram was engaged in strengthening his position. Sir James Hope Grant, K. C. B., being employed in patrolling towards the Cantonment with the Cavalry placed under Sir James Outram's orders, a system of extensive patrolling or reconnoissance having been established by my order in that direction, from the time that the first position had been taken up across the Goomtee.

At sun-rise on the same day, a disposition of Troops and Heavy Guns was made by Sir Edward Lugard, for the attack of Banks' house, which was carried at noon, and secured as a strong Military post.

The second part of the plan of attack against the Kaiser Bagh now came into operation, viz., to use the great blocks of Houses and Palaces, ex tending from Banks' house to the Kaiser Bagh, as our approach, instead of sapping up towards the front of the second line of works.

By these means I was enabled to turn the new workst owards our own Left, at the same time that they were enfiladed on the Right by Sir James Outram's advance.

The latter had already received orders to plant his Guns with a view to raking the Enemy's position, to annoy the Kaiser Bagh both with vertical and direct fire, also to attack the suburbs in the vicinity of the Iron and Stone-Bridges, shortly after day-break, and so Command the Iron-Bridge from the left bank.

All this was carried out by Sir James Outram with the most marked success.

The Enemy, however, still held tenaciously to his own end of the Iron-Bridge on the Right bank, and there was heavy cannonading from both sides, till the Bridge was afterwards taken in reverse.

Sir Edward Lugard's attack on the 11th was pressed forward in like manner.

The operation had now become one of Engineering character, and the most earnest endeavours were made to save the Infantry from being hazarded before due preparation had been made.

The Chief Engineer, Brigadier Napier, placed the Batteries with a view to breaching and shelling a large block of Palaces called the Begum Kotee.

The latter was stormed with great gallantry by the 93rd Highlanders, supported by the 4th Punjaub Rifles, and one thousand Goorkhas, led by Brigadier the Honorable Adrian Hope, under the direction of Brigadier General Sir Edward Lugard, at 4 P. M.

The Troops secured the whole block of buildings, and inflicted a very heavy less on the Enemy, the attack having been one of very desperate character.

This was the sternest struggle which occurred during the Siege.

From thence forward the Chief Engineer pushed his approach with the greatest judgment through the enclosures, by the aid of the Sappers and of heavy Guns, the Troops immediately occupying the ground as he advanced, and the Mortars being moved from one position to another as ground was won on which they could be placed.

The buildings to the right, and the Secunder-Bagh were taken in the early morning of the same day without opposition.

During the night of the 12th, Sir James Outram was reinforced with a number of heavy Guns and Mortars, and directed to increase his fire on the Kaiser Bagh, while at the same time, Mortars placed in position at the Begum's house never ceased to play on the Emambara, the next large Palace it was necessary to storm between the Begum Kotee and the Kaiser Bagh.

On Brigadier-General Franks, C. B., who had relieved Sir Edward Lugard, and the 2nd Division, with the 4th Division, on the 12th Instant, devolved the duty of attacking the Emambara.

A Column of Attack was formed for that purpose by Brigadier D. Russell, on the morning of the 14th.

In the mean time, the Maha Rajah Jung Bahadoor, with a Force of about (9,000) Nine Thousand Men and with 24 Field Guns drawn by Men, had arrived, and taken his position in our line on the 12th Instant, and moved close to the Canal on the 13th.

At my request, His Highness was begged by Brigadier General MacGregor, C. B., the Special Commissioner attached to him, to pass the Canal and attack the suburb in his front and considerably to the left of Bank's house. To this His Highness acceded with much willingness, and his Force was most advantageously employed in thus covering my Left for several days, during which, from the nature of our operations, I was obliged to mass all the available strength of the British Force towards the Right, in the joint attack carried along both banks of the Goomtee.

The Emambara was carried early on the 14th, and the Seikhs of the Ferozepore Regiment under Major Brasyer, pressing forward in pursuit, entered the Kaiser Bagh, the third line at the defences having been turned without a single Gun being fired from them.

Supports were quickly thrown in, and all the well-known ground of former defence and attack, the Mess-house, the Tara Kotee, the Motee Mehal, and the Chuttur Munzil were rapidly occupied by the Troops, while the Engineers devoted their attention to securing the position towards the South and West. The day was one of long and continued exertion, and every one felt that, although much remained to be done before the final expulsion of the Rebels, the most difficult part of the undertaking had been overcome.

This is not the place for description of the various buildings successively sapped into or stormed; suffice it to say, that they formed a range of massive palaces and walled courts of vast extent, equalled perhaps, but certainly not surpassed in any capital in Europe. Every outlet had been covered by a work, and on every side were prepared barricades and loopholed parapets.

The extraordinary industry evinced by the Enemy in this respect has been really unexampled Hence the absolute necessity for holding the Troops in hand, till at each successive move forward the Engineers reported to me that all which could be effected by Artillery and the Sappers had been done before the Troops were led to the assault.

The 15th Instant was employed in securing what had been taken, removing powder, destroying mines, and fixing mortars for the further bombardment of the positions still held by the Enemy on the line of our Advance up the Goomtee, and in the heart of the City.

Brigadier-General Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., was sent out with Cavalry on one side towards Seetapore to intercept fugitives, while Brigadier Campbell marched with like orders in the direction of Sundeela on a similar duty. They returned on the 17th to their former positions.

On the 16th Instant, Sir James Outram, with the 5th Brigade under Brigadier Douglas, supported by two other Regiments, H. M.'s 20th and the Regiment of Ferozepore, having crossed over the Goomtee by a Bridge of Casks opposite the Secunder Bagh, advanced according to order through the Chuttur Munzil to take the Residency.

During the first movements of this operation, a movement of the Enemy in retreat across the Stone-Bridge became apparent.

Sir James was ordered to press forward, and he was able, almost without opposition, not only to take the Iron-Bridge in reverse, which was my principal object, but also to advance for more than a mile and occupy the Muchee Bawun and great Emambara.

In short the City was ours.

Brigadier General Walpole's Picquets on the left bank were attacked by the retreating Enemy, who was, as usual, heavily repulsed.

On the 19th a combined movement was organized.

Sir James Outram moved forward directly on the Moosa Bagh, the last position of the Enemy on the line of the Goomtee.

Sir J. Hope Grant cannonaded the latter from the left bank, while Brigadier Campbell, moving right round the Western side from the Alum Bagh, prevented retreat in that direction.

The rout was now complete, and great loss was inflicted on the Enemy by all these Columns.

On the 16th for the last time, the Enemy had ,own in some strength before Alum Bagh, which on that date was held by only two of our Regiments.

Jung Bahadoor was requested to move to his left up the Canal, and take the position in reverse from which our position at Alum Bagh had been so long annoyed.

This was executed very well by His Highness, and he seized the positions, one after another, with little loss to himself.

The Guns of the Enemy, which the latter did not stop to take away, fell into his hands.

On the 21st, Sir Edward Lugard was directed to attack a stronghold held by the Moulvie in the heart of the City. This he occupied after a sharp contest, and it now became possible to invite the return of the inhabitants, and to rescue the City from the horrors of this prolonged contest.

Brigadier Campbell, with his Cavalry, attacked, the Enemy when retreating from the City in consequence of Sir Edward Lugard's advance, inflicting heavy loss, and pursued him for six miles.

I beg to enclose Sir James Outram's own account of his operations, which were removed from my immediate superintendence, till he re-crossed the Goomtee prior to the attack of the 16th.

It was matter of real gratification to me to be able to entrust the Trans-Goomtee operation to this very distinguished Officer, and after that had been conducted to my perfect satisfaction, to bring him forward again to put thefi nishing stroke on the Enemy, while the extended position in the Town was of necessity held by the Troops who had won it. My thanks are eminently due to him, and I trust he will receive them as heartily as they are offered.

I have now the pleasing task of communicating to your Lordship, the name of an Officer to whom, not only I as Commanding General, but to whom in truth, the service at large is under great obligation. Major General Mansfield, the Chief of the Staff, whose labour has been unceasing, whose abilities are of the highest order, and have been of the greatest use to me during this campaign. It is impossible for me to praise this Officer too highly, or to recommend him sufficiently to the protection of your Lordship and of the Government.

I desire to draw the particular attention of your Lordship to Brigadier-Generals Franks, C. B., Walpole, Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., and Sir Edward Lugard, K. C. B.

Their Divisions have been most admirably Commanded, and they have on every occasion amply justified all my expectations.

Brigadier-Generals Walpole and Sir J. Hope Grant were employed more immediately under the direction of Sir James Outram, who speaks in the highest terms of the assistance he received from them.

Sir J. H. Grant's management of his Cavalry and Horse Artillery is always most admirable.

As detailed above, the manner in which the attacks on the main line of operations were directed by Sir Edward Lugard and Brigadier General Franks reflected the greatest credit on them.

The Officers in Command of the Cavalry Brigades have proved themselves equal to their high position, and are worthy of your Lordship's favorable consideration.

Brigadier Campbell, in Command of the Cavalry on the left, performed his detached duty with much vigilance and judgment. His march round the City on the 19th Instant, which was a running fight for the greater part of the day, was a very difficult one.

His pursuit, on the 21st, of the party which broke away after being driven by Sir Edward Lugard from Shadut Gunge, was highly effective.

Brigadier Hagart has received the marked commendation of Sir J. Hope Grant, and the Brigadiers in Command of Infantry Brigade, have particularly distinguished themselves under the eyes of their Divisional Commanders :—

Brigadier	D. Russell,	1st Brigade.
"	P. M. M. Guy,	3rd "
"	Hon'ble A. Hope,	4th "
"	Douglas, C. B.,	5th "
"	Horsford, C. B.,	6th "
"	Evelegh,	7th "

and Lieutenant-Colonel Longden, (Her Majesty's 10th Foot), attached to the Goorkha Brigade, by order of the Commander-in-Chief.

The Head Quarters 2nd Brigade, with the 5th, Fusiliers, and 78th Highlanders under Brigadier Franklin, remained at Alum Bagh in position and was well disposed by that Officer to resist the Enemy's demonstration on the 16th Instant.

To Major-General Sir Archdale Wilson, K. C. B., my warmest acknowledgments are due for the effective manner in which he Commanded the Artillery Division.

The four Corps, the Naval Brigade, the Royal Artillery, the Bengal Artillery, and the Madras Artillery, worked with the greatest harmony under his happy direction as one Regiment.

The merits of Sir Archdale Wilson are too widely known to gain anything by encomium from me; but I may be permitted to express my great satisfaction at having been able to avail myself of the assistance of this most distinguished Officer. The effective fire of the Artillery during the long operations which depended so much on the management of that arm elicited general admiration.

The practice of the 68-Pounders of the Naval Brigade was capital, while the Kaiser Bagh and other great buildings which had been stormed, showed in a very convincing manner how truly the shells had been directed by the Royal and Bengal Artillery.

Whenever the Field Artillery could be used the Troops of Horse Artillery and Field Batteries of Royal Artillery, the Bengal Artillery and the Madras Artillery did the most excellent service.

Sir Archdale Wilson expresses his great obligations to Captain Sir William Peel, K. C. B., Royal Navy, till that most gallant Officer was severely wounded, and to Brigadiers Wood, C. B., Royal Horse Artillery, and Barker, C. B., Royal Artillery, respectively Commanding the Field and Siege Artillery Brigades.

It would be difficult for me to give an adequate idea of the zeal and activity displayed by the Chief Engineer, Brigadier Napier, Bengal Engineers. Many of the operations depended on his proper appreciation of the obstructions to be overcome, and the means at his disposal for that purpose.

His great professional skill and thorough acquaintance with the value of his Enemy have been of the greatest service, and I recommend him most cordially to your Lordship's protection.

I am under very great obligations to him.

The Officers of the general Departments of the Army have accompanied me during the Siege, and I beg to return them my thanks. They are as follows: —

Major H. W. Norman, Deputy Adjutant General of the Army.

Lieutenant-Colonel W. Macpherson, Officiating Quarter Master General of the Army.

Colonel Hon'ble W. L. Pakenham, C. B., Officiating Adjutant General, H. M.'s Forces.

Captain C. F. Seymour, 84th Regiment, Officiating Quarter Master General H. M.'s Forces.

Captain G. Algood, Officiating Assistant Quarter Master General of the Army.

Lieutenant-Colonel Keith Young, Judge Advocate General of the Army.

Lieutenant P. Stewart, Bengal Engineers, Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs.

Doctor MacAndrew, Inspector General of Hospitals, H. M.'s Forces.

Doctor Brown, the Superintending Surgeon of the Force, has again won my sincere thanks for his admirable arrangements.

Captain Fitzgerald, Assistant Commissary General, who has had the disposition of the Commissariat in the Field, has met every want of the Army. He has distinguished himself much, and is a credit to his Department.

I must draw very particular attention to the services of Major Norman, Deputy Adjutant General, who besides his ordinary Departmental duties, has performed the very onerous one of Adjutant General of the Army in the Field throughout the Campaign.

To Captain H. Bruce, Deputy Quarter Master General, Head of the Intelligence Department, and to Captain G. Algood, Officiating Assistant Quarter Master General, who performed the duties of Quarter Master General of the Army in the Field, until the arrival of Lieutenant-Colonel Macpherson. These Officers have all been most active in the performance of their duties.

To my Personal Staff and that of Major-General Mansfield, my acknowledgements are due, but more particularly to my Military Secretary, Colonel Sterling, C. B., and to Captain R. G. Hope Johnstone, Bombay Army, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General to the Chief of the Staff. These two Officers are most indefatigable.

A List of the other Members of these Staffs is appended.

Finally, I wish to draw your Lordship's attention to the conduct of the Regimental Officers, Commissioned and Non-Commissioned, and to the Men of the Regiments.

Their conduct has been very brilliant throughout. The manner in which the 93rd Regiment flung itself into the Begum Kotee, followed by the 4th Seikh's and supported by the 42nd, was magnificent, and the subsequent attack on the Emambara and the Kaiser Bagh reflected the greatest credit on the Regimental Leaders of the 4th Division, and the Soldiers who followed them.

Corrected Lists will be sent immediately of the Officers and Soldiers who are deemed most worthy of distinction in a Force in which every one has a claim.

I have the honor to be,
My Lord,
With the greatest respect,
Your Lordship's most obedient
and humble Servant,
C. Campbell, General,
Commander-in-Chief in India.

Camp Lucknow, 28th March 1858.

My Lord,

I have the honor to report to your Lordship the departure of His Highness Jung Bahadoor from the Camp before Lucknow.

I desire to take this opportunity to express my thanks to His Highness for the assistance rendered to me during the late operations by him and his gallant Troops.

I found the utmost willingness on his part to accede to any desire of mine during the progress of the Siege, and from the first His Highness was pleased to justify his words that he was happy to be serving under my Command.

His Troops have proved themselves worthy of their Commanders, and it will doubtless be a happiness to them hereafter that they were associated with the British Arms for the reduction of the great City of Lucknow.

My best thanks are due to the Special Commissioner, Brigadier General MacGregor, C. B., the medium of communication between His Highness and myself.

I beg to recommend him and the British Officers serving under his orders to the favorable consideration of your Lordship.

I have the honor to be,
My Lord,
With the greatest respect,
Your Lordship's most obedient
and humble Servant,
C. Campbell, General,

H. W. NORMAN, Major,
Depy. Adjt. Genl. of the Army.

Memorandum of Operations carried on under the Command of Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., during the Siege of Lucknow.

ON the morning of the 6th Instant, shortly before daybreak, I proceeded with the Force named in the margin,* to cross the Goomtee River, over the two temporary Bridges which had been constructed by the order of His Excellency, the whole of the Cavalry being under the Command of Brigadier-General Sir James Hope Grant, K. C. B., the Infantry under that of Brigadier Walpole, the Field Artillery under Brigadier D. Wood, C. B., the Siege Artillery, which subsequently joined me, under Lieutenant-Colonel Riddell, R. A. After proceeding a short distance in a Northerly direction, the Enemy became visible on our left flank, and on being approached by the Cavalry, they were discovered to be in considerable force, chiefly Sowars. The 2nd Punjaub Cavalry then attacked on the Right, while Major Smith, of the Queen's Bays, with two Squadrons of his own Regiment, one Squadron of the 9th Lancers, and Lieutenant-Colonel D'Aguilar's Troop of Horse Artillery, advanced from our left. The Enemy were immediately driven back, and pursued to the banks of the River, many being cut up; but I regret to state that in this charge the gallant Major Smith was killed. Our Camp was then formed on the Fyzabad Road, about half a mile in advance of the village of Chinhut, on the Lucknow side. Early on the following morning, 7th March, the Enemy made a smart attack on our advanced picquets, and brought out several Guns under cover of ravines and clumps of trees in our front. They were, however, speedily withdrawn, on our Skirmishers and Horse Artillery and Captain Middleton's Field Battery, protected by the Cavalry, coming to the front and opening their fire. The Artillery* practice on this occasion, as on the preceding day, was admirable.

3. The following day, the 8th Instant, under the instructions of His Excellency, Colonel D'Aguilar's Troops of Horse Artillery and the 9th Lancers re-crossed the River to the Head Quarters Camp, and the Siege Guns named in the margin joined me. Having decided upon an attack on the Enemy's position, on the next morning, the 9th Instant, I caused an entrenchment for eight 24-Pounder Guns and three 8-inch Howitzers to be constructed during the night. The Battery was armed, and commenced its fire at day-break with excellent effect, after which the Right Column of Infantry, accompanied by Captain Gibbon's Field Battery, under Brigadier General Walpole, covered with a cloud of Skirmishers Commanded by Brigadier Horsford, C. B., supported by the 5th Brigade under Brigadier Douglas, drove the Enemy through the jungles, walls, and villages which afforded them an excellent cover, and bringing the right shoulders forward, occupied the Fyzabad Road. In the mean time, the left Column of Attack, composed of the 1st Bengal Fusiliers, supported by 2 Companies of the 79th Highlanders, which had been held in readiness on the left of the Battery, together with the Horse Artillery under Brigadier Wood, which had been formed in rear of the Bridge across the Kokral advanced, and in concert with the Right Column, carried the Chukr Kothee, (or Yellow-house,) the key of the Rebel position, in gallant style, and thereby turned the strong line of entrenchment, which had been constructed by the Enemy on the right bank of the Goomtee, of which success the Skirmishers on the other side of the River, subsequently, were apprised by Lieutenant Butler, of the Bengal Fusiliers, who swam across the Goomtee, and climbing the parapet, remained in that position for a considerable time under heavy fire of Musketry, until the work was occupied. After the occupation of the Chukr Kothee, we drove the Enemy rapidly through the old Irregular Cavalry lines and suburbs to the Padshah Bagh. The fortified gates of this strong-walled enclosure were blown open, and the garden occupied, and two Guns found by our Troops. Three Guns and a Howitzer were then placed in position to enfilade the works in rear of the Martiniere. A Battery of two 24-Pounder Guns and two 8-inch Howitzers was placed near the River to keep down the fire from the Town. A Battery for five Mortars was constructed during the night, and in the morning commenced playing on the Kaiser Bagh. Four heavy Guns were also placed in a work thrown up by the Enemy at the East entrance into the Padshah Bagh.

4. On the 10th, we were occupied in strengthening our position, the Enemy being in force in the suburbs in our front, from which they made an attack in considerable numbers on a picquet held by the 79th Highlanders, but were repulsed with heavy loss. General Sir James Hope Grant occupied himself the while in patrolling the vicinity, during which operation a most valuable young Officer, Major Sandford, of the 5th Punjaub Irregular Cavalry, was unfortunately killed; but the Enemy suffered severely.

5. During this night, another Battery was constructed in the Padshah Bagh for four 24-Pounders, two 8-inch Howitzers, and five 8-inch Mortars, which kept up a vertical and direct fire on the defences in the interior of the Kaiser Bagh. Two more 24-Pounders were also brought to bear on the Mess-house and on the Kaiser Bagh, in compliance with the instructions of His Excellency, I made arrangements to attack the suburbs in the vicinity of the Iron and Stone-Bridges, and shortly after day-light on the 11th Instant, the Right Column as per margin formed on the Fyzabad Road under the immediate Command of Brigadier General Walpole, and worked its way covered by its Skirmishers, through the Town, until it reached the Mosque on the old Cantonment road, which commands the approach to the Iron Bridge.

6. The Left Column as per margin proceeded along the lower road, towards the Iron-bridge. These two Columns were connected by a strong chain of Skirmishers, which, as well as the Left Column, met with considerable opposition, as the Enemy opened 3 Guns on them from the opposite side of the River, and also held the ground in great strength in front of the rifle Skirmishers Commanded by Brevet Major Warren, Captains Wilmot and Thyrne and Lieutenant Grey, who all behaved most gallantly. Captain Thyrne, a most promising Officer, I reg.ret to say, was mortally wounded. This Column occupied the houses down to the river's bank, and the head of the Iron-Bridge, to the right of which the two 24-Pounder Guns were placed in Battery. The spirit and dash of the men during this critical operation was most remarkable, and merits my highest commendation. Lieutenant Moorsom, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, who had been deputed by me to guide the Column, was killed on the spot while reconnoitreing on the opposite side of the road. I deplore sincerely the loss of this most gallant and promising young Officer, whose soldier-like zeal and acquirements rendered him an ornament to his profession.

7. Having left the Bengal Fusiliers posted in the Mosque on the Cantonment Road, I proceeded with the remainder of the Right Column in that direction, and shortly afterwards met Sir J. H. Grant's Cavalry and Horse Artillery, which in the mean time had been operating on the extreme right. Turning now towards the Stone-Bridge, we surprised the Camp of the Rebel 15th Irregular Horse, whose standards and 2 Guns were captured by the Rifles, the Enemy flying in all directions over the plain, many being cut up by our Cavalry.

8. I then penetrated to the head of the Stone-Bridge, through the strong and dense suburbs, without encountering any material opposition. The Enemy, however, were able to command it with Guns, as well as with Musketry, from the tops of several high and strong Stone-Houses, from the opposite side of the River, and the position was moreover too distant, and the approaches too intricate, to warrant my holding it permanently with the Force at my disposal. I therefore withdrew to the Mosque at the cross road, already occupied by the Bengal Fusiliers, our route being through suburbs in which we destroyed a quantity of munitions of war, and finally we retired to Camp, when the arrangements for the occupation of the Iron Bridge had been completed.

9. During the nights of the 12th and 13th, having been reinforced by four 18-Pounder Guns, two 10-inch Howitzers, five 10-inch Mortars and four 5½-inch Mortars, three Batteries were erected from which five 10-inch Mortars, ten 8-inch Mortars, four 24-Pounder Guns, were brought to bear upon the Kaiser Bagh, on the fall of which on the morning of the 14th, the Guns and Mortars were turned on the Residency, and the buildings to the right of the Bridge. During this operation Lieutenant Cuthbert, of the Royal Artillery, brought himself prominently to notice by extinguishing a fire in a small building in front of his Battery, in a very dangerous and exposed position. The operations connected with a breastwork across the Iron Bridge, were conducted by Lieutenant Wynne, R. E., and Sergeant Paul, who displayed great coolness and resolution in the face of a heavy and continual fire.

Having been ordered to join His Excellency's Camp, my operations on the North side of the Goomtee were here brought to a close.

Our casualties during these proceedings amounted to five Officers killed and nine wounded, and the loss in men including Sergeants, was twenty-one killed and one hundred and four wounded. Total twenty-six killed and one hundred and thirteen wounded. With the exception of the Officers, the above statement of casualties does not include the Cavalry Division, General Sir J. H. Grant having been ordered off into the district, neither his casualty list, nor his notice of his Officers has been received. From the peculiar nature of the fighting, the actual loss of the Enemy is difficult to ascertain. But I cannot estimate it at less than two thousand throughout the whole operations.

On the 16th Instant, under instructions from His Excellency, I proceeded to the Kaiser Bagh, where I found the 5th Brigade under the Command of Brigadier Douglas, C. B., comprising the 23rd Fusiliers, the 79th Highlanders, and the 1st Bengal Fusiliers, to which His Excellency had added Her Majesty's 20th Regiment and the Ferozepore Regiment of Seikhs.

Vast numbers of the Enemy having been seen crossing the Stone Bridge from the City, apparently with the design of attacking Brigadier General Walpole's Camp, on the North of the Goomtee, His Excellency ordered me to press our movement. I immediately ordered the advance, and took possession of the Residency with little opposition, the 23rd Fusiliers charging through the gateway, and driving the Enemy before them at the point of the bayonet, the remainder of the Brigade following them in reserve.

The Enemy having been dislodged from the Residency, two Companies of the 23rd, under Lieutenant-Colonel Bell, accompanied by Captain Gould Weston, who pointed out the road, pressed rapidly forward, and captured the brass Gun, which was in position to sweep the Iron Bridge, after some opposition. In the meanwhile the Residency height was crowned by a Field Battery of Madras Artillery, under the Command of Major Cotter, which kept up a heavy fire on the Muchhee Bhowun. This Battery was subsequently withdrawn, and replaced by two 68-Pounder Guns of the Naval Brigade. On their arrival, the Bengal Fusiliers moved to the Iron Bridge, and shortly afterwards advanced, together with the Regiment of Ferozepore, and took the Muchhee Bhowun and the Imambarah, the Enemy precipitately retiring, and abandoning six Guns. One Company of the Fusiliers under Captain Salisbury was pushed on to the Roomidurwaza gate, where another Gun was captured. The 79th were then brought up to occupy the Imambarah, and the remainder of the Bengal Fusiliers were placed in the Muchhee Bhowun.

On the morning of the 17th, Brigadier Douglas caused the Hoseinabad Mosque and the Dowlutkhana, in which two Guns and a small Mortar were found, to be occupied by a Company of the 79th Highlanders. About 1 P. M., with the Force named in the margin, I moved towards the block of buildings known as Shurfooddowlah's house, having previously occupied the entrance to the Chowk with 3 Companies of the 79th Highlanders.

On arriving at the Juma Musjit, nine cart loads of powder were found in a court-yard in the rear, which impeded our progress. I therefore directed it to be destroyed under the supervision of the Engineers. I regret, however, to have to state that from some accidental cause the powder ignited.

Captain Clarke, R. E., and Lieutenant Brownlow, B. E., who had greatly distinguished themselves, have since died from the effects of the explosion, in whose melancholy death the Service has sustained a heavy loss, which I sincerely deplore. About thirty men shared their fate, and the rest of the working party were more or less injured.

I then sent two Companies of the 79th Highlanders with one 8-inch Howitzer, to take possession of Shurfoodowlah's house, which was occupied without any casualty, the Enemy precipitately retreating, although they had made every preparation for a vigorous defence. An Iron Gun and a Brass Gun with an Ammunition Waggon, together with several small Guns, all in position, were captured.

I then reinforced the three Companies of the 79th in the Chowk, with five Companies of the 20th Regiment, and completed the chain of communication.

On the 18th, Brigadier Douglas ordered Lieutenant Gordon, Commanding a picquet of the 20th, to clear the houses in his front, which he effected much to the Brigadier's satisfaction, killing twenty-three of the Enemy.

The Stone-Bridge was found to be undermined and the circumstance reported to His Excellency.

On the morning of the 19th, under instructions from His Excellency, I proceeded to attack the Moosa Bagh, the Force named in the margin, being assembled for that purpose.

At about ½ past 6 A. M., I proceeded to Gao Ghat, and found Ali Nuki Khan's house occupied by the Enemy, who opened a sharp fire of Musketry on the head of the Column. Two Companies of the 79th, led by Lieutenant Evereth, being ordered to advance, soon drove the Enemy out, and took possession of it. Considerable delay here took place in consequence of having to break through a thick wall, during which time I ordered up a Wing of the Bengal Fusiliers to occupy the house.

The Troops then advanced through the suburbs without opposition towards Moosa Bagh, which position the Enemy was reported to occupy with thirteen Guns, and five or six thousand men.

On arriving on the open ground two Guns were opened on the Column, and the Enemy appeared in great strength on the road. I immediately ordered out Skirmishers from the 79th and 23rd, and Capt. Middleton's Battery to the front, whose fire soon silenced that of the Enemy, during which time the Lancers made a flank movement to the Enemy's Left, and on our advance, their whole Force took to flight, abandoning their Guns; on finding which I sent to order back the heavy Guns under escort of the three Companies of the 20th Regiment as being no longer required.

The two Squadrons of the 9th Lancers followed up the pursuit for about four miles, when they overtook the Enemy, captured six Guns and killed about a hundred of them, the rest dispersing over the Country, and escaping by the aid of the Nullahs and broken feature of the Country. The conduct of the Officers and men of the 9th, was most gallant, as they undauntedly charged masses of the Enemy.

The Field Artillery and Infantry followed in support as rapidly as possible, and captured four more Guns, making in all twelve, which I believe to be the total possessed by the Enemy, no trace of the reported thirteenth Gun being observable.

I then occupied the Moosa Bagh with the 2nd Punjaub Infantry under Major Green, and withdrew the rest of the Troops to their quarters in the City.

Throughout the course of these operations, which were very laborious, the cheerfulness and zeal of both Officers and Men were most conspicuous, and merit my warmest thanks.

I have to express my particular acknowledgments to Brigadier-General Walpole, who afforded me on every occasion the most cordial support, and very ably carried out the operations which fell to his share; also to Brigadier-General Sir James Hope Grant, commanding the Cavalry, whose vigilance and activity in the execution of his onerous duties were unceasing.

Brigadier Wood, C. B., Commanding the Field Batteries, and Lieutenant-Colonel Riddell, Commanding the Siege Train, carried on their respective duties to my entire satisfaction. The services of Lieutenant-Colonel Turner, B. A., specially attached to the Force, were of the highest value to me, and I beg to tender him my cordial acknowledgment for the same.

It is a source of much gratification to me to submit the names of those Officers engaged in the operations on the North bank of the Goomtee, who have been honorably mentioned by Brigadier-General Walpole and their respective Commanders, viz., Brigadiers Horsford, C. B., and Douglas, Commanding 5th and 6th Brigades, Lieut-Colonel Hill, Commanding 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade, Lieut.-Colonel Macdonald, C. B., Commanding 3rd Battalion Rifle Brigade, Captain Gibbon, R. A., who commanded the 9-Pounder Field Battery.

The Brigadier-General also particularly notices the conduct of Captain Barwell, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, and Captain Carey, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General; also that of Captain Warner, A. D. C., and Lieutenant Eccless, his Orderly Officer.

The Brigadiers wish to record the services of their respective Staffs:—Captain Macpherson, 78th Highlanders, (wounded,) Brigade Major of the 5th Brigade, Brevet Major Mollan, Brigade Major 6th Brigade, and Brevet Major Ross, and Lieutenant Walker, their Orderly Officers.

Brigadier Wood, C. B., favorably mentions the conduct and professional knowledge of Lieutenant-Colonel Turner, Lieutenant-Colonel D'Aguilar, Major Yates, Brevet-Major Pennycuick, Captain Gibbon, Captain Mackinnon, Captain Remmington, and Captain Johnston; he also notices the assistance he received from Captain Frith, his Brigade-Major, and Captain Scott, in charge of the Commissariat arrangements.

Lieutenant-Colonel Riddle, Commanding Siege Train, eulogizes Captains Thring, Goodenough, and Walker, R. A., Captain Pearson and Lieutenant Simeon, B. A., and Lieutenants Cuthbert and FitzMaurice, R. A., and Major Turner and Captain Young, Staff Officers.

Major Nicholson, R. E., highly applauds the energy displayed by the Officers of that Department, viz., Lieutenants Malcolm, Wynne, Swetenham and Keith, R. E., and Lieutenants Watson, Tennant, Hovenden, and Nuthall, B. E.

Lieutenant-Colonel Wells records the services of Major Bruce, Captains Prevost, Duff and Norton, of the 23rd Fusiliers.

I have next to notice the services of the Officers engaged on the South of City side of the River.

Brigadier Napier, Captain Hutchinson, Brigade Major, and Lieutenant Greathed, of the Engineers, afforded me on different occasions the greatest assistance by their professional advice, and I tender them my cordial thanks; they were ably seconded by Lieutenant Tulloch and Mr. May, attached to that Department.

Major Brayser led his Seikhs with his usual gallantry, and I regret to add, was severely wounded.

My thanks are also due to Captain Bennett, Commanding Her Majesty's 20th Regiment.

Captain Coles, in Command of two Squadrons of the 9th Lancers, did good service in pursuing the Enemy when they abandoned their position in the Moosa Bagh. On this occasion the local knowledge of Captain Carey, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General of the 3rd Division, was of much use to me. Captain Dodgson, Assistant Adjutant General, Captain Gordon, Deputy Judge Advocate General, and Ensign Hewitt, 41st Regiment N. I., Orderly Officer, were present at the occupation of the Moosa Bagh, having joined me from Alum Bagh, where they had been of much service in their respective appointments.

I have lastly to bring to His Excellency's consideration the services of those Officers who had the good fortune to be engaged in all the operations on both sides of the River.

Brigadier Douglas has carried out all his instructions with signal ability and success, and deserves my cordial acknowledgments, as does Major Nicholson, R. E., who evinced the most indefatigable industry in the construction of the heavy Batteries which it fell to his Department to execute, and in choosing sites for which he was constantly exposed to very heavy fire.

Lieutenant Colonel Wells Commanded the 23rd Fusiliers until incapacitated by illness (on the last day's operation) when the Command was assumed by Lieutenant-Colonel Pratt, who also Commanded the Left Column of attack on the 11th Instant, across the river. Lieutenant-Colonel Taylor was in command of the 79th Highlanders, Major Green, Punjaub Rifles, and Captain Cunliffe, Commanded the 1st Bengal Fusiliers, until the arrival of Captain Hume, who also deserves my thanks. Captain Middleton Commanded the Field Battery, which was actively engaged throughout.

Brigadier Douglas mentions with approbation, Captain Stevenson, Acting Brigade Major, and Lieutenants Walker, 79th, and Utteton, 23rd Fusiliers, his A. D. C. and Orderly Officer.

I have the highest pleasure in acknowledging how much I am indebted to the Officers of my Personal Staff.

His Excellency is already aware of the opinion I have formed of the merits and services of Colonel Berkely, H. M.'s 32nd Regiment, my Military Secretary; and the assistance I have derived from him throughout these operations, is an additional obligation I am under to this most deserving Officer.

Captain Chamier, A. D. C., and Lieutenant Hargood, A. D. C., (Horse killed), have worked with the unremitting zeal and activity which has characterized their conduct in all the operations in which I have been engaged since I left Allahabad in September last.

Captain Weston, 65th Regiment N. I., Orderly Officer, has signalized himself by the spirit and gallantry which he has displayed on several occasions, and has been of much use to me.

Captains Orr and Bunbury, of the Intelligence Department, have performed their duties with great ability, and Mr. Denison, C. S., who recently brought up Despatches from the Governor General, accompanied the Forces, and was most active and zealous in rendering aid to the poor sufferers who were blown up in the explosion on the 17th Instant.

Mr. Kavanagh, Assistant Commissioner, from his knowledge of the localities, rendered good service on several occasions.

Depy. Adjt. Genl. of the Army.

Roll of Officers who have served under Brigadier R. Napier, Commanding Engineer Brigade during the operations at Lucknow, in March 1858, and who are deemed deserving of honorable mention.

Corps or Department.	Rank and Names.	Remarks.
Royal Engineers..	Colonel Harness, Commanding Royal Engineers, ..	In charge of the arrangement for taking the Emambarra, and highly energetic and valuable services, in securing the Kaisur Bagh, when the place was carried by a few of our Troops, and general cordial co-operation.
Ditto ..	Major Nicholson ..	Conducted most satisfactorily, and with great energy and judgment, all siege operations across the river, with the Division under Major-General Sir J. Outram, G. C. B.
Ditto ..	Captain W. O. Lennox ..	Senior Field Engineer, on the attack on the Martiniere, actively employed in all the attacks before, and of the Kaiser Bagh. Especially mentioned for honorable notice by Colonel Harness, R. E.
Ditto ..	Captain Clerke ..	Adjutant of the Royal Engineers.
Ditto ..	Lieutenant F. Beaumont ..	Very useful in fortifying position taken by Major Wilde's Sikhs across the canal entrenchment, having accompanied their advance. In attack on Emambarra, took a house which turned the Enemy's defences, in part breached their outer wall, and enabled Major Brasyer's Sikhs to assault successfully, and materially aid the general assault. In attack on Kaisur Bagh, accompanied advance of Sikhs up Cheenee Bazar, into a position in a gate-way which commanded the Kaisur Bagh. Especially brought to notice by Colonel Harness, R. E.
Ditto ..	Lieutenant P. T. Scratchley..	Orderly Officer, attended me on all occasions, and was particularly useful.
Ditto .	Lieutenant C. E. Wynne ..	Especially recommended for notice by Major Nicholson, R. E., for the manner in which he removed a breast-work from the Iron-bridge under a heavy fire. Recommended by Major Nicholson for the Victoria Cross.

Corps or Detachment.	Rank and Names.	Remarks.
Bengal Engineers	Major A. Taylor, Commanding Bengal Engineers ..	Invaluable services and energy in preparation of the Engineer Park. Great energy in charge of the arrangement for attacking Bank's house and Begum's place ; very valuable and cordial co-operation and assistance in all duties.
Ditto ..	Captain G. Hutchinson, Brigade Major ..	Directing Engineer with Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., in the attacks on the Residency, Muchie Bhawun and the Emambarra.
Ditto ..	Lieutenant Greathed ..	Directing Engineer in the attacks on Bank's house and Emambarra, also on 17th, and with Major-General Sir James Outram, G. C. B., in taking the Moosa Bagh. Especially recommended for notice by Colonel Harness, R. E.
Ditto ..	Lieutenant Gulliver, Commanding Punjaub Sappers ..	Attack on the D. Bungalow.
Ditto ..	Lieutenant Maunsell, Commanding Bengal Sappers ..	Attack on the Begum's Palace.
Ditto ..	Lieutenant Medley ..	Occupied the Kuddum Russool with Lieutenants Lang and Carnegie, 1 Non-Commissioned Officer and four Privates, held the Shah Nujjiff with Lieutenant Champain, and 50 Punjaub Sappers, all other Troops being withdrawn on the night of the 8th within 200 yards of the Enemy. Prominently engaged in attacks on Emambarra, Kaiser Bagh, and Moosa Bagh.
Ditto ..	Lieutenant Hovenden ..	Very highly mentioned by Major Nicholson, R. E., for services rendered in Siege operations across the Goomtee.
Ditto ..	Lieutenant Brownlow, (since dead from a powder explosion) ..	Prominently engaged in attacks on Emambarra, on which occasion he led a party across the main road, and drove the Enemy out of a house important to hold, but was forced to retire owing to the heavy musketry fire of the Enemy ; particularly useful in the attacks on the Residency Bridges Muchie Bhawun and Emambarra
Ditto ..	Lieutenant Lang ..	Commanded a Sapper party in attack on the Martiniere and Canal Entrenchment, into which he accompanied the advance of the Highlanders. With Lieutenant Medley, when he occupied the Kuddum Russool with his small party, engaged in the attacks on the Emambarra, and with the foremost party of Sikhs in the Kaisier Bagh.
Ditto ..	Lieutenant Humphrey ..	Adjutant, Bengal Engineers.
Ditto ..	Lieutenant Champain, Adjutant Bengal Sappers ..	With Lieutenant Medley when he held the Shah Nujjif on night of 8th, with 50 Sappers. Exceedingly useful in the attacks on the Residency Bridges, Muchie Bhawun and Emambarra.
Ditto ..	Lieutenant Pemberton ..	Director of the Park, the duties of which important position he has fulfilled to my entire satisfaction.
Ditto ..	Lieutenant Carnegie ..	One of the three Officers and four Men who occupied the Kuddum Russool.
Madras Engineer	Lieutenant Scott ..	Actively engaged in all attacks on the Begum's Palace and Kaiser Bagh.
Madras Native Infantry with Madras Sappers ..	Ensign Ogilvy ..	Engaged in attack on the Emambarra and Kaiser Bagh in the taking of the latter, he accompanied the most advanced party of Her Majesty's 10th Foot, under Captain Norman, assisted in the defence of their post, and went through a heavy fire to bring up re-inforcements, which he did, remaining with them until severely wounded. Captain Norman publicly thanks Ensign Ogilvy for his services.
Bengal Native Infantry ..	Lieutenant Alfred Tulloch, doing duty with Detachment	Orderly Officer to Brigadier Napier. Attended me on all occasions, and was particularly active and useful.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Applications for pension or gratuity for wounds are invariably to be accompanied by a certificate to the effect that the wound was received in action with the enemy.

This certificate, if the claimant be Commandant of the force, is to be a declaration on honor, and signed by himself; if the applicant be at the head of General Staff, the certificate must be signed by the Officer commanding the force. If an Officer on the General Staff or commanding a corps, by the Officer at the head of the Staff. If belonging to a corps, by the Officer in command of the corps at the time, or by the senior Staff Officer.

2. The attention of medical committees assembled to report upon wounds, in view to claims for pension or gratuity being preferred, is called to the specification of their duties as contained in G. O. of 26th July 1852.

The regulations at present in force are those prescribed in the Royal Warrant promulgated in Government General Order No. 109 of 1858, and the phraseology of the particular paragraph which the committee may consider to apply to the case, is invariably to be strictly adhered to in their report.

The attention of all parties concerned is called to General Orders of the 10th November 1857, page 722, requiring Officers in charge of corps &c. to report the loss of military stores, consequent on recent disturbances, to the Military Auditor General, Ordnance department.

Under instructions from Government, it is notified for the guidance of those concerned that practice and exercising ammunition is to be issued for all recruits and newly raised corps, but not to other troops.

Captain J. B. Flanagan, of Her Majesty's 81st regiment, is appointed to do duty with the Murree depot, during the present hot season.

His Excellency the Commander in Chief is pleased to make the following appointment:

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,
W. MAYHEW, Lieut. Colonel,
Adjutant General of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF,

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 20th April 1858.

It has frequently happened during the late operations, that when much trouble has been taken for the arrangement and the detail of troops about to be employed, disappointment has occurred at the moment of execution, owing to the absence of one portion of the force, or the mis-direction of another, which had been carefully detailed either in General Orders or the Instructions for General Officers issued by the Chief of the Staff, by order of the Commander in Chief.

His Excellency traces such mishaps to a want of appreciation of Staff duty in the Army. It happens that orders are copied by Staff Officers, but the latter often fail in seeing personally to their execution.

The following rules are therefore laid down for general guidance, and His Excellency expects that they will be followed out in every division of the Army, as well as in the Force immediately under his command:

1. When a force has been detailed by superior authority for a special duty, the General or other Officer placed in command of it, will at once summon to his presence all Commanding Officers of brigades, regiments, or detachments.

2. His chief Staff Officer will indicate the point, day, and hour of assembly of the various corps, and will furnish to each Commanding Officer a written memorandum to the same effect.

3. The Quarter Master General of the force detailed will ascertain personally that each Commanding Officer is acquainted with the road to the point indicated for assembly, and in case of necessity will provide guides.

4. The General or other Officer commanding will, when the corps are assembled, cause them to be numbered by his Staff Officer, and ascertain that the detail of troops ordered is on the ground. If it be found that any corps or part of a corps is absent, a report will be made immediately, by means of a mounted Officer, to the authority by which the force was detailed, i. e., if in the Army commanded by His Excellency, to the Chief of the Staff, or in any other force, to the principal Staff Officer.

5. If the detail be all correct, a mounted Officer will in like manner be sent to report to that effect to the Chief of the Staff, or &c. &c.

6. If, in consequence of the service, it be impossible to assemble Officers commanding corps in the manner indicated in para. No. 1, the General or other Officer commanding will cause his Adjutant and Quarter Master General to ride round the respective corps, and personally give his orders to Commanding Officers of brigades, regiments, or detachments, besides leaving written memoranda with them.

7. When troops are arriving at their positions from various directions, it is the business of every mounted Officer to bestir himself to prevent confusion among the columns, or annoyance from the baggage. A General of division cannot be too exacting in his demands on his Staff Officers in such respects.

8. What it is the fashion to call routine duties, are the most important a Staff Officer has to perform, and they are exactly those which are most frequently slurred over, to the great hinderance of the service, and to the detriment of important military combinations, which depend altogether on punctuality and exactness in the execution of detail.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,

W: MAYHEW, Lieut. Colonel,

Adjutant General of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF,

Head Quarters, Camp Lucknow,
The 28th March 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor, by direction of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, copy of a letter* from Brigadier General Sir J. Hope Grant, K. C. B., Commanding the Cavalry Division of this Army, dated 26th Instant, No. 60, reporting his having overtaken a body of the Enemy at "Koorsee" in this neighbourhood, and captured 14 Guns.

*With Report from Brigadier-General Sir J. H. Grant, K. C. B., on the defeat by the Troops under his Command of a body of the Enemy and capture of 14 Guns.

2. His Excellency much regrets the loss in this affair of a gallant young Officer, Lieutenant MacDonnell, attached to the 2nd Punjaub Cavalry.

3. Returns of Casualties and of Ordnance captured in the action are annexed.

I have the honor to be,
SIR,
Your most obedt. Servant,
H. W. NORMAN, Major,
Depy. Adjt. Genl. of the Army.

No. 60.

FROM

BRIGR.-GENL. SIR J. HOPE GRANT, K. C. B., Commanding Division.

TO

THE DEPY. ADJT. GENL. OF the ARMY,
Camp near Lucknow, 26th March 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report for the information of His Excellency Sir Colin Campbell, that agreeably to the orders received from Major-General Mansfield, Chief of the Staff, I marched at 12 o'clock on the night of the 22nd Instant with the Force, as per margin, in the direction of "Koorsee;" finding it however nearly impossible to proceed with the heavy Guns across the country roads in the dark, I halted the Column a short distance from the Cantonments until morning, it was consequently nearly 4 P. M. on the 23rd before we arrived at "Koorsee." We found the Enemy in full retreat along the Fyzabad Road. Forming up the Cavalry and the Horse Artillery, I advanced, leaving the Infantry with the heavy Guns pointing towards the village. Two Guns of the advance guard under Lieutenant Hunter, had in the mean time come into action, against a party of Rebels who were making their way out of a small ghuree on our left front, for the purpose of joining the main body on the Fyzabad Road; these were soon dispersed, and as we were clear of the village I gave the order to change front to the right, by this movement our line completely covered the flank of the retreating Enemy; a few rounds from the Horse Artillery caused them to scatter, on seeing which the 1st and 2nd Punjaub Cavalry on the left of the line under the Command of Captain Samuel Brown charged most gallantly five or six times through the Rebels, cutting up about two hundred and capturing 14 Guns, besides several ammunition waggons, 2 elephants, some camels, bullocks, and quantities of baggage.

Major Remmington's and Captain Mackinnon's Troops of Bengal Horse Artillery.
Major Moir's heavy Field Battery.
Her Majesty's 2nd Dragoon Guards.
2nd Punjaub Cavalry.
1st do. do. (Detachment).
Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment.
2nd and 3rd Battalions Rifle Brigade and 2nd Punjaub Infantry with some Sappers and Miners.

I directed Lieutenant Manderson with 2 Guns, Horse Artillery and a Squadron of the 2nd Dragoon Guards, the whole under Command of Captain Loftus, to proceed to the support of the Punjaub Cavalry, the success was complete, achieved however at the loss of two fine gallant Officers Lieutenant MacDonnell, 2nd Punjaub Cavalry, killed, and Captain Cosserat, Commanding Detachment 1st Punjaub Cavalry, dangerously wounded.

I have to thank the following Officers for the assistance they afforded me :—

Brigadier Horsford, Commanding the Infantry, Lieutenant-Colonel Maberly, Royal Artillery, Commanding the Artillery; Captain Mackinnon and Major Remmington, Commanding Troops of Bengal Horse Artillery, and Major Moirs, Bengal Artillery, Commanding Heavy Field Battery, Lieutenants Manderson and Hunter, Bengal Horse Artillery, and Lieutenant Strange, Royal Artillery, Staff Officer to Lieutenant-Colonel Maberly; Lieutenant Colonel Briscoe, Commanding 2nd Dragoon Guards; Major Keene, Commanding the outposts, and Captain Loftus, both of the 2nd Dragoon Guards; Captain T. Browne, Commanding 2nd Punjaub Cavalry, and Captain Cosserat, and after that Officer was wounded; Lieutenant Mackenzie, Commanding Detachment 1st Punjaub Cavalry; Lieutenant-Colonel English, C. B., Commanding Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel MacDonell, C. B., Commanding 3rd Battalion Rifle Brigade; Lieutenant-Colonel Percy Hill, Commanding 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade, and Major Green, Commanding 2nd Punjaub Infantry; also Lieutenant Watson, Commanding Sappers and Miners, and Major Mollan, Major of Brigade, Captain Scott, Officiating Deputy Commissary General, and—Forbes, Esquire, Civil Service.

My own personal Staff—

Major Hamilton, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General; Lieutenant Roberts, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master General; Captain the Honorable A. Anson, Aide-de-Camp, and Captain Johnson, Extra Aide-de-Camp, were of the greatest possible use to me.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) J. H. Grant, Brigr.-Genl.,

Lieutenant William Conrad Hamilton, Deputy Commissioner of Dumoh.

No. 808.—The 8*th April* 1858.—Appointment.—Captain William Harington Hawes, 63d native infantry, to officiate as cantonment Joint Magistrate and Superintendent of the cantonment Abkaree mehal in Furruckabad, with retrospective effect from the date on which, under the orders of the officer commanding, he assumed charge of his duties, until further orders.

No. 584 of 1858.——The Honorable the President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct that an examination shall be held, as soon as practicable after receipt of the order, in each of the stations of the Bengal Presidency to which Superintending Surgeons are attached, for the purpose of filling up vacancies in the military class of the Medical College. The College session commences on the 15th June.

2. All candidates will be required to possess a knowledge of the Hindoostanee language sufficient to enable them to read and write common letters or petitions, and hospital registers of sick, in the Devanagri or Persian character, and to converse with a Sepoy in the Hindoostanee language.

3. Although a knowledge of English will not be insisted on in all cases, a preference in selection is to be given to those candidates who possess a competent knowledge of English, in addition to Hindoostanee.

4. The preference in selection, attainments being equal, will also be given to those who have already been attached to or served in civil or regimental hospitals. Beyond this, preference will not be given to men of any particular class; but respectable young men, especially those educated in the schools of Behar, the North Western Provinces, and the Punjaub, are encouraged to offer themselves, being provided with certificates of character and acquirements from the Inspectors or Head Masters of the schools.

5. Those holding such recommendations from the school authorities, and certificates of physical fitness from the nearest medical officers, will not be required to appear before the committees.

6. The examination is equally open to the sons of soldiers, and of persons engaged in civil occupations.

7. The candidates must be between the ages of 15 and 20 years.

8. No candidate will be allowed to present himself for examination who is physically unfit for the duties of a soldier, and who cannot produce a written testimonial of his conduct and character, or afford satisfactory evidence as to who and what he is. The strictest care and attention are to be exercised in examining the credentials of all candidates, who will, in addition, be required to bring regular descriptive rolls, in order that they may be identified.

9. The Superintending Surgeon is to prepare a general roll (in the form hereafter given) of all candidates, to be laid before the committee; the qualification columns being left blank for the committee to fill up.

10. Committees for the examination of candidates will be convened by the officer commanding the station, upon the requisition of the Superintending Surgeon, and will consist of two medical officers and an Interpreter.

11. These examinations will, in future, be final as regards the admission of the candidates into the Medical College, no subsequent examination in the College of Fort William being required.

12. Each passed candidate is to be furnished by the Superintending Surgeon with a descriptive roll, in the subjoined form, which he is to present to the Principal of the College, and which will be his warrant for admission as a student:

Letter dated 8th October 1857, No. 261.

Transmit a Memorial from Brevet Lieutenant Colonel H. Marshall, 33d Madras N. I., praying to be placed on the same footing in regard to promotion for service as regimental Major and Brevet Lieutenant Colonel, as officers in Her Majesty's service.

G. O. No. 366, of 1855.

"2. It was fully intended that our officers should receive the same benefits of promotion as Her Majesty's officers, under the Royal Warrant of October 1854; but it appears from the statement of the Provincial* Commander in Chief at Madras, that this intention has not been fulfilled in the case of Brevet Lieutenant Colonels who are regimental Majors, and His Excellency the Commander in Chief in India, in handing up the Memorial of Lieutenant Colonel Marshall, states that his application is "perfectly † equitable."

* Letter from the Adjutant General of the Madras Army, 14th July 1857.

† Letter from the Deputy Adjutant General of the Bengal Army, 29th August 1857.

3. Under these circumstances, we can have no hesitation in desiring that whatever advantage would be granted in Her Majesty's service to a Brevet Lieutenant Colonel being also a regimental Major, holding an office declared to be a qualification for promotion, may be granted to Lieutenant Colonel Marshall and others similarly circumstanced.

FORT WILLIAM, 19TH APRIL 1858.

2. A report having gained credence in Camp, and reached the Enemy, that no forward movement would be made before the 20th February, the Nazim Mehundee Hussun had issued his orders for his Force, hitherto divided at Ware and Chanda, to be concentrated at the latter place, by the evening of the 19th February.

3. At 6 A. M., however, of that day, the Force under my Command marched from Singramow, in the following order:—the Advance Guard composed of the whole of our small party of Cavalry, of 240 selected Marksmen, of the three British Regiments and four Horsed Guns, under Lieutenant Colonel Longden, 10th Regiment, was followed by the British Brigade, under Brigadier Evelegh, C. B., and by the six Battalions of Goorkha Infantry, under Colonel Pulwan Singh, in column of route. The rear and baggage guards, consisting of five Companies of the 10th, 20th and 97th Regiments, and of three Companies of G[illegible] Horsed Guns, under Major Radcliffe, 20th Regiment, closed the rear.

4. On reaching Koereepore, I learnt through spies, that the Enemy in possession of "Chanda," under the Chuckledar Bunda Hoosain, numbered 8,000 Men: of whom 2,500 were Sepoys of the 20th, 28th, 48th and 71st Regiments N. I., and that the Nazim Mehundee Hussun was still at Waree, eight miles distant in a Southerly direction with 10,000 Men and 11 Guns. The junction of his Forces was therefore still incomplete, and I determined to attack him before it could be effected.

5. Halting the force out of fire, I reconnoitred the Eenmy's position.

"Chanda" is a large village, at the South-eastern angle of which are a consderable mud Fort and a Serai, both of great height, and loopholed for musketry. Round the village, Fort and Serai, a breastwork had been thrown up, and a ditch excavated, and six pieces of Artillery were placed in position in it and on its left. The principal strength of the position consisted in the close and high cultivation surrounding it on three sides, and rendering approach most difficult.

6. My reconnoisance being complete, at 11 A. M., I attacked in the following order :—The Marksmen were extended in skirmishing order out of range of the Enemy's Artillery; then advancing to 700 yards, they opened fire, which was immediately replied to by the Guns opposed to us.

Having thus drawn the Enemy's fire, and ascertained the position of his Artillery, 8 of our light Guns were brought up at a gallop, supported as quickly as possible by the two 18-Pounders.

Meantime the main body followed in contiguous quarter distance columns, as deploying distance; the British Brigade in the centre, three Regiments of Goorkhas on the right, and three on the left; the Cavalry divided and covering the flanks; Captain Thring's four 9-Pounder Bullock Guns accompanied the Infantry in the centre. As they advanced into the Plain, these columns deployed into line.

7. The skirmishers and light Guns now gradually moved forward, the Enemy retiring before them, the Goorkhas threatening the flanks, and the British Brigade advancing in support in the centre.

In this manner the Force soon drove the Enemy before it, carried the position and captured 6 Guns, following the Rebels through and past the village.

When the exhausted skirmishers could no longer reach the Enemy, two of Major Cotter's Guns, and the Cavalry* galloping to the front, acted with great effect; the Cavalry charging and cutting up a number of the Rebels, and the Guns following them with a destructive fire, till the dense thickets which bordered the plain forbid further pursuit.

* A Detachment of 25 mounted Soldiers of H. M.'s 10th Foot, and a few of the Benares Horse under Ressaldar Nuxbund Khan.

8. The Force was then halted on the right of the road three miles beyond "Chanda."

9. Suspecting the Nazim to be now on the move from Waree on the left, I detached the Cavalry under Lieutenant C. N. Tucker, 8th Bengal Light Cavalry, and 2 Guns of Captain Middleton's Battery to watch that flank: while the Troops, fatigued by great heat and rapid movement gained time to rest and refresh themselves, and liquor and cooked provisions were issued to them. The captured Artillery was also meanwhile collected.

10. When this had been accomplished, we took ground to the left across the road to the village of Amereepore, the better to cover the march of our baggage, and to meet the Enemy should he advance.

Later in the day, near sunset, when all hopes of his approach seemed at an end, and while the ground for encampment was being taken up, the Enemy appeared on our left front.

11. The Force immediately changed front and attacked in the same order as in the morning.

12. The Naizm having suffered severely on his right, which was exposed in the open plain to our Artillery and Rifle fire, sought shelter in some thick mangoe groves to his left: thus endeavouring to work round my right, and bringing an 18-Pounder into action at a distance. But this attempt was speedily checked by the three Battalions of Goorkhas on that flank, who, under Colonel Pulwan Sing advanced, fired, and charged driving the Enemy before them.

13. The complete state of preparation in which the Nazim found us, when he had anticipated coming unexpectedly on our left rear, took him by surprise. The heavy fire with which he was received completed his discomfiture, and caused his almost immediate retreat in disorder towards Waree; his Guns having never been closely engaged, with the exception of the 18-Pounders before-mentioned. The lateness of the hour and his rapid flight alone, saved his Artillery from capture.

14. Thus terminated the action at an hour after dark: and the Force bivouacked on the ground it occupied at the close of the day. I estimate the Enemy's loss in these two actions to have been upwards of 800 killed and wounded.

15. On the 20th I remained halted; as the baggage, delayed by difficult ground, only arrived late on that day.

During this time the Enemy remained at Waree; my flank movement and his defeat at Amereepore having thrown him off his direct line of retreat to Lucknow.

Report, however, tended to show that he contemplated making a wide circuit by our left, and occupying the strong jungle pass, position, and Fort of Budhuyan nine miles in our front: which if stoutly defended, would have considerably delayed my progress.

But as he was kept in a state of uncertainty as to whether I might not attack him in front at Waree, or in flank if he should march towards Budhayan, to which place I was nearer than he, he deferred this movement till mine should be more distinctly defined, keeping his Troops constantly under arms watching mine.

16. At day-break on the 21st, drawing up my Forces in order of battle as if to march on Waree, I allowed the whole of my baggage to file away past my right rear towards Lumboosh, the village of Roostum Suhia, a friendly Zemindar, who had shown that he was well affected towards the Government by the collection of supplies, and by safely escorting the bridge-of-boats from Singramow.

17. It having been given out that the Force would halt at Lumboosh, the Nazim, whose spies closely watched every movement, thought that he would still be in time to anticipate me at Budhayan.

But I pushed the baggage rapidly through the village of Lumbooh, and when this had been effected my Advance Guard under Lieutenant-Colonel Longden, withdrawing unperceived from Amereepore, overtook and headed the baggage, followed gradually by the whole Force which, by a rapid movement, seized Budhayan and occupied its Fort.

18. The Nazim thus missed his opportunity He had been deceived as to my intentions sufficiently long to allow of the safe progress of my encumbrances though the defile of Budhayan, and had finally been forestalled in the possession of that strong position.

19. Five Companies of Goorkhas were thrown into the Fort, and six British Companies and two Guns posted on the Nullah which runs under it, assured the main Force encamped two miles in advance against attack on left flank or rear.

20. During the 22nd, I remaind halted to allow the expected re-inforcements of Lahore Light Horse and Pathans to overtake me. In the course of this-day the Nazim with the remnants of his Force, reached Badshahgunje two miles beyond Sultanpore, where he took up a position in the old Cavarly and Police Lines, and was joined by the fugitives from Chanda, by the whole of the mutinied Sepoys and Oude Irregulars of this District, and by the remains of the 7th Light and 12th and 15th Irregular Cavalry, the latter under Shaboodeen Khan, late a Ressaldar in the last named Regiment, and who had Command in the mutiny at Sultanpore. The Infantry was Commanded by the Rajah Hussen Ali Khan, of Hussunpore, assisted by his son and by Rhowani Sing, late Subadar of Infantry. The whole Force was under Mirza Guffoor Beg, a General of Artillery under the old King of Oude, re-instated in his rank by the present Rebel Government, and sent from Lucknow specially to take this Command.

21. The Rebel Force, numbering 25,000 Men, of whom 5,000 were Sepoys and 1,100 Cavalry, with 25 Guns, occupied a position, a sketch of which accompanies this Report, and which was drawn by Lieutenant Innes, Assistant Field Engineer, from information furnished by Lieutenant Smith, 58th N. I., attached to the Goorkhas, and by Lieutenant Tucker, 8th Bengal Cavalry, who were stationed at Sultanpore at the time of the mutiny. On this plan, drawn up before the action, my operations were based. The position may be described as follows:—

22. A deep and winding ravine runs into the Goomtee, behind which the Enemy's line was posted in a plain, his left resting on the Sultanpore Bazar, the centre placed behind the ruined lines of the Police Battalion, and the right covered by a range of low hillocks in advance of the village and strong masonry Serai of Badshahgunje. This position is about a mile and a half in length. The direct road from Sultanpore to Lucknow intersects it at right angles, and on this, at the point where it crosses the Nullah, the Enemy's principal Battery was directed.

His other Guns were distributed along the position, three being posted in the village near the Bazar and Temple on his extreme left, and six in the Serai and village of Badshahgunje and to its right.

23. Marching at 6 A. M. from my ground in front of Budhayan, in the same order as in the 3rd paragraph of this Report, on arriving within a mile of the village of Loramow, my Cavalry caught sight of the Enemy's outposts: on which I formed my Force in order of battle, the front being covered by the 240 selected Marksmen of the British Brigade, and eight Horsed Guns under Lieutenant-Colonel Longden, 10th Foot, the Guns being 100 paces in rear of the skirmishers. The two 18-Pounders advanced in the centre along the high roads which runs through the Enemy's position. The British Brigade was formed in contiguous quarter distance columns at 25 paces interval, supported in second line by the 6 Battalions of Goorkhas, in the quarter distance columns at deploying distance.

24. Moving through the village in this order till fully in sight of the Enemy's picquets, who thus concluded that our advance would be, as they wished directly down the high road, I advanced with the Benares Horse under Captain Matheson, and the Detachment of 25 Mounted Men of Her Majesty's 10th Regiment, under Lieutenant Tucker, and drove in the Enemy's outposts beyond the Nullah, and through a thick belt of trees which concealed their Force from ours.

Having done this, leaving the Benares Horse to prevent their outpost from again reconnoitering us, I moved with the Mounted Detachment to the left to examine the head of the Nullah which I felt convinced disappeared in the plain: and this proved to the case, for my search found a point where the road from Allahabad crosses it, where the Troops and heavy Guns could pass the ravine out of reach of the Enemy's fire. Some rising ground here gave me a good view of the Rebel position, and ascertaining that it might be turned by its right, I ordered the whole Force to take ground obliquely to its left.

25. My Baggage and Rear Guards under Lieutenant-Colonel Turner, C. B., 97th Regiment, were halted in rear of the village of Loramow, where the road to the station of Sultanpore branches off from the road to Lucknow.

The movement of the Force, unperceived for a long time by the Enemy, brought it round his right completely out of fire; the shot from his heaviest Guns, when he at length caught sight of our flank march, falling far short of our columns.

26. The skirmishers, who had been moving in file to flank, covering this movement, now turned to the front, and, with the light Guns, closed on the Enemy's position, the whole Force advancing in two lines in their rear, on the right flank of the Enemy, who, disconcerted by being thus turned was compelled to change the position of his heavy Guns, most of which it rendered useless. The left of my Force now came on the high road to Lucknow, dividing the Enemy's line, a part of which at once retreated along that road, taking with them the 4 Guns which had been on their extreme right.

My right now rested on the Nullah, and the left beyond the village of Badshahgunje.

27. The left, circling gradually forward, drove the Enemy from the different points of his position placing him with his back to the deep Nullah before described, (which here made a bend round his rear) and entirely cutting him off from his line of retreat. Finally, his Central Battery of 5 heavy Guns was captured after an obstinate resistance, the Gunners standing by their pieces and serving them to the last.

The body of Hussun Ali's son was here found amidst slain, and the State palanquin of the Nazim lay in its neighbourhood.

28. After these Guns fell into our hands, the Enemy fled in all directions, escaping across the deep ravine in his rear. Three Guns and a considerable body, still retaining some formation retired towards the station of Sultanpore, near which, taking post about a temple and in a thick grove, they continued to fire till finally driven from their Guns by two Regiments of Goorkhas.

29. The action was now at an end: the plan beyond the ravines was every where covered with fugitives, whom my want of Cavalry precluded my pursuing, and the ravines prevented the further advance of the Guns. Two Guns of Captain Middleton's Battery, and the small detachment of British Horse, however, continued the pursuit for nearly two miles along a comparatively open strip of land, and overtook and captured in a ravine 2 Guns which the Enemy had succeeded in withdrawing so far.

30. Halting the main body of the Force to cover the collection of the captured Ordnance, I pursued that portion of the Enemy, which had retired by the Lucknow road, for four miles with the 20th and 97th Regiments, and four Battalions of Goorkhas; and the mounted Soldiers of the 10th, under Lieutenant Tucker, followed these Guns for nine miles; but so precipitate had been the Enemy's flight that they were unable to come up with them; but some ammunition waggons and much baggage fell into our possession.

31. Thus ended the battle of Sultanpore, in which, with only 11 Casualties on our side, an Army of about 25,000 Men was driven from a position of great strength, and scattered to the winds, with the loss of 1,800 Men killed and wounded, and leaving 21 Guns, 9 of them of siege calibre in our hands.

32. I am full of gratitude for the achievement of these great results with so trifling a loss of life.

The effect has been to open the road to Lucknow for the unopposed march of this Force, as well as for that of the Maharajah Jung Bahadoor who has taken this route, instead of that of Fyzabad, as he originally intended.

33. The Force halted after the action at Badshahgunje; where it was joined the same evening by the Lahore Light Horse, and Patham Horse under Captain Balmain. Next day was employed in the destruction of the whole of the captured Artillery, for which I had no means of transport and of the stores of ammunition and material for gun-carriages, which were found in the town of Badshahgunje, where the Nazim's gun-carriage manufactory appears to have been situated. On the evening of the 24th, the 3rd Seikh Horse, the remaining portion of the Cavalry, detached by His Excellency, reached me.

34. On the 25th, in compliance with the telegram from the Chief of the Staff received the previous night, the Force resumed its march, reaching the same day Moosafirkhana, 20 miles, and on the 26th Jugdespore, 16 miles, where it was found absolutely necessary to halt on the 27th, to give the cattle rest.

35. By the 28th February, I reached Hydurgurh, 16 miles, and on the 1st March halted at Selimpore, 18 miles from Lucknow; thus arriving as directed by His Excellency, within one march of that City on that date.

36. In this day's march occurred one of the most dashing Cavalry combats I have ever heard of.

Captain Aikman, Commanding the 3rd Seikh Cavalry, on the advanced picquet with 100 of his Men, having obtained information just as the Force marched on the morning of the 1st, of the proximity, three miles off the high road, of a body of 500 Rebel Infantry, and 200 Horse, with 2 Guns, under Moosahib Ali Chuchledar, attacked and utterly routed them, cutting up more than 100 Men, capturing the Guns, and driving the survivors into and over the Goomtee.

This feat was performed under every disadvantage of broken ground, and partially under the flanking fire of an adjoining Fort.

I regret to add, that Lieutenant Aikman received a severe sabre cut in the face; which will not I trust, long deprive me of the services of so enterprising an Officer.

37. On the evening of the 1st, the Force having made a march of eighteen miles encamped on the Nullah of Selimpore; with the Goomtee half a mile on its right. The town of the same name was abandoned by the Enemy at the first sight of our Cavalry, though the strong earth-works surrounding it, which must have been for weeks in course of construction, might have been expected to encourage them to withstand our advance.

38. Immediately on my arrival at Selimpore at 7 P. M. on the 1st March, I reported the circumstance by Cossid for his Excellency's information, and solicited further instructions. A duplicate of this Report was despatched by a second runner in the forenoon of the 2nd.

On the evening of the 3rd a messenger from Captain Bruce, Deputy Quarter Master General of the Army, brought me an order to advance on Lucknow.

39. Accordingly, on the 4th at 6 A. M., I marched from Selimpore, and reached without opposition a mosque a mile beyond the town of Ameythee, eight miles from Lucknow.

40. Here intelligence was brought that a large body of Rebels with 2 Guns were posted in and round the Fort at Dhowrara, two miles to the right of the road, and situated in very difficult ground amongst ravines which run into the Goomtee.

I had hitherto passed such Forts when situated at a distance from the road without taking any notice of their Garrisons, who almost universally evacuated them when left in rear of our Force.

But being apprehensive that this party, if left unmolested, might annoy my long train of baggage, I resolved to drive them out.

41. The main column under Brigadier Evelegh, C. B., moved on a mile further on the road to Goorsaheegunje, where it halted; while with the two Horse Artillery Guns of Lieutenant-Colonel D'Aguilar's Troop under Lieutenant Arbuthnot, a Squadron of 9th Lancers and some Seikh and Pathan Horse, the whole under Captain Coles, 9th Lancers, I examined the Fort. About 500 Rebels originally occupied it, while nearly 3,000 were collected in its vicinity, most of whom fled down the ravines and escaped over the river when they saw our Cavalry circling round their flanks: 200 however fell back and prepared to defend it.

42. The Enemy having opened fire on our approach from 2 small Guns, the two Horse Artillery Guns were brought into action at 600 yards, the Native Cavalry threatening the Enemy's flanks and the 9th Lancers being held in reserve well out of fire. The Guns were subsequently moved up successively to 400, 300 and 200 yards, but though they silenced the Enemy's Artillery fire, they failed in putting down that of the matchlockmen securely posted behind the parapet.

43. I therefore ordered up a Company of Marksmen from each British Regiment under Lieutenant-Colonel Longden, 10th Foot, and two 24-Pounder Howitzers of Major Cotter's Madras Battery; after a few rounds from which the outer enclosure of the Fort and the Guns mounted there were abandoned. But a sharp matchlock fire was still kept up from the loopholes which every where pierced the keep into which the greater part of the defenders had retired. The Company of the 10th Foot was now extended in a meadow on the river side of the Fort, and closed on it in that direction, while the Companies of 20th and 97th attacked it from the South-east. A few of the assailed, seeing themselves on the point of being surrounded, rushed out of the Fort, and attempted to escape up one of the ravines, but after a desperate resistance they were despatched by the Native Cavalry posted watching every outlet.

44. The Companies of the 20th and 97th now effected an entrance, gallantly headed by Captain Middleton, 29th Regiment, and Ensign Elton, 37th Native Infantry, attached to 10th Foot, and bayonetted about 120 of the occupants.

45. But a report was now brought from Brigadier Evelegh, that considerable bodies of the Enemy were hovering on his right front, and that he had disposed the Force to meet them.

46. Repeated attempts having failed to break down the door of a house in which the survivors had barricaded themselves, the shot from one of their own Guns which we turned against it, making no impression on the massive gate, a fire kindled against it having no effect, and my only Engineer Officer, Lieutenant Innes, having been severely wounded, while trying to burst open the entrance, I determined to withdraw from the place. The Guns having fallen into our hands, I considered it unnecessary to risk a further loss of life, and of time, especially as it was now represented that my presence was required with the Force. I accordingly drew off the Infantry; carrying with us the 2 captured Guns, whose removal was accomplished under the heavy matchlock fire which the Enemy continued to pour from the loopholes, principally by the personal labour and exertions of Lieutenant-Colonel Maberly, R. A., and his Quarter-Master Lieutenant Strange, R. A., of Captain Middleton, H. M.'s 29th Regiment, Provost Marshall to the Force, of Major Chichester, and Lieutenants Morgan and Gould, 97th Regiment, and Lieutenant Bradford, Madras Artillery.

47. I regret to add that Lieutenant Percy Smyth, 97th Regiment, a most brave and promising young Officer, here received a musket ball through the abdomen, from the effects of which he died the same night.

48. Galloping to the main body, I found that the alarm of attack had been caused by the appearance of a body of Horse, who had however fallen back towards the City.

The Force resuming its march, reached his Excellency's Camp without further interruption, the same evening.

49. It now becomes my pleasing duty to enumerate the Officers to whom I am indebted for their cordial support during the operations above described. Brigadier Evelegh, C. B., Commanding the British Brigade, and Lieutenant-Colonel Wroughton, in Military charge of the Goorkhas, deserve my warmest acknowledgments of the prompt and able manner in which they have seconded me in the three actions of Chanda, Amereepore, and Sultanpore. The Officers on their respective Staff, viz., Captain A. B. Johnson, 5th Regiment N. I., Brigade Major, British Brigade, Ensign Burne, 20th Regiment, Brigade Quarter-Master, and Captain Bennett, 20th Foot, Orderly Officer to Brigadier Evelegh, and Captain Steel, 17th N. I., Staff Officer to the Goorkha Force, are mentioned by the Officers under whom they serve as having rendered them every support in their several positions.

50. Lieutenant-Colonel E. Maberly, R. A., Commanding the Artillery of the Force, by his unwearied exertions and able performance of the arduous duties of organizing and superintending the Ordnance Park under circumstance of great difficulty, has earned my best thanks; and he has set a brilliant example to the Officers of his Arm in the Field in the different actions in which he has been present. Lieutenant-Colonel Maberly speaks in high terms of the Staff Officers attached to him; Lieutenants Smart and Strange of the Royal Artillery.

51. To Lieutenant-Colonels Fenwick, Lys and Ingram, Commanding respectively the 10th, 20th and 97th Regiments, I have to record my thanks for the skilful and spirited manner in which they invariably led their Regiments.

Lieutenant-Colonel Longden, 10th Foot, is an Officer second to few in Her Majesty's Service in attainments and experience; and I specially selected him on all occasions to Command my advanced Guard of Marksmen and light Guns, a duty invariably performed by him with an intelligence and gallantry not to be surpassed.

52. To Colonel Pulwan Singh, Commanding the Goorkha Force, I am under great obligations for his hearty co-operations; and he has been well supported by his Lieutenant-Colonels Shumshere Sing and Indra Sing, and by the Senior Major Chumpa Sing. The steadiness and intelligence of the Nepaulese Troops under these excellent leaders have been the subject of general admiration, and I have had occasion specially to allude to the conduct of the right Brigade in the action of Amereepore.

53. Major Cotter, Commanding a Battery of Madras Artillery; Captain Middleton, Commanding his own Battery of Royal Artillery; Captain Thring, Commanding a Battery of 9-Pounders, and Captain Waller, R. A., in charge of two 18-Pounders, rendered most efficient service by the masterly way in which they handled their Guns. Lieutenant Simeon, Bengal Artillery, Commanding two Bullock Guns, and Lieutenant Percivall, Bengal Artillery, Deputy Commissary of Ordnance, have merited my approbation.

54. Lieutenant T. T. McLeod Innes, Assistant Field Engineer, has been of the greatest assistance to me with his professional aid. I have already mentioned his distinguished conduct at the attack on the Fort of Dhowrara. It is now his due to relate that at the action of Sultanpore, far in advance of the leading skirmisher, he was the first to secure a Gun which the Enemy were abandoning. Retiring from this, they rallied round another Gun farther back, from which the shot would in another instant have ploughed through our advancing columns, when Lieutenant Innes rode up unsupported, shot the Gunner about to apply the match, and remaining undaunted at his post, the mark for a hundred matchlockmen, sheltered in some adjoining huts, kept the Artillery Men at bay, until assistance reached him. For this act of gallantry, surpassed by none within my experience, it is my intention to recommend him for the honorable distinction of the Victoria Cross.

55. The Cavalry was Commanded at Chanda by Lieutenant Tucker, 8th Light Cavalry, at Sultanpore, by Captain Matheson, late 13th Irregular Cavalry, and the excellent services of these Officers are duly appreciated by me. The 1st named Officer made a most dashing charge at Sultanpore with the 25 mounted Men of H. M.'s 10th Regiment, and killed numbers of the Enemy.

56. Lieutenant Cary, 37th Regiment Native Infantry, in charge of the Treasure Chest, and Captain Middleton, H. M.'s 29th Regiment, Provost Marshall, invariably accompanied me in the Field, and were most useful in carrying orders. The latter Officer has already been mentioned as actively instrumental in withdrawing the captured Guns at Dhowrara, and throughout the time he has been with the Force he has displayed in no small degree activity, intelligence, and daring.

57. The Medical arrangements of the Force under Surgeon C. A. Gordon, M. D., 10th Foot, have met with my entire approval, and the Commissariat Officers, Lieutenant Chalmers, 53rd Native Infantry, Lieutenant H. R. Wroughton, 40th Native Infantry, and Lieutenant Bolton, 50th Native Infantry, have been most assiduous and successful in the discharge of very arduous duties, as has Lieutenant Rawlins, 17th Madras Native Infantry, Baggage Master. Messieurs Lind, Jenkinson and Venables, Civil Service, accompanied the Force in the action at Chanda and Amereepore. In the former action Mr. Venables, charging the flying Enemy with the Cavalry, with whom he did good service, received a severe spear wound through the thigh.

58. Mr. P. Carnegy, Special Commissioner with the Force, and head of the Intelligence Department, has rendered me most valuable aid. His information regarding the Enemy has proved so correct, that on it alone the whole of my operations might have been planned: he has always accompanied me in the Field and assisted in conveying orders under the heaviest fire. To his knowledge of the locality and skilful guidance is to be principally attributed the capture of the 2 Guns which I have mentioned in the 29th paragraph of this report as having been overtaken by Captain Middleton, R. A.

59. To the Officers of my personal Staff my best thanks are due.

Captain Havelock, 18th Royal Irish, late 10th Foot, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, merits my special acknowledgments. On my appointment to this Command in December last he hastened to join me, though still suffering from severe wounds received at Lucknow.

Since then his great intelligence, unwearied energy, and devotion to his duties, have won him the admiration of every one in this Force.

60. Lieutenant J. Wall, 87th R. I. Fusiliers, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General, and my Aide-de-Camp Lieutenant H. Henderson, 10th Foot, have afforded me the most zealous and efficient support in their respective positions, and I beg to commend them to the favorable consideration of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

61. I should be committing an injustice were I to omit to mention the Officers who Commanded the Rear and Baggage Guards of my Force; Lieutenant-Colonels Turner, C. B., Legh, and Burton, of the 97th, Majors Radcliffe and Butler, of the 20th, Chichester, of the 97th Regiment, and Pennycuick, R. A. To the strict performance of most unattractive duties by these Officers, not less than the patient endurance of exposure by day and night of fatigue and hunger by the Men under their Command do I owe the fact, that not one single article of Baggage nor one animal has fallen into the hands of the Enemy.

To estimate correctly the value of these services it must be recollected that a train of upwards of 2,000 carts, drawn in many instances by very inferior cattle, has been safely conducted, most of the time, without any aid from Cavalry, over roads often unbridged and nearly impassable, and through a country swarming with a hostile population. Amongst these Officers, Lieutenant-Colonel Turner, C. B., 97th Regiment, claims my special commendation for his masterly disposition of his Rear and Baggage Guards at the village of Loramow during the battle of Sultanpore.

On the splendid discipline, firm constancy and dashing courage displayed by this Force, both Officers, and Men, it is needless for me to dilate; the results they have gained will speak, for themselves. Suffice it to say that it has marched 130 miles, has beaten an immensely superior Enemy in four actions, and has captured* (34) thirty-four pieces of Ordnace with the loss in all of only 37 Officers and Men killed and wounded.

* Including 3 captured at Nusutpore, on 23rd January 1858.

I beg to record here, before too late, my thanks to the Officers who invariably Commanded the three Companies of selected marksmen (who formed my advanced guards and were always the first to encounter the Enemy); Captain Norman, 10th Foot, Captain Lyons, 20th, and Major Chichester, 97th Regiment.

Returns of Killed, Wounded and Missing, with Nominal lists of the Casualties and Returns of captured Ordnance, are enclosed herewith.

I have the honor to be,
SIR,
Your most obdt. humble Servt,

Sir,

By desire of the Commander-in-Chief, I have the honor to forward for submission to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, copy of a Report, dated the 6th Instant, from Major-General Sir J. E. W. Inglis, K. C. B., Commanding Cawnpore Division, of his recent expedition to Hurra, in which the portion of the 8th Irregular Cavalry, engaged under the Command of Captain A. M. Mackenzie, behaved with marked gallantry.

Forward copy of a Report from Major-General Inglis regarding gallant conduct of a portion of the 8th Irregular Cavalry at Hurra.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

From

Major-Genl. Sir J. E. W. Inglis, K. C. B.,

To

The Depy. Adjt. Genl. of the Army.

Dated Cawnpore, 6th April 1858.

Sir,

Agreeably to instructions received from His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief through the Chief of the Staff, I assembled the Force, noted in the accompanying Return, at Oonao, on the evening of the 4th, and marched for Hurra at 3 A. M. on the 5th. On approaching that place, which is surrounded on three sides by an immense mangoe tope, some Sowars of the Enemy were observed by our advanced Cavalry to retire rapidly; as we neared the village two or three shots were fired, and information received that the Enemy, not more than 200 or 300 in number, were escaping to our left front. I immediately directed Captain Mackenzie, Commanding 8th Irregular Cavalry, to follow and ascertain their movements, and I have the honor to enclose the Report of that Officer, by which it will be perceived that he followed the fugitives, and cut to pieces the Rebel leader and 25 of his Men. I then entered the village of Hurra which is naturally an exceeding strong position, and having ascertained from Captain Evans, the Deputy Commissioner, that he considered it would tend more to the quieting of the District to establish Thannah there than to destroy the Fort, I placed 200 Matchlockmen and Burkundauzes in the post, which I have no doubt they will hold against any Force that be brought against them.

In conclusion, I beg to be permitted to bring to the favorable notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the excellent services rendered by Captain Mackenzie, who, with the faithful remnant of his corps, most gallantly charged and destroyed a troublesome Enemy (Lultah Sing) and his body guard all of whom rallied around their leader and fought desperately. The conduct of the Native Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men was admirable, as also was that of Assistant Surgeon Currie, who accompanied Captain Mackenzie, and whose care of the wounded afterwards was unremitting.

Captain Evans was with me the whole time, and I am much indebted to him for the valuable information his local knowledge enabled him to afford.

I reached Oonao on my return at 5-15 P. M., yesterday, and the Force marched into Cawnpore this morning.

I have the honor to be,

(Signed) J. Inglis, Major-Genl.,

To

THE ASSIST. ADJUTANT GENERAL,

Central India Field Force.

Camp Chandairee, 17th March 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of the Major-General Commanding Central India Field Force, that the Fort of Chandairee was carried by assault at 5 A. M., this day, by the Troops of this Brigade. The breach was reported practicable last evening and proved a fair one; the impetuous rush of the stormers of the 86th and 25th Regiments, carried everything before it Captain Keatinge, Political Assistant, was, I regret to say, severely wounded whilst forward in the storming party. I beg to enclose a List of Casualties on our side. The loss of the Enemy is unknown at present; but, in and about the Fort, there are from forty to fifty bodies. Their flight was most precipitate, and they scattered over the surrounding jungle in every direction, with the exception of about two hundred, who, somewhat in a body, fled northwards. All the Guns in the Fort, eight of iron and two of brass, are in our possession. Major Robertson is in charge of the Fort, but I propose to make it over to the Sir Soobah of Scindiah, after having entirely demolished the bastion we breached. The town of Chandairee is now entirely freed from Rebels, and the inhabitants are resuming their occupations. The Sir Soobah has now charge of the gates of it, which, up to this morning, have been strongly held by the Rebels, who cut off all communication with it from my Brigade.

2. Lieutenant Dowker arrived here at half past 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, giving me information of the approach of Captain Abbott, with a considerable body of Irregular Cavalry, from the northwards. I instantly despatched a letter by a Native Officer's party of the 3rd Regiment C. H. C. to Captain Abbott, informing him of my intended attack on Chandairee this morning, and desiring him to invest the North side of the Fort. This letter most unfortunately never* reached Captain Abbott, and to its mis-carriage must be attributed the escape of some of the Enemy.

* Till this day at noon at this place.

3. I shall forward a Despatch giving all particulars of the Siege of Chandairee, for the information of the Major-General, as soon as possible.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) C. S. STUART Brigadier,

Comdg. 1*st Brigade C. I. Field Force.*

The 23rd March 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to forward two letters as per margin, as also copy of letter No. 336, of this date, addressed by me to Colonel Milman, Commanding at Azimgurh, for submission to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

Letter marked A, dated March 1858, from Colonel Milman, Commanding Field Force.
Letter marked B, dated Ghazeepore, 22nd March 1858, from Colonel Dames, Commanding at Azimgurh.

I have the honor to be,
SIR,
Your most obedi nt Servant,
(Signed) A. GORDON, Brigadier,
Commanding at Benares.

FROM

COLONEL MILMAN,
Comdg. Azimgurh Field Force.

TO

BRIGADIER GORDON,
Commanding at Benares.
Camp Azimgurh, 22*nd March* 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that in consequence of a communication received from R. Davies, Esquire, Magistrate of Azimgurh, I marched from Camp Koelsa at about 3 A. M. on the 21st Instant, and proceeded to Atrowlia, so as to arrive at the latter place at daylight, with detail as per margin.

H. M.'s 37th Regiment. 98 Rank and File.
One 24-Pr. Howitzer. One 9-Pr. Bengal Artillery.
25 European Gunners.
140 Madras Light Cavalry.

Information had been received that a considerable body of Mutineers were in the neighbourhood of Atrowlia. I found them posted in several topes of mangoe trees, and advanced with skirmishers thrown out in front, the Guns being supported by a party of H. M.'s 37th Regiment and the Madras Light Cavalry on the flanks under the Command of Colonel Cumberlege.

I followed them for some distance as they retired, when shortly afterwards they were driven into the open country. The Cavalry were then enabled to act, and cut up a few of the Rebels, but the ground was so marshy and unsound for the Horses, that the pursuit could not be continued. Lieutenant Welsh, however, opened fire with a 24-Pounder Howitzer, and sending a shell right in the midst of them, completed the discomfiture of the Rebels, who quickly dispersed amongst the neighbouring trees. After this, I continued my march to Lorkha, which place I reached without any further occurrence, and set the village on fire. Having effected the object for which I marched from Koelsa, I quietly marched back to Atrowlia. The Men were halted in the neighbourhood of this village in a tope of trees, and breakfast was being prepared by the cooks, when news was brought in suddenly that the Rebels were advancing in great force. I proceeded with some skirmishers to ascertain their strength and position, and found them strongly posted behind a mud wall in the midst of topes of trees and sugar-cane. I then sent back orders to the Troops to advance; but the number of the Rebels increased so fast, and they covered such a large space of ground, that both my flanks were threatened. Accordingly I took up my position on a rising piece of ground slightly in rear. The Rebels attempted to turn my left flank, and I withdrew into and through the village of Atrowlia at about 12 P. M., and moved slowly on Koelsa, my flanks and rear being covered by the Cavalry. The Rebels, though they followed and fired at a distance, the whole way, never once inflicted the slightest damage. Finding on my arrival at Koelsa that the Camp was threatened, and that the whole population in the district was disaffected, I despatched a Squadron of Cavalry, supported by a small Infantry Picquet, to watch the Rebels. They were quickly charged by the Cavalry and suffered a heavy loss, twenty-one dead bodies being counted on the Field, besides wounded. Information was, however, received that a large body of Rebels, estimated at some 5,000, were advancing on the Camp. This created such a panic amongst the Camp-followers, that many of the hackery drivers left their carts, and all the Company's cooks ran away. Under those circumstances, and taking into consideration the position of my Camp, which was very untenable in case of a night attack, and that no supplies, or liquor of any kind whatever could be obtained for the Men, I judged it expedient to retire upon Azimgurh, which I reached safely early this morning. In making this movement, I regret to say that, in consequence of many of the hackery drivers having run away, as I previously stated, I was compelled to leave a few tents and some baggage behind.

The loss of the Rebels, I judge, must have been some seventy Men killed. The Casualties on our side were very trifling; two Gunners grazed by bullets, one Trooper Madras Cavalry severely wounded, and one Sowar mortally, since dead.

Nothing could exceed the steadiness of the Troops under my Command, and I must particularly mention the able assistance of Colonel Cumberlege, of the 4th Madras Light Cavalry, Commanding, of Captain Pelly, Commanding Detachment H. M.'s 37th Regiment, Lieutenant Welsh, Bengal Artillery, for precision in firing, and moving his Guns in bad ground. The Men marched nearly forty-eight miles by road, exclusive of the ground that was gone over when in action, and upon very scanty fare during the whole time.

Lieutenant Ricketts, 43rd B. N. I., acted as Staff Officer to my Force, and he displayed great zeal and activity in his duty.

The Rebels consisted chiefly of Sepoys of Koer Singh's Force, and on the bodies of the slain were found Sutlej and other Medals.

I have the honor to be,
SIR,
Your most obedient Servant,
EGERTON MILMAN,

No. 84 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India is pleased to publish for general information, the following Despatch from Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, K. C. B., Commanding Central India Field Force, reporting his operations against the Fort of Garacota, on the 10th and 11th February 1858.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,
Secy. to the Govt. of India, Mily. Dept.,
with the Governor General.

FROM
MAJOR-GENL. SIR HUGH ROSE, K. C. B.,
Comdg. Central India Field Force.
TO MAJOR-GENL. MANSFIELD,
Chief of the Staff,
Lucknow.
Camp Comeiri, the 9th March 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to state to you, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, as follows :—

The Rebels of the Bundlecund, Shaghur, Saugor, and Nerbudda Districts, having obtained ascendancy in these Districts, had, before my Force arrived at Rathghur, invested Saugor from all sides, except one; having occupied the Fort of Rathghur, to its West, the fortified Camp of Nowreowlee, and the Fort of Koraye, to its North-East, the Fort of Sanoda and Garacota, to its East.

The Fort of Rehle, to the South-East, was gallantly held by Lieutenant Dickens, Commanding a Detachment of the 31st Bengal Native Infantry. The only road which was open, from Saugor, was the one leading to Nursingpore, and this road was frequented by Rebels, and only travelled by escorts.

The advance of the 2nd Brigade Central India Field Force, to Saugor, and its previous operations had relieved Saugor from any thing like investment and opened its communications with the West and the North, so that I was enabled to communicate from Saugor, through Koraye, with Major Orr, Commanding the Advanced Guard of my 1st Brigade at Goonah on the Mhow and Agra Grand Trunk Road; and single Officers and Stores had arrived unmolested at Saugor, from Mhow and Bombay, by the Sehore, and Bhopal Road, both of which lines of communications I had opened with my two Brigades, in obedience to my instructions.

It now remained for my Second Brigade to open communications from Saugor towards the East, and to cut through the line which the Rebels had drawn from Duttiah and Jhansi, to the Nerbudda. As the best means of doing so, I determined to attack the Fort of Garacota.

Sir Robert Hamilton, Major Western, Deputy Commissioner of the Saugor District, and myself, were of opinion that it would be dangerous for Saugor to leave in the hands of the Rebels so important a stronghold on its right flank, more especially as it was garrisoned by Sepoys, of the 52nd and other Regiments, and the consequences and the moral effect would have been bad, if I had advanced against the Rebels to the North, with Garacota unsubdued in my rear.

Having, the day after my arrival at Saugor, detached Sappers and Minersunder Lieutenant Prendergast, to destroy, as much as possible, the works of Nowreowlee, twelve miles from Saugor, I sent Captain Hare, with his Detachments of all arms of the Hyderabad Contingent, to take the little Fort of Sanoda, where the Rebels had stores of Supplies; and directed him, at the same time, to render the ford of the River Beos practicable for the Siege Artillery for the operations against Garacota.

On hearing of Captain Hare's approach, the Rebels fled from Sanoda, which they had been repairing. He found large supplies of Grain. He destroyed the front face, and restored a good deal of plunder to the villagers, who complained bitterly that the Rebels had robbed them of everything, and inflicted the greatest cruelties on them, to force them to give up their property; their nakedness and the barbarous mutilations of the persons of several of them attested the truth of what they said. However, Captain Hare is of opinion, that such is the anarchy caused by rebellion in this part of the country, that many ofthe plundered villagers, reduced to ruin, have become Plunders and Rebels themselves.

Knowing the good effect, which rapid operations have on the Enemy, and the value of the cool weather for the extensive operations which I had before me, I made the three marches from Saugor to Garacota in two days, and encamped on the 10th February, near the village of Bussaree, which is close to Garacota; a Detachment of 3rd Bombay Light Cavalry, well conducted by Lieutenant Dick, having cut up a picket of 16 Rebels, which, I had information, was posted at a village two miles from Garacota.

Garacota is strong in every way. It is situated between two rivers, the "Giddaree" and the "Sonar," which may be said to act as ditches to it; it is surrounded, except on the East, by forest, jungle, and the towns of Garacota and Hirdanuggur; its defences are so strong, that in 1818, a British Force of 11,000 Men, with 28 Siege Guns was unable to make a breach in them, and the beseigers, running short of ammunition, the garrison was allowed to evacute the Fort with the honors of war.

The evening of my arrival before Garacota, I drove in, with some Guns of the Horse Artillery, and Captain Lightfoot's Battery, and skirmishers of the 3rd Europeans, the Enemy, who wished to prevent our occupation of the village of Bussaree; the 3rd Europeans, covered by Artillery, storming some houses still more in advance, and taking a ridge, close to the walls. During the night and next morning, the Sepoys, in numbers, attempted to re-take the position, but were immediately repulsed by Lieutenant-Colonel Liddell, Commanding the Advanced Posts, and two 9-Pounders, under Captain Lightfoot, with which I had re-inforced him.

The next morning, Lieutenant-Colonel Liddell having reported to me that it would be desirable to take a hamlet, which had good views of and was near the North face of the Fort, I directed Lieutenant-Colonel Turnbull to shell it, and Lieutenant-Colonel Liddell to pass through some jungle and occupy the hamlet. The Mutineers came in numbers out of the Fort and an entrenched Camp to the South, to oppose the advance of the 3rd, their Buglers repeating the English skirmishing calls; but with the difference, that the 3rd went as rapidly forward as the Mutineers went to the rear, when the advance was sounded.

Lieutenant Dickens had written to me from Rehle, that when I attacked Garacota, he would advance from Rehle, and take possession of the Paunch Ghat, a ford to the South of the Fort, from whence he could prevent the Rebels from escaping by the Dummoh Road to Shaghur, which would be their most probable line of escape. In order to communicate with this Officer, and connect my cordon of investment with him I made, with Brigadier Stewart, a complete reconnoissance of the whole of the country round Garacota. My guide assured me that Lieutenant Dickens could not hold the Paunch Ghat, because it was close to the defences of the Fort, and formed part of Garacota and Hardeenuggur, which the Enemy held. This made me the more anxious to reach Lieutenant Dickens and assist him. I therefore pushed on the reconnoissance through Hardeenugger to the Paunch Ghat, where Lieutenant Dickens had not arrived. The Enemy had marked the ranges, and fired pretty accurately at the reconnoissance, but with no casualties. Skirmishers endeavoured to oppose my passage across the ford; but, with the 3rd Europeans and Irregular Cavalry, I drove them back, took their entrenchments on the opposite bank, and, crossing the second river returned to Camp, after thirteen hours' marching. The reconnoissance seized a noted Rebel, the Lumbardar of the village of Majiowa.

On my return, I found a letter from Lieutenant Dickens, stating that he had received subsequent information that Paunch Ghat could not be held, and had therefore not gone to it.

As the reconnoissance made the circuit of the Fort, I left Troops of all arms in position, investing the North-East, East, and South-East of the Fort; the Troops in Camp guarded the North and North-West. Having reckoned on the Rehle Detachment for the Southern investment, that part remained blank. On my return to Camp, I gave orders to Captain Hare to occupy, with his Detachment of all arms, the Paunch Ghat, which was at some distance; before he could arrive there, the Enemy had fled from the Fort by the Paunch Ghat and other outlets not watched in that direction.

However, I ought to add, that even if the Paunch Ghat had been occupied, it would have been quite impossible to have invested completely Garacota, with a force of my numbers, which, strictly speaking, was only sufficiently strong to guard its Camp, Field, and Siege Artillery.

My Force was even more than usually weak; as in order to protect Saugor in my absence, I had left there a Troop of H. M.'s 14th Light Dragoons, and two Companies of the 24th Regiment. I had also sent the 31st and 42nd B. N. I. to Koraye to guard Saugor from the possibility of an attack from the North.

Every one on going round the Fort was surprised how the Rebels could have abandoned so rapidly a place of such strength, the thickness of the walls varying from fifteen to twenty-four feet.

Every thing gave evidence of a sudden panic; the Rebels had only half kneaded their cakes, and they left their Guns in the entrenched Camp, without attempting to carry them off. Their rapid abandonment of the Fort was the more remarkable, because the immense supplies, the native Mint found in the Fort, and other circumstances, induced the belief that the Rebels intended to make Garacota the seat of their Central Government; the only money now current in Garacota are the 13 anna Rupees, coined in this Mint.

During the reconnoissance, Lieutenant-Colonel Turnbull fired with the 8-inch Howitzer at a Gun, in the North face of the Fort, which was annoying the Troops in the advanced posts; the first shot of the Howitzer blew in the embrasure, dismounted the Gun, and blew off the head of the Sepoy in a red jacket with an English Medal, and two Clasps, who served it. I have no doubt that this good shot, one of the many good shots made under fire by Lieutenant Strutt, B. A., whom I beg to recommend to your Excellency as a promising Artillery Officer, made the Sepoys reflect, that many such Casualties might thin their numbers during the siege; but I think that the fall of Rathghur, and preparations for an investment, also intimidated them. I have observed that nothing alarms the Rebels more than a move to cut off their retreat.

I have the honor to enclose a list of Artillery found in the Fort, and of Casulties, which I am happy to say are light.

I sent off, immediately Captain Hare, with half a Troop of Horse Artillery; a Troop of H. M's 14th Light Dragoons, under Captain Need, and a Troop of the Hyderabad Cavalry, in pursuit of the Rebels by a route, which, from information I had received, I thought would enable him to cut into their line of retreat. They had, as I supposed, made a round to the South, and then turned northwards towards Shaghur.

Captain Hare came up with the rear of the Rebels, as they had just crossed the river Beas, at the village of Bear.

The river was not practicable for Guns; Captain Hare therefore sent the Troop of H. M.'s 14th Light Dragoons, under Captain Need, and the Hyderabad Cavalry, across the river, after the Enemy; they cut up 70 or 100 of them, of whom the greater part were Mutineers of the 52nd and other Native Regiments. They had all abundance of ammunition and copper caps. Captain Hare speaks highly of the conduct on this occasion of Captain Need and his Troop. Captain Hare describes him "as a good and dashing Officer;" he killed with his own hand, five of the Rebels, of whom three were Sepoys, and pursued with his gallant Troop the Rebels till dark. I beg to recommend Captain Need to your Excellency, as well as Captain Hare for his intelligence and activity in pursuing and coming up with the Rebels.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

Hugh Rose, Major-General,

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF,

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 30th April 1858.

FORT WILLIAM, 21ST APRIL 1858.

No. 616 of 1858.——The following notification issued from the Foreign department with the Right Honorable the Governor General, is published in General Orders:

No. 586, the 12*th April* 1858.—The Right Honorable the Governor General is pleased to direct that the following letter from Brigadier General Franks, bringing prominently to notice the names of officers lately attached to the Jounpore field force, be published for general information.

His Lordship takes this opportunity to offer his cordial acknowledgments of their valuable services to Lieutenant Colonel Wroughton and the several officers named by Brigadier General Franks.

No. 151.

From

BRIGADIER GENERAL FRANKS,

Commanding 4th Division,

To

COLONEL BIRCH, C. B.,

Secretary to the Govt. of India, in the Mily. dept.

SIR, Camp Mahomed Bagh, before Lucknow, the 12th March 1858.

THE Jounpore field force, of which I have had command since early in December last, having recently been broken up and incorporated with the Army under the personal command of His Excellency the Commander in Chief, as the 4th division, I consider it to be due to the British officers attached to the Goorka portion of the force, prominently to bring their names before the Right Honorable the Governor General.

2. I have at all times received the most hearty co-operation from Lieutenant Colonel Wroughton, in military charge. His tact and management of the Goorkas have already gained for him the thanks of the Governor General in Council, and his spirited conduct at the head of the force at the actions of Chanda, Ameerpore, and Sultanpore, have been cordially acknowledged by me in my despatch regarding these battles. I beg strongly to recommend this officer to the particular notice of Government.

His great knowledge of the Native character and language pre-eminently fit him for a responsible situation, such as he now holds.

3. Captain Steel, Staff Officer to the force, is highly spoken of by Colonel Wroughton, and he has been mentioned favourably in my despatch. Captain Steel has been present in nearly every engagement in which the Goorkas have taken part.

4. The following officers have been attached and have seen service with the different Goorka battalions, viz. Captain Boileau, who was in military charge of the right column, Captain Miles, the left column, and Lieutenant Smith, the centre column, and Lieutenants Clark, Gully, and Hay, attached to those columns; also Lieutenant Hind, who has lately been appointed to the force, and joined previous to the recent engagements.

Of every one of these officers, Colonel Wroughton speaks in the highest terms as having afforded him most efficient assistance, and I have much pleasure in bearing testimony to their worth.

5. Assistant Surgeons Paske, Wright, Garden, and Squire have, I have been informed by Colonel Wroughton, in every way upheld the good name of their profession by their attention to their duties.

6. In conclusion, I have to express my great obligations to the whole of these officers, military and medical, for the great and cordial assistance they have always rendered on all occasions, and I beg that their services may be brought to the notice of Government.

I have the honor to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

(Signed) T. H. FRANKS, Brigadier General,

Commanding 4th Division.

P. S.—I here beg to add, what I have omitted in the body of this letter, that my acknowledgments are particularly due to Lieutenant Wemyss Smith, 58th regiment native infantry, attached to the Goorka force, who, at the battle of Sultanpore, acted as my orderly officer, and whose knowledge of the locality, resulting from his having been stationed there at the time of the mutiny, was of great assistance to me. Towards the close of the action, I detached him in charge of two battalions of Goorkas, who pursued a body of the retreating enemy, and secured 3 guns which they were endeavouring to withdraw.

The Right Honorable the Governor General has been pleased to make the following appointment:

No. 607.—General Van Cortlandt to be Deputy Commissioner, first class, Hissar.

No. 621 of 1858.——The following Act passed by the Legislative Council of India, received the assent of the Right Honorable the Governor General on the 4th April 1858, and is published in General Orders:

The 17*th April* 1858.

ACT No. XIII OF 1858.

An Act for the punishment of persons who unlawfully possess or conceal arms or other property belonging to Her Majesty or to the East India Company.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the punishment of persons who shall knowingly and unlawfully have in their possession or conceal arms, horses, or other property belonging to Her Majesty or to the East India Company; it is enacted as follows:

In districts to which this Act is extended by Government, Magistrate to issue proclamation calling upon persons to deliver up property belonging to Her Majesty or the East India Company.

I. In any district to which the provisions of this Act shall be extended by order of the Governor General in Council, or the Executive Government of any Presidency or place, the Magistrate shall issue a proclamation calling upon all persons within his district, having in their possession any arms, ammunition, horse or other animal, or any Government Stamps, or other property belonging to Her Majesty or to the East India Company, to deliver up the same to the Magistrate, or at the nearest police station, within a time to be fixed by the proclamation; and whoever, after the expiration of the time so fixed, shall, without lawful or reasonable excuse, have in his possession any arms, ammunition, horse or other animal, or any Government Stamps or other property, knowing the same to belong to Her Majesty or to the East India Company, shall on conviction be liable to the punishment of transportation for life, or of imprisonment with hard labor for a term not exceeding fourteen years, either with or without fine, or to a fine alone, or to corporal punishment not exceeding thirty stripes with a ratan.

Punishment for unlawful possession of such property.

Punishment for concealing or neglecting to deliver up property after issue of proclamation.

II. After any such proclamation shall have been issued, whoever, having in his possession any such property as aforesaid, knowing it to belong to Her Majesty or to the East India Company, shall, without lawful or reasonable excuse, conceal or attempt to conceal the same, or neglect to deliver it up as required by the proclamation, shall be liable on conviction to the punishment provided by the preceding section.

Jurisdiction.

III. For offences under this Act, the offender may be tried and sentenced by a Sessions Judge, or by a Special Commissioner appointed in the manner provided by Act XIV of 1857; and the sentence or judgment shall not be subject to appeal, provided that a European British subject shall not be tried under the provisions of this Act.

Act not to exempt persons from punishment under Act XVI of 1857.

IV. Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to exempt any person from any punishment to which he may be liable under Act XVI of 1857 (to make temporary provision for the trial and punishment of heinous offences in certain districts.)

Duration of Act.

V. This Act shall continue in force for the period of two years, from the time of the passing thereof.

No. 337.

FROM

BRIGADIER T. SEATON, C. B.,
Comdg. Futtehgurh District.

TO

THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF,
Head Quarters.

Dated Futtehgurh, the 7th April 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that as the Rebels at Soorujpore Ghaut near Kumpil, were greatly increasing in numbers, and were beginning to send parties of Horsemen across the Ganges to plunder the country and collect revenue, and as I had no sufficient Cavalry to oppose them, I deemed it best, under all circumstances, to make a sudden move across the river on their main body posted near Bangown and its vicinity.

2. Accordingly last night, I moved out with the Troops at my disposal, as per margin, and taking with me a day's provisions and ammunition only, and came upon the Enemy posted at the village of Khankhur, and in groves of trees on the right and left. I formed Her Majesty's 82nd into line with loosened files, and the 7th Punjaub Infantry in a second line, and with the Cavalry on my left flank, and the Artillery on my right front, I advanced against the Enemy's position.

Artillery.—7th Company 14th Battalion Royal Artillery, with No. 4 Field Battery.
6 Officers and 74 of other Ranks.
Natives.—1 Non-Commissioned Officer and 13 Syce Drivers.
Her Majesty's 82nd Regiment attached to Artillery.—1 Officer and 13 of other Ranks.
Ordnance.—One 24-Pounder Howitzer.
Do.—Two 9-Pounder and two 6-Pounder Guns.
Total.—5 Guns, 7 Officers, and 101 of other Ranks.
European Infantry, H. M.'s 82nd Regiment.—33 Officers and 677 of other Ranks.
Punjaub Irregular Infantry, 7th Regiment.—6 European Officers and 6 Native Officers, and 180 of other Ranks.
Irregular Cavalry, Alexander's Horse.—1 European Officer, 1 Native Officer, and 89 of other Ranks.
Horsemen attached to 7th Punjaub Infantry.—3 Native Officers and 50 of other Ranks.
Futtehgurh Organized Police Battalion.—1 European Officer, 6 Native Officers, and 165 of other Ranks.
Total of Native Cavalry.—2 European Officers, 10 Natives, and 204 of other Ranks.

3. The Rebel Cavalry showed strongly on my right and left; Major Smith opened with his Guns on the Cavalry on the right, and a few rounds drove them back.

4. In the meantime the large body on the left advanced towards me, and got into the dry bed of a nullah about 700 yards off. As we could see their heads, I made the 82nd open fire on them, and in ten minutes, they also retreated as hard as they could. Our Artillery now commenced firing on the Enemy's Guns on our left; they replied feebly, and the shot went mostly over our heads. I steadily advanced against the village, the Rebels going off in numbers as we approached, and on getting up to it, the Rebels fled precipitately, abandoning 1 Gun, a "10-Pounder."

5. There were a good many Rebels in and about the village, and in rear of it; Lieutenant-Colonel Hale therefore, at my desire, brought the 82nd round, and destroyed every one we could find.

6. After gaining the village, I sent the Cavalry in pursuit; they returned in about an hour, having killed a number of the fugitives, and captured several standards, together with a small Gun, "a zumbooruk."

7. I now moved into the groves of trees lately occupied by the Enemy, planted videttes all round, and bivouacked until the afternoon; and at ½ past 3 o'clock commenced my homeward march. I fully expected that during the day the Enemy, collecting their forces from the villages of Mungla and Patin, distant about two or three miles, would have attacked me, but their consternation at my unexpected attack was so great, that they did not, though for some hours their Horsemen continued to hover about, when they finally disappeared in the direction of Ala Gunge.

8. The numbers of the Enemy are estimated at 800 Horse, amongst them 100 of the late Oude Military Police Horsemen, and 1,800 Infantry, including some Sepoys of the 41st and 10th Native Infantry, and Gwalior Contingent. They left as trophies in our hands the 10-Pounder Gun (native manufacture) already mentioned, and 2 small Guns, several standards, some tents, a heap of papers, the possession of which will afford much useful information, and a large quantity of ammunition, which, for want of sufficient draft cattle, I destroyed.

9. The great Enemies we had to encounter, were the long march out and home, full forty miles, the great heat of the weather and scarcity of water, for all along the road, the wells were few and the water foul; but the patience and determination of the Troops was worthy of all praise, and enabled me to strike a smart blow (for the loss of the Enemy was upward of 250 killed) and bring to a successful termination an operation that will, I trust, have the effect of showing them, that if they are not safe in their present position between two rivers, it would be dangerous for them to cross to our side. As soon as I learn the effects of this punishment, I will report the result to His Excellency.

10. My best thanks are due to all the Troops engaged, Officers and Men, and I trust that His Excellency will appreciate their services. The Officers Commanding Corps and Detachments were—

Brevet-Major C. H. Smith, Royal Artillery, Commanding Artillery.

Lieutenant-Colonel E. B. Hale, Commanding Her Majesty's 82nd Regiment.

Captain E. L. Stafford, Commanding 7th Punjaub Infantry.

Lieutenant M. R. St. John, Commanding Detachment Alexander's Horse.

Lieutenant C. Dekantzow, Commanding Futtehgurh Organized Police Battalion.

My Staff Captain W. H. Hawes, Major of Brigade.

Lieutenant W. Mylne, Deputy Assistant Commissary General.

Lieutenant W. C. Ryves, (Second in Command Futtehgurh Levy), Orderly Officer.

11. Messrs. Vansittart and Power, Civil Service, and Captain Bradford, Assistant Commissioner, accompanied the Troops to render any assistance they could, and I feel very greatly obliged to them. I must not omit to mention Deputy Magistrate Mirza Abbas Beg, who also accompanied me, and whose services in getting intelligence, have been most invaluable ever since I came here. He is a most valuable servant of Government.

12. On my return to Futtehgurh I learnt that the Rebel gangs at Ala Gunge and Jerahpore, Mow, opposite to Bichpooriyah Ghaut, had broken up their bridge-of-boats at the first named place. I am just informed, however, now that our Force has returned, that they are re-building the same, most probably to enable the beaten Troops to pass over the Ramgunga.

13. Enclosed I have the honor to attach a Nominal Roll of the European Officers and Men killed and wounded, and a general Casualty Return of the Force which accompanied me.

Sir,

I have the honor, by direction of the Commander-in-Chief, to enclose copy of a letter, dated 15th Ultimo No. 2 A, from Brigadier St. G. D. Showers, C. B., Commanding Agra and Muttra District, reporting his relief of the village of Pinahut and defeat of Rebels in the ravines of the Chumbul, which I am to beg you will submit to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General.

With a Report from Brigadier Showers of the relief of the village of Pinahut and defeat of a body of Rebels in the ravines of the Chumbul.

The Order of Merit has been bestowed on Sepoy Kassee Sing, 72nd Native Infantry, for gallant conduct.

2. His Excellency desires me to state that under the provisions of Government General Order No. 698, of 19th May 1857, he has directed the bestowal of the 3rd Class Order of Merit on Sepoy Kasee Sing, of the 72nd Regiment Native Infantry, for his gallant conduct in this affair.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

To

The Deputy Assistant Adjt. Genl.,

Meerut Division.

Camp Jeorah, 15th March 1858.

Sir,

I have the honor to report for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Meerut Division, that in conformity with the arrangements reported in my letter A 1, of the 11th Instant, I moved out with the column noted in the margin, on the night of the 11th Instant. I reached Pinahut, on the 13th, just in time as it appears, to prevent the village from being plundered by the Rebels. They had collected there in force two days before, but on hearing of the arrival of my Force at Futteahbad, they decamped.

2 9-Pr. Guns.
1 24-Pr. Howitzer.
1 8-Inch Howitzer.
200 Rank and File of Her Majesty's 8th (the King's) Regiment.
250 Sabres Seikh Police Cavalry.
165 Seikh Police Infantry.

2. The villages inhabited by these Rebels are situated within, and bordering on the extensive and deep ravines of the River Chumbul, which are formed by the combined action of the drainage of the country on the one side, and by the eddies of the river on the other. They extend to the depth of 120 feet and upwards. There are no direct tracts through them. The sides of the ravines are more than usually rugged and irregular, and the ascent and descent among them is difficult, even to the inhabitants. The Rebels, feeling themselves secure in such a position, had issued out and plundered the villages which were loyal and peaceably disposed.

3. On reaching Pinahut, it was considered desirable that these Rebel villages should be destroyed. There were no roads to them, and it was necessary to move across the country, over ploughed and cultivated fields; but Mr. Phillips, the Magistrate, having supplied me with 60 bildars to cut through any obstructions I might meet, we succeeded in reaching our present encampment with comparatively little difficulty. On coming up to the first village Bugrenha, I observed a stream of men behind it, with cattle, moving deeper into the ravines, on which I ordered up 100 Rank and File of Her Majesty's 8th (the King's) Regiment, and 100 of the Seikhs, and threw them into the ravines in pursuit. The column was under the Command of Major Hennessey, Commanding the Agra Police, and the rapidity with which he executed the movement, brought him up with the Rebels before the whole had time to cross the Chumbul. He succeeded in killing about 100 of them, among whom was Kuroora Singh, the owner of several villages, and a notorious Rebel.

4. After detaching Major Hennessey's Force, I moved on with the main body towards Jeorah, where I was led to suppose I should meet with considerable opposition. In advancing with 25 Sowars to the right, to attack it from that direction, I was met by a flank fire from some Matchlockmen in front of the ravines. These were supported by about a hundred Men in their rear, who had taken post at a Hindoo Temple, which it seemed they intended to defend. Waiting till the main body reached the opposite flank, I galloped into the village, which I now found evacuated. I then directed the Guns to be moved forward as far as the ravines admitted, and some shell to be thrown into the Temple. This dispersed the Men who had assembled there, when I entered the ravines with another column. We first came on the village of Khylee, which was deserted as we approached. In passing further into the ravines, the column encountered but little opposition. We met occasionally with parties who had settled themselves in the recesses, where they evidently expected they would remain unmolested, as they had brought out their bedding, clothing, food, &c., with their women and children.

5. The attack through these ravines was very laborious, on account of the necessity of keeping the top of the hills crowned by our Skirmishers, but it was of importance to make these Rebels feel that there are no positions which are inaccessible to the energy of British Troops.

6. It is impossible to estimate the strength of the Enemy, as they never showed themselves together, but they must have lost about 160 killed, our own loss was one Jemadar, of the Police Battalion, killed.

7. I cannot conclude this Despatch without reporting the gallant conduct of Kasee Singh, a Sepoy of the late 72nd Regiment Native Infantry, who, in a hand to hand encounter with the Rebel Chief Kuroora Singh, showed a dextrous use of the bayonet and musket against the sword. He parried four successive cuts, and then dashed his bayonet into his opponent. I beg to recommend the gallant conduct of this man, to the favorable consideration of the Major-General for promotion to a Naick.

OUR GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

Letter dated 22d August 1857, No. 225.

1 and 2. Memorial from Lieut. Colonel S. A. Grant, Madras Infantry, praying that he may be promoted to the rank of Colonel by Brevet from the date on which he would have attained that rank had he actually left India on furlough prior to the 23d March 1855.

The necessity for Lieutenant Colonel Grant's return to Europe on medical certificate, having been established prior to the 23d March 1855, we are of opinion that, although his actual embarkation was delayed for a short time after that date, he should not, in consequence, be deprived of the advantages conferred by the order of the 8th September 1856 upon those who quitted India prior to the 23d March 1855.

WAR OFFICE,
18th December 1857.

SIR,

The Secretary of State for War having, with the concurrence of the Court of Directors of the East India Company, decided that instead of the Savings' Bank accounts of a regiment proceeding to the East Indies being closed in the manner prescribed by Article 35 of the Circular No. 1151, dated 2d January 1854, the operations of the Bank shall not be suspended, but that the Bank should continue open until the transfer to the Savings' Bank in India can be there effected by the Commanding Officer of the regiment, I am directed by Lord Panmure to acquaint you that instructions have been accordingly issued to the several Governments in India, desiring that, upon the Commanding Officer of the regiment furnishing to the Presidency Paymaster a list of the Savings' Bank balances, with interest adjusted to the last day of the preceding month, together with a bill drawn on Her Majesty's Paymaster General (Army account) for the amount, a corresponding sum may be placed to the credit of the several men in the Government Savings' Bank.

Addenda to War Office Regulations of 1848, page 82.

You will therefore be pleased, in conformity with this arrangement, to cause the Savings' Bank accounts of the regiment under your command to be made up as soon as conveniently practicable, after the corps shall have landed in India, and forwarded to this office, giving your bill to the Presidency Paymaster for the amount of the balances, which should, of course, precisely agree with the total sum due to the several depositors, according to the general abstract accompanying the final Savings' Bank accounts to this department.

I have the honor to be,
SIR,
Your most obedient Servant,

WHEREAS we have taken into our Royal consideration the position of Sergeants and other non-commissioned officers above the rank of Corporal, in respect of pay, and whereas it has been represented unto us that the distinction and rewards for good conduct granted by our Royal Warrant of the 1st July 1848 do not extend to these ranks, and cannot be extended to them with propriety and convenience; Our will and pleasure is, that every non-commissioned officer above the rank of Corporal, serving in our regular Army, shall receive an addition of two pence to the present daily pay of his rank, and shall have no claim to good conduct pay assigned to the ranks below that of Sergeant.

It is our further will and pleasure that the addition to be made to the present pay of the non-commissioned officers above the rank of Corporal serving in our Ceylon Rifle regiment and Royal Malta Fencibles regiment shall be one penny a day, except the European non-commissioned officers of the former corps, who shall receive an addition of two pence a day, and that this our Royal Warrant shall not apply to the Medical Staff Corps.

It is our further will and pleasure that these additions to the pay of our Army shall take effect from and after the 1st instant, from which date the provisions of the War Office circular, dated 16th January 1857, shall cease and determine.

Given at our Court, at St. James's this 30th day of January 1858, in the twenty-first year of our reign.

By Major W. H. Larkins, commanding 2d regiment native infantry (grenadiers), dated the 30th ultimo, appointing Captain A. D. Warden to officiate as Adjutant, as a special arrangement, until further orders, vice Lieutenant and Adjutant L. Forbes, placed at the disposal of the Government, North Western Provinces.

On the recommendation of the Inspector General of Ordnance and Magazines, the following postings, removals, and appointments of warrant and non-commissioned officers in the Ordnance department are directed:

Deputy Assistant Commissary J. Borthwick, new promotion, to the charge of the Lahore ordnance depot; but will continue to do duty in the Phillour magazine until relieved.

Deputy Assistant Commissary J. Stone, new promotion, to the Saugor magazine; but will do duty in the Agra magazine until an opportunity offers for proceeding to join the former.

Officiating Deputy Assistant Commissary J. Harris, new promotion, to the Cawnpore ordnance depot; but will continue to do duty in the Delhi magazine until relieved.

Conductor W. Murray from the Phillour magazine to the Mooltan ordnance depot, and Conductor P. Sharkey from the latter to the former.

Sergeants Walter Stoat, of the 2d company 4th battalion artillery, and James Dillon, of the 3d troop 2d brigade horse artillery, to be Magazine Sergeant and Laboratory-man, respectively, in the magazine at Dera Ishmael Khan, on probation for 6 months.

With the sanction of Government, Sergeant William Smith, of Her Majesty's 19th foot, is appointed Hospital Sergeant in the Hindoo College hospital, with effect from the 21st December 1857, the date upon which he entered on the duties.

Under instructions from Government, the services of Sergeant J. Donovan, Assistant Overseer department of public works, who was permitted to return to regimental duty with the artillery, temporarily, in G. O. of the 13th February last, are re-placed at the disposal of the Public Works' department.

With the sanction of Government, 3d class Native Doctor Shaikh Ahmud Bux, lately attached to a detachment of the 17th regiment of native infantry, is summarily dismissed the service.

By order of His Excellency the Commander in Chief,

W. MAYHEW, Lieut. Colonel,

Adjutant General of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 5th May 1858.

BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

Allahabad, the 24th April 1858.

No. 95 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to confer upon Havildar Lutchmun Gosain, of the late 12th Native Infantry, the rank of Jemadar, in consideration of his loyal conduct and the valuable assistance afforded by him to Lieutenant-Colonel Hinde in raising the Rewah Levies.

Allahabad, the 26th April 1858.

No. 96 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India is pleased to direct the publication of the following Report from Captain H. Boisragon, District Staff Officer, reporting his spirited affair with the Enemy at Kunkhul, on the 10th of January 1858. The Report has only now reached the Government.

R. J. H. Birch, Colonel,

Secy. Govt. of India, Mily. Dept.,

with the Governor General.

To

Lieutenant-Col. Baird Smith,

Comdg. in the Districts of Saharunpoor and Moozuffernuggur, Roorkee.

Camp, Myapoor, 11th January 1858.

Sir,

I have the honor to acquaint you, that from 2 to 7 P. M., on the 8th Instant, reports came into Roorkee from all parts of the District, that a large Force (headed by the Nawab of Nujeebabad) of the Enemy had crossed the river Ganges, fallen upon the Towns of Kunkhul, Jowalapoor, and Hurdwar, destroyed the Government property at Myapoor, seized upon the Horses of the Cavalry Picquet, taken prisoner and carried off Mr. Dubrass, the Telegraph Signaller, proclaimed these Districts as having been conquered by the aforesaid Nawab, and the last petition from the Thannadar of Jumalpoor to the Tehseeldar of Roorkee, was to the effect that the Advance Guard of the Enemy had got as far as Bhadurabad, and that they were about to march on Roorkee. I was, therefore, directed by Captain Read, Commanding at Roorkee, to request Lieutenant T. Boisragon, Commanding at Munglour, to proceed immediately with a portion of his Detachment (vide per margin) towards Myapoor. This order he received at about ½ past 8 P. M., on the 8th Instant, and at 9 A. M. the next morning, his Detachment had reached Myapoor, a distance of 24 miles across, to say the least, a very indifferent roadway for Guns. This proves what can be done by good and willing Soldiers, and I am certain that the above circumstance will afford you satisfaction.

(Margin: 50 Goorkhas, 50 Seikhs and 2 6-pounder Guns under Lieut. St. George, of Artillery.)

I, immediately on my arrival here, at 8 A. M., on the 9th Instant, proceeded (accompanied by Captain H. Drummond, Engineers, Lieutenant Thomason, Engineers, and Mr. Melville, of the Civil Service, with three or four Sowars) in quest of the position of the Enemy. After patrolling down the bank for two or three miles, we suddenly came upon their encampment, pitched within a few feet of the water opposite to the ford of Unjun, (a distance of about 3 miles in direct line from Kunkhul) but owing to the nature of the country, we could not see more than a few yards from the bank. I perceived, however, that they were in considerable force, (I should say about 500 men) and from the fact of their having fired a 3 or 6-Pounder at us, we ascertained of their being in possession of Guns. Having gained all the necessary information, we leisurely retired under a very slight discharge of musketry. The only damage done at this place, (but nowhere else) is the destruction of the Government Bungalow, (built by Sir P. Cautley,) and the "Chowkee" of the Cavalry Picquet by fire, and the carrying off of the aforesaid Signaller, Moolla Mehistri of the Canal Works, five Sowars with their Horses, and a dozen Bildars. The Telegraph wire was also cut, and a portion of it carried away; but this was immediately rectified by establishing an Office at Jowalapoor.

Yesterday, about 2 P. M., information was brought me by Shewpershad, Native Agent, belonging to the Canal Department, (who I beg to recommend very favorably to you, as he was the only man who brought any intimation) that the Enemy were crossing in a very large Force, with Guns, and that a great number of them had established themselves on the South of Kunkhul, which they were about to enter. I immediately made the following preparation. A Guard (strength as per margin) was left for the protection of the Camp, under Mr. Phillips, of the Canal Department, whom I instructed also to watch the ford and dam opposite the Myapoor Bridge, and give me immediate information if the Enemy endeavoured to turn my left, and with the rest of the Detachment I marched straight through the main street of Kunkhul, and arrived at its South side just in time to prevent their effecting an entrance into it. The following was the disposition of the Detachment:—The Nusseeree Battalion and Seikhs, under Lieutenant T. Boisragon, (with the latter men Mr. S. Melville, of the Civil Service, kindly volunteered his services), the Guns under Lieutenant St. George, of the Artillery. Lieutenant Thomason, Engineers, at my requisition, very kindly took charge of the Cavalry. Captain H. Drummond, Engineers, was watching the movements of the Enemy from the dam, which (at my request) he opened at a most opportune moment, effectually cutting off their retreat, but which at the same time prevented our following them up. Before the firing commenced, Captain Drummond joined, and continued with me during the whole of the affair, and I am much indebted to him for his excellent advice.

8 Goorkhas.
3 Seikhs and 5 Sowars of the 1st Punjaub Cavalry.

Before the affair commenced, I was compelled to detach Cavalry and Infantry in several quarters, to prevent the Enemy from getting to my right, left or rear, besides I had to advance very cautiously, as from very good information I learnt that the Towns of Hurdwar, Kunkhul and Jowalapoor were in collusion with the Rebels. I therefore commenced to fight with the number as per margin. It was evidently the object of the Enemy to reach Jowalapoor I therefore threw myself between it and Kunkhul. The Guns were posted between that Town and a large native building. Lieutenant T. Boisragon charged with his Goorkhas, took them in flank, and drove them into the River, whilst the Seikhs charged in front into their position amidst the tombstones, which was carried in a few seconds, whilst the Guns (on our left flank) poured Grape into the Enemy as they retreated across the River. Several of the Officers killed men with their own weapons, and the Nephew (I believe) of the Nawab was shot dead by Lieutenant T. Boisragon, and I am given to understand that the Nawab himself was wounded by some of our party. The affair lasted about half an hour. The Cavalry, led by Lieutenant Thomason and Mr. Melville, cut up the Enemy who took down our right bank. I should say the Enemy were 1,000 strong, (they also had 2 Guns) of which killed, wounded and drowned, they must have lost certainly 100. We obtained a quantity of swords, muskets and other native weapons, also some ammunition. Our Guns were capitally served under the superintendence of Lieutenant St. George, of Artillery. I am glad to report that we had not a single man wounded.

8 Europeans.
30 Goorkhas.
30 Seikhs.
2 Guns and 16 Men of the 1st Punjaub Cavalry.

Where every Officer and Man (European and Native) performed this duty well and cheerfully, it would be invidious, nay impossible, to particularize. I am indebted to one and all, and I truts you will be pleased, and express your approbation of their conduct.

I forgot to state before, that at Roorkee, Lieutenant T. Boisragon's party was increased by 10 Europeans from the Thomason College, and there was a further increase of 20 Men of the 1st Punjaub Cavalry at Kunkhul.

I have, &c.,

Camp, Amorha, Goruckpore District,
The 19*th April* 1858.

Sir,

I have the honor to acquaint you, for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, that about 7½ o'Clock on the morning of the 17th Instant, several Villagers came into Camp, stating that parties of the Rebels from Belwa, Horse and Foot, were out plundering the villages between this place and Belwa. I ordered out Detachments of Cavalry and Infantry to drive them back and cut them off, and afterwards reinforced them with fresh Detachments and 2 Guns. From other reports received, that the Enemy were getting up re-inforcements from Belwa, and hearing our own Guns and those of the Enemy, and it appearing as if the Insurgents were holding their ground, I moved out of Camp with the Head Quarters of the Field Force between 10 and 11 o'Clock A. M. Near the village of Jahmonlee, about three miles from Camp, on the Belwa road, I found the Troops first sent out with Major Cox, H. M.'s 13th Light Infantry, and Captain Sotheby, R. N., of H. M.'s S. Pearl, judiciously drawn up with their centre and Guns in a small wood, to which they had retired in hopes of bringing the Enemy into the plain from the woods and villages; but the Rebels would not venture into the open. Major Cox joined me with a portion of the 13th Light Infantry; and hearing from him how matters stood, and that a large body of the Enemy was also on our extreme right, it was determined to make a move round to the right, and leaving Captain Sotheby on the left, I moved with the remaining Troops which I had brought up, and the two small Mountain Train Howitzers, and with Major Cox and a portion of the 13th Light Infantry, well to the right, and advanced. The Sowars and Rebels on our right soon retired with a Gun, which they only fired two or three times, and, bringing up our right shoulders, the Enemy on the left, in front of Captain Sotheby, finding we had turned their left and rear, ceased firing and soon gave way and retired, getting a few Shells from the small Howitzers, assisted by the Skirmishers with their Enfields and Minies. We continued to advance and press the Enemy till near Belwa, when a favorable opportunity appearing to charge a body of the Insurgents retreating, as I suspected, with one or two of their Guns. After giving them four rounds of shell, I ordered Major Richardson, in Command of the 2nd Troop right Squadron Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry, with my portion of the Force, to move from my right flank, and charge this body of the Enemy. The 2nd Troop, under its gallant leader, made a noble home charge, and though they came upon a larger body of the Enemy behind a village, and the Sepoys made a desperate resistance, nothing stopped this brave Cavalry, and they cut down and killed full sixty of the Rebels, and captured a 6-Pr. Gun with Limber, and the Enemy were completely dispersed.

The day unfortunately was very unfavorable, the hot wind blowing half a gale, with a blinding dust, or the Enemy would have suffered more severely in this action. Major Cox, and Captain Sotheby on the left, with his two Guns, the Naval Rifles, and the Enfields of H. M.'s 13th Light Infantry, early in the day, did good execution among the Enemy. From all the reports I have received, the Enemy must have lost, killed and wounded, between 200 and 300, and one of the Gonda Rajah's Chief Pundits was killed. Although the Enemy had removed several of the killed from the ground where the Cavalry charged, 46 dead bodies were counted there yesterday by one of our best spies. The Enemy were reported to be about 2,000 Sepoys, some Golundauze. 1,000 Irregulars, 100 Sowars, with 4 Guns. The Rajah of Gonda was not present, but his Karinda or Head Agent, was on the ground on an Elephant. When the Cavalry charged as soon as I could get a party of Cavalry from the rear or the left, I moved them up in support under Captain Chapman, and some Infantry, to assist also in bringing away the Gun. As soon as the wounded had been cared for and the Gun brought away, we returned to Camp, reaching it at 4 P. M.

My best thanks are due to Captain Morgan, 22nd Regiment Native Infantry, Field Force Staff, and my Acting A. D. C., the Hon'ble V. A. Montague, R. N., for their zealous readiness and activity in carrying out my orders. To Major Cox, Commanding Left Wing H. M.'s 13th Light Infantry, who was ever active and ready for any duty required of him; to Captain Sotheby, R. N., of H. M.'s S. Pearl, Commanding the Naval Brigade; to Major Richardson, Commanding Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry; to Captain Barclay, 68th N. I., in Military charge of Gorucknath Goorkha Regiment; to Captain Brooks, 1st Regiment Light Cavalry, attached to Goorkhas, which active and zealous Officer I sent forward with the 2nd Detachment of H. M.'s 13th Light Infantry, as a Guide and Interpreter; to the Goorkha Commandant Colonel Byroop Singh Koor, and Major Captain Sewukram Thappa, and to Lieutenant Burlton, 40th Regiment N. I., in charge of the Detachment of Seikhs. Also to Drs. Shore and Dickinson, Naval Brigade, Dr. Kurwan, H. M.'s 13th Light Infantry, and Dr. Eteson, attached to Goorkhas, all ready, active, and present in the Field. Major Richardson brings to my notice the prompt, ready and careful aid afforded by Dr. J. W. R. Amesbury, Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry, to those who fell in the charge of the 2nd Troop, ably and readily assisted by Dr. Dickinson, doing duty with the Naval Brigade. Also my thanks are due to the Troops of all arms engaged, for the zealous and cheerful manner they went through a fatiguing day under a burning sun. My best thanks are especially due to the Officers and Men of the 2nd Troop Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry, and their gallant leader, Major Richardson, who himself, in the charge, killed six of the Enemy, Supernumerary Cornet Copland killed three, Cornet and Quarter Master Kloer killed three, Cornet Scott killed several. Major Richardson also brings to my notice that Lieutenants Davis, 2nd Troop, and Percival, 1st Troop, distinguished themselves, as also Serjeant Bulmore, Corporal Craven, his Orderly, Riding Master Serjeant W. Curran, Troopers G. Smith and Williams, and Trumpeter O'Donnell. Trooper Kindred, 3rd Troop, defended Cornet Troop while on the ground wounded, shooting four of the Rebels. Lieutenant de Hoxar, 3rd Troop, wounded early in the Action, and Captain Chapman, severely hurt by his horse falling, remained in the Field till the close of the Action.

I was obliged to leave our Camp standing, and could afford to leave but small Detachments to guard it, under the charge of Captain MacGregor, 9th Light Cavalry, attached to the Goorkha Force. I felt somewhat anxious about it, receiving a report as I joined the Force in advance that there was a body of the Rebels in our rear on the left, nearly all the sick were left in the small Fort and Entrenchment.

My best thanks are due to Mr. Wingfield, Commissioner, who accompanied me to the Field, and for his obliging readiness to convey any orders; and to Deputy Magistrate Sheikh Khairoodeen, for his ready attention in the Field.

I beg to recommend to the most favorable notice of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, all the Officers and Men of the different arms engaged in the Action.

I have the honor to annex a Casualty Roll.

I have the honor to be,

No. 102 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India is pleased to direct the publication of the following Despatch, from the Deputy Adjutant General of the Army, No. 257 A, dated 20th April 1858, forwarding copy of a Report from Brigadier-General R. Walpole, Commanding Field Force, detailing his operations against and capture of the Fort of Rooya, on the 15th Instant.

His Lordship participates in the grief expressed by His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, at the heavy loss which the British Army has sustained in the death of that most admirable Officer, Brigadier the Hon'ble A. Hope, whose very brilliant services he had had the gratification of publicly recognizing in all the operations for the relief and the final capture of Lucknow. No more mournful duty has fallen upon the Governor General in the course of the present contest than that of recording the premature death of this distinguished young Commander.

The Governor General shares also in the regret of the Commander-in-Chief, at the severe loss of valuable lives which has attended the operations against the Fort of Rooya.

The 20th April 1858.

SIR,

Forwards copy of Brigadier-General Walpole's Report of the capture of the Fort of Rooya.

I HAVE the honor, by order of the Commander-in-Chief, to enclose copy of a Despatch from Brigadier-General R. Walpole, dated the 16th Instant, which I am to beg you will submit to the Right Honorable the Governor General.

2. In this Despatch the capture of the Fort of Rooya is described, an operation which, to the great regret of His Excellency, has been attended with considerable loss.

3. Among the names of those who have fallen, appears that of Brigadier the Honorable A. Hope. The death of this most distinguished and gallant Officer causes the deepest grief to the Commander-in-Chief. Still young in years, he had risen to high Command, and by his undaunted courage, combined as it was with extreme kindness and charm of manner, had secured the confidence of his Brigade to no ordinary degree.

4. This Brigade he had led in several assaults, of which the last was in the attack on the Begum Kotee, at the late Siege of Lucknow.

5. The service of Her Majesty could, in Sir Colin Campbell's opinion, hardly have sustained a greater loss.

I have the honor to be,
SIR,
Your most obdt. Servant,
H. W. NORMAN, Major,
Depy. Adjt. Genl. of the Army.

FROM
BRIGADIER-GENERAL R. WALPOLE,
Commanding Field Force,

To
THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF.

Camp, Madhogunge, 16*th April* 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to acquaint you, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that yesterday morning I marched to this place (which almost joins Roodamow) from Gosegunge.

Nurput Sing, who I stated in my Despatch of yesterday, was at Rooya Fort, which is about one mile to the North of this place, did not come in or send any satisfactory reply to the message of Captain Thurburn, the Magistrate who accompanies this Force. I therefore thought it advisable to attack him, particularly as Captain Thurburn informed me that he understood this man had received only the day before yesterday a letter from the Begum, and that his intentions were certainly hostile to the Government; and under these circumstances it would have had the worst effect to have passed this Fort without taking it.

I accordingly directed my Baggage to be massed in the open plain, near Madhogunge, under a strong guard of Cavalry, Infantry, and two Field Guns, and proceeded with the remainder of the Force towards Rooya, turning off from the road, about two miles from Madhogunge, for the purpose of getting round to the North side of the Fort, which was stated to be the weakest part of it, where there was a gate, and where there were very few Guns.

The Fort on the East and North side is almost surrounded with jungle, and at these two sides, the only two gates were stated to be, which information proved correct. It is a large oblong, with numerous circular bastions all round it, pierced for Guns, and loopholed for Musketry, and surrounded by a broad and deep ditch; there is an inner Fort or Citadel, surrounded in like manner by a deep ditch, and with a high wall considerably elevated above the rest of the work. On the West and part of the South side, there was a large piece of water, which was partially dried up.

On arriving before the North side, I sent forward some Infantry in extended order, to enable the place to be reconnoitred, when a heavy fire of Musketry was immediately opened upon them, and an occasional Gun; the Cavalry at the same time swept entirely round to the West side, to cut off all communication with the Fort.

A tolerable view of the Fort having been obtained from the road which leads into it from the North, the heavy Guns were brought up; the two 18-Pounders were placed on it; the two 8-inch Mortars behind a wood still further to the right.

After a short time, a great many of the Infantry were killed and wounded from having crept up too near the Fort, from which the fire of Rifles and Matchlocks was very heavy. These Men had gone much nearer to the Fort than I wished or intended them to go, and some of the Punjaub Rifles, with great courage, but without orders, jumped into the ditch and were killed in endeavouring to get up the scarp. I therefore gave directions that they should be withdrawn from their forward and exposed situation, and here it was that I regret to say the gallant and able Soldier Brigadier Hope was killed by a Rifle or Musket ball fired by a man from a high tree within the walls of the place.

By ½ past 2 o'clock the fire of our heavy Guns appeared to have made little or no impression upon the place, and as no Gun could be brought to bear upon the gate, the passage to which was not straight, and it could not be approached without the Men being exposed to a very heavy fire from the bastion and loopholed walls that commanded it, I considered it better not to attempt an assault until more impression had been made upon the walls of the place, and as it was getting late, to withdraw from the North side and commence operations against the South-East angle, on the following morning, which had been reconnoitred by the Engineers, and where they thought it would be easier to effect a breach as it could be better seen and a more direct fire could be brought to bear.

I therefore directed the Camp to be pitched on the South side, about a mile from the Fort, and withdrew from the North side, where it would have been dangerous to have passed the night, as it was surrounded by thick jungle.

This morning at day-light, Major Brind, Bengal Artillery, and Captain Lennox, Royal Engineers, proceeded again to reconnoitre the place thoroughly before re-commencing operations, and found that the Enemy had evacuated it, leaving their Guns behind them, five in number, ammunition, a large quantity of attah, and some tents. As some of the carriages were found without their Guns, and the track of a Gun-carriage could be traced to a well, where the Water is very deep, I have no doubt other Guns have been thrown down it. I had information that there were more in the place, and it is certain none were carried out.

The reports as to the numbers of the Enemy vary so much, that it is impossible to arrive at any certainty upon that point; but I am inclined to think the number stated in my Despatch yesterday, viz., about fifteen hundred, to be nearly correct; but the strength of the Garrison consisted in the nature and situation of the Fort, not in their numbers.

I regret to say that this operation has cost us above one hundred Officers and Men killed and wounded, and I have deeply to deplore the loss of Brigadier the Hon'ble A. Hope, from whom I had received the greatest assistance.

The loss of the Enemy it is impossible to ascertain; it must have been heavy from the fire of our Guns, and especially from our Howitzers and Mortars. A few bodies which seem to have been overlooked, and three large funeral fires with the remains of the bodies smouldering, was all that remained of their dead on our entering the place this morning.

The Fort which has over-awed this part of the country for the last year, is being destroyed under the superintendence of Captain Lennox, Royal Engineers, and I am in hopes that its destruction will be of the greatest advantage.

I have received the most willing support from all under my Command during this operation, and I beg particularly to offer my best thanks to Brigadier Hagart, Commanding the Cavalry, and to Major Brind, Commanding the Artillery, for their most able and valuable assistance; also to Captain Lennox, the Senior Engineer Officer, to Lieutenant-Colonel Hay, Commanding the 93rd Regiment, who succeeded to the Command of the Infantry Brigade on the death of Brigadier Hope, to Lieutenant-Colonel Cameron, Commanding 42nd Regiment, Lieutenant-Colonel Taylor, Commanding 79th Regiment; to Captain Cape, Commanding 4th Punjaub Infantry, who, I regret to say, was severely wounded; to Lieutenant-Colonel Tombs, and Major Remmington, Commanding Troops of Horse Artillery; to Captain Francis, Commanding heavy Guns; to Captain Coles, Commanding 9th Lancers, and Captain Brown, Commanding 2nd Punjaub Cavalry.

I beg also to return my best thanks to the Officers of my Staff, Captain Barwell, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General; Captain Carey, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master-General, Captain Warner, Aide-de-Camp, and Lieutenant Eccles, Rifle Brigade, my extra Aide-de-Camp.

Enclosed I beg to forward a List of the Casualties, and likewise a sketch of the Fort, which has been made in a hurry, but will afford information of the nature of the work.

I have, &c.,

No. 103 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India is pleased to direct the publication of the following Reports from Brigadier-General Sir E. Lugard, K. C. B., Commanding Azimghur Field Force, dated 12th and 16th April 1858, detailing the particulars of his operations during his march to Azimghur, and after his arrival there.

It is with deep regret that His Lordship has to announce the subsequent death of Mr. Venables, Azimghur, from the wound received by him [illegible] gallantly assisting in the pursuit of the [illegible] under Kooer Sing.

Mr. Venables, although bound to the service of the State by no tie, save his courageous and patriotic spirit, had rendered the most valuable assistance to Government from the commencement of the mutinies, and had been greatly distinguished by his intrepidity and energy, tempered with a singularly calm and sound judgment.

The Governor General records, with much sorrow, his sincere respect for the memory of Mr. Venables.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Colonel,
Secy. Govt. of India, Mily. Dept.,
with the Governor General.

Camp, Tigra, 12th April 1858.

SIR,

IN my communication of the 10th Instant from Jounpore, I reported my arrival at that Station on the previous day, and that I had been compelled to halt there, from the exhausted condition of my Cattle, which had marched over bad roads for twelve days continuously, without a halt; also that I intended proceeding towards Azimghur by the direct road the following day.

2. I have now the honor to report to you, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that in consequence of intelligence received during the 10th, that a party of Insurgents under Golam Hossain, Chuckledar, had advanced to within twelve miles of Jounpore, destroyed the village of Selaidapore, and actually threatened the city of Jounpore, I decided, late on the evening of the 10th, to change my route to the one through Tigra and Deedar Gunge, which would enable me, I hoped, to punish Golam Hossain and his party, whilst my arrival at Azimgurh would only be delayed one or two days.

3. Independent of the safety of Jounpore, in my opinion, requiring this movement, I was further induced to change my route in consequence of its having been proclaimed to the people of Oude, by these Rebel Chuckledars, that the Force under my Command was the remnant of the British Army which had been destroyed at Lucknow, and was flying for safety to the Lower Provinces.

4. On my arrival at Tigra, where I proposed encamping, I found that the Rebel Force had moved back some six miles, after destroying the village and house of Selaidapore, and as the morning had been unusually oppressive, and the Troops much distressed by the march of nearly sixteen miles, I considered it unadvisable to proceed, and therefore halted for the day, scuts being sent out to reconnoitre the Enemy's position.

5. Towards evening, I received intelligence that there was a movement amongst the Rebels as if they intended to march. This was about 4 P.M., and fearing they would make off, I at once ordered out all the Cavalry off duty, consisting of 293 Sabres, with three Horse Artillery Guns, and proceeded with them in pursuit, requesting Brigadier Douglas, to bring up a portion of the Infantry in support.

6. The Enemy were, I understood, in groves of trees on the other side of the village Munnihar, numbering altogether 3,000, of whom 5 or 600 were Sepoys, and 200 Cavalry, (said to have been the Volunteer Regiment, probably 37th Native Infantry), and the 12th Irregular Cavalry, and two Guns.

We came upon the Cavalry Picquets of the Rebels within three or four miles from our Camp; but they rode off as we advanced, and finding that the whole were in full retreat, I at once pushed on, at a rapid pace, the 3rd Irregular Cavalry under Captain Pearse, and a party of the 12th Irregulars, under Lieutenant C. Havelock, supported by a Squadron of the Military Train under Major Robertson. The Guns also, in Command of Major Michell, Royal Artillery, followed in support; but the evening was too far advanced, and the country too close, for them to act with any effect.

7. The pursuit was continued for more than three miles, and at least eighty of the Rebels killed and their two Guns captured; one a very large iron eight-Pounder, and the other a two and three fourths-Pounder (also a large iron Gun, though of small bore).

They are both of Native manufacture, and being pronounced unfit for our service, I had them burst, and the massive Carriages broken up for their material.

The Force did not return until 10 o'Clock, and the captured Guns were not brought into Camp until 4 o'Clock this morning.

I have therefore been obliged to halt for this day.

8. The Cavalry could not certainly have marched yesterday less than thirty-two miles, and the Infantry twenty-eight miles. The exertion in such weather was very great, but I considered the object required it; for had Golam Hossain's Force gone away unpunished and with their Guns, there would have been no limit to their falsehoods and boastings. As it is, the fact of their flight, punishment, and loss of their Guns, must become patent to the District.

9. Although our loss is trifling as to numbers, it is, from its nature, I regret to say, most severe, and deeply felt and deplored by all.

Lieutenant Havelock was shot through the head when gallantly leading his Men, and he expired before we returned to Camp.

He was an intelligent, brave, and gallant Soldier, well worthy of the name he bore, and, as I before stated, his loss is deplored by every one in this Force.

10. In conclusion, I beg you will bring to the notice of His Excellency the high spirit of the Troops, European and Native, and the obligations I am under to all ranks for the great exertions they have made, and the cheerfulness with which they have endured the fatigues of the long marches.

11. Mr. Forbes, C. S., has accompanied my Force from Lucknow, and rendered me much assistance in the Intelligence Department. Mr. Jenkinson, C. S., and Mr. P. Carnegy, Deputy Commissioner, also accompanied me from Jounpore, and by their local knowledge, assisted me greatly.

I proceed to Azimgurh, viâ Deedargunge, to-morrow.

I have the honor to be,

BRIGDR.-GENL. SIR E. LUGARD, K. C. B.,
Comdg. Azimghur Field Force,

TO

THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF.

Dated Camp, Azimghur, 16th April 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report to you, for His Excellency's information, that the Field Force under my Command marched from "Tigra" to "Deedargunge," 13 miles, on the 13th Instant, and the following morning, learning from Azimghur that the bulk of the Garrison had been sent towards "Mhow," in order to cover Ghazeepore, which was threatened by a large body of the Enemy with two Guns, which had quitted Azimghur the previous night, I moved on 24 miles to Ranee-ka-Serai; and the same evening sent forward a Squadron of Cavalry, 3 Guns, and four Companies of the 10th Foot, under Lieutenant-Colonel Fenwick, of that Regiment, to reconnoitre the Bridge which the Enemy had thrown over the "Tonse" to the West of the City, with instructions to seize it if possible, as from the plan of the Entrenchments and Town which had been furnished me from Azimgurh by Lieutenant-Colonel Longden, Chief of the Staff, Azimgurh Field Force, it occurred to me that by crossing a portion of my Force over this Bridge, I should be able to turn the Enemy's position, and attack it in the front and rear at the same time.

Annexed.

2. On nearing the Jounpore Masonry Bridge, Lieutenant-Colonel Fenwick found the Enemy, who had crossed over the Westward Bridge in force, commencing an attack upon a Picquet of the 37th Foot, posted in the Judge's house there. It appeared from subsequent intelligence, that unacquainted with my immediate vicinity, and aware of the departure of most of the Garrison, they had contemplated a general attack upon the Entrenchments that night.

3. The consternation of the Rebels was great on finding themselves opposed by this fresh party, and after exchanging a few shots, they retired over the broken ground towards their Bridge, where our Troops could not follow them in the dark. Lieutenant-Colonel Fenwick, therefore, bivouacked for the night.

4. At day-break of the 15th, I advanced with my whole Force on Azimgurh, having heard during the night that Kooer Singh, with a considerable body, were still in position. The reconnoitering party before mentioned, under the guidance of Lieutenant-Colonel Longden and Mr. Venables, proceeded at the same time to the Enemy's Bridge, which, after a sharp skirmish, they succeeded in carrying and driving the Rebels from the Factory house on the left bank.

5. The position was a very strong one, and was held with much determination by a party of about 300 Rebel Sepoys of the late 7th, 8th and 40th Regiments Native Infantry, as shown by the uniform upon the bodies of those found slain on the Field.

6. The Bridge had been partially destroyed, but was speedily repaired by a party of Punjaub Sappers under Lieutenant Keith, Royal Engineers, whom I had sent with Lieutenant-Colonel Fenwick's party, and I at once crossed over 3 Guns of Royal Horse Artillery, a Squadron of the Military Train, and all the available Seikh Cavalry.

7. In the mean time, the Main Column under Brigadier Douglas, C. B., had advanced over the "Jounpore Bridge" direct upon the City, and learning that the whole of the Rebels remaining in Azimgurh had fled on losing their Bridge, I directed the Horse Artillery and Cavalry, under Major Michell, Royal Artillery, to pursue, and use their utmost endeavours to capture Kooer Singh. In this, I regret to say, they failed, owing to the regularity and devoted courage with which the retreat was covered by a band of the Rebels; 3 Guns, however, and nearly all their Ammunition and Baggage fell into our hands. The pursuit was continued up to the vicinity of the village of "Jewunpoor," where the road turns off to "Azimutgurh," and ascertaining that the Rebels had thrown themselves into a small Fort there, and had been joined by the strong body with 2 Horse Artillery Guns (said to be of the Neemuch Troops) who had quitted Azimgurh about the 12th and 13th Instant, I directed the pursuing party to halt, until re-inforced by Infantry, and heavier Guns and Mortars. These are now proceeding thither under Brigadier Douglas, when the Fort will be attacked, should the Rebels remain in it, and the pursuit continued. In the mean time, I have sent an express to Colonel Cumberlege, whose Force is at Mhow, covering Ghazeepore, to patrol in strength towards "Ghasee" where a portion of the Rebels, it is expected, will proceed. My loss at the Western Bridge amounted to one killed and six wounded of the 10th Foot and Madras Artillery. In the pursuit I regret that the casualties were heavier. Mr. Venables was wounded in the left arm by a musket shot; Lieutenant Hamilton, Adjutant 3rd Seikh Cavalry, was badly wounded, and died during the night. Twenty-five casualties are reported, killed and wounded, details of which will be sent hereafter.

8. The loss of the Enemy at the Bridge could not be exactly ascertained; bodies of Sepoys in the uniform of the 7th, 8th and 40th Regiments Native Infantry, were found on the ground. The rapid rush of the 10th Foot, after crossing the Bridge, prevented their being removed; but those killed by the Artillery and Rifle fire before the Bridge was taken, were seen to be carried away. In the pursuit, it is supposed that about 70 of the Enemy were killed.

9. As this is but one of many skirmishes it is more than probable the Azimgurh Field Force may be engaged in, during the very arduous operations upon which it is at present employed, I shall refrain, until its conclusion, from bringing to His Excellency's notice such Officers as I deem worthy of special mention. In the mean time, I beg to express my grateful obligations to all Officers and Men, for their cheerful endurance of fatigue and exposure, and to those who have engaged the Enemy for their undeviating gallantry.

I have, &c.,

FROM

COLONEL W. L. DAMES,
Commanding at Azimgurh,

To

BRIGADIER P. GORDON,
Commanding at Benares.
Dated Azimgurh, 16th April 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor herewith to enclose, for submission to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, an additional Report furnished by Colonel Lord Mark Kerr, Commanding Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, regarding his engagement with the Rebels on the morning of the 6th April.

In forwarding this Report, I beg to state that Colonel Lord Mark Kerr has informed me that the previous Report which he sent to me was drawn up in a most hurried manner, and, owing to the very little time he had at his disposal, he was unable to fill in many details, and mention the names of various Officers who distinguished themselves, as he would have desired.

Lieutenant Collum, of Her Majesty's 37th Regiment, at that time doing duty with Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, very much distinguished himself in the engagement of the 6th Instant, by his coolness and bravery. Colonel Lord Mark Kerr states that not knowing his name, he was unable to mention it in his Report; but desires that it may be forwarded in this transmitting letter.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

FROM

COLONEL LORD MARK KERR, Commanding Field Force.

To

THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF.
Dated Azimgurh, 6th April 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to announce, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that I have succeeded this day in joining the besieged Azimgurh Garrison.

I left Benares at 10 P. M., on the 2nd Instant, to proceed to Azimgurh by forced marches, with the Troops as per margin. At Sursana, 10 miles from Azimgurh, where I arrived on the 5th Instant, I received pressing letters, at different hours till midnight, from the Staff Officer at Azimgurh, to come on without delay; but thinking it imprudent to risk any thing by a night march, I did not start till 4 P. M. on the 6th. There was a bright moon at that hour and I moved on with a reconnoitering party of the Bays. At 6 A. M. I observed a mangoe tope and buildings to the left of the road, and also the banked ditches of the fields to the right of it to be crowded with Sepoys. After returning to the Column, and waiting till 7½ o'Clock to allow our train of Elephants, Camels, and Carts to close up, Captain Boyd's Company advanced in skirmishing order to the right of the road, and opened fire on the Enemy, hoping to turn their left flank, and so clear the ground for the advance of the Convoy, and succeeded at once in driving the Enemy to a further line of ditches. But by this time a heavy fire came from the mangoe tope and buildings, and well back on our left flank, and also on the right, where our Skirmishers had driven on the Enemy; large bodies of them were firing from enclosures to our rear. Captain H Jones, 13th, with his own, Lieutenant Everett, and Lieutenant Gilbert's Companies threw out Skirmishers, with their left thrown back to the left of the road, taking advantage of any cover at hand, and Lieutenant Robertson, Royal Artillery, and 2 Guns, threw shrapnel into the enclosures to the right, at a distance of 500 yards. Lieutenant Hall, 13th, who was soon dangerously wounded, being sent with a sub-division in support, also of Captain Boyd. This continued for some time without producing any effect on the strong defensive point of the Enemy, the buildings and tope, from the branches of which latter a severe fire was kept up for some time.

2nd Dn Guards (Bays)	2	55
R. Arty. (2 6-Pr. Guns) } 2 5½-inch Mortars .. }	1	17
13th Light Infantry ..	19	372

We were now in a serious position; but such precautions had been taken for our large Convoy that I had no fears for it. When I discovered that it had gone back some distance, I sent Lieutenant Stewart, 13th, an excellent Officer and Horseman, with 25 of the Bays, to the rear. I heard from him, that immediately on the fire opening, every driver and mahout had fled, the former having first turned their Cattle to the rear, and then, after getting them into confusion, absconded. At this time, in rear of the Enemy's Skirmishers on our flanks, were seen their reserves in ¼ distance Columns, and between my small Force and the Rear Guards and Baggage, appeared also large bodies of the Enemy. It was necessary to advance, however; the slighest change of position to the rear caused the Enemy to rise up, and with loud shouts show their numbers all around. I wished to try the effect of the 5½-inch Mortars on the buildings, so necessary to seize; but for this, it was requisite to retire the Gunners and their supports, who would have been struck by the Shells. But I at once saw that I must give up the attempt. A party of Volunteers attempted an assault, after a slight breach had been made by one of the 6 Pounder Guns at a distance of about sixty yards, which the Soldiers were manfully enlarging, when an inner wall appeared, and I re-called the party, and tried the Gun again. One Gun was constantly engaged throwing shrapnel at the Enemy in rear of our right flank. The buildings had been fired at the first; but the Sepoys held them with desperation. Just as I had determined on another assault, they evacuated the place. A pile of dead bodies inside covered the ground to the height of 3 feet. Lieutenant Ormsby, Commanding the Bays, came to the front in pursuit; our whole line advanced; the Skirmishers, thrown back on the left, wheeled rapidly up, and the fight was won. It was now nearly 10 o'Clock A. M.

Immediately in our rear there was a high embankment crossing the road. The Enemy had seized on this in great numbers. Captain Wilson Jones, a most gallant young man, Commanding the Company of the Rear Guard, was killed while leading his Men in the successful attack of it. I had just before sent Major Tyler, 13th, to take Command of the Rear and Baggage Guards, with orders to stand firm, relying on his cool judgment, and I resolved to force my way to Azimghur, about two miles distant, and return, with Madras Riflemen, whom I knew to be capable, as European Soldiers are not, of driving the bullocks.

But by the blessing of God, it was unnecessary for me to leave my Convoy, for on our advance the Enemy fled with extreme rapidity, and when I came upon a village a ¼ of a mile to the front, a very strong position, I found scarcely any opposition, and at the same time saw our rear advancing, the drivers, on our success, having returned. On arriving at the Bridge leading across the Nullah towards the entrenchment of Azimgurh, I sent a request to Colonel Dames, Commanding Garrison, for assistance in bringing in our Convoy, and one of my Companies to take temporarily the place of any men he might spare. Two Companies of the 37th and Madras Rifles were sent and proved of service. At the Bridge there was firing from the high ground, the other side of the Nullah, well answered by Lieutenant Welsh, Bengal Artillery, with two Guns from the Fort, and a few Skirmishers of the 13th.

I regret to say that my Casualties are severe, one Officer and seven Men killed, and one Officer and thirty-three Men wounded, mostly severely or dangerously. But I am certain the Enemy did not number less than 4,000, the 7th, 8th and 40th, so called fighting Regiments of the Sepoy Army among them. Deducting the large number required for the safety of our large Convoy, consisting of 312 Carts, 11 Elephants, 20 Camels, our whole strength in front was about 300 combatants. I am truly thankful to say that all the Officers under my Command behaved with daring courage and resolution. Non-Commissioned Officers and private Soldiers the same. I owe my best thanks to Lieutenant Honorable James Dormer, Staff Officer of my Force, and to Ensign Yardley, my Orderly Officer, who both behaved with great coolness under heavy fire. To Lieutenant-Colonel Longden and Mr. Venables, who accompanied me throughout the day, I am most deeply indebted for their cordial and constant advice and assistance. Major Tyler speaks of invaluable assistance from Quarter Master Hoban, 13th, in many difficulties and dangers with the Convoy.

I have, &c.,

B., in continuation of his report on the cavalry operations published in Government General Order No. 315, of the 22d February 1858:

No. 54.

From

Brigadier General Sir J. H. Grant. K. C. B, Commanding Cavalry Division,

To

The Deputy Adjutant General of the Army.

Sir, Dated Camp, Lucknow Cantonments, the 8th March 1858.

I beg to state for the information of His Excellency the Commander in Chief that, through inadvertence, I omitted to mention Lieutenant Colonel W. N. Custance, 6th Dragoon Guards, in my report of the operations of the cavalry force during the present campaign.

Lieutenant Colonel Custance commanded a wing of his regiment throughout the whole of the operations before Delhi, and on the 14th September, the day of the assault, I gave him charge of the second line of cavalry.

I regret very much my having omitted to mention the zealous support which I received from Colonel Custance during the arduous duties required of the cavalry throughout the siege, and my approval of the judicious manner in which he carried out my orders on the day of the assault, on which occasion he was attended by Major Richardson, 3d light cavalry, and Lieutenant G. S. Davies, 6th Dragoon Guards, both most zealous and gallant officers.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) J. Hope Grant, Brigadier Genl.,
Commanding Division.

"3. Hereafter a fixed scale of allowance, at so much per company for single men, and so much per family for married men, will be fixed upon, and drawn direct from the military pay offices by regimental commanding officers. But for the present season, the Government of India sanctions the monthly payment, by Executive Engineers or Barrack Masters, of such sums as may be agreed upon by the Executive Engineers and commanding officers of corps as necessary for the efficient working of all the Punkahs which are requisite for the health or proper comfort of the troops.

"4. The payments will be made monthly, on the presentation, by the Quarter Masters of corps, of bills for the wages of the punkah-pullers employed, bearing the usual declaration that the money has been or will be actually expended for the purpose. The Executive Engineers and commanding officers should be warned to see that no undue advantage is taken of the liberality of the Government in authorizing the employment of whatever establishments are bonâ fide requisite for this purpose."

2d class Staff Surgeon J. J. Clifford, M. D., Her Majesty's service, is appointed to the medical charge of the Landour convalescent depot.

Quarter Master Sergeant George Kirkham, of the 8th light cavalry, attached to the Lahore Light Horse, is, at his own request, remanded to the regiment of artillery, in the rank he held previous to his transfer to the Town Major's list, and is directed to proceed and join the 1st troop 1st brigade at Lucknow, pending the orders of the Commandant for his disposal.

Kassee Tewary, Havildar, of the 36th regiment native infantry, is, with the sanction of Government, permitted to join the "Regiment of Lucknow."

Under instructions from Government, Issurry Sing, Drill Havildar, of the 40th regiment native infantry, is transferred to the Police corps at Sasseram, in the rank of Subadar, and will retain in that corps all his present claims to pension.

Kashee, bullock driver, attached to the commissariat department, having lost his right leg from a wound received in action, is, with the sanction of Government, transferred to the pension establishment, from the 1st instant, and is granted a stipend of rupees (3) three and two (2) annas per mensem, as a special case.

Erratum.—In G. O. of the 21st January last, appointing Lieutenant T. H. Maddock, of the 3d European regiment, to act as Interpreter, for "80th regiment" read 13*th light infantry:* Order books to be corrected accordingly.

BY

HIS EXCELLENCY THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.

Adjutant General's Office, Calcutta, 10th May 1858.

BY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

Allahabad, the 26th April 1858.

No. 106 of 1858.—The Right Hon'ble the Governor General is pleased to publish for general information the following Letter from Brigadier-General R. Walpole, Commanding Field Force, reporting further successes in his operations against the Rebels:—

FROM

BRIGADIER-GENERAL R. WALPOLE,

Commanding Field Force.

TO

THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF.

Camp Allahgunge, 22nd April 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to acquaint you, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that I marched at daylight this morning from Sewajpore.* Just before we arrived at Sirsie, where I had intended to encamp, the advanced guard came on the Enemy, who were in great force, both Cavalry and Infantry. I brought up the Field Guns and some Infantry to the front, and sent the Cavalry to our right, the Enemy retreated to a village, from which they opened fire on us with 4 Guns. We advanced, and our Horse Artillery opened with great effect upon it, and in a short time they retreated, taking off their Guns. We advanced, took their 4 Guns, the Cavalry pressing their left and rear. We followed them about six miles to this place, killing a great many the whole way, and got possession of the Bridge here, where I halted, and have pitched my Camp. We have killed certainly as many as five or six hundred, have taken a great quantity of ammunition, hackeries, grain, and their camp. Our loss, as far as I can learn, is one man killed, and three or four wounded. I will send particulars to-morrow.

* Called in my route Mahabadpore.

I have, &c.,

FROM

MAJOR-GENL. SIR HUGH ROSE, K. C. B.,

To

MAJOR-GENERAL MANSFIELD,

Chief of the Staff,

Cawnpore.

Camp before Jhansie, 26th March 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report to you, for the information of His Excellency the Commander in-Chief, the operations of the 2nd Brigade of the Central India Field Force, under my orders, since the capture of the Fort of Garrakota.

A halt of four days at Saugor was necessary for the repair of my Siege Guns ; I therefore marched back to Saugor, in two days, leaving Major Boileau, with the Sappers and Miners, at Garrakota, to demolish all he could of its defences.

The Rebels had held a steep and thickly wooded hill, a few miles to the North of Garrakota, which gave them the command of the road to Dumoh ; after the fall of Garrakota they then abandoned it, leaving open the communications between Saugor and Dumoh.

My Siege Artillery was ready in four days, on the 18th Instant. But want of supplies, caused by the devastation of the Saugor and the neighbouring Districts by the Rebels, and other circumstances, did not allow me to leave Saugor till the 27th Instant.

This delay did away, very much, with the good effects of the speedy fall of Garrakota The Rebels not seeing any further operations or movements to the front against them, regained courage, and occupied again in force, the strong positions in the Shaghur and adjoining Districts, such as the Forts of Serai a d Marowra, and the difficult passes in the mountainous ridges which separate the Shaghur and Saugor Districts.

These passes are three in number. The pass of Narut, and the Fort of Carnelgurh near Malthone, of Mudinpore, and of Dhamooney.

My object was to reach Jhansie, against which I was ordered to move, as quickly as I could ; but on my road there, I wished to take up my 1st Brigade, which I had marched from Mhow and Indore to Goonah, for the purpose, as previously stated, of clearing and opening the Grand Trunk Road from Bombay to Agra, in obedience to my instructions.

I anticipated resistance to my advance on Jhansie at the passes, the Forts of Serai, Murowra, and Thal-Behut, at which latter place, it was said that the Rajah of Banpore intended to make his last stand.

It was also affirmed by some, but denied by others, that the Fort of Chundeyree, to the West of the River Betwa, formerly a family possession of the Raja of Banpore, would be defended.

It was necessary that the 1st Brigade, on the West, and the 2nd Brigade on the East of the Betwa, should be concentrated for the attack of Jhansie.

I determined to force these obstacles to the forward movement of my Force, and to the union of my 1st and 2nd Brigade; and accordingly gave orders to Brigadier Stuart, Commanding my 1st Brigade, to move from Goonah Westwards, and take Chundeyree, whilst I forced my way Northwards, and crossing the Betwa, march with both Brigades against Jhansie.

An operation against the passes was more than usually difficult, on account of the great length of my line of march. For knowing the danger of a want of ammunition, I took with me abundant reserves of it, having besides to take care of a convoy of fifteen days' supplies for my Force, and its Camp-Followers.

The pass of Narut was, by far the most difficult, and the Enemy having taken it into their head that I must pass through it, had increased its natural difficulties, by barricading the road with abatis, and parapets made of large boulders of rock, 15 feet thick; all passage by the sides of the road being made impracticable by the almost precipitous hills, covered with jungle, which came down to the edge of the road. The Rajah of Banpore, who is both enterprizing and courageous, defended this pass with 8 or 10,000 men.

The next most difficult pass was Dhamooney; very little was known about the third, Mudinpore, except that in the Ordnance Map it was described as "good for Guns."

Under these circumstances, I requested Major Orr to reconnoitre these passes, whilst I was detained at Saugor for supplies.

Supplies for my Force having come into Saugor, I marched from that place on the 27th Instant to Rijwass, a central point from which I could move against any one of these passes. Major Orr's Force joined me at Rijwass; with his usual intelligence, he had collected information which made me select the pass of Mudinpore for my point of attack.

In order to deceive the Enemy as to my intention, and prevent the Rajah of Banpore from coming from the pass of Narut to the assistance of the Rajah of Shaghur, who defended Mudinpore, I made a serious feint against Narut by sending Major Scudamore, Commanding H. M.'s 14th Light Dragoons, with the Force stated in the margin, with their tents and baggage, to the Fort and Town of Malthone, just above the pass of Narut, whilst I made the real attack on the pass of Mudinpore. Having taken the ruined little Fort of Barodia, and left a small Garrison in it, to keep up my communications, I marched on the 3rd Instant, against the pass of Mudinpore, with the Force stated in the margin. As the Column approached the pass, the Enemy's skirmishers fired on the Advanced guard, from a ridge of hills on our right, near the village of Noonee. I sent up a party of the Salt Customs under Mr. Bartie, who advancing, drove them back.

At about 800 yards from the entrance of the pass, we saw the Enemy in force on the hills, on the left of the pass. Major Orr made some good practice at them with round shot, and spherical case.

The pass was formed by a sudden descent of the road into a deep glen, thickly wooded. To the right further on, the road ran along the side of a lake. The left of the road was lined by rocky and precipitous hills.

The ardour of an excellent Officer induced him at this time, to make an incautious movement with his Guns to his right front, with the view to pour an enfilading fire into the Enemy. But he had not taken into consideration that this movement brought him to within fifty or sixty yards of the edge of the glen, in which lay concealed, some hundred Sepoys, who, before he could unlimber, opened a very heavy fire on his Guns, which he was unable to depress on them. The Sepoys fortunately fired too quick, and too high, and the Officer retired his Guns out of the range of their musketry, with only a few Casualties. The Sepoys hailed this little reverse with shouts. But their success had only brought on their more rapid defeat. For knowing now their exact position, and seeing the necessity of showing them that a calm retreat was only the prelude of a rapid offensive, I advanced 100 of the Hydrabad Contingent Infantry under Captain Sinclare, at double time, and made them charge into the glen, bring their right shoulders forward, and sweep it down towards the road, following this up by a movement of a Company of the 3rd Europeans, against the front of the Sepoys, and of the Salt Customs, from the extreme right, against their rear. To still further discomfit them, I sent a Troop of Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons, to a knoll, quite in rear of the glen, and commanding a view of the Lake, and the other end of the pass. The Rebels were driven with loss from the glen, and crossing the road, ascended the hill on its left, for the purpose of joining the large body of Rebels, who occupied the hills divided by ravines on the left of the road. The Troop of Horse Artillery would have swept them away with grape, had not the Officer Commanding it mistaken the Rebels, on account of the similarity of dress, for Men of the Salt Customs.

Not giving the Rebels time to breathe, I directed Captain Macdonald, my Assistant Quarter-Master General, to storm the hill, to the left of the road, with two Companies of the 3rd Europeans. Captain Macdonald conducted them ably and gallantly, up the almost precipitous height, and extending the Grenadier Company from the right, and supporting them with the other Company, drove them from the first to the second line of hills. As soon as Lieutenant-Colonel Liddell had come up, with the rest of the 3rd Europeans, I moved him up the hill, in support of his two Companies, directing him to advance, and drive the Enemy successively from all the hills commanding the pass. He performed this movement entirely to my satisfaction.

The glens and hills which protected the pass having been taken, I sent Captain Abbott, with the 4th Hydrabad Cavalry to clear the pass, and drive in the Enemy's front; this he did effectually.

The Enemy, repulsed in flank and front, retired to the village of Mudinpore, in rear of the end of the Lake. The village was fortified by a formidable work, in the shape of a bund of great thickness of earth and solid masonry, which dammed up the Lake. The Enemy had placed the few Guns they had in rear of the bund, and had been firing with them on the 3rd Europeans on the hill.

The pass having been gained, I sent directions to Brigadier Stewart, whom I had halted in rear of the pass, with the Reserve and Siege Train to advance through it, and occupy the head of the Lake. As soon as they had arrived, I opened with the 8-Inch Howitzer, and the 9-Pounders in advance of it, a fire on the Rebel Guns.

At this time I received a message from the Officer Commanding the Rear Guard, that the Enemy had fired, from the range of hills running to the pass of Narut, on him and his long line of baggage. I had all along thought it likely, that the Rajah of Banpore might come to the aid of the Rebels at Mudinpore as soon as he discovered that the move of Major Scudamore, was a feint, and my attack the real one. I therefore sent a Troop of Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons and a Regiment of Hydrabad Cavalry, to cover the Rear Guard.

A few rounds drove the Enemy from their position in rear of the bund, and they retired from Mudinpore, through the jungle, towards the Fort of Serai.

I directed Major Orr to pursue, with the remainder of the Hydrabad Cavalry.

The Cavalry which I had detached with Major Scudamore, and to assist the Rear Guard, rendered the Force, available for the pursuit, small.

Major Orr, and Captain Abbott under him, pursuing, along the road, through the jungle, came up with the rear of the Rebels, consisting principally of the 52nd Bengal Native Infantry, and killed a good many of them, amongst the number, the notorious Mutineer, Lall Turbadio, who, as Havildar Major of the 52nd, was instigator of the Mutiny in that Regiment, and whom they made their Commanding Officer.

I owe my acknowledgments to Major Orr and Captain Abbott for their conduct on this occasion. Captain Pinkney, who accompanied my Force as Political Agent at Jhansie, distinguished himself in the pursuit.

I marched the Force several miles beyond the pass, into an open and level country. The line of baggage was so long that it did not come up till the next day; but owing to the precautions I had taken, it did not sustain the slightest loss.

The results of the success at Mudinpore were as numerous as they were favorable. My Force had got into the rear of the passes, and the Enemy's line of defences, of which they thought so much. The pass of Narut considered by them to be impregnable was turned.

Mudinpore, it is true, was the weakest of the passes; but, on the other hand, it had been defended by the Sepoys of the 52nd and other Regiments, and by 7,000 picked Bundeelas. The Sepoys and the Bundeelas quarrelled, the former declaring that the latter had ran away, and left them to fight at the pass; general mistrust, and a panic ensued in the Rebel Camp.

The Fort of Serai, or Soyrage, a fortified Palace of the Rajah of Shahghur, perfect in architecture, now used as an Arsenal for the manufacture of powder and shot, fell the next day into the hands of my Troops. The dyes of the old Saugor Mint, from which the Rebels were making balls, were found here, in quantities.

The day after, I took possession of Marowra, an ancient Fort with a double line of defences, in an important position, on the road from Saugor to Jhansie, and from Shaghur to Malthone.

The Shaghur Territory was attached to the British possessions by Sir Robert Hamilton, and in consequence, the British Flag was hoisted on the Fort of Marowra in presence of my Brigade.

The passes of Narut and Dhamooney were abandoned, and Sir Robert Hamilton established a Police Station at Malthone.

In fact, the whole country between Saugor and Jhansie, to the East of the River Betwa, which, since the outbreak of the rebellion, had been in the hands of the Insurgents, was now, with the exception of Thal-Behut, restored to the Government.

I beg leave to recommend to your Excellency, for their conduct at the forcing of the pass of Mudinpore, Lieutenant-Colonel Liddell; Major Scudamore, for the skilful manner in which he conducted the feint against Malthone, which neutralized the Force of the Rajah of Banpore; Major Orr; Capt. Abbott; Capt. Sinclare; Captain Macdonald, Assistant Quarter-Master General; and Mr. Bartie, Commanding the Salt Customs Police, who had a short time before been strongly recommended for his gallant conduct in attacking the Rebel's position at Dhamooney.

I have the honor to enclose a list of the Casualties in forcing the pass.

I have the honor to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

The 26th April 1858.

SIR,

Forwards a Despatch from Brigadier-General Walpole, regarding his Action at Allahgunge.

I HAVE now the honor, by desire of the Commander in-Chief, to transmit for the information of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, a detailed Report from Brigadier-General R. Walpole, dated 23rd Instant, of his successful affair near Allahgunge on the previous day, when 4 Guns were captured and considerable loss inflicted on the Enemy.

2. The Action was one of Horse Artillery and Cavalry, and both these arms appear to His Excellency to have highly distinguished themselves.

I have the honor, to be,

FROM

BRIGDR.-GENL. R. WALPOLE,
Commanding Field Force.

TO

THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF.

Camp Allahgunge, 23rd April 1858.

SIR,

I transmitted yesterday a short account of the defeat of that portion of the Rebel Force which occupied the villages on the left bank of the Ram Gunga, from Allahgunge to Hoolapore. I have now the honor to forward for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief a more detailed Report of that operation.

I marched at daylight on the 22nd Instant, from Sewajpore, intending to encamp in the neghbourhood of Sirsie, and to proceed to this place the following day. However, on the Advanced Guard approaching Sirsie the Enemy was discovered in our front. I rode forward to reconnoitre and ordered up Major Remmington's Troop of Horse Artillery and the Infantry, desiring the heavy Guns to follow, and made the following dispositions. Four Guns of Lieutenant-Colonel Tombs' Troop of Horse Artillery, (two being on the Rear Guard) supported by a Squadron of 9th Lancers and 100 Infantry, all which Troops had formed the Advanced Guard, occupied the left. Major Remmington's 9-Pounder Troop was directed to its right, and the main body of the Cavalry, consisting of 9th Lancers and 2nd Punjaub Irregulars, under Brigadier Hagart, was placed on the extreme right to protect that flank from the numerous Cavalry of the Enemy, and with instructions to sweep round the Enemy's left and rear the moment they retired, with the hope of getting any Guns they might endeavour to save.

I knew, from having occupied the right bank of the Ram Gunga during the winter, that our left was covered by that river, and that from the great bend it takes beyond the villages of Mow and Jerapore, our Cavalry would be useless on our left flank.

We advanced in the above order some distance, crossing the Sende Nuddee, when the Enemy opened fire upon us with their Guns, which were placed in the village of Hoolapoor, upon which they had retired, and where they made their stand. Their fire was rapid and good, the shot plunging among our Artillery, but doing little damage. Lieutenant-Colonel Tombs' Troop advanced rapidly to within six or seven hundred yards of the village and opened upon it; Major Remmington's Troop soon after followed, taking ground to its right. The Guns of these two Troops were so well served that, in about 20 minutes, those of the Enemy appeared to be silenced.

I now perceived the Enemy streaming in large numbers from the rear of the village; our whole line advanced, Lieutenant-Colonel Tombs' Troop on one side of the village, Major Remmington's on the other. On the extreme right, just at this place, there was a thick jungle which prevented Brigadier Hagart turning their left flank at this point; but Major Remmington's Guns having been ordered to accompany him, the jungle was soon cleared, and he advanced between it and Hoolapoor, and as the Enemy's Guns, which had been withdrawn from that village, were being carried off, three of them were gallantly captured by Captain Wilkinson's Troop of the 9th Lancers, he being supported by Lieutenant Richardes with a Troop of 2nd Punjaub Cavalry, and every man with the Guns was killed. A fourth Gun was taken by the Cavalry during the rout that followed.

We now advanced with an extended front, one Squadron 9th Lancers, Lieutenant-Colonel Tombs' Guns, and the Infantry which had formed the Advanced Guard on the left, Major Remmington's Guns, and the Cavalry under Brigadier Hagart, to the right rather in advance, and swept the whole country, driving the Enemy through the villages of Nebonuggra and Jerapoor, at the latter of which their camp was captured, and then through Chumputteapoor and Saibgunge as far as Allahgunge, where they had a bridge-of-boats protected by a breast-work pierced for Guns. Having secured this Town, and the pursuit having continued for six miles, I considered it advisable to halt, and I sent for my baggage and pitched my Camp.

Nizam Ali Khan, who Commanded, was killed in the Action, and some documents were found in his Tent, one describing the preparations he had made for stopping the advance of the English.

The loss of the Enemy must have amounted in the whole to between five and six hundred, and we captured 4 Guns, the Enemy's Camp, ammunition, stores and grain in large quantities.

Our loss, I am happy to say, was small, very small, considering the results obtained; it consisted of one man killed and six wounded.

I am particularly indebted to Brigadier Hagart, for the admirable manner in which he conducted the operations of the Cavalry on the right. I beg also to return my best thanks to Major Brind, Bengal Artillery, for his exertions, and the able manner in which he commanded the Artillery, and to Lieutenant-Colonel Tombs, and Major Remmington, commanding Troops of Horse Artillery, for the excellent management of their Guns which drove the Enemy from their position at Hoolapoor with great loss. Brigadier Hagart speaks in great praise of Captain Coles, Commanding 9th Lancers, and Captain Browne, Commanding 2nd Punjaub Irregular Cavalry. I have on all occasions experienced great assistance from these Officers. The Brigadier also expresses his obligations to Captain Sarel, 17th Lancers, Brigade-Major to the Cavalry Brigade, and to Lieutenant Gore, 7th Hussars, who acted as his Orderly Officer; and Major Brind speaks in high terms of Lieutenant Bunny, Bengal Artillery, his Staff Officer.

I beg to record the assistance I received from my Staff, Captain Barwell, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, Captain Carey, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master General, Captain Warner, Aide-de Camp, and Lieutenant Ecles, Extra Aide-de-Camp.

The Action was fought with Artillery and Cavalry, and the pursuit was so rapid, there was no chance for the Infantry taking a part in it.

I have learnt to-day, that the Enemy who were posted at Jelalabad, on the fugitives reaching that place, and on their hearing of the death of Nizam Ali Khan, evacuated the Fort there the same evening, and have proceeded, it is supposed, towards Bareilly.

I have, &c.,

Camp Logassie, 12th April 1858.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief of India, that Major Ellis, Political Assistant in Bundlecund, having acquainted me that 2,000 Rebels had collected at Jheeghun, one of their strongholds and the depôt for their plunder, distant about seventeen miles from Chutterpore, I decided on making a night march with the view of surprising them.

The Force marched at 8 P. M., on the 9th Instant, but from the intricacies of the road, and ignorance of the guides, it was still four miles from Jheeghun, at 5 A. M. on the following morning. The only chance now of a surprise was by a rapid advance of mounted Troops, and I immediately moved with the A Troop Horse Artillery, two Squadrons of Lancers, and Detachment of Ressalah Hydrabad Contingent. The result was satisfactory; the Rebels, leisurely evacuating their position, were unprepared for our sudden appearance.

The Artillery opened, and the Cavalry, gallantly dashing amongst them, committed much havoc.

A portion of Cavalry and Guns were moved to intercept their flight; this was successful.

Under a fire of matchlocks, and through jungle which had been set on fire to impede pursuit, but unavailing, our Troops came up with the Rebels, and the slaughter was heavy.

To follow further without Infantry (for the jungle was becoming dense) would have been as useless as imprudent, and the Force returned to Camp, leaving 97 Rebels dead on the field, and bringing with them 39 Prisoners.

Dassput, the Rebel Chief, long the terror of the District, narrowly escaped capture; he had just returned from Jhansi.

His two nephews, named Beenijao and Jheet Sing, equally notorious for their villainies, fell into our hands, and with seven other prisoners were hanged on the evening. A large portion of baggage, cattle, grain, matchlock, ammunition, and some percussion caps, were found; the latter, with articles of uniform stamped Bengal Artillery, lead me to believe that some of the Mutineers must have been present.

The conduct of all the Troops employed gave me much satisfaction, and I only regretted that the Infantry, after a toilsome and wandering night's march, had not an opportunity of being brought into contact with the Rebels.

The village and stronghold has been completely destroyed under the superintendence of our Field Engineer, and the Thakoor of Logassie has expressed his gratification at such a horde of budmashes being driven from his neighbourhood. Our Casualties were two of the Ressalah wounded, and one Horse missing.

FROM

BRIGADIER M. CARTHEW,

Commdg. Madras Troops in Bengal,

To

THE DEPY. ASST. ADJT. GENL.,

Cawnpore Division.

Cawnpore, 1st December 1857.

SIR,

IN reply to your letter of this day's date, I have the honor to submit for the information of Major-General Windham, Commanding the Cawnpore Division, the following Report on my defence of the Bridge and Bithoor road, on the 28th Ultimo.

At day-light on the 28th of November, I proceeded, according to instructions, with Her Majesty's 34th Regiment, two Companies of Her Majesty's 82nd Regiment, and four Guns of Madras Native Artillery, to take up a position at the Racket Court, two Companies of Her Majesty's 64th Regiment having been placed in the Baptist Chapel to keep up communication with me. When within a few hundred yards of the Racket Court, I received instructions through the late Captain McCrea, that General Windham preferred the position of the previous evening being taken up on the Bridge, and the Bithoor road defended. I consequently retired, leaving a Company of Her Majesty's 34th Regiment, to occupy the front line of broken down Native Infantry huts, and another Company in their support in a brick building about 100 yards to their rear. I then detached a Company of Her Majesty's 34th to the opposite side of the road across the plain in a line with the above support, to occupy a vacant house, to man the garden walls, and the upstair verandah. These Companies formed a strong position, and quite commanded the whole road towards the Bridge. I halted at the Bridge with the remainder of the 34th and four Guns, and barricaded the road, and placed two Guns on the Bridge. I then sent two Companies of the 34th under Lieutenant-Colonel Simpson, to occupy the position he held the previous evening, to prevent the egress of the Enemy from the Town towards the entrenchment, as also to defend the road from Allahabad. This picquet I subsequently strengthened with two of my Guns which could not be worked on the Bridge.

A brisk fire was kept up by the Enemy from their position amongst the Native Lines on the advanced skirmishers and picquet, and upon the Bridge, by their Guns (18-Pounders) throughout the whole day. About mid-day Captain McCrea conveyed instructions to me to proceed to the front to attack the Enemy's Infantry and Guns, that he was to convey the same instructions to Her Majesty's 64th Regiment, and both parties to advance at the same time.

Captain McCrea took with him to strengthen the 64th, 40 men of a Company of Her Majesty's 82nd, which I had placed as a picquet at the old Commissariat compound, for the protection of the road leading from that direction to the entrenchment. I advanced with my two Guns and a Company of the 34th, from the Bridge, taking, as I advanced, the Company stationed to my right in the upstair house, and the Company occupying the broken huts (with its support) on my left. On advancing and clearing the front line of huts, I was desirous, and endeavoured to push the whole of my party across the plain in front to charge the Enemy's Guns, but as their Infantry still occupied the broken ground of other huts, and my Force without support, it could not be done. The Enemy's Guns were driven far to the rear by the fire of my two Guns, after which my skirmishers, support, and right picquet, took up their original positions, and I returned with the Guns to the Bridge. Shortly after this, the Enemy's Infantry were seen to be skirting along the edge of the Town, with the evident intention of turning our flank, and of pouring a fire upon us from the houses on our left. Both picquet and skirmishers applied for re-inforcements which I could not afford, but desired them to hold their positions as long as possible, and then fall back to the head of the Bridge, which they did about 5 o'Clock.

The Enemy were now increasing in large numbers on our left, occupying houses, garden walls, and the Church. A Company was sent through the gardens to dislodge the Enemy, and drive them from the Church, but the Enemy were strong enough to maintain, or rather to return to their position. I then concentrated all my Force on both flanks of the Bridge, and with the Guns kept up a heavy fire. The Enemy now brought up a Gun into the Church-yard, which enfiladed the Bridge at a distance not exceeding 150 yards, my own Guns not being able to bear on their position.

The Enemy were still increasing and working round to my rear by my left flank. I retired the Guns about 100 yards so as to command the Bridge, and the road leading from the Town. Officers and Men were at this time falling fast around me. I applied for a reinforcement, but by the time they arrived night had set in, and I now considered it prudent to retire with the remainder of my Force into the entrenchment, which was done with perfect regularity, the re-inforcement of Rifles protecting the rear.

Although for some time earnestly advised to retire, I refrained from doing so until I felt convinced, that from the increasing numbers of the Enemy, the fatigue of the Men after three days' hard fighting, and my own Troops firing in the dark into each other, the position was no longer tenable, and that consequently it became my painful duty to retire.

I beg to forward a Return of the Killed and Wounded during the day.

Return of the Killed, Wounded and Missing, in the Force under Brigadier Carthew, employed in defending the Bridge on the Bithoor Road, 28th November 1857.

Staff ...	2 Captains Wounded.

Memorandum by the Chief of the Staff, upon Brigadier Carthew's retreat from his post, on 28th November 1857.

Head Quarters Camp, Cawnpore,
The 9th December 1857.

The Commander-in-Chief has had under consideration, Brigadier Carthew's Despatch, dated Cawnpore, 3rd December 1857, addressed to the Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, Cawnpore Division.

Although His Excellency fully admits the arduous nature of the service on which Brigadier Carthew had been engaged during the 28th November, he cannot record his approval of that Officer's retreat, on the evening of that day.

Under the instructions of Major-General Windham, his Commanding Officer, Brigadier Carthew had been placed in position. No discretion of retiring was allowed to him. When he was pressed hard, he sent for re-inforcements, which, as the Commander-in-Chief happened to be present when the request arrived, His Excellency is aware were immediately conducted to his relief by Major-General Windham in person.

It would appear from Brigadier Carthew's letter of explanation, that he did not wait to see the effect of the re-inforcements which had been brought to him; but to the great astonishment of Major-General Windham and His Excellency, retired almost immediately after.

With respect to these occurrences, His Excellency feels it necessary to make two remarks :—

In the first place, no subordinate Officer, when possessing easy means of communication with his immediate superior, is permitted, according to the principles and usages of war, to give up a post which has been entrusted to his charge, without a previous request for orders, after representation might have been made that the post had become, no longer tenable.

It might have occurred to Brigadier Carthew that when Major-General Windham proceeded to re-inforce the post according to his first request, instead of ordering the garrison to retire, it was the opinion of the Major-General, that to hold it was an absolute necessity.

His Excellency refrains from remarking on the very serious consequences which ensued on the abandonment of the post in question.

The night which had arrived was more favorable to the Brigadier for the purpose of strengthening his position than it was to an Enemy advancing on him in the dark ; at all events there were many hours during which a decision could have been taken by the highest authority in the entrenchment whether the post should be abandoned or not, without much other inconvenience than the mere fatigue of the garrison.

The Commander-in-Chief must make one more remark

Brigadier Carthew, in the last paragraph of his letter, talks about his men firing into one another in the dark. His Excellency does not see how this could occur if the men were properly posted, and the Officers in Command of them duly instructed as to their respective positions.

THE DEPY. ADJT. GENL. OF THE ARMY,

To

THE SECY. TO THE GOVT. OF INDIA,
Military Department.

Head Quarters Camp, Cawnpore,
The 22nd December 1857.

SIR,

WITH reference to my Despatch of the 10th Instant, No. 20 A and its enclosures, relative to Brigadier M. Carthew's defence of the Bridge and Bithoor Road at Cawnpore, on the 28th ultimo, I have now the honor, by direction of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward for submission to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General in Council, copies of letters as per margin, marked A, B. and C.

A From Brigadier M. Carthew to the Chief of the Staff, dated 15th December 1857.
B From the Chief of the Staff, to Major-General C. Windham, C. B., dated 19th December 1857.
C From Major-General C. Windham, C. B., to the Chief of the Staff, dated 19th December 1857.

2. When the Memorandum dated 9th Instant, was written, copy of which was transmitted in my letter No. 20 A, and in which the conduct of Brigadier Carthew was commented on by His Excellency, the Commander-in-Chief was under the strongest impression, that Brigadier Carthew had retired from his post, on the 28th November, without orders, and that no discretionary power had been given to him.

Sir Colin Campbell conceived it to be an imperative duty to mark what he considered to be a violation of one of the first principles of war.

3. It appears now, however, that His Excellency's impression was erroneous, and it is a matter of the sincerest regret to him, that his having acted under such erroneous impression should have been detrimental to Brigadier Carthew, and give pain to that meritorious Officer.

4. The Commander-in-Chief directs me to request that you will solicit the permission of his Lordship in Council, that his Memorandum of the 9th Instant, may be considered null and void, and if it should have been sent forward to the Government at Madras, he begs that this further correspondence may be despatched to the destination in justice to Brigadier Carthew.

I have the honor to be,
SIR,
Your most obedient Servant,
H. W. NORMAN, Major,

To

MAJOR-GENERAL MANSFIELD,
Chief of the Staff.

Cawnpore, 15th December 1857.

SIR,

WITH reference to your communication to to me of the 9th December, conveying the remarks of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, regarding my retreat from the position I had been directed to defend by Major-General Windham, Commanding the Force, on the evening of the 28th November, I beg I may be permitted most respectfully to state, that I was under the full impression, that I had due authority from the Major-General to retire when the post became no longer tenable.

I received a verbal message during that day, either from the late Captain McCrea, or Lieutenant Budgeon, (I cannot recollect which) that when I could hold out no longer, I was to retire to the entrenchment, where Her Majesty's 64th Regiment was located.

I cannot call to mind receiving any express instructions to that effect from Major-General Windham himself, but I am under the impression that the Major-General, on the previous evening, made some such remark as "well Gentlemen, when we can hold out no longer we must retire to the entrenchment."

Under that impression I acted during the day and made my retrograde movement into the entrenchment in the evening, and I trust His Excellency will be able on this explanation, to exonerate me from blame and censure in that particular respect.

I have the honor to be, &c.

Head Quarters Camp, near Cawnpore,
The 19th December 1857.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to enclose for your remarks, a letter received from Brigadier Carthew in answer to a Memorandum written by order of the Commander-in-Chief, and forwarded through you by the Assistant Adjutant General of the Army, conveying His Excellency's opinions on the retreat of that Officer, from the post entrusted to his charge, on the 28th November 1857, without, as His Excellency conceived, any discretion having been left him for such a movement on his part.

His Excellency would be much obliged to you to communicate to me for his information, your opinion as to whether Brigadier Carthew had reason to imagine, that a discretionary power was left to him in the exercise of his Command of the post in question, which could be interpreted in the sense implied in the enclosed letter.

His Excellency's impressions on this subject were founded on the fact of the general surprise displayed by yourself and others, at the abandonment of the post in question, after you had proceeded with the re-inforcements demanded some short time before, almost immediately after His Excellency's arrival in the entrenchment.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

To

MAJOR-GENERAL MANSFIELD,
Chief of the Staff.

Cawnpore, the 19th December 1857.

SIR,

IN answer to your communication of to-day, I have the honor to state, for the information of His Excellency, that I think Brigadier Carthew has made a fair representation of my views.

On the night of the 27th, at a general meeting of the Superior Officers, I thought it my duty to hold as much of the Town as I could, as we might expect a large number of Women and Children, sick and wounded, to arrive shortly, that it would be cruel to shut them all up in the Fort, even if were* possible.

Therefore I was resolved, that every one should hold on as long as possible, and if obliged to fall back, they could but come to the Fort at last.

In the plan of defence, we abandoned the centre of the City, thinking it too cramped and narrow in its streets for the Enemy to enter with his big Guns.

When I took down the detachment of Rifles to Brigadier Carthew's assistance, I observed it was a sharp fight and immediately went and ordered Lieutenant-Colonel Watson and 2 Companies 82nd to go to him, and saw him on the Road there.

I was in hopes this Force would have prevented the necessity of his retiring, which was the cause of my being surprised at it.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

60th Rifles, 2 Companies,
17th Punjaub Native Infantry,—Wing.

On the 13th Instant I arrived at Roorkee, and assumed Command of the Field Force. On that evening I despatched a party, as per margin, under Major Churchill, 60th Rifles, to Kunkhul, for the protection of the Bridge which the Engineers were there throwing over the Ganges. The Head Quarters 60th Rifles arrived on the 14th by forced marches, and on the 15th the Column encamped by the Bridge-of-Boats. The heavy Guns and Stores had been sent to the ford opposite Nagul, and Major Smyth was ordered to divert the Enemy's attention by making a show of crossing there.

On the 17th, I crossed the river and moved into the forest in the following order :

Advance Guard.

One Company 60th Rifles, in skirmishing order.
One Company 60th Rifles, in support 2 Guns.
Sappers and Miners and a Troop of Cavalry.

Main Body.

One Troop Cavalry, Captain Austin's Battery.
60th Rifles, Punjaub Infantry Brigade.
Ammunition and Treasure, the Mooltanee Regiment of Cavalry.

Rear Guard.

One Company Punjaub Infantry; a Troop of Cavalry.

On each flank of the main body was a patrol of a Company Native Infantry, and a half Troop of Cavalry.

The Force had moved about four miles into the forest when the Advance Guard discovered the Enemy. The thick jungle rendered it difficult to make out his position, and impossible to tell his strength.

Major Muter, (Deputy Assistant Adjutant General), in Command of the Advance Guard, judiciously seized on an adjoining height, on which he posted a Company of the Rifles, and bringing up the Cavalry and Guns of the Guard, commenced the action.

I ordered Captain Cureton's Horse, and Captain Austin's Guns, to the front at the gallop, and forming the Infantry into line with their proper supports, and the flanks covered by skirmishers, advanced on the Enemy, making out his position by the fire of his Artillery.

The Rebels, defeated in their intention of effecting a surprize, and disconcerted by the destructive fire of the Artillery and Rifles, and the charge of a Troop of the Mooltanee Regiment of Cavalry led by Lieutenant Gostling, 5th Cavalry, on his left flank, drew back his Guns and retired before the imposing force advancing upon him.

I seized the opportunity, and at once pushed on the Cavalry and Artillery. No time was given the Enemy to take up another position. He was charged by Captain Cureton, wherever he attempted to stand, and the Guns, unlimbering as they came up, opened with shrapnel. The Enemy, thus pushed over positions of great natural strength, and unable to show front even on the bank of a stream where he had erected stockades, and behind which his Camp was pitched, fell more and more into confusion. His retreat became a flight; Gun after Gun was abandoned, and in utter rout the Rebels fled through the forest, leaving the ground covered with their arms, and throwing off even their clothes to facilitate their escape. Fully two hundred of their dead were left in the Terai, and four pieces of their Artillery were taken on the road, with all their ammunition and camp equipage.

When clear of the Terai, I pitched my Camp about five miles from Nagul, from which place information soon reached me, that the Enemy had retreated, leaving his Camp standing. I gave immediate orders for the passage of the river by the heavy Guns and Stores.

On the 18th, the Force moved in the same order as on the preceding day to Nujeebabad.

When near the Town, I sent forward a party to reconnoitre under Brigadier Coke, C. B., and halted the Column in the concealment of a tope of trees. The Town was deserted, and the Brigadier found, on pushing on to the Fort of Phutteeghur, that it had also been evacuated by the Enemy. The Cavalry, following in pursuit, came up with their Infantry, and cut up about thirty of their number.

Two Guns were taken in the Town and six in the Fort, besides large quantities of grain, hammered shot and ammunition, a Return of which I enclose.

I am happy to say that the Casualties attending these operations, have been trifling. I annex a Return.

The behaviour of the Troops in the action of the 17th, was all His Excellency could wish. Young Regiments acted like Veteran Soldiers, and the difficult nature of the ground (a jungle, the residence of wild beasts only,) applied no mean test to their discipline and drill.

I beg to bring to the notice of the Commander-in-Chief, the very able assistance afforded me by Brigadier Coke, C. B., in the Field, in Council, and in his intimate knowledge of the native character.

The Mooltanee Regiment of Cavalry was led by Captain Cureton and his Officers, in the most gallant and dashing style, and I trust His Excellency will notice this.

The manner in which Captain Austin brought his Guns into action, notwithstanding the difficulty of the ground, and the thickness of the jungle, afforded me the highest satisfaction.

Much praise is due to Major Palmer, Commanding 1st Battalion 60th Rifles, for bringing his Men so steadily and rapidly to the front. Also to Major Gordon, Commanding 1st Seikh Regiment, to Captain Larkins, 17th Regiment Punjaub Infantry, and to Captain Lambert, of the 1st Punjaub Regiment, for the able way in which they moved their Corps.

My thanks are due to Captain H. Drummond, Commanding, Field Engineer, who afforded me much assistance; to Captain Carter also, Officiating Deputy Commissary General, and to Surgeon Innes, Field Surgeon, for their unfailing zeal.

I have received every assistance from my personal Staff, and I am much indebted for their exertions.

To Major Muter, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, to Captain Tedlie, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master General, and to Lieutenant H. Deedes, Aid-de-Camp, these acknowledgements are due.

I have, &c.,
